The Jewelry Source Holds Event for the Children's Hospital LA

On June 29, head to the Jewelry Source for carnival games, food, signature drinks, and fundraising for the Children's Hospital LA. The Carnival is free to enter, and once inside, there will be popcorn, cotton candy, hot dogs, peanuts, and the like, as well as a signature drink created with Neft vodka. Games include a ring toss, guess the number, a wheel of fortune, and a luxury raffle prize. Also, 20% of jewelry sales during the event will be donated directly to the Children's Hospital LA.

One lucky raffle winner will win the star of the show- a stunning marquise-shaped diamond and ruby ring set in 14-karat yellow gold. The Jewelry Source designed this vintage-inspired ring and chose rubies as the complimentary stone to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Jewelry Source. Raffle tickets are $20 a piece, $50 for three, to win a ring valued at $5,000. Tickets can be purchased by contacting an auxiliary member, visiting The Jewelry Source, or calling 310-918-5028. 100% of ticket sales will be donated directly to the Children's Hospital LA.

The Children's Hospital LA is ranked #1 in California and #7 in the country and had over 720,000 patient visits in 2023. The El Segundo Auxiliary of the Children's Hospital LA, initially founded in 1920, is an organization whose mission is to raise awareness and support for the Children's Hospital LA through contributions of services and funds. Members of the auxiliary will take on different projects for various departments of pediatric medicine, such as neurology, infectious diseases, cardiology, and more.

The earliest fundraising events were held on tennis courts and included flower sales, bridge parties, and a raffle to win a live goat. Members spent many hours transporting children to and from the hospital, sewing hospital garments, and providing Christmas trees for holiday joy. Since the '20s, fundraising efforts have changed, but the motivation and generosity of El Segundo residents remain the same.

Patty Reed, a long-time El Segundo resident, runs the auxiliary's meetings and is chairman for the wine festival and the Jewelry Source events. Patty became involved with the auxiliary around 2000, as many of her neighbors found fun and community in attending events and meetings. She was previously a system engineer with Northrop Grumman, but now that she is retired, it has made planning auxiliary events much easier.

Patty reminisces about her time with the auxiliary, "It's really interesting to see the total amount of money that all the groups have made. The associates and affiliates have made over six million dollars. And to see everyone work together, it's pretty amazing." She also recalls a project she oversaw for the orthopedics lab that helped bring new technology to the hospital. A young kid broke his femur, and with just a rod in his leg, he

El Segundo High School Gets New Athletic Director

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

For any high school or college, one of the most important positions is that of the Athletic Director. The position is demanding, high profile, and makes decisions that impact the athletic department at the school. Some of the responsibilities of an AD are preparing budgets for athletic programs and providing leadership and guidance for sports activities and programs. He/she supervises purchases of equipment and maintenance of facilities and ensures compliance with rules and league policies.

For several decades, El Segundo High School has had two of arguably the best Athletic Directors in the South Bay. After John Stevenson stepped away from the classroom, teaching geography, he was the Athletic Director. When Stevenson retired, Steve Shevlin left his time in the classroom to take on the arduous position of Athletic Director.

Now that Steve Shevlin has retired the search for his replacement was narrowed and the new AD named. Fotis Davlantis will assume the position as El Segundo High School's next Athletic Director. Fotis (pronounced Fo-Tee) Davlantis (pronounced Dove-lawn-tis) has been a teacher and coach was able to walk home later that night. This was especially incredible for Patty to see, as her brother broke his femur when he was young, and it took half a year for him to heal. Patty cites the ability to watch progress within the hospital as the most rewarding part of working with the auxiliary.

The Jewelry Source was started in 1984 by Brenda Newman, a third-generation resident of El Segundo, and the late Roanne Mahony. The Jewelry Source carries engagement rings, precious gemstones, fine jewelry and many designers to suit different styles. The storefront on Main Street in El Segundo has hosted bi-annual events for the Children's Hospital for over 20 years. The business owners initially became involved with CHLA because of Roanne's personal connection to the hospital- her daughter spent the first year of her life at a Children's Hospital, and she had been a supporter ever since.

Brenda joined the auxiliary as her mother did before her, along with many other women of El Segundo. The auxiliary, along with the Women's Club, were the only two organizations that women would become involved with. Since the start of the auxiliary, many of the women volunteers were wives of the early Chevron workers and executives. Now, times have changed, and men have joined the Auxiliary of El Segundo.

"It's always a pleasure to raise money for the hospital, and it's a great way for the Jewelry Source to give back on behalf of Roanne,"

Brenda says. She remembers the years of events fondly. The Jewelry Source has hosted exciting events like To Paris with Love in 2022, a Margaritaville Extravaganza in 2006, An Aloha Evening in 2009, and a cowboy-themed Denim & Diamonds event in 2012. Another notable event was a grand high tea in 2011 at the Crystal Ballroom in the Hacienda Hotel. Guests were encouraged to pull out their old wedding dresses for a fashion show, which made for some adorable scrapbook photos.

The auxiliary organizes many events throughout the year, such as a wine festival and silent auction at the International Garden Center, golf tournaments, house tours, and charity basketball games for the South Bay Lakers.

The El Segundo auxiliary is always happy to welcome new members, and since the pandemic, many of the meetings are held on Zoom. Everyone brings something unique to the group—tech savviness, creativity, legal help, and much more. Auxiliary members plan and host events and ensure that all fundraising is ethical and up to code. The auxiliary is also currently looking for item donations for its September Silent Auction.

Remember, the Jewelry Source Carnival is on June 29! Entry to the Carnival is free, but fees for games, tips, activities, etc. will all be donated. The event will begin at 4:00 pm and go until 7:00 pm, during which 20% of jewelry sales will be donated directly to the Children's Hospital LA. •

Just for the Summer by Abby Jimenez

Now that summer is almost here, it is the perfect time to start a fun, light-hearted beach read. We first meet Justin, an all-around nice guy who just can't seem to find love. The problem is Justin believes he is cursed, and now thanks to a Reddit thread it is all over the Internet. Justin notices that every woman he dates soon find their soul mate once they break up. We then meet Emma, who as it turns out has the same exact problem as Justin. Emma is surprised that someone has the same exact problem. She figures it wouldn't do any harm to just message Justin. They soon develop a plan, they decide they will date one another and break up, hoping that their curses will cancel each other's out and finally lead each of them to true love. The only problem is Justin lives in Minnesota and Emma has no homebase since she is a travel nurse. Emma's next work assignment is supposed to be Hawaii. Emma has to do convince her best friend/coworker/roommate, Maddy that their next destination should instead be Minnesota. Maddy finally relents all for Emma's sake and they rent an adorable cottage on a private island on Lake Minnetonka. Emma was only expecting a quick summer fling, however everything changes when her toxic mother shows up and Justin becomes the legal guardian of his siblings. All of these events happen so quickly over the summer and Justin and Emma are dealing with feelings for one another as well as tricky family situations. In AM I OK?, Dakota Johnson Goes Through a Personal Awakening

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

It's a full-circle moment for Tig Notaro and Stephanie Allynne. The real-life couple, who first met on the set of the 2013 Sundance selection In a World... return to the festival as evolved women: now married, and bringing their directorial feature debut, AM I OK?, with them. Even if you aren't familiar with stand-up comic Tig Notaro & actor Stephanie's real-life love story, you'll find there is a lot to admire in their new film. Born out of the duo's personal vulnerabilities around self-discovery and acceptance, it's their authentic point of view that makes AM I OK? a satisfying film debut. Although a little simply conceived, AM I OK?—now streaming on Max—is a tender and tonally-confidant first feature.

Lucy (Dakota Johnson) and Jane (Sonoya Mizuno) are best friends. No one understands each others' lunch orders or inside jokes better than they do. The earliest hint of a strain in their relationship comes when Jane tells Lucy some unexpected news: her company has given her relocation orders and she'll be moving from Los Angeles to London in a few months. Lucy is taken aback; she tries her best to be happy for her friend but deep down, she's terrified that their relationship will change forever. With time now ticking against them, Lucy also musters up the courage to share something she's never admitted before: she's gay.

Equally taken aback by this confession, Jane swiftly makes it her mission to help Lucy feel confident exploring her sexuality before she leaves for London. But Lucy is a bottle of anxiety, which causes her to overthink every interaction with her cute co-worker Brittany (Kiersey Clemons). Lucy is angry, frustrated, and sad. How, at 32 years old, is she just admitting this out loud now, she bemoans. Lucy's insecurities eventually take their toll on Jane, which causes a rift between the girls as the London countdown looms closer. The film ends on a slightly predictable note, but the heartwarming sentiment is more than enough to have us invested up until the very end.

Sundance darling Dakota Johnson embodies the conflicted Lucy with such grace, that it's impossible not to sympathize with her struggles. Her typically quiet demeanor is stretched in unfamiliar ways, as we see her weeping in bathroom stalls and have explosive public arguments. Dakota proves that she can hit any note on the emotional spectrum. Sonoya Mizuno plays Jane with such loyalty and tough love, it's obvious that we'd all be lucky to have a best friend like her.

Stylistically, notable moments include the spot-on soundtrack curated by music supervisors Randall Poster and Meghan Currier. Phoebe Bridgers' Motion Sickness and ROE's Etc Etc fit like missing puzzle pieces in its script. (It's also incredible to see many scenes take place at my favorite LA bar/restaurant, Edendale!)

At its core, AM I OK? is a love story about female friendship and the strength it takes to be honest about the evolutionary journey that is life. We are all destined to change and grow the older we get, and sometimes that means being more honest with ourselves. As Lucy learns through her highs and lows of self-discovery, fear shouldn't dictate the choices you make. Yes, it's scary to face rejection or disappointment but it's even more terrifying to look back on life and realize you've missed out on what you truly wanted.

at his alma mater for the past twenty years.

Before accepting the AD position, Fotis taught chemistry, AP chemistry, Biomedical Innovations, Career Explorations, and Physical Science. He says he will miss the classroom environment but sees his new position as a real challenge that he is ready to take on.

What interested Fotis in stepping away from the classroom and into the AD's office? He said he remembered going into Coach Stevenson's office to talk with him as a freshman and sophomore. He says it was impactful, and he enjoyed being in there. He says he learned that an Athletic Director immediately impacts the educational and athletic communities at a school. "I definitely remember thinking back then that I wanted to do that someday," he said.

As time went on, Fotis started coaching boys' and girls' water polo and swimming. He says he truly enjoyed the experience and seeing the impact that Coach Shevlin had in mentoring and helping the coaches as the AD. "It made me realize even more how much I wanted to help shape student-athletes and support this area of student learning, leadership, and camaraderie."

As a swim and water polo coach, Fotis was part of five CIF championships, including one water polo and four with the swim team. So, what has he learned about coaching that he can take to the AD's position? He says he's learned and taken to heart that he must always be present and be able to listen to people. "I work to be accepting of help when it is offered and be gracious in my appreciation. It is important that it's always better to be inclusive than exclusive."

The downside of Fotis taking on his new position means, unfortunately, he will not be able to continue to coach in the near future. The spring season is a very busy time with 12 programs going on all at once, and he says he wants to be available to those athletes, coaches, and teams should they need anything. He wouldn't rule out returning to coaching sometime in the future.

With the AD's position such a demanding one how will Fotis balance his time? He says he won't entirely be away from the classroom. He said, "I will still be teaching AP Chemistry one period a day. After that the rest of my day is dedicated to my athletic director's duties." He says he recognizes that it is a demanding position and one he's sure he will learn more about next year. "My goal is to be there as much as possible, which is why I have to give up coaching for the time being." He says he's very fortunate to have a supportive family he knows is 100% behind him.

Fotis will begin his new position officially on July 1. He will have some challenging items on his desk waiting, such as helping to hire coaches for the softball team, swim team, cross country teams, and a new athletic trainer. He was part of the hiring process for the new head football coach's position. If that wasn't enough the new re-leaguing format of the Eagles will be a challenge to help navigate the individual sports into their respective leagues.

There have been plenty of successes recently with CIF championships in water polo, golf, volleyball, swimming, and soccer. Fotis hopes to continue that success with a vision of unwavering support. He said, "One of the biggest things I can do as athletic director is to make sure the student-athletes have coaches that are qualified and, more importantly, are good mentors to help, nurture and lead the student-athletes. A coach can positively impact their athletes, causing them to have good experiences in our programs. He says this type of support will lead to more kids wanting to participate and help continue the success. "I have a great deal of pride in our Eagle athletes and I hope to continue the great tradition of success and look forward to doing everything that I can to support our students and coaches."

Fotis believes the success that his predecessors had was communication with all those coaches, athletes, and administration. One big goal that I have is making sure to communicate with all stakeholders involved about Eagle Athletics. He says something that he drove home on the swim team was communication. "I would like to continue that concept with the Athletics Department and community as a whole. He spelled out seemingly small things, like ensuring that game times and schedules were readily available to the community through the school's website and social media. He says people in the community should not have trouble looking up which teams at the high school are playing on which days, when, and where.

Fotis says he often sees many posts on social media about people asking how certain teams did on certain days, and he would like to make sure that results can easily be found. He would also like to see some student-athletes highlighted periodically so that the community knows who they are and not just be known by those who follow a particular sport. "I plan on regularly updating the website with information and looking forward to starting new social media accounts to focus on Eagles Athletics as a whole."

Another of his goals is to continue to build on and foster the relationship between the District and City. He's also looking to continue the positive relationship between the school's athletic department and the El Segundo community for the betterment of everyone.

Fotis is grateful for the opportunity he has as he enters a new chapter in his career. "I just want to give a shout-out to Mr. (Steve) Shevlin, who has done a wonderful job and has left some very big shoes to fill. I cannot say enough about the admiration and respect I have for Mr. Shevlin, and I am forever grateful for the support and help he has given me as I begin to transition into this position." He added that he's looking forward to working with Patricia Guzman in the Activities and Athletics Office. He says he has a special appreciation for all the work she does behind the scenes to support the athletes and coaches. Finally, he says he is also looking forward to a continued and memorable partnership with the ESHS athletic families. It includes students, coaches, faculty, staff, and invested community members to continue the strong tradition of El Segundo High School athletics!

The athletic department is in good hands, and with it the continued success of the new athletic director, Fotis Davlantis.
