Council Approves Agreement to Move Forward with Residential Sound Insulation

By Cristian Vasquez

Inglewood's Residential Sound Insulation efforts continue to move forward as the council recently approved an agreement that would benefit 26 homes with sound insulation.

Through the recommendation of the Residential Sound Insulation Department, the council approved an agreement with DAB Construction, awarding the construction firm a contract as the lowest bidder, in the amount of $805,500 in order to complete RSI Phase X, Group 11J of the city's sound insulation efforts. The contract was approved with a 10 percent contingency fund in the amount of $80,550. The council also adopted a resolution amending the 2014-2015 fiscal year budget for "R024 to include special expenses in the amount of $12,038 for a total project cost of $898,088 (Noise Mitigation Funds)."

The city received only two bids for the project, the other coming from Karabuild Development, Inc. based in Encino and with a price tag of $848,988. With DAB Construction Inc. being the lowest "responsible bidder" to have met the City's requirements for public contracts, the city council decided to move forward with the Encino-based company. Consideration was given not only to the bidder's financial standing, but "also to the competence of the bidder for the performance of the work covered by the proposal," stated the staff report.

The City of Inglewood is the recipient of grant money from the Federal Aviation Administration [FAA] and Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) to administer Residential Sound Insulation (RSI) projects.

The residential sound insulation projects are conducted through construction contracts for residential structure groups of a different variety. This group detailed in this report will provide attenuation for 26 residential structures. DAB Construction Inc. presented plans and specifications that met the advertised standards made by the City on Dec. 10, 2014, when the City Clerk opened bids.

The project will benefit seven single-family homes in District No. 3, two duplex complexes in District No. 4, nine multi-family units in District No. 1 and eight in District No. 4 for a total of 26 units throughout the city. Work on the project will require DAB Construction Inc. to replace existing windows as well as exterior doors made up of acoustic grade products. There will also be "attic insulation, modifications of vents and baffles and other areas of sound transmission as well as installation of heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning systems" according to the staff report.

The recommended contractor, DAB Construction, is experienced in residential sound insulation work and has successfully completed previous projects for City of Inglewood's Sound Insulation Program. The City of Inglewood adopted performance goals for the RSI Program and is set to complete sound insulation in up to 1,000 homes within a 12-month period until the program's funding reaches its ends.

The agreement reached by the city and DAB Construction incorporates a one-year term from the date of the Notice to Proceed." That makes the contractor responsible for completing all of the contracted construction work related to the RSI by Aug. 31.

The agreement incorporates contract provisions, the specification which includes federal and state requirements, technical design details for each home, the bid response as the agreed upon scope of work and performance criteria for the contractor to follow. This contract is based on revised specifications incorporating adopted Disadvantaged Business Enterprise policies. Each contract conforms to federal regulations, including conformity to the state Government Code pertaining to public construction contracts.

The contract is also been revised in order to specify all procedures and regulations associated with the work detailed in the agreement. The RSI construction staff was scheduled and ready to begin work on the project as soon as the contract was awarded, once field measurement verifications were conducted, as soon as materials were purchased and delivered, along with the approval of the project's schedule. The actual construction work will start within 20 days after all of the above listed conditions were met.

City Adopts Ordinance Establishing Parking Structure, Lot Permit Fees

The Council approved and introduce an ordinance that allows the city to establish fees "by resolution" to use city parking structures and lots. The staff report indicates that the change will "streamline the process for approving parking structure and lot fees."

As of the adoption of the ordinance, it will become effective in 30 days. The intention is to "return to the city council and request approval for a parking lot permit fee for Arbor Vitae Street lots" where employees or owners of a business can purchase up to three parking permits at a cost of $100 each, per year, that would allow parking all day. •

Understanding the Types of Financial Advisors and Under What Rules They Operate

(BPT) - What's in a name? When choosing a brand of paper towels or laundry detergent, one name may be as good as another. When it comes to selecting a financial advisor, however, consumers should know there are different types of advisors who are held to significantly different professional standards.

Registered investment advisors (RIAs), for example, are regulated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) or individual states. They are held to a "fiduciary" standard of care, which means they have a legal duty to place the interests of their clients first. Brokers, or registered representatives, are regulated by the Financial Industry Regulatory Agency (FINRA) and are generally not considered investment advisors by federal regulators. They are held to a lower "suitability" standard, although FINRA views that as including a "best interest" of the client standard.

While more than half of U.S. investors use a professional financial advisor (a catch-all phrase that some might see as including financial planners, accountants, brokers, RIAs and even insurance salespeople), four in 10 don't know which standards govern their advisor, according to a 2013 survey conducted by TD Ameritrade Institutional. Yet it is a key distinction.

"It's not uncommon for investors to think a broker is the same as a registered investment advisor," says Skip Schweiss, managing director of advisor advocacy and industry affairs for TD Ameritrade Institutional. "Even savvy investors may not know the difference. But different types of advisors deliver different types of services and are held to different professional standards. Before you invest with any advisor, it's important to understand what their credentials mean, and under what accountability standards they operate."

Fiduciary vs. Suitability

There are two basic standards for financial advisors: fiduciary and suitability. Of these two standards, Schweiss says, the fiduciary standard for RIAs is the higher one. Under the fiduciary standard, RIAs are bound by a 74-year-old federal act - and regulated by the SEC and state regulators. While both RIAs and brokers are required to act in their client's best financial interests, RIAs are required to put their client's interest first, even above their own or their company's interests.

Brokers (also known as registered representatives) operate under the suitability standard. They are required to have reasonable grounds for believing that securities recommendations are suitable based on information provided by the customer regarding other security holdings, financial and tax status, and investment objectives, and other information that would reasonably need to be considered.

"Financial advice can come from practically anywhere these days," Schweiss says. "Some of it will be good, some will be spurious. When you're investing your money, it's important to do your homework and not only research the individual or firm who is helping to manage your money, but the laws and standards to which they are held accountable."

Schweiss also offers these tips for choosing an advisor:

- Know who regulates the advisor you're considering. The regulatory body he or she answers to can clarify what standards he or she operates under.

- Ask how he or she is compensated. By companies selling investment products? Fees paid by clients? Commissions? Compensation type may give you an idea of any potential conflicts of interest between what's best for your money and what puts the most money in the advisor's pocket.

- Learn whether the advisor has been disciplined in the past for dishonesty or inappropriate behavior. You can find background information on financial advisors through the websites of the SEC, FINRA, National Association of Personal Financial Advisors, Certified Planning Board of Standards and the Financial Planning Association. Information may also be available through your state securities agency.

- Ask how frequently your advisor's firm conducts audits, and if your portfolio assets will be handled by a third-party custodian. A custodian will provide a monthly statement of your assets to both you and your advisor.

"Information is an investor's greatest asset," Schweiss says. "While investing always carries an array of different risks, selecting the right advisor and knowing how he or she operates can help ensure your investments are in alignment with your plans and risk tolerance. Investors can help themselves by choosing an advisor who works to help them pursue their own goals." •

Forecast Realty Knows Property in the South Bay

By Laura Sorensen

Real estate in the South Bay can be tricky to navigate. Those looking to buy want the perfect home in a great community, a house which meets their price point as well as has the right type of amenities nearby. Each community has its own feel and budgetary concerns, property laws and other quirks. It's always best to find someone to help navigate through the maze: someone who is an expert on local real estate because they know the area by heart. Forecast Realty, owned by Roger Hart, has made local knowledge its bread and butter for decades.

Forecast Realty has been in business for 34 years, having first opened in 1980. Hart kept the business small to midsize through 1991, employing about 50 real estate agents, but in 1991 moved to his current location at 2420 Carson Street and downsized. "In real estate you have about 10-15% of agents making 90% of the money," he said, so it didn't make sense to have so many people in the office who weren't bringing in sales. Currently, he has an operation that is mostly family: he has three sons and they have all joined him in the business, as well as two of his daughters-in-law. He also has four agents who have been with him for many years. Hart values a companionable working environment and highly trained agents, so he has spent time training each agent himself to meet his standards.

Forecast is not a strictly residential or strictly commercial real estate business. Hart says that in the years he's been in business, he's done a little of everything, from avocado groves to apartment buildings to homes to ranch land. He just concluded a "tricky transaction" which sounded very tricky indeed, involving a shopping mall that was built across three separate parcels of land owned by three different sets of people. The mall was built sixty years ago with an original lease agreement, but of course the price of land has gone up just a bit since then. Hart spent two and a half years dealing with developers, commercial brokers, attorneys, the City of Torrance, the LA City tax assessor, and the title company. "It was a real challenge ... that took a very unique buyer and a sophisticated buyer." The deal was finally concluded successfully and Hart was proud to say that he got the best outcome possible for the families of the owners.

Land and homes in Torrance are in great demand because of the atmosphere in Torrance. Since the early 1990s, developers have spent, according to Hart, about $70 million rejuvenating the Old Town area making it more accessible and interesting to residents. All the homes in Old Town are custom-built and not tract homes, which also helps the real estate market to thrive. The area is also considered very safe and the schools are good, which contributes to a thriving community in Torrance and bolsters a small-town feel even though Torrance itself is spread over a large area. Hart says that when people buy, they tend to stay until they are old and have to sell, or they may pass the home along to their children for another generation of residency.

Because of low turnover and tendency to pass housing along to children, Forecast Realty agents are also skilled at dealing with probate and trusts. Hart noted that since he started his business almost 40 years ago, many of his clients' parents are getting older and dying, leaving the clients to deal with sticky situations involving living trusts and wills. Many requirements have to be completed within a certain time frame, and Forecast has a network of trustworthy attorneys and specialists. Sometimes the person who receives the trust doesn't know what they have to do and in what time frame, but "with just a little extra [help], you can get it right."

Forecast also specializes in helping customers find the right home for them, the right area for their family size, and the right loan to buy a place with. Hart loves the community: he has five grandsons and said that he enjoyed having the family close, enjoying Torrance's parks, and walking around area feeling safe in the community. When asked what he wanted to say to the readers, Hart said, Even if they haven't worked with Forecast in the past or just have questions, all are welcome to give him a call. He added, "Thanks for the many years they [the readers of the Trib] have allowed us to represent them, and we look forward to many more years of taking care of real estate needs." •

What is the Cloud?

By Sid Kato, Array Systems, Inc.

The name "cloud" sounds mysterious and difficult to grasp. It really isn't. In its simplest form anything outside of your physical location, i.e. your house or office, is the cloud. The way most of us access things outside of our physical location is through the public information highway known as the internet. The cloud has become synonymous with the Internet. If you travel back in time when the dinosaurs walked the earth (25+ years ago) before the internet, everything was self-contained in your office. The software, hardware and data you needed to perform your daily duties were all located in one location – usually on a PC or server sitting under a desk. If you were connected to another office location, your company owned and managed the connection of these "self-contained" locations. Today our world is ubiquitous because of the Internet. Not only are you connecting to other offices through the internet but you are also accessing software and hardware through the Internet. You can even store your data on the internet. The cloud, then, is all that stuff outside of your current physical location or, if you're a dinosaur like me, outside of your cave! Dear Readers, this new column will address frequently asked technology questions by small business owners. If you have any questions you'd like answered, email to pr@heraldpublications.com and we will try to answer them. Thank you and enjoy! •

LAX Approves More Funding for Inglewood Residential Sound Insulation Program

A Letter of Agreement with the City of Inglewood was authorized today by the Los Angeles Board of Airport Commissioners that will result in the release of up to $44.3 million in Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) funding for sound insulation in that city.

This funding will enable the City of Inglewood to design and sound-insulate an additional 1,030 units, consisting of 689 single-family and 341 multi-family homes. Project cost covers acoustical, architectural, engineering, construction and administrative activities. Construction contractors typically install double-paned windows, solid-core doors, fireplace doors and dampers, attic baffles, insulation, and other elements to achieve a targeted interior noise level of 45 decibels. To date, LAWA has awarded $164 million and the FAA has awarded $236 million to Inglewood, for a total of $400 million. •

Comet Lovejoy Glows Brightest in Mid-January

Based on a press release from NASA, Based on a press release from Sky & Telescope Magazine, provided by Bob Eklund

Comet Lovejoy, already being tracked by backyard astronomers worldwide, is entering its best and brightest two weeks for viewing. From about January 7 through 24, the comet is predicted to be glowing at 4th magnitude—bright enough that skywatchers with clear, dark skies might be able to just glimpse it by eye, without optical aid. And the early-evening sky during this time will be dark and moonless, allowing the best views.

On January 7, Comet Lovejoy passed closest by Earth at a distance of 44 million miles, nearly half the distance from Earth to the Sun. But its distance will change only a little for many nights after that, so you'll have plenty of opportunities to track it down.

"If you can find Orion shining high in the southeast after dinnertime," says Sky & Telescope magazine's senior editor Kelly Beatty, "you'll be looking in the right direction to track down Comet Lovejoy." From there, use Griffith Observatory's sky map to find the right spot for each date: http://www.griffithobservatory.org/events/Comet_Lovejoy_2014.html

To the unaided eye, Comet Lovejoy might be dimly visible as a tiny circular smudge under dark-sky conditions. Through binoculars or a small telescope, it will be more obvious as a softly glowing ball. Light pollution will make it less apparent, so observers in urban areas will probably need binoculars or a small telescope to see it.

The new Comet Lovejoy, C/2014 Q2, as imaged on November 27th by Gerald Rhemann in Austria using a remotely operated 12-inch f/3.6 astrograph in Namibia. Credit: Sky & Telescope Magazine.

During the next two weeks, the comet crosses the constellations Taurus, Aries, and Triangulum, climbing higher and higher in early evening. It passes 10° to the right (west) of the Pleiades star cluster on the evenings of January 15 through 17. Although by then Comet Lovejoy will be receding from Earth, it doesn't come closest to the Sun until January 30, at a rather distant 120 million miles. By that date, moonlight will begin to interfere, and the comet should be starting to fade as seen from Earth's point of view.

This is the fifth comet discovery by Australian amateur astronomer Terry Lovejoy, and he found it in images taken with his backyard 8-inch telescope. It's a very long-period comet, meaning that it has passed through the inner solar system before, roughly 11,500 years ago. Slight gravitational perturbations by the planets will alter the orbit a bit, so that the comet will next return in about 8,000 years. Astronomers have given it the official designation C/2014 Q2.

Based on its steady, uninterrupted brightening, observers estimate that the comet's solid, ice-rich nucleus is at least 2 or 3 miles across, slightly larger than typical for comets. But the glowing object we actually see is vastly larger and less substantial than the nucleus. The comet's visible "head," or coma, is a cloud of gas and dust roughly 400,000 miles across that has been driven off the nucleus by the warmth of sunlight.

Human eyes can't perceive color in dim nighttime objects well, but photographs show that Comet Lovejoy has a lovely green hue. The green glow comes from molecules of diatomic carbon (C₂) in the coma that fluoresce in response to ultraviolet sunlight. By contrast, Comet Lovejoy's long, delicate gas tail is tinted blue, thanks to carbon monoxide ions (CO⁺) that are likewise fluorescing.

In addition, dust in a comet's coma and tail simply reflects sunlight, so dust features appear pale yellowish white. The most memorable comets tend to have dramatic dust tails, such as spectacular Comet Hale-Bopp in 1997 and another discovery by Terry Lovejoy, C/2011 W3, in 2011. •

Lawndale Rolls Over Culver City, Santa Monica

Lawndale High's boys' basketball team began the Pioneer League with a clear statement after routs of Culver City and Santa Monica last week at home. Against the Centaurs on January 14, the Cardinals smothered the Centaurs 70-27. Last Friday, Lawndale pulled away from the Vikings 89-65.

Against Santa Monica, which fell to 6-11 against a mostly very tough schedule, the Cardinals started and finished fast. Lawndale (11-7 overall and 2-0 in Ocean play) rolled to a 22-8 first quarter lead but the usually tough Vikings got as close as seven points on a pair of occasions, including 47-40 early in the third quarter.

From there, Lawndale, behind a game-high 29 points by six-foot-10 University of Southern California-bound center-forward Chimezie Metu, amassed 51 second half points, 27 of those in the fourth period, to 38 for Santa Monica. Metu got things started with 11 points in the first quarter and eight each in the second and third periods, getting inside on numerous occasions. D'lano Beckles added 19 points and Deandre Snedecar chipped in 17.

Against a smaller Culver City team, the Cardinals led by four (14-10) after the first quarter before holding the Centaurs to just 17 points in the second, third and fourth periods. Already leading 34-19 at halftime, Lawndale outscored Culver 21-2 in the third quarter as the rout was on. Metu sparked the Cardinals with 24 points and 12 rebounds.

Last night, Lawndale was tested at Beverly Hills, which is also 2-0 in league after wins over El Segundo and Hawthorne last week. The Cardinals visit El Segundo Friday at 7:30 p.m. Lawndale hosts Hawthorne next Wednesday at the same time.

INGLEWOOD SPLITS IN BAY

The Bay League boys' basketball season started with a bang as Inglewood High visited Redondo in a battle of two of the top South Bay powers on January 13. The Sea Hawks, who were ranked fourth in California, finished an outstanding preseason slate with an 11-4 record with a premiere schedule that included wins over other top teams in Chino Hills, Corona Centennial and Putnam City West from Oklahoma for the title in a premiere Las Vegas Bishop Gorman Tarkanian Classic.

Redondo, though, lost its final two preseason contest to nationally ranked Los Angeles Fairfax in the San Diego Torrey Pines Tournament final and Torrance Bishop Montgomery, then lost one of its top players in six-foot-nine sophomore center-forward Billy Preston who opted to transfer out of the school. The Sentinels appeared that they would take advantage of it in taking a 22-18 first quarter lead, behind several inside baskets.

Redondo, though, turned things around outscoring Inglewood 19-7 in the second period to take a 37-29 halftime lead and the Sents were unable to get back in a 74-63 loss. Behind junior guard Leland Green, who led all scorers with 27 points, the Sea Hawks, who improved to 14-4 overall and 2-0 in league after a 68-41 victory at Morningside last Friday and a 58-57 win over Foothills Christian from El Cajon on Saturday at Cerritos College, went on to lead by as many as 20 points early in the fourth quarter.

Inglewood got as close as eight points but Redondo was able to put the game away on key free throws and baskets. Terrell Gomez led the Sentinels with 22 points, followed by Darae Elliott with 17. Gomez scored 14 of those points in the final period, including a three-point basket, two two-pointers and seven free throws.

Last Friday, Inglewood evened its league record to 1-1 and overall mark to 9-9 by routing host Palos Verdes 82-41. The Sentinels dominated the entire game against the Sea Kings, who fell to 5-12 overall and 0-2 in league. Gomez led Inglewood with 22 points and eight assists, while Elliott contributed 14 points.

The Sentinels have two home league games this week against two other very tough teams. Inglewood hosted Mira Costa, which is also 2-0 in Bay action after a thrilling 75-72 overtime victory at Peninsula last Friday, then faces Peninsula Friday at 7:30 p.m. Inglewood, then, will have its cross town rivalry at Morningside next Tuesday at the same time.

LEUZINGER GOES UNBEATEN

Leuzinger High's boys' basketball team is 3-0 in the Pioneer League after topping West Torrance and Torrance last week. At Leuzinger on January 14, the Olympians defeated the Warriors 52-40. At Torrance last Friday, Leuzinger edged the Tartars 60-59.

Davonte Carr led Leuzinger (9-9, 3-0) with 12 points, Darrian Williams and Davion Crowder each had 11 points. Williams led the Olympians with 20 points in their win over West.

Leuzinger will have a critical two games as it hosts North Torrance, also 2-0 in league after wins over Compton Centennial and West last week, then remains at home against Centennial next Wednesday. Both league games begin at 7:30 p.m.

HAWTHORNE FALLS TO BEVERLY HILLS

Hawthorne High's boys' basketball team lost at Beverly Hills 90-62 in Ocean League play last Friday. Cesar Erazo led the Cougars (4-14, 0-2) with 15 points and Ksaun Curry put in 14. In their league opener at Santa Monica on January 14, the Cougars fell to the Vikings 66-42.

Hawthorne hosted El Segundo on Wednesday and is at home against Culver City Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Cougars visit Centinela Valley School District rival Lawndale next Wednesday at the same time. •

Inglewood's Josh Conley shoots above Redondo's Morgan Means in last week's Bay League boys' basketball opener. The Sentinels lost to the Sea Hawks and defeated Palos Verdes. Inglewood hosts Peninsula Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Four Simple Home Remedies for Joint Pain

(BPT) - Soreness, stiffness, tenderness - joint pain can have a direct impact on quality of life. Fortunately, there are a number of proactive steps that incorporate all-natural solutions to help improve joint health and overall wellness.

Joint pain is one of the most common health concerns. It affects 30 percent of U.S. adults, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Not surprisingly, joint pain prevalence increases with age. Forty-two percent of adults 45-64 years old, and about one-half of adults 65 and older, have experienced recent joint pain, the CDC reports.

"Just because a person ages, it doesn't mean they should hurt," says Dr. Christopher Mohr, a fitness and nutritional expert who consults for television, print and radio outlets throughout the country. "Lifestyle plays a big role in maintaining joint health. Joint health and integrity is built on a strong foundation - diet, exercise, and weight management."

Mohr offers four all-natural ways to improve - and even eliminate - joint pain in the knees, hips and ankles:

1. Eat for joint health Key nutrients that help with joint health, mobility and lubrication are healthy fats like omega-3s. "Think of these like lube for your joints," says Mohr. "Replace some of the usual protein in your diet with fish - wild salmon, tuna, sardines, anchovies, etc. Aim to do this at least twice per week."

In addition to increasing foods with healthy omega-3 fats, Mohr recommends reducing unhealthy fats like trans and saturated fats. These are often found in packaged items, sweet treats and other overly processed foods.

"Of course, also think about adding loads and loads of colorful veggies and fruits, as well as decreasing sugar and other refined carbs in the diet," Mohr suggests.

2. Add supplements Omega-3 fats can support joint health, but often people don't get enough through the foods they eat. Supplementation is a good option for people who suffer from joint pain. "Joint health can be maintained by 'feeding' the body what it needs," says Mohr. "Nordic Naturals provides a high-quality, concentrated dose of omega-3 fats that your body uses most efficiently. I like the Nordic Naturals EPA Xtra product, as EPA is one of the omega-3 fats that's particularly beneficial for healthy joints."

3. Manage a healthy weight "The less body weight you have to carry around, the easier it will be to move around," says Mohr. "Make physical activity a regular part of your day. The stronger your muscles, the easier it will be to move comfortably. Above all, this will help relieve some of the common pains in the joints."

4. Stay physically active Mohr says one of the most common misconceptions about joint pain is that rest is helpful. "Unfortunately that becomes a vicious cycle, where more rest can ultimately cause more pain because the surrounding muscles are getting weaker and giving less support to those joints," he says.

Appropriate physical activity should be part of a daily joint-health routine, but it doesn't require joining a gym or hiring a trainer. Start with simple steps, like standing instead of sitting, walking as much as possible, swimming at a pool, etc. Basic movements can keep weight in check and maintain joint and muscle integrity.

Joint pain and soreness is common. By taking a few simple steps at home, you can dramatically change how you feel and how you move, so you can live to the fullest every day. •

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may contact Priority Posting & Publishing for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit its website www.priorityposting.com for information regarding the sale of this property. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The beneficiary of said Lien hereto executed and delivered to the undersigned, a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the County where the real property is located. Date: 12/28/2014 Association Lien Services, as Trustee P.O. PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Pets Without Partners Purrrfect Companions

Billy is a sweet little guy who loves people..

Adopt a "pet without a partner" and give a homeless pet a second chance in life.

Billy is one of the cutest little dogs in the world! He was found as a stray abandoned in a parking lot with no collar, no tag and no microchip. Billy is about 2 years old and weighs 7 pounds full grown. He is a super friendly little guy. He is good with all the other dogs at the rescue and loves everyone he meets young and old. He loves to go for walks and is great on leash. Billy is an all-around great little companion dog who will make a very easy transition into your home situation. Billy is neutered, current on vaccinations, dewormed, microchipped, would be best with children over 7, but please no cats.

Mama Cass is sweet, friendly, gives lots of kisses and has a very bright sparkling personality. It's hard not to fall in love with her the instant you meet her. She is right around 4-6 years old and weighs 6 pounds. This is a really nice little girl who loves to be carried around or sitting on your lap or next to you on the couch. She is your constant companion. Mama Cass is in foster care and is completely housebroken. She is spayed, has had a dental, current on vaccines, microchipped, fine with other dogs and children over 6 due to her small size.

Gracie is an active 5 month old "Puggle" mix who was born on July 29, 2014. She loves absolutely everyone she meets. Her day is all about play, play, play. She currently weighs 16 pounds and is still growing. Gracie was dumped at the shelter by her prior owners and is just learning everything for the first time. She is starting to sit on command and goes to the bathroom on newspaper. Gracie is a really nice little girl who needs someone who has the time needed to raise a puppy. Gracie is spayed, current on vaccinations, dewormed, microchipped, fine with other dogs and children over 7, but please no cats.

Gypsy is a beautiful little Lab/Shepherd puppy born on November 22, 2014. As a puppy, Gypsy will require a lot of your time and consistency with training as she grows up.

Please fill out an application of interest from our website as she is seen by appointment only with an approved application. Due to our spay/neuter ordinance with the City of Los Angeles, Gypsy needs to be adopted into our immediate area since she will need to come back to us for shots and to be spayed. Gypsy is current on vaccinations, dewormed, microchipped, fine with other dogs, children over 6 and ok with cats.

To learn more about these and other wonderful dogs, visit our website at www.animalsrule.org. If a dog is on our website, it's available. Come to our Saturday adoption events from 11 a.m. – 3 p.m. at 305 North Harbor Blvd., San Pedro (just off the 110 near the cruise port). We are always in need of donations for veterinarian bills and our senior dogs. Donations can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to: Animals Rule Placement Foundation at 305 North Harbor Blvd., San Pedro, CA 90731. All donations are tax-deductible; we are a registered 501©3 non-profit organization. •

Happy Tails

Stella started off the new year with a new family. Here she is with her new BFF.

Isabella is a very affectionate and devoted companion.

Looking for your purr-fect match? Kitties of every color and size waiting to meet you.

Isabella is super affectionate, a total lap cat and loves belly rubs. Her big blue eyes will melt your heart and you will have a devoted companion who gives as much love as she gets. Her scoliosis makes her back a little crooked and has given her a spiral tail, Micha is very adventurous and loves to explore.

which is very endearing. It doesn't give her any discomfort or affect her mobility in any way. She is also de-clawed from a previous owner. Isabella does get a special diet kibble to prevent urinary tract crystals due to her scoliosis, but loves any kind of wet food and has had zero health issues! Isabella would make someone a fabulous companion and would be happy as an only cat or with another easygoing kitty.

Micha and Moses are adorable five-month-old brothers. Micha is a goofy, playful boy who loves to explore. He is the leader and super adventurous. Micha loves to play with any toy he can get his paws on and loves other cats. Moses is a bit more laid back than his brother, letting Micha take the lead. Since they live with small dogs as well, Micha and Moses would be great in just about any home.

Moses loves to hang out with his brother Micha or playing with others.

With their energy and young age, Micha and Moses can be adopted together or separately into homes with another cat as a buddy to romp and cuddle with.

Suki is a very sweet four-month-old kitten who loves to cuddle with his fellow foster kittens and foster mommy. Suki enjoys playing with his toys and is a mellow little guy. He loves to snuggle in your arms and will bury his face if he's feeling overwhelmed. Suki needs a fellow kitty in his home and would adore being adopted with one of his foster buddies.

These kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All of our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kitties, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave. and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave. just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location. • at her anymore, just kind of walks around her and checks her out. I think it's safe to say they are comfortable around each other now. She's become very comfortable with me and Jonathan already and will run right to us when we walk in a room. Also, we started calling her Stella, which she started responding to already. All in all, she is such a sweetie and we are loving having her here. I have attached a few pictures of her as well....Rachel and Jonathan."

When you adopt a "pet without a partner", you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Be kind. Save a life. Support animal rescue.
