Mayor Calls Special City Council Meeting to Revisit Defeated Topics

By Nancy Peters

At the previous City Council meeting on May 27th, two items were defeated by votes of the four present Council members. Dissatisfied with the handling of those two items, Mayor Chris Brown called a Special Meeting held just six days later with only those two items for consideration.

On Monday, June 2nd, the City Council approved a motion made by Mayor Brown and seconded by Council member Angie Reyes-English to purchase iPads for Council members. The vote of 3-2 included dissenting votes by Council members Alex Vargas and Nilo Michelin. Vargas expressed that he saw no true forecasted savings by less paper involved in copying agenda and supporting documents for five members of the Council and stated that the iPads would be used as personal "toys" by his fellow elected officials. The resolution includes a clause that says there is to be no personal use of the iPads that will be purchased, especially during Council meetings. Brown and Reyes-English believe there will be cost savings and more efficiency without paper distribution. Hard copies of all agenda and supporting documents will be kept by the City Attorney's office.

The other defeated topic from May 27th involved consultants' expenditures to design a park which would be built in conjunction with the Hawthorne Boulevard Improvement Project, near a property owned and operated by Hawthorne School District. Rocket Plaza Park at 129th Street has not been presented to the school district as part of the plans for the boulevard project and the Public Works Director did state at the meeting on May 27th that building the park before, after, or during the street project was not a factor for either project.

Mayor Brown stated on June 2nd that he had spoken to the Public Works Director, who agreed that building the park now was more efficient. Vargas challenged that without the director present to corroborate the mayor's statement there was no way to know the conversation took place. The motion was passed by a vote of 3-2, with Vargas and Michelin casting the dissenting votes. Vargas asked that all discussion be recorded verbatim in the minutes and passed on to the Hawthorne School District. Michelin was concerned that the design consultants were connected in some way to a former city employee and also stated that he did not want to see funds from reserves pay for this work.

The regular City Council meeting on June 10th included a presentation by the Human Resources Department which is now processing United States Passports in City Hall for a processing fee of $25 in addition to the Passport Office fee, cost of which is dependent on other factors but averages $110 for 10 years. The Department of State announced on their website that Hawthorne City Hall is a new processing location and 80 requests were received the first day. This new revenue generating project could bring up to $100,000 to the city's General Fund each year.

Amendments to the Municipal Code included an ordinance that will allow for two high density residential parcels to become zoned for Mixed Use General Commercial zones and for seven other parcels to be zoned for General Commercial zoning. In addition, an ordinance now will require standards for commercial developments to comply with a security plan to be approved by the Hawthorne Police Department that will require safety plans in all commercial parking lots attached to commercial developments.

The next meeting of the Hawthorne City Council will be on Tuesday, June 24th at 6 p.m. when the first draft of the budgets for fiscal years 2014-15 and 2015-16 will be presented, postponed from the meeting on June 10 and not even part of that agenda. •

Hawthorne Boulevard Improvement Project Update

Public Works Director Arnie Shadbeh reports that the Hawthorne Boulevard Improvement Project, begun in May and scheduled through February 2015 will affect traffic at various intervals. During June, the southbound lanes of Hawthorne Boulevard between 129th and 132nd Streets will be restricted to one lane during normal business hours, between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. Two lanes will remain open in each direction and access to all businesses will be maintained. All construction zones will have specific posted lane designations and construction zone speed limits must be observed. Parts of the project involve new storm drain pipes and sewer line replacements; lane restructuring; underground conduits for new traffic signals and a widening at Rosecrans Avenue and El Segundo Boulevard at the Hawthorne Boulevard intersections.

Be Your Own Health Advocate to Live Well and Save Money With Medicare

(BPT) - When you think about health care, doctors and hospitals often come to mind, but it's important to remember that the person staring back at you in the mirror may be your greatest health advocate. After all, no one knows your body or mind like you do. This is particularly important for the more than 52 million Americans enrolled in Medicare. Being an advocate for your health can help keep you well, and could save you money on your Medicare coverage, too.

The health care system is becoming more patient-centric, putting patients in the middle of all health care activities and asking them to work directly with doctors, family members and others to make major health decisions.

"One of the best things older adults can do for their health is to get the health care system working around them as a team," said Tom Paul, chief consumer officer for UnitedHealthcare. "In order to successfully navigate this system, it's critical that people get informed about their health, the care options available to them and how their Medicare coverage works."

The following tips can help you get started:

- See your doctor. Original Medicare covers an annual wellness visit. Here you and your doctor can review your health care needs and make a plan for the future. Many Medicare Advantage plans also cover a full annual physical. When you meet with your doctor, make note of your height, weight, blood pressure and other routine measurements that are taken at this visit. Knowing and tracking your personal medical stats is important as you age. Also, take time to talk to your primary care doctor about all of the doctors you're seeing and any prescription medications you're taking to help ensure your care is well coordinated.

- Get screened and vaccinated. Original Medicare and Medicare Advantage plans offer preventive care benefits that make it easy for beneficiaries to access important screenings like mammograms and colonoscopies as well as vaccinations such as an annual flu shot. Many of these preventive services are covered completely by Medicare, with no out-of-pocket costs.

- Leverage extra benefits to help you stay healthy. If you have a Medicare Advantage plan, be sure to take advantage of programs and services available to you, which may include disease management programs or access to registered nurses who can answer health questions at any time, day or night. Some plans even offer extra benefits like a gym membership or routine hearing, vision or dental coverage.

- Stay in-network and know your prescription drug options. Most Medicare Advantage plans negotiate pricing with doctors, hospitals and pharmacies, which may translate into coordinated care and lower costs for members. You might be able to save additional money on your prescriptions by using mail-order pharmacy benefits, switching to generic or lower-tier drugs, or taking advantage of special programs and preferred pharmacy networks available with some plans.

By proactively managing your health and taking time to understand your health care coverage, you may be able to stay healthy, or return to health, while saving money. For more information, visit UHC MedicareHelp.com or Medicare.gov. •

Hawthorne Happenings Business Briefs

News for the 'City of Good Neighbors'

From City Clerk Norb Huber

Flag Day – Pancakes – Basketball

This Saturday is a busy day here in Hawthorne. Remember that it is Flag Day. Fly your red, white and blue flag proudly. Then the Holly Park Homeowners Association will be hosting their annual pancake breakfast as a fundraiser for their scholarship fund. This year the breakfast will be held at Olivet Lutheran Church located at 2506 W. Imperial Highway, in Hawthorne. Serving hours are from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Then beginning at 9 a.m., Councilmen Alex Vargas will be hosting his fourth annual Unity 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament at the Betty Ainsworth Center Gymnasium located at 3901 W. El Segundo Blvd. I guess I better not eat too many pancakes if I want to surviving playing a game or two of b-ball.

Hawthorne Blvd Remodel

I've been asked to give people an idea of how our boulevard will look when the work has been completed. It's very hard to describe it in words. Some of the features being integrated into the project include diagonal curbside parking for business customers, dedicated bike lanes, green areas with benches, well-lit crosswalks and covered bus stop areas for commuters who use the public transit. If you have driven down the boulevard lately you can see that the traffic lanes will be reconfigured with no parking spaces in the median. Everything should be completed by the end of this year or the first part of 2015. Each month another block or two will be worked on. We look forward to a whole new look to our main thoroughfare.

Hawthorne Hall of Fame Inductees Selected

The 2014 inductees of the first-ever Hawthorne Hall of Fame have been selected. The names of the inductees will be soon announced. They include some of the real "founding fathers" of the Hawthorne community. The Hawthorne Historical Society's Hall of Fame selection committee looked first to honor those people who had a dramatic affect on the community either through their community service, their business leadership, or their outstanding professional achievements. The five people selected will be honored at the Good Neighbors Day events on the weekend of July 18-19. The list of Hall of Fame nominations is very impressive for one small city here in SoCal. I still would put our celebrity list up against any city our size or even larger in all of America as far as the most influential group of American dreamers and achievers. Call it coincidental or just plain luck, but Hawthorne really has been a "hot spot of Americana".

Role Reversal

It used to be that the Lakers were always playing for a NBA title about this time of the year and the LA Kings were out playing golf. Now, it's just the opposite. At the time of this writing, the Kings are on the verge of their second Stanley Cup championship in three years and the Lakers are looking for a new coach. Even with the high payroll of some professional sports teams, it still takes the right chemistry that allows a team to work together to reach their goals.

Futball Takes Center Stage

Forget about the NBA, NHL or MBL, the world's sport is futball, better know to us as soccer. The World Cup is the biggest single most coveted prize in all of team sports. Entire nations have been known to rise or fall with the fates of their national soccer team. Billions of people will be watching the games from Brazil which begin today. The Olympic Games is one of respectful, international competition. The World Cup is more like a world war involving 32 national armies. The USA must survive playing against Germany, Portugal and Ghana in the first round. If they survive and move on, then the competition gets even more intense. Only one out of 32 nations gets to hold the Cup high following the month long "war".

Graduation Time

All three of our comprehensive high schools will conduct graduation ceremonies on Thursday, June 19th. Hawthorne, Leuzinger and Lawndale high schools will all send off their graduating seniors on that same day. Congratulations to all of our graduates.

Upcoming Events

- Saturday, July 12: Movies in the Park – Holly Park 6 - 10 p.m.
- Saturday, July 19: Good Neighbors Day – Civic Center 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.
- Tuesday, Aug.4: National Nigh Out – Civic Center

State Superintendent Tom Torlakson recently announced the recipients of the competitive California Career Pathways grants, which are made available under a $250 million program designed to help students stay in school and move toward college and employment in high-demand fields.

Inglewood Unified is among 11 grant recipients receiving awards of up to $600,000. The District plans to use the money to design an engineering pathway for IUSD students through Project Lead the Way (PLTW). "PLTW Engineering is more than just another high school engineering program. It is about applying engineering, science, math and technology to solve complex, open-ended problems in a real-world context," said Jim Garza, Inglewood Unified's executive director of Secondary Support Services. "Students focus on the process of defining and solving a problem, not on getting the 'right' answer. They learn how to apply STEM knowledge, skills, and habits of mind to make the world a better place through innovation."

In a statement, Superintendent Torlakson said that to make good on the state's goal of providing a world-class education for every California student, graduates must have the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in the real world. "By demonstrating the relevance of students' education, these programs not only encourage kids to stay in school, but also combine the rigorous academics and practical experience employers say they need," he said. The California Career Pathways Trust and the one-time competitive grant program were established by AB 86 and signed into law in July 2013. •

Brown Bagging Potentially Leads to $1 Million Retirement Nest Egg

(BPT) - Here's a $1 million idea: making breakfast and lunch at home every day instead of dining out can potentially yield seven figures in retirement savings.

A 25-year-old who eats breakfast at home and bags her lunch can save an extra $10 a day. Invested in a retirement account earning an 8 percent average annual rate of return, those savings could generate more than $1 million by age 67.

This hypothetical example shows how making small changes in behavior may ultimately yield big results, according to Elaine Sarsynski, executive vice president of MassMutual Retirement Services. It's especially instructive when it comes to retirement savings, she says, as many Americans maintain they don't have the money to contribute to their employer's retirement plan such as a 401(k), 403(b) or 457.

"Many of us never think twice about how much we really spend on expenses such as dining out, the interest we pay on credit cards, or even cable channels that we no longer watch," Sarsynski says. "If you track your expenses and think about what you really need, many of us can find money to rent as good tenants are hard to find.

• Trim smaller costs. Brown bagging is one way to save. Track all your expenses to determine where else you might cut back. It's amazing how extra expenses such as $3 lattes and $10 iTunes down-loads can add up.

• Stick to cash. Using cash instead of credit can save you up to 20 percent. Not only do you incur fewer interest charges, you may ultimately defer some expenses until you have the cash.

• Attack high-interest debt. Credit cards typically represent the most expensive debt so pay off this debt as soon as possible. When you're debt free, continue paying the same monthly amount to your retirement plan instead.

• Get professional tax help. If you're middle-aged or older, rely on a certified public accountant to make sure you're taking advantage of all of the various tax credits and deductions that come from having children, owning a home or contributing to IRA. Put your tax savings or rebate in your retirement account.

• Dump unnecessary baggage. As we get older, we tend to accumulate more things than we need or can reasonably use. Consider saving by downsizing to a smaller home, selling an extra car you no longer use, and clearing out your basement, garage or attic by selling unneeded household items in a tag sale.

• Cut the cable. Re-examine your roster of cable TV channels; you may find you are paying premium prices for channels you rarely watch.

• Spend time rather than money. It's always tempting to spoil grandkids, nieces and nephews with gifts. You can save money by cutting back on the presents and giving the kids what they really want: your time and attention.

"We all spend more money than we realize on things that don't necessarily contribute to our happiness or quality of life," Torabi says. "By taking a hard look at our spending, most of us can find money to contribute to our retirement plan and, ultimately, improve our quality of life when we are no longer working."

Orioles Open Junior Tournament With Win Over Diablos

By Joe Snyder

The Tri Park Orioles started out well and went on to open the Carl Magee, Jr. Memorial District 37 Junior Little League Tournament of Champions with a 6-2 victory over the Lennox Diablos last Saturday at Jim Thorpe in Hawthorne. Tri Park, located in El Camino Village but consisting of players living in Hawthorne, Lawndale and Gardena, started out well with three runs in the bottom of the first inning. The key blow was a two-run home run from Danny Vaughn. Max Rojas went two-for-two, drove in one run, scored once and walked once.

Much of the rest of the Orioles' scoring was on walks. Bases on balls marred the game as pitchers from both squads combined for 15 free passes in a game that was stopped after five innings due to a two-hour time limit. Julian Diaz had two hits and drove in a run for the Diablos. "Both teams played well," Tri Park manager Will Castellanos said. "There were a lot of walks."

The Orioles moved into the second round of the winner's bracket against the Lennox Expos played last Monday night. The Expos defeated Lawndale on Saturday. The game and rest of the first round action on Saturday was marred by them starting approximately one hour and a half late, due to confusion of time by umpires, according to sources. The Junior Tournament runs through Sunday with the finals beginning at 4 p.m. with the first game and, if needed, a second game expected to start at 6 p.m.

were eliminated in three games from the Carl Magee, Jr. Memorial Major Little League Baseball Tournament last week. On June 2, the Holly Park Giants were edged out by league rival Yankees 9-8. Last Friday, they fell to Westchester 6-1. A sacrifice fly driving in a Yankee run in the bottom of the sixth inning defeated the Giants, according to Giants manager Randall Odum.

According to Odum, the Giants had strong performances from pitcher Angel Felascio and William Sham, who had two hits against the Yankees. Ten-year-old outfielder Jaden Collins had two outstanding catches against Westchester. According to sources, the Yankees are still alive in the tournament.

The Dodgers had two battles with other

Dodger teams, including against Lennox on May 31, then Del Rey on June 1 at Carl Nielsen Youth Sports Complex in Westchester. After rolling over Lennox 10-0, Holly Park lost to Del Rey 8-5. Both teams were tied at five before Del Rey scored three runs. The contest ended after five innings due to a two-hour time limit. On June 3, the Dodgers were ousted by the Wiseburn Reds, also from Hawthorne, 6-3. "It was a competitive game," Holly Park manager Glen Bray said. "Part of sports is having a bad day and you're eliminated. We'll get ready for all-stars." The Major Little League Tournament runs, at least, through Friday with the first championship game starting at 5:15 p.m. at Nielsen Park. If necessary, a second final will be played at the same spot on Saturday at 4 p.m.

ST. MARY'S COMPETES IN STATE FINAL

St. Mary's Academy's girls' track and field athletes from Inglewood were involved in last Saturday's California State Championships and faced very stiff competition. The Belles, who were second in the CIF-Southern Section Division IV Championships on May 24, were led by their 4x400-meter relay team of Alai Divinity, Aliyah Hale, Morgan Pecantle and Sierra Peterson which finished seventh at three minutes and 48.52 seconds.

Running away with the meet was Long Beach Poly with a United States national best time of 3:38.05. Peterson, a senior, advanced to the finals in the 100- and 200-meter dashes. She placed eighth in the 200 clocking 24.43 seconds and was ninth in the 100 in 12.02. Winning both races in national best times was Poly senior Arianna Washington. Washington was timed at 11.22 in the 100, just .08 of a second shy of the national record of 11.14 set in 1992 by eventual Olympic gold medalist Marion Jones from Thousand Oaks, and 22.96 in the 200. With the seventh and eighth place finishes from Peterson, St. Mary's had three points. The top eight competitors score. Poly, which many observers ranked as the top ranked overall girls' track and field squad in the country, ran away with the state title with 70 points to 29 for runner-up Piedmont Hills. Santa Ana Mater Dei won the boys' crown 30-28 over second place Castro Valley, led by Nathan Moore who won the long jump with a national best mark of 25 feet, eight three fourths inches. •

Politically Speaking

One Man's Opinion

By Gerry Chong

"Stupid is as stupid does" – Forrest Gump
In a TV interview with Kelly Ripa and Michael Strahan, President Obama was asked what the most important asset an American President needs to possess. "Judgment," was his response. He continued: by the time an issue reaches the President, the easy questions have been answered, so the tough questions are usually 50-50 questions that require the President to exercise good judgment.

So let's evaluate him using his own criterion. Generally it is preferable to bring home a captured American prisoner or war. But what if that soldier openly and blatantly expressed his antipathy toward America and its military? What if he laid down his arms and walked away from his post and his military brothers? What if six of his fellow soldiers were killed by the enemy while searching for him? What if the Special Forces had always known when he was held, but chose not to free him because it was not worth endangering more soldiers to rescue a deserter? What if that deserter has said, "I am ashamed to be an American? And the title of US soldier is just the lie of fools. I am sorry for everything. The horror that is America is disgusting."

Was it good judgment for the President to bring him home while violating the law that requires such prisoner exchanges be made only in consultation with Congress? The President has apologized for violating the law but said it was inconvenient to consult with Congress.

Good judgment? Having previously used Susan Rice as his chief prevaricator in proclaiming the Benghazi debacle to be a reaction to a video, the White House sent her out again to proclaim the deserter had served with "honor and distinction." How humiliating it must be to be Susan Rice.

Being too clever by half, President Obama used an intermediary to conduct negotiations to avoid the charge that he negotiates with terrorist organizations, thus placing a value on American lives, and encouraging future captures. More good judgment? And who did he release back to the battlefields of the Middle East? The Taliban calls them the "Gitmo-5," a group of experienced Jihadists who helped run their organization. The Joint Task Force Guantanamo categorized all five as "High risk to the US." Two of the five are wanted by the UN for the murder of thousands of Shiites in Afghanistan. One is the Taliban's Deputy Minister of Intelligence. A second is a military commander with close ties to Mullah Omar. A third is Deputy Minister of Defense. A fourth was a provincial Governor. The fifth was responsible for border security for the Taliban.

Query: Now that the Taliban has declared victory in negotiations with the Great Satan, how many deaths will these newly released terrorists wreak on infidels everywhere? So this is the "Judgment" the President claims is the most important asset a President needs to be successful. Forrest Gump was right: "Stupid is as stupid does." •

Another Man's Opinion

Low Voter Turnout Continues to Prevail

By Cristian Vasquez

California had another election last week and sadly the voter turnout was very low. The Sacramento Bee reported that the official election night returns were 3.2 million or 18.3 percent of the state's 17.7 million registered voters cast ballots. While mail-in votes had not yet been included in the final, it is unlikely that the final tally for voter turnout will increase when the number of uncounted ballots is finalized. The issue of low voter turnout is nothing new in American elections: it is a talking point for news pundits, political strategist and campaign managers. Getting people out to vote will always impact an election, without a doubt. As much as some of us would like to see a higher number of Americans exercise their right to vote, the truth is that this mass disinterest by the public to engage in the election process is not likely to change much.

It is no secret that voter turnout is higher during presidential elections and even those numbers are not impressive. So this brings up the question: how much does it matter that more people do not come out to vote? I am a firm believer that anyone with the right to vote should exercise it. However, if only 18 percent of Californians cast a vote on June 3, why is the other 82 percent not engaging? The way I see it is that 18 percent of voters came out to vote, keep track of the issues that matter to them, and do their best to stay engaged. So instead of convincing people to vote for the sake of voting and inflating the voter turnout numbers, elected officials should find ways to engage people who can vote but who don't bother engaging.

Granted, the right to vote comes with your right to refuse to vote. That is a completely legitimate reason to not cast a ballot. For some of us, the Democrat and Republican office is a choice between eating dirt or chewing through mud. As a result, many times we go to the polls not to pick the best option but to vote for the lesser of two evils. This further emphasizes the need for elected officials to connect with more of their constituents. In all fairness, at the local level it is easier for the community and elected officials to engage. For the most part, local mayors and council members are accessible and responsive to their constituents' needs. However, at the state and national level this communication becomes more difficult to maintain, which then leads to the feeling of disconnect.

It is on each and every one of us to vote. We have the right and information to make what we consider the best decision at the polls. It is too much to believe that we will ever reach 100 percent voter turnout and the reasons vary. For those who decide that they don't want to vote, there is little that can be done. Funny man George Carlin once said that he does not vote because voting implies that he agrees with the system (he used more colorful words). Until that perception of our elections changes, voter turnout will continue to be abysmal. •

Looking Up

Chandra Captures Galaxy Sparkling in X-Rays

By Bob Eklund

NASA's orbiting Chandra X-ray Observatory has revealed a spiral galaxy similar to the Milky Way glittering with hundreds of X-ray points of light. The galaxy is officially named Messier 51 (M51), but often goes by its nickname of the "Whirlpool Galaxy." Like the Milky Way, the Whirlpool is a spiral galaxy with spectacular arms of stars and dust. It is located 30 million light-years from Earth, and its face-on orientation to Earth gives us a perspective that we can never get of our own spiral galactic home.

The new dataset, equivalent to about 900,000 seconds of Chandra observing time, reveals nearly 500 X-ray sources. Most of the X-ray sources are X-ray binaries (XRBs). These systems consist of pairs of objects where a compact star, either a neutron star or, more rarely, a black hole, is capturing material from an orbiting companion star. The infalling material is accelerated by the intense gravitational field of the compact star and heated to millions of degrees, producing a luminous X-ray source.

A difference between the Milky Way and the Whirlpool Galaxy is that M51 is in the midst of merging with a smaller companion

M51 are located close to regions where stars are forming, showing their connection to the galaxy (seen in the upper left of the image). Scientists think this galactic interaction is triggering waves of star formation. The most massive of the newly formed stars will race through their evolution in a few million years and collapse to form neutron stars or black holes. Most of the XRBs containing black holes in oncoming galactic collision.

Meanwhile, back in the year 1845, an Irish gentleman and amateur stargazer named Lord Rosse was also observing the Whirlpool Galaxy. At his estate, Birr Castle in Parsonstown, County Offaly, he had built what was then the world's largest telescope, with a mirror an amazing six feet (72 inches) in diameter, dubbed "the Leviathan." He had to invent many of the techniques he used for constructing the Leviathan, both because its size was without precedent and because earlier telescope builders had guarded their secrets or had simply failed to publish their methods. Building of the Leviathan began in 1842 and it was first used in 1845; regular use waited another two years, due to the Great Irish Famine. It was the world's largest telescope, in terms of aperture size, until the early 20th century.

Lord Rosse performed astronomical studies and catalogued a large number of nebulae, discovering the spiral nature of some that are today known as spiral galaxies. In particular, his Leviathan was the first to reveal the spiral structure of M51. As astronomical photography was unknown in the 1840s, he had to record what he saw in sketches—and his drawings of the Whirlpool Galaxy closely resemble modern photographs. Lord Rosse's historic Leviathan telescope, a major monument in the history of astronomy, has been preserved and is still accessible for public tours. •

Secrets to Staying Cool in the Kitchen and Eating Well This Summer

(BPT) - If you hate to give up the dishes your family loves until the weather cools again - don't sweat it. From no-make recipes to alternative cooking tactics, you can find plenty of ways to beat kitchen heat this summer.

"Families can still enjoy favorite foods and stay cool in the kitchen," says Chef Giuliano Hazan. "It's just a matter of finding the combination of recipes, ingredients and cooking processes that allow you to prepare delicious food without heating up your kitchen."

Hazan offers some stay-cool kitchen ideas for great summer dining:

- "No-bake" dishes allow families to savor their favorite treats without the heat and hassle. When preparing a no-bake dish that calls for eggs, it's important to be aware of salmonella risks. Using pasteurized eggs such as Safest Choice Eggs, can eliminate salmonella risks, making it easy to prepare perfect no-bake recipes.

- Grilling is a favorite summer pastime, loved for the flavor it imparts, the convenience of cooking without heating the kitchen and the opportunity to enjoy being outdoors. It's not just a great way to prepare meat, poultry or fish; grilling can be a great way to enjoy favorite foods that normally require an oven.

- One of the appealing aspects of baking or roasting in an oven is the ability to trap flavors within foods. You don't have to add heat to the kitchen, however, to add flavor to foods. Marinades and seasonings are great for adding flavor to cold foods such as raw fruits and veggies or even cheese.

- A slow cooker allows you to prepare a range of dishes, from pot roast to peach cobbler, without raising the temperature in the kitchen. The microwave can also be a good alternative to the stovetop.

- Salads are healthy, no-cook options that can make great low-calorie meals for the whole family. The plentiful harvest of seasonal fruits and vegetables available during spring and summer makes this time of year perfect for experimenting with new types of salads.

- It's OK to cheat now and then with pre-cooked options, such as using premium canned tuna or a batch of hard boiled eggs kept in the refrigerator to add to salads. Because they're already cooked, these items can cut out preparation time (and temperatures) while serving as ingredients in your favorite recipes.

Try this great no-bake recipe from Safest Choice Eggs and recommended by Chef Hazan.

Frozen Pineapple Cream Cheese Torte

Ingredients

1 1/4 (about 5 ounces) cups ground gingersnaps	1 cup chopped fresh or crushed pineapple, drained well
1/2 cup panko bread crumbs	1 1/4 cups whipping cream
1/3 cup melted butter	1 teaspoon vanilla
4 Safest Choice pasteurized eggs, separated	For Glaze:
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar	1/4 cup sugar
3/4 cups sugar,	4 teaspoons cornstarch
12 ounces (1 1/2 8 ounce packages) cream cheese, room temperature	1 cup pineapple juice
	2 tablespoons dark rum (or to taste)

Directions

In a medium bowl, combine gingersnaps and panko. Add melted butter and stir until crumbs are evenly moistened. Press into bottom of 8 or 9-inch springform pan.

In a medium bowl, beat egg whites and cream of tartar with an electric mixer until soft peaks form. Gradually add 1/4 cup of the sugar and beat again until stiff peaks form.

In a large bowl, beat cream cheese and remaining 1/2 cup of sugar until smooth. Add egg yolks and beat well. Mix in pineapple and vanilla.

In another medium bowl, beat cream until whipped. Fold egg whites into cream cheese mixture, then fold in whipped cream. Pour filling over crust and freeze until set, about five hours or overnight.

For Glaze

Combine sugar and cornstarch in small saucepan. Add pineapple juice and stir until cornstarch is dissolved. Add rum and cook over medium heat, stirring, until mixture comes to a boil and thickens. Cool.

To serve, let the torte sit at room temperature for five to 10 minutes. Run a knife around the sides of the cake to loosen and remove pan sides. Top cheesecake with glaze.

Makes 10 to 12 servings. •
