School District Receives Spotless Audit

By Dylan Little

During the January 15 School Board meeting, the Hawthorne Elementary School District received a clear audit from Vavrinek, Trine, Day and Company, meaning that the District's accounting is accurate. Matt Miller with the company presented the Board with the findings. "Everything is clean and everything is accounted for correctly and according to the guidelines," he said.

Miller did mention the District's recent spate of deficit spending, but noted that it maintained well within the State's required three percent reserves. "You've had some years of deficit spending, but you have met your required reserves," said Miller.

Superintendent Helen Morgan said the firm did a meticulous job of examining the District and that she is grateful to have the help to ensure funds are all correctly accounted. "They are very thorough," said Morgan. "They kind of make themselves part of the District for the week they are here. There were a lot of people involved in making this happen so that we have been successful year after year and I appreciate the work you do for us."

The Board also had its yearly update on the Brown Act, California's open meetings law, from James Baca with the law firm Atkinson, Andelson, Loya, Ruud and Romo. Morgan said strictly following the law is essential to the District. "If we do anything in Hawthorne, it's follow the rules," said Morgan.

The biggest change to how the Board handles meetings is that if there is a vote in closed session, it needs to be recorded how each member voted and made public. The reason behind this change is to make Board member actions more transparent to the community at large. "What's most important is that the public knows how each member voted," said Baca.

The new rules on voting in closed session weren't the only changes, but they were the ones most likely to impact the Board. Baca said the other changes (like adding the Governor to the list of people who can attend closed session meetings) were minor and "not as significant."

Board member Cristina Chiappe said she was pleased she and her colleagues had the chance to make sure they are fully complying with the law and doing their utmost to keep meetings open and transparent to the community. "I am glad we have the opportunity to review and refresh

"Everything is clean and everything is accounted for correctly and according to the guidelines"

our knowledge of the Brown Act," said Chiappe. "This can be a really dangerous zone sometimes."

Also during the meeting, Morgan informed the Board that the oversight committee tasked with monitoring the use of funds raised by the recently approved Measure CL has been selected. One proviso of the parcel tax law was that each district had to appoint an independent group of citizens to make sure the funds raised by it were used in an acceptable manner. During talks with District staff and attorneys, Morgan said the ideal candidates for the committee were parents of children in the district. Luckily, finding volunteers for Hawthorne's committee was easy--as several parents looking for ways to be active in the community and with their children's education stepped up to the role.

"Through discussions...we determined we wanted parents to be part of that committee," said Morgan. "I asked the principals for recommendations of parents who they thought would be willing and want to serve on the committee. Every single one of those parents indicated they were interested. They were all very happy about being approached."

Lastly, Hawthorne School District Classified Association President Jose Medina addressed the Board with some research he thought the members needed to know before deliberating on the union's contract. Medina noted that out of the 120 classified employees with benefits, 24 of them pay out of pocket for coverage (they pay 25 percent of their benefits as they only work three-quarters of the year). Combined, these payments totally $57,463.68 annually. Medina said that while the union would like raise, if it comes at the cost of increasing their contributions to their benefits it would be a wash. "I want to make sure you can all have the information you need to make an informed decision on what's going to affect us and our health benefits," said Medina. "If we were to receive a raise and start paying for our benefits, that raise would mean nothing."

The association is hoping to secure a raise for its members after years of stagnant pay due to the economic recession. Medina said he has heard criticism that the union's members are overpaid, which he refutes by saying that those who are making over $60,000 have earned that salary by serving the district for decades. "There are only two members in our bargaining making over $60,000," said Medina. "They've achieved that through longevity. So yes, you can make $60,000 a year, but you've got to be here for 20 years." •

Looking Up

Hubble Peeks Through a Gravitational Lens

By Bob Eklund

This image of Abell 2744 is the first to come from Hubble's Frontier Fields observing program, which is using the magnifying power of enormous galaxy clusters to peer deep into the distant Universe. Abell 2744, nicknamed Pandora's Cluster, is thought to have a very violent history, having formed from a cosmic pile-up of multiple galaxy clusters.

Astronomers previously observed Abell 2744 with the NASA/ESA Hubble Space Telescope back in 2011, exploring the cluster's history. They found that at least four galaxy clusters had crashed into one another to form Abell 2744, causing some weird and wonderful effects. This mix of cosmic phenomena, some of which had never been seen before, led to the nickname of Pandora's Cluster (<http://www.spacetelescope.org/news/heic1111>).

A mix of hazy elliptical galaxies and colorful spirals can be seen clumping together in the center of this image. The effects of the cluster's gravity can be seen in the blue arcs and distorted shapes that are scattered across the frame, including galaxies that seem to be bleeding into the surrounding space. The arcs are actually the distorted images of galaxies far in the distance.

Abell 2744 is the first of six targets for an observing program known as Frontier Fields. This three-year, 840-orbit program will yield our deepest views of the universe to date, using the power of Hubble to explore more distant regions of space than could otherwise be seen, by observing gravitational lensing effects around six different galaxy clusters.

Gravitational lensing is a phenomenon caused by an object's influence on the space-time around it. All objects that have mass affect the space around them in this way, but huge clumps of mass like galaxy clusters do so more strongly. This causes light from more distant objects hidden behind this makeshift "lens" to be deflected and bent, leading to a bizarre array of optical effects—for example, by creating mirror images of one galaxy, as well as smearing galaxies out into arcs, and creating multiple images of individual objects. This effect is one of the predictions of Albert Einstein's general theory of relativity.

Although Orest Chwolson (1924) and Frantisek Klin (1936) are sometimes credited as being the first ones to discuss this effect in print, it is more commonly associated with Einstein, who published a famous article on the subject in 1936. Swiss astronomer Fritz Zwicky, who worked at Mount Wilson Observatory, followed this up by suggesting in 1937 that the effect could allow galaxy clusters to act as gravitational lenses. It was not until 1979 that this effect was actually confirmed by observation.

As well as creating weird shapes, gravitational lensing also magnifies the images so that astronomers can see more detail. This means that distant objects that otherwise would be too distant and faint to be seen become visible—something that the Frontier Fields program aims to exploit over the coming years.

Some results from this program are already starting to emerge, with Abell 2744 as the first target. In a paper submitted to The Astrophysical Journal last November, a group of astronomers detected a large number of distant, gravitationally lensed galaxy candidates—all viewed through Abell 2744. These deep surveys using massive galaxy clusters show that looking through cosmic lenses can be an effective and useful way to study the distant Universe.

Resolve to Walk More this Year

There are countless physical activities out there, but walking has the lowest dropout rate of them all. It's the simplest positive change you can make to effectively improve your heart health. Research has shown that the benefits of walking and moderate physical activity for at least 30 minutes a day can help you avoid the following: high blood pressure, heart disease, diabetes, osteoporosis, and reduce the risk of breast and colon cancer. It can also maintain your body weight and enhance your mental well being.

Wow! That is a lot of good coming from just 30 minutes of exercise. I have found that when I walk my neighborhood, I see people I know and get a chance to speak to them neighbor to neighbor. Walking gets you out of your car and gives you a chance to get to know your neighbors. The City of Hawthorne's Walking Program will be back in action this Saturday, January 25 at 9 a.m. at Holly Park, located at 12000 S. Van Ness Ave. (corner of 120th Street and Van Ness). Walkers from all over the city are invited to participate. Be a Good Neighbor, walk your neighborhood.

Football and Sportsmanship

Can you play a sport that requires you to be rough, tough and physical and at the same time show a respect for your opponent? I believe you can. The reason I raise this question is that it is being discussed by many people leading up to the Super Bowl to be held on February 2. A Seattle Seahawks player made comments following the NFC Championship Game last Sunday that were disrespectful of his opponent. It's one thing to trash talk during the game, but to do it on national tv is another thing. My favorite athletes play their game with integrity and professionalism. I tend to root for those players and teams that work hard and do it with "class". A lot of people in America seem to feel the same as I do. Following these comments, Denver seems to have taken on many of the neutral fans' liking.

Free Class in California Friendly Landscaping To Be Held

A free landscaping class will be held on Tuesday, January 28 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Hawthorne City Hall.

This class will help you learn to create an ocean friendly garden using the latest sustainable materials and techniques. Course covers the use of native plants and edibles, water-efficient irrigation devices, rain water capture and permeable materials and on-site water retention. Space is limited, register today!

Refreshments provided. Call (310) 371-4633 or visit www.sbesc.com to register.

Proposed Law

A bill being proposed in the California State Assembly would allow people of the same sex to get married at their City Clerks office. I have attended a few weddings in the past and have participated in my own 34 years ago, but I can not say that I have ever officiated over a civil union. I guess the bill is aimed at making it easier for same sex couples to tie the knot. This would keep them from traveling to their nearest County courthouse or County Records Office.

Hawthorne Gets Stifled by Beverly Hills, Inglewood

By Joe Snyder

Hawthorne High's boys' basketball team showed its inexperience in lopsided Ocean League losses to Beverly Hills and Inglewood last week. The Cougars, who are 5-9 overall and 0-2 in Ocean play, started on January 15 at home where the Normans crushed them 65-24. Last Friday at Inglewood, Hawthorne showed better offense but the Sentinels outscored the Cougars 90-66.

Against the Normans (11-7, 2-0), Hawthorne shot a miserable 11 percent from the floor and converted on just seven total field goals, including five three-point baskets and only two two-pointers. Leading 25-13 at halftime, Beverly Hills, which is one of the top contenders for the league title, stepped things up by outscoring Hawthorne 40-11 in the second half. The Cougars failed to score more than seven points in any of the quarters.

Hawthorne failed to get any player to score in double figures as its two leading scorers were Markell Gray and Brian Ross with six points apiece. Ronan Massana led the Normans with 14 points.

At Inglewood on Friday, the Sentinels, who improved to 9-9 overall and 1-1 in league, jumped all over the Cougars with a 34-8 first quarter lead and 52-24 by halftime. Hawthorne managed to outscore Inglewood 42-38 in the second half as Sentinel head coach Patrick Roy used mostly reserves.

Da'Rae Elliott led the Sents with 28 points, followed by Terrell Gomez with 18. Corey Dollarhide added 14 points. Ricky Bryant sparked the Cougars with 24 points. Patrick Washington chipped in 15 points. Despite Hawthorne's dismal season, Bryant is leading the team averaging 18.3 points, 4.8 rebounds, 7.8 assists and 1.3 steals per game.

On January 15 at Santa Monica between two Ocean powers who are being faced with mostly rebuilding, Inglewood fell to the Vikings 52-40. Gomez led the Sentinels with 12 points.

After visiting Morningside on Wednesday, Hawthorne will host Culver City in a league game Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Sents hosted Culver City on Wednesday and will visit Beverly Hills in what should be a key Ocean match Friday at 7:30 p.m.

LAWNDALE ROLLS OVER EL SEGUNDO

Lawndale High's boys' basketball team routed El Segundo 80-41 in the Pioneer League opener on January 15 at Lawndale. The Cardinals, who are 12-7 overall and 2-0 in the Pioneer League, proved dominant throughout the game against the Eagles. They led 37-20 at halftime and continued to pour it on in the second half. Roderick Jones led Lawndale with 18 points, followed by Chimeze Metu with 11 and R'Lando Beckles with 10.

El Segundo has been adjusting to a coaching change. After head mentor Craig Gash resigned abruptly a few weeks ago, the Eagles are now head-coached by Rick Sabosky, who led El Segundo from the 1980s to 2010. The Eagles managed to give a very good Mira Costa team, which is 15-3 overall and 1-1 in the Bay League after a 64-44 loss at California state ranked (fifth) Redondo last Friday, a battle before falling 53-50.

At Lawndale last Friday, the Cardinals won handily over Centennial High from Compton 58-41. Lawndale outscored the Apaches in each of the four quarters. Metu led the Cardinals with 15 points. Beckles and Jones chipped in 12 and 10 points respectively.

After visiting North Torrance, which has a 15-4 overall record and is 1-0 in league, on Wednesday, Lawndale hosts South Torrance in another Pioneer contest Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Cardinals then visit Torrance next Wednesday at the same time.

MORNINGSIDE STARTS SLOWLY IN OCEAN

Morningside High's boys' basketball team is 0-2 in the Ocean League after losses to Culver City and Beverly Hills last week. At Culver on January 15, the Monarchs fell to the Centaurs 77-57. At Morningside last Friday, the Monarchs lost to Beverly Hills 69-60.

Keying Morningside against Culver was Dakari King with 19 points. James Brown contributed 17 points and 16 rebounds. The Centaurs were led by Chris Edwards with a game-high 21 points.

Against the Normans the Monarchs tried to hang in there, but Beverly Hills proved a little too much for them. King led Morningside with 18 points.

LEUZINGER FALLS AT P.V.

Leuzinger High's boys' basketball team lost its Bay League opener to host Palos Verdes High 55-48 on January 16. It was Palos Verdes' first Bay League boys' basketball victory in three years and it ended a 22-game league losing streak that dated back to the 2010-11 season.

Last Friday, the Olympians were faced with a rare basketball postponement at Rolling Hills Estates Peninsula due to poor air quality caused by the Colby Fire that ravaged the Glendora/Azusa area with its smoke flowing into the South Bay. Rescheduling of the game is still yet to be determined.

Leuzinger, which is 6-11 overall and 0-1 in league, hosted Mira Costa on Tuesday and will be at home against West Torrance for another Bay game Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Olympians then visit powerful Redondo, which is 14-3 overall and 2-0 in league as well as one of the top teams in Southern California, next Tuesday at the same time. •

Politically Speaking

One Man's Opinion

The sun still shone brightly on that bucolic little knoll and the shade tree that kept Rip propped upright during his six-year nap. With a yawn and with his stomach growling, he stretched and moved around to be sure his

“So we're not rich, we're not free, and we're not educated. What does that mean to life in America?” asked Rip.

“Sadly,” said Jack, “there are more people receiving government benefits than there are people working. The Census Bureau says there muscles and joints still worked, since six years is a long time. Blinking the sleep from his eyes, he headed down to the village to get a bite to eat and get an update on this wonderful land of exceptionalism called America.

There he encountered his old friend Jack and inquired, “How goes our ship of state?”

“Not well,” replied Jack. “The Wall Street Journal released its annual poll of countries enjoying the greatest economic freedom, and we have fallen to 12th in the world! Incredibly, we have more taxes and regulations than even Estonia, Chile and Mauritius!”

“Well, we need to protect the lambs from the wolves,” said Rip, “but haven't those protections raised our standard of living?”

“No, Rip, we are no longer the wealthiest nation in the world,” reported Jack. “Bloomberg News reports the Legatum Institute now ranks the U.S. 22nd in world prosperity. We have higher unemployment, lower savings, and lower tech exports than 21 other countries.”

“Well,” said Rip, “given all our shortcomings surely we're gaining ground, aren't we?” “Fraid not, Rip,” said Jack. “Our educational system is a bust too. The U.S. reported that among 23 nations, we now rank only 21st in mathematics and are tied for 15th in literacy. By both measurements, we are below international standards.”

are 151 million receiving benefits, but only 101.7 million people working full time. The Wall Street Journal concurred, reporting in October that there are now 90.6 million non-institutionalized people over the age of 16 who do not work at all.” Frowning, Jack asked, “Besides texting, what do they do with their time?” The New York Times two weeks ago reported that at the end of 2006, 63.4 percent of adults had jobs, but while you slept, Rip, the number had fallen to 58.6 percent. Of the jobs created during the Obama Administration, 77 percent were merely part-time--so the average family income has fallen.

“Now poorer, struggling families depend on government largesse. On January 14, for instance, the White House admitted that 79 percent of those who have signed up for Obamacare require government subsidies to afford insurance premiums that in many cases have doubled since the healthcare law became effective. The White House didn't mention the explosion of annual deductibles, so pity the other 21 percent who do not receive “free money.”

A tearful Rip concluded, “We're not rich, we're not free, we're not educated and we're poorer than at any time in the last 50 years. Since political leadership brought us to this place, I'll take a 50-year nap and see if new leadership can restore this once-exceptional country.” •

Fair Solution to an Affordable Care Act Problem

By Cristian Vasquez

Part of being an efficient elected official is having the ability to reach across the political as many people as possible who are not covered. So it makes absolutely no sense to strip people who currently have health insurance coverage aisle in order to better serve voters, regardless of party affiliation. Today I am doing something similar, but as a writer. As someone who has been in favor of President Obama's Affordable Care Act and has wanted to see it succeed, I have been disappointed at many of the problems that have been encountered with the new health care law. One of those problems, which is completely unacceptable, is that many Americans who had health coverage prior to the Affordable Care Act lost that coverage when the law took effect.

“To automatically cancel or terminate the existing health coverage of people is simply wrong and goes against the intended goals of the Affordable Care Act.”

Last week Assemblyman and senior member of the Assembly Committee on Health Dan Logue--a Republican from Northern California--introduced Assembly Bill 1507 in an effort to solve the problem. AB 1507 will allow Californians who had their health plans canceled as a result of the Affordable Care Act to reclaim those plans at least through December of this year. Back in November, the Covered California Board unanimously voted that any health plans that covered Californians that did not measure up to federal health care guidelines had to be relinquished.

I am not sure who is on this board nor why they decided that this was a good idea, but that body struck out with this decision. The purpose of the Affordable Care Act is to create the market options necessary to provide health coverage to because they don't meet the guidelines set by the federal government. That logic simply does not register with my simple mind. To be honest, it is embarrassing that a law meant to provide health coverage ends up stripping coverage away from people who were responsible and fortunate enough to afford their own health insurance.

Furthermore, we all heard the promise that people who were already covered and liked their doctors would be allowed to keep what they had in place. I understand that sometimes the things that we plan for don't turn out as we expected. So if the plan was to allow people with health coverage to maintain that insurance and it turns out that such a move would not be possible, at the very least these people should be given a reasonable grace period to find an appropriate solution. To automatically cancel or terminate the existing health coverage of people is simply wrong and goes against the intended goals of the Affordable Care Act.

Assemblyman Logue is proposing a logical solution to a problem that was created by lawmakers and for which people should not have to suffer. I hope that the State Assembly can get behind Assemblyman Logue's bill and pass it so that the State Senate can do the same. If these Democratic lawmakers really believe in health coverage for all, then this is the right thing to do. •

This week has been so hot that I wanted something light to eat but still big flavored. So I came up with a shrimp dish that is very easy to make and still quick, so the kitchen doesn't get to hot.

The Chef

South of the Border Shrimp

- 1 pound peeled and deveined raw shrimp
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1 bunch green onions cut in 2 inch pieces
- 1 cup diced tomatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped olives
- 4 basil leaves chopped
- 1/4 cup white wine
- 1 tablespoon unsalted butter
- Salt and pepper to taste

In a large hot sauté pan sauté the shrimp in the olive oil.
 Add the onions and cooked for 30 sec.
 Add the tomatoes basil and wine.
 Simmer for about a minute then add the butter, salt and pepper and mix together till the shrimp are done and pink.
 Serve over rice or pasta.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. To meet these and other canine cuties, visit us during our regular adoption event this Saturday. Or grab your pooch and join us for tail-waggin' fun at the Pet Expo (Long Beach Convention Center), Saturday, February 1 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free! Dogs must be leashed with proof of vaccines.

Foxy is an all-American dog that makes you want to go camping, hiking or just take a long walk on the beach. This little American Eskimo mix is fully grown at one-year-old and is a great size at 15 pounds. Foxy is affectionate, charming and a very loving dog. She is hardy, playful and is excellent with children and everyone she meets. With her willingness to please, she will be easy to train and will do excellently in obedience classes--which we highly recommend with all of our young dogs. Foxy would love to be part of your family and would benefit from a consistent and confident "pack leader." She loves her crate and is 100 percent crate-trained. Foxy is spayed, current on vaccinations, de-wormed and microchipped.

Our darling little Heidi came to us as a stray. What a find this girl is! We rarely have ever had a sweeter dog than this one. Heidi absolutely loves everyone she meets and has great play manners with all other dogs. She is currently in foster care where we have learned she is housebroken and uses the doggie door with

We prefer to place him as an only dog, or he can go with another large female dog. He is not cat-safe. Connor is neutered, current on vaccinations, de-wormed and microchipped.

To learn more about these and other wonderful dogs, visit our website at www.animalsrule.org. If a dog is on our website, it's available. Or come to our Saturday adoption events from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at 305 North Harbor Boulevard in San Pedro (just off the 110 near the cruise port). We are always in need of donations for veterinarian bills and our senior dogs. Donations can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to: Animals Rule Placement Foundation at 305 North Harbor Blvd., San Pedro, CA 90731. All donations are tax-deductible. Connor is a beautiful fawn-colored Mastiff and a gem of a dog. He was born on February 27, 2007 and was given up after his family's daughter was diagnosed with leukemia. We love the big boys and we were happy to take this well-behaved guy into rescue. We can't say enough good things about Connor. He loves everyone he meets, he grew up with kids and is happy to have them in his family. He is gentle, loving, sweet, calm, mellow, easygoing and fabulous in every way. Connor was raised as an inside dog, is totally housebroken and

Happy Tails

Bandit is a sweet little love of a dog with rockin' airplane ears. He sat patiently watching other dogs come and go as they were adopted, waiting for his forever family to find him. A family that had previously adopted through Animals Rule wanted Bandit to feel the love of a home and family as he waited for adoption and asked to foster him. Then, what rescuers sometimes call a "foster failure" occurred. Translation: the foster family fell so in love with him that they adopted Bandit themselves! Here's a look at their emails that led to Bandit's "Happy Tail."

"Hi. We have been following Bandit on your website for some time and it is breaking our hearts that he is not with a family. (We adopted Spencer from Animals Rule in March of 2012.) We would love to foster Bandit. Is this a possibility?"

Then two weeks later on December 12,

2013... "He is such a sweet dog. He is learning to use the doggie door. He plays and snuggles with the other two dogs--so fun to watch them. He even goes to the toy box and picks out toys to snuggle with. Loves to be held and we take him with us wherever we can. There doesn't seem to be any treat or food issues between the three of them. He is warming up to my husband... even goes up to him to be picked up and loved. We brought him with us on Thanksgiving. He let my dad and brother hold him. Of course, he loved all the women. Needless to say, Bandit is a perfect name because he has stolen our hearts. We would like to formally adopt him... Thanks, Bianca."

When you adopt a "pet without a partner," you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Purrrfect Companions

Looking for a new best friend? Pretty as picture, take a look at these purr-fect partners...

Carmen is a stunning cat who will grace your home with her beauty. If you are looking for a sweet cat who is gorgeous to look at, won't bother anyone or anything, and gets along with any resident cats, then Carmen is your girl! Carmen will sleep on the bed if you'd like and just generally hang out in whatever room you are in. If she could have a safe cat enclosure or an enclosed yard with cat-proof fencing, Carmen loves to roll in the grass and that's when her playful side will come out. She needs to be given time to adjust to a new place and new people. Once she is settled in, Carmen will ask for a few gentle pats from you--her new best friend.

Carmen

Boots has adorable greenish eyes, a sleek

Boots

black tuxedo and tiny white paws. He is very playful and gets along with every kitty he meets. Well-socialized and affectionate, Boots loves to try and run off with his toys, growling to himself once he's caught it. If you call for him, Boots will come running, tail up, meowing in response. This sweet baby is the perfect addition to any home. Since he is so young still, Boots cannot be an only kitty and must be adopted either with a youthful companion or into a home with a young resident kitty with whom he can romp.

Ashton is a silky, soft kitty who will beg for belly rubs, rolling around with his feet in the air, cooing at you. He has a lot of energy and loves racing around with his fellow foster friends. Ashton is a bit unsure when people are moving around, so a calm household would be best for him. However, he loves to sleep on the bed with you and comes racing when it's time for his wet food. Ashton is a super sweet boy looking for that special home where he will have a kitty to play with and a peaceful home to continue to blossom into the lover he truly is.

These kittens/cats are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All of our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, de-wormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see our other kitties, please check our website at www.kittenrescue.org, or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Boulevard, #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Boulevard, just south of Manchester Avenue, and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Avenue, just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.
