WWII, Korean and Vietnam War Veterans Saluted 365 Days a Year

On a small, grassy plaza at Inglewood's City Hall stands the Memorial Obelisk Monument. Supported by a stone panel at its middle, the memorial is engraved with the phrase, "To keep forever living the freedom for which they died. We dedicate this memorial to our dead in World War II, Korea and Vietnam." The names of those who perished are on either side of the memorial. In the middle is a column with a sword and wreath, and on top, an eagle. Photo by Cristian Vasquez.

City Council Convenes, First Time Meeting Since Election Day

By Nancy Peters

The current Hawthorne City Council occupied the dais on Tuesday night with the mayor and City treasurer awaiting the ratification of the Nov. 5 election, when both saw defeat for their incumbent seats. Newly elected mayor, Chris Brown, and treasurer, David Patterson, sat in the gallery of the Council Chambers while meeting topics were addressed.

The agenda contained several ordinances for second reading, which normally means an automatic affirmative vote, all of which garnered questions from the dais, particularly from reelected Angie Reyes-English and Councilmember Olivia Valentine. The ordinance requiring a 120-day application and notice for a group to use city property for an event, and a 60-day full payment of fees, was sent back to the City attorney and withdrawn as written, even though on the first reading on Oct. 8 (the Oct. 22 City Council meeting was cancelled for lack of a quorum), the number of days were what everyone agreed was necessary. But with pressure from nonprofit organizations and other individuals, the Council requested the application requirement be lowered to a 90-day notice and the fee payments to 30 days. The ordinance will begin a new approval cycle with a first reading on Nov. 26.

The public works director explained another ordinance after Reyes-English asked what it actually meant. The director explained that filtering of debris, before it reaches catch basins, must be in compliance with EPA requirements for any private developments and business developments when any grading is done to land within the development acreage. The storm-water management and discharge control code must be amended as per the ordinance.

The ordinance dealing with regulation of massage establishments and technicians was read for the second time, and was ultimately approved, after questions posed for clarification of why it is necessary to amend the municipal code, making use of the guideline 15305 under the requirements of CEQA. The standards for compliance with state law were explained on the first reading. Any complaints will be handled by the city or the police department.

An ordinance read for the first time, introduced by Mayor Danny Juarez, will amend the municipal code for the general decorum required at a City Council meeting by administrative, civil service and any personnel who are disruptive to proceedings during a meeting. The ordinance will allow for removal of disruptive individuals or the actual censuring of an individual from any further address to the members of the Council without a majority vote approving any continuation of the address by that individual.

Several resolutions approved three separate grants for the Hawthorne Police Department. A grant of $130,000 from the California Office of Traffic Safety will allow a traffic enforcement program to continue. Another grant of $78,000 will continue the Sobriety Checkpoint Program. The third grant for $50,000 confirms the purchase of 35 new external automated defibrillators for use by police.

A public hearing for cottage food industries (nonperishable, not-required-refrigeration foods made at home, for sale by the owner of an at-home cottage food company) was held, with questions asked by Council members but not the public. The ordinance is necessary to be added to the municipal code due to state law with which Hawthorne is currently not in compliance.

Mayor Juarez made appointments to the Youth Commission of two students--Gosple Nhenna Ofoesbu and Bremelyn Del Cid and Kevin Posey to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The security plan for Hawthorne shopping centers requires more input from the police, fire and planning departments before any further drafting of requirements for shopping centers. The item was continued until the meeting of Dec. 10.

The possibility of sidewalk dining (outside of sit-down restaurants) is being researched by looking at what surrounding cities do with this dining experience. Included in the ordinance is the safety of diners from street traffic and from skateboarders on sidewalks, as well as how restaurants will accommodate outdoor dining by leasing sidewalk space from the city or signing a contract with the specific parameters, including meeting health department requirements.

A process with new procedures and checkpoints for approvals of permits and building plans over-the-counter will be written up by the City manager and department heads involved in the process. New procedures are necessary to avoid any violations of zoning code for this type of approval.

Smoking prohibitions within city limits were researched for compliance with other county and state codes, as well as surrounding cities in the South Bay. The additional list of prohibited places will be further culled by the City attorney, particularly in light of the questions about certain places being included (bars, "common areas," outside "body art" establishments, "service areas," city-owned public parking lots) and fear the regulation and municipal code amendments are too restrictive. The main point is to ensure the American Lung Association report-card grade for the city of Hawthorne can be improved by amending the municipal code for smoking prohibitions.

The City manager was requested to produce a report of all vendors, individuals, organizations, etc., that still have uncollected fees owed to the city for events, rentals, etc. He was also asked to produce a study for the intersection of 135th Street and Glasgow Avenue for how to improve the traffic patterns that violate the stop signs at the four-corner intersection.

The City clerk pointed out that the recent municipal election cost the city $100,000 with 30 precincts and 36,000 registered voters, there was less than a 10-percent voter turnout on Nov. 5. He also pointed out that the City clerk office's staff handled the workload associated with the election with complete nonpartisanship and fielded all calls, complaints, questions and people at the counter in the City clerk's office.

The next City Council meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 26 at 6 p.m. •

Carrie: All Gore and No Guts

By Liana Whitehead

Warning: Spoiler alert.

Internationally renowned author Stephen King's first-ever published novel, Carrie, has seen a number of variations over the past almost-40 years, from paperback to film to Broadway (a musical released in 1988 – I wonder if there was a “splash zone” warning during the famous prom scene).

This year, King's long-lived novel came to life again with a feature-film remake starring Chloe Grace Moretz (Carrie White) and Julianne Moore as mother Margaret, whose infatuation with her daughter's “damned” soul was almost as creepy Piper Laurie in '76 (Brian de Palma's version). Let's face it – nobody can outdo Laurie. I know now that Sissy Spacek is also irreplaceable, though I applaud Moretz for taking on the role and obviously giving it her all. It must've been intimidating for her, stepping up and redoing a role that isn't (and probably never will be) easily replaced.

Although neither Carrie film is a spot-on depiction of King's novel, I will remain a fan of the original Carrie simply because of its underlying message and artistic vision. Even so, I'll give credit where credit is due. I appreciated that the new version's updates and modernization didn't drastically alter the eeriness of the clearly out-of-place mother-daughter duo. I am sad to admit, however, that the 2013 version was more of a blatant gore fest for the sake of entertainment rather than a preservation of King's original intentions.

I went into the movie expecting its original creepiness and subtle (but effective) fear, and I came out feeling angry with Carrie instead of sympathizing with her, which I believe was originally intended. Near the film's end, when the audience should pity Carrie the most, they turn against her as she enters a blind rage, destroying everybody in her path. This isn't the old Carrie we knew and pitied – new Carrie is relentless war machine. Instead of simply flipping her classmate's car near the film's end, Carrie completely mutilates both passengers, leaving nothing to our imaginations. The abundance of CGI effects left no room for guessing. In another scene, Margaret uses a seam ripper to cut into her own leg, revealing her masochist personality. Again – could've gone without seeing that. My brain is perfectly capable of creating its own grotesque scenes, thank you.

Imagined by Boys Don't Cry's Kimberly Peirce and Glee's Roberto Aguirre-Sacasa, new-age Carrie focuses less on what makes this poor and otherwise innocent high-school girl go mad, concentrating on haunting the audience (not that 70s Carrie didn't sufficiently do so). I loved and feared the original film in which Carrie's mother was detestable, so much that she was the evil of the two. This time around, her mother is almost pathetic and weak, and Carrie – once meek and mild – is the film's villain, as if her infamous “freak-out” was bound to happen with or without the relentless bullying at school and at home.

Sadly, the addition of violence and gore led to the depletion of the more important details. For example – I believe the original locker-room scene, though a tad risqué for movie-going youngsters (I'm 25 – is that old enough to use the word “youngsters?”), was brutally revealing for a reason. Shockingly, the 2013 Carrie shower scene was modest and less vicious, almost suggesting that those girls were unknowingly torturing Carrie. This hindered the film's authenticity, leading me to ask, “Are we purposely ignoring the bully issue at hand?”

Another shocker (a positive one) – all actors remained clothed or toweled. How odd for 21st-century films in which clothes seem to disappear into thin air. So, clothed characters – just fine. But the downplay of the bullying done by Carrie's peers was a poor move, considering bullying and its side effects seem more relevant today than ever. They did manage to slip in a cruel, modern-day YouTube joke, which pandered to the now, but, as I recall, original Carrie's bullies were relentless and proud of it.

So, if anyone asks, I stand behind the original Carrie. •

Residents Take Initiative to Ensure Smoke-Free Living Spaces

By Cristian Vasquez

For members of the “Lawndale for Smoke-Free Living” group, the goal is simple: to ensure living spaces where renters do not have to suffer the effects of secondhand smoke. “I had an idea about such rights [for renters], but I never bothered to look for someone who could advise me with regard to the issue,” Lawndale resident Boisver Garcia said. “I do believe that the efforts are moving forward, maybe a little bit slowly, but it must be because you need more personnel. I was thinking these last couple of days about ways to become involved with them to promote this because of the benefit it will bring to the community.”

With the help of Richard Torres, Health Policy Liaison for Smokefree Air for Everyone, residents like Garcia have obtained resources and guidance as to what citizens can do to ensure smokeless living space. “We sent letters last week and we have received responses from the councilmembers, via email, where they indicate that they want to meet with us so we can speak more with regard to the issue,” Torres said. “In the letters, we explained the problems that each family was encountering and we also asked them for their most convenient time to meet to have a deeper conversation regarding this issue and to find a solution.”

There is no date and time set as of yet between City officials and members of Lawndale for Smoke-Free Living, but there is a willingness from both sides to get the dialogue started. The Lawndale for Smoke-Free Living has about 15 members, and while it is challenging for all of them to meet at the same time, they do the best they can to talk at least once a month – usually at the Lawndale Library. “I am just here in a guiding role and serve more as a resource for information,” Torres said. “The decisions are being made by them and the initiative was taken on by them because it is a problem from which they want to be protected.”

Garcia, who met Torres while the liaison was out conducting surveys about the issue of smoking throughout the city, believes that access to information is the key to addressing the issue and ensuring that third parties are no longer affected by the smoking habits of other individuals. “What is needed is communication within the community so that we can inform people and ourselves about the benefits of this and to seek help,” Garcia said. “I believe many people do want to quit smoking, but it is a strong addiction. Sometimes you just need help from organizations such as this one.”

Studies by the Los Angeles County Department of Health indicate that residents of multi-unit housing can be afflicted by cigarette smoke even if the act of smoking occurs outside the unit, because the smoke travels through cracks and openings, even when it is not identified or detected through odor. “I would like to see some type of action as soon as possible because it would instantly benefit the community,” Garcia said. “I would like to see, as soon as possible, a sign in my building that says ‘no smoking.’”

On Nov. 4, Torres was at the Lawndale High School promoting smoke-free air as part of the community outreach and education. “The attitude of the schools toward this has been very positive. They have opened their doors to us to speak with students during their free time such as break or lunch,” Torres said. “What we do is give information to students about the dangers of smoking and secondhand smoke and how it affects neighbors.”

Taking the message to students is something Garcia considers a benefit to the community not just now, but in the future. “That is a marvelous plan and that I think is needed everywhere,” Garcia said. “I live near Rogers [Middle School] and I see kids in sixth, seventh and eighth grade that are already smoking. It is all about the education that we are providing and letting them know about the harmful effects on themselves and others.” •

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the 'City of Good Neighbors'

From City Clerk Norb Huber

Postal Delivery on Sunday

Last Sunday, I noticed a USPS truck parking down the street from my house. I couldn't understand why the U.S. Post Office would send someone out on a Sunday when it's thinking about discontinuing Saturday delivery. Later that day, I saw that the USPS and Amazon had reached an agreement to conduct Sunday delivery of Amazon packages. This year it will only be done in the New York and Los Angeles area, but will expand to include other large cities in the United States. Now you can order something on Amazon on Friday and receive it during the day on Sunday. Amazon is becoming the WalMart of the Internet. Many people buy all of their merchandise from Amazon.

Thanksgiving and Holiday Baskets

If you would like to make a donation to help the families of Hawthorne who are in need this holiday season, you can contact the Presidents Council or the Chamber of Commerce to make a financial contribution to their food and gift programs. You can contact the Presidents Council at (310) 686-5464 or the Chamber of Commerce at (310) 676-1163. Mayor Pro-Tem Angie English also is in charge of "Operation Gobble," which gives out turkeys. If you would like to contribute to her assistance program, please call (310) 249-2908. There are many families who need assistance during this time of the year. Your generous donation will go to help make the holiday season a little bit better for these good neighbors.

Historical Society Meeting

The next meeting of the Hawthorne Historical Society is Monday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. at the Hawthorne Museum. If you are interested in being part of a nice, friendly group that wants to celebrate the history of Hawthorne and generate some civic pride, then show up at the museum next Monday evening. There are always refreshments. The museum is open for viewing on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. It is located at 12622 Grevillea Avenue, across from the library.

Hawthorne Hometown Holiday Celebration

The Hawthorne Historical Society will host a tree lighting and holiday celebration Saturday, Dec. 7 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. This will be the time that Santa arrives in Hawthorne. Children of all ages are invited down to the Civic Center to enjoy the music, food and activities that evening. Mark your calendars.

Holiday Home Decorating Contest

The Hawthorne Recreation and Community Services Department announces its annual holiday home decorating contest, which has an entry deadline of Dec. 17. If you like to decorate your home's exterior for Christmas, then plan to enter the contest. Entry forms are available at the Memorial Center or at City Hall. There will be awards given to first, second and third-place winners. Judging will take place on Dec. 19 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Swearing In of Elected Officials

The newly elected City officials will be sworn in at the Dec. 10 City Council meeting. This is the only regular City Council meeting scheduled for the month of December.

Local Teams Show Promise at Ocean Finals

By Joe Snyder

None of the Hawthorne, Lawndale Environmental Charter, Lawndale, Inglewood or Morningside boys' or girls' cross country teams advanced to the CIF-Southern Section Prelims, but they showed promise at their league finals last Thursday. After dropping their programs some six years ago, the Cougar boys and girls had a few fine performances. Hawthorne boys were led by the Santana brothers with senior Jason breaking in the top 10 with a ninth-place finish at 16 minutes and 57 seconds over the three-mile course at last Thursday's Ocean League championships at Rancho Park. Jason's sophomore brother Alex placed 17th, clocking 17:57.

The mostly young Cougar boys took fifth in the meet behind first-place Santa Monica (18 place points), second-place Beverly Hills (52), third-place Culver City (95) and fourth-place Lawndale Environmental Charter (117) at 121. Inglewood Morningside (160) took sixth and Inglewood did not have enough finishers to score.

Hawthorne's girls fell one position of advancing to the CIF-Southern Section Division II Prelims Saturday at Mt.

San Antonio College in Walnut at fourth place behind winner Santa Monica (17), runner-up Culver City (48) and third-place Beverly Hills (70). Environmental Charter placed fifth at 124, followed by Inglewood (160). Morningside did not field a girls' team.

Annie Martinez was the Cougars' top finisher, timing 25:58. Other top Hawthorne finishers were Tiffany Villalobos (26:00), Arime Vasquez (26:01), Precious Onouhali (26:02) and Alice Hernandez (26:04). The runners were able to finish together very well.

"This is our first cross country team in six years," Hawthorne head coach David Guerra said. "It was a great effort for these kids. We had no summer training. We'll be a lot more competitive with a lot larger team by next year. We've grown tremendously in a short time."

Environmental Charter, a small school based in Lawndale, had a good showing behind senior Jesse Lopez who finished fourth in 17:56. Other top Environmental finishers included sophomore Manny Munoz (20th, 18:42), senior Julyan Carella (24th, 19:03), senior Alex Miro (28th, 20:09) and senior Gary Garcia (29th, 20:18).

Morningside was not all that impressive, but according to head coach Carl Franklin (a longtime successful head boys' basketball mentor from 1975-2006), all of his runners recorded their personal best times. Leading the Monarch boys was senior Ali Mahad, who placed 25th while clocking 19:05. Other top Morningside runners were Max Williams (30th, 20:13), Justin Dunlap (31st, 20:39), Edwin Salazar (20:49) and Ernie Nayaga (21:24).

Like in the team, Santa Monica swept the boys individual with Arden Lassalle winning the race at 15:11 and Kasia Krzyzonoski (18:50) topping the girls. The top three teams advance to Saturday's Southern Section Prelims at Mt. SAC.

In the Pioneer League finals at Columbia Park in Torrance last Thursday, Lawndale's boys' team took fifth, finishing ahead of last place Compton Centennial 152-180. The Cardinals were led by senior Jose Salazar, who was 26th in 19:08. Other top Lawndale finishers included sophomore Ignacio Arteaga (30th, 20:33), senior Noe Diaz (31st, 20:47), senior Marco Estrella (32nd, 21:15) and Edgear Hernandez (33rd, 20:41). The Cardinal girls were also fifth. Lawndale's top finisher was Glory Conejo, timing 24:56.

Torrance captured the boys' title 39-50 over runner-up South Torrance. The Spartans, though, had the top individual finisher in junior Nick Lofgren in 16:20.

South, behind winner Kimberly Coscia (18:48), won the girls' division 23-38 over Torrance.

MORNINGSIDE TOPS INGLEWOOD FOR PLAYOFF SPOT

Morningside High's football team topped cross-town rival Inglewood 19-15 for third place in the Ocean League and a spot in the CIF-Southern Section Western Division playoffs. The Monarchs, who are 6-4 overall after going 3-2 in league to finish behind champion Culver City and runner-up Santa Monica, begin the playoffs at second-seeded Chaminade in West Hills Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Eagles (8-2) finished second behind champion Gardena Serra (10-0), which is the top seed and hosts Pacifica High from Oxnard at the same time.

The Cavaliers, who have several players living in Lawndale, Hawthorne and Inglewood, are ranked second behind Bellflower St. John Bosco (top seed in the prestigious PAC Five Division) in Southern California and are seeking a spot in the California State Bowl Series Open Division if it wins the division.

LAWNDALE WINS PIONEER FINALE

After a 4-1 preseason, Lawndale High's football team lost its first four Pioneer League games, but finally pulled through for its first league victory in four years by edging host Centennial High 20-18 last Friday in Compton. With the win, the Cardinals finished league at 1-4 and had an overall mark at 5-5. With a mostly young squad, Lawndale will hope to be a strong contender in the Ocean League, where it will move in with Hawthorne, Beverly Hills, Culver City, Santa Monica and El Segundo next year. The victory also snapped Lawndale's 19-game league losing streak dating back to 2010.

HAWTHORNE, LEUZINGER SHUT OUT

Hawthorne High's football team closed out its season at 3-7 overall and 1-4 in the Ocean League after a 42-0 home loss to second place Santa Monica (6-4, 4-1) last Friday. The Olympians ended the rigorous Bay League at 0-5 and were shut out in all of their five games after a 43-0 loss at third place West Torrance last Friday. Leuzinger was outscored 227-0 in its five Bay games. Both the Vikings and Warriors move on to the CIF-Southern Section playoffs on Friday. •

Jason Santos of Hawthorne finished ninth with a time of 16:57 in last Thursday's Ocean League Cross Country Championships at Rancho Park. The Cougars are fielding cross-country for the first time since 2007. Photo by Joe Snyder.

Christmas Comes Early

By Adam Serrao

So we all wondered what the Lakers would look like without Dwight Howard. Well, last Thursday night at Houston's Toyota Center against their former teammate's Houston Rockets, everyone got a good idea. With Pau Gasol at his natural center position and Kobe Bryant's absence meaning that Steve Nash could now handle the ball and run around the court like he did in his Phoenix days, these Los Angeles Lakers finally began to look the way we all had hoped they would. Obviously, the season is young and the Lakers have been the epitome of inconsistent already to begin the year. But for just one game and on just one night, this Lakers' squad became a team. It took Dwight Howard to be on the court with his old teammates once again, but this time he was dressed in a different uniform. With a last-second victory literally in the face of Howard, however, the Los Angeles Lakers gained something that they failed to obtain all of last year--an identity.

They might be old, they might be slow and both Nash and Gasol might both now be well past their respective primes, but the smiles on everyone's faces wearing purple and gold last Thursday night spoke volumes to this team recently assembled in the offseason. In the background, the story was much different. The home team's Rockets and Howard progressed off of the floor--some bickering with each other and others like Howard moping with their heads directed towards the ground. It was a sight that Laker fans had gotten all too used to last year as their team severely underachieved, most likely causing Howard to retreat to Texas in hopes of greener pastures. Howard's recent departure definitely left a deep disdain in the hearts and souls of all those who love Los Angeles and not just the Lakers--Howard was booed at a Clippers game also. Most people, especially players, will tell you how Kobe put it when asked if there was any extra incentive beating Howard at his new home. "No." Bryant said coldly. "We needed a win though, so it's good to get a win."

"But for just one game and on just one night, this Lakers' squad became a team."

Almost no player in the league will actually admit it when the game means more than it actually does on the scoreboard--especially Kobe Bryant. Even Howard downplayed the matchup. "Our team is on a mission, so we can't concern ourselves with one game," he said. "It's another game. Just go out there and play, have fun and get a win." Clearly, that is Howard's mind's state as he takes the court every game this year for the Rockets. He attempted to make it his mindset last year with the Lakers as well. There was only one problem: He played alongside Bryant. There is no question that Howard has the talent to be one of the NBA's premier centers. He desires so much to have fun and joke around, though, that it takes away from his game. Bryant, on the other hand, has an undying passion, fire and will to win. That is primarily the reason that the two players did not get along and why Howard finds himself in a Houston uniform for the time being.

Because Howard lacks that passion and fire, he can never be the best player on a championship team. Howard thinks that he has that ability, but he doesn't have the dedication. That's why it was particularly amusing to watch him struggle from the free throw line, as he did the entire year in L.A., as Laker head coach Mike D'Antoni initiated the hack-a-Howard technique. Howard missed 10 free throws in the quarter and the Rockets gave up a seven-point lead to the Lakers that they previously maintained with just over a minute remaining in the contest. To add insult to injury, Steve Blake nailed the game-winning shot with one second remaining on the clock in Howard's face as the Lakers walked off victoriously and Howard was left to meditate on his mistakes. Those same mistakes were the ones that he made here with the Lakers and will be the same ones that follow him around wherever he goes for the rest of his career. Howard has the talent, but his infatuation with having fun personally hand-wrapped the Lakers' first road victory of the season last Thursday night.

By no means at all is this Laker team a championship-caliber squad--at least not without Bryant. They wound up losing to the New Orleans Pelicans the very next day by 11 points, giving the team three double-digit losses on the season already. But just like Howard was apparently not concerned that the Lakers were coming to town, Laker management is not concerned with a championship this season. This is the year to find young, special players that can saddle up on a championship run next season when Bryant is healthy, GM Mitch Kupchak can round up some top-of-the-line free agents, and perhaps Phil Jackson will come back to sit at the front of the bench. What matters the most this year are those games circled in red on the calendar in the Laker locker room. One was against the Los Angeles Clippers on opening night, with another highlighted by the win in Houston in Howard's face. So far, the Lakers are 2-2 in that category.

For a team with such low expectations coming into this year, Christmas has certainly come early this year for the Lakers indeed. •

With all the pumpkins hanging around, I thought it would be cool to make a roasted pumpkin and potato hash. This is a great side dish for dinner with chicken, lamb or even seafood. It is also a great bed for some fried eggs or stuffed into a burrito with scrambled eggs for breakfast. Have fun with it and happy holidays!

The Chef

Roasted Pumpkin and Potato Hash

- First, peel and seed one medium pumpkin. Then, dice into 1-inch squares.
- Dice 1 large onion
- Dice 2 large potatoes
- Chop 1/2 pound thick, sliced bacon
- Mix together and season with salt and pepper

Place in a 350-degree oven and cook for 15 to 20 minutes or 'til tender and golden brown.

Next, grab a large sauce pan.

Sautee 1 pound of spinach with 2 tablespoon of butter.

Add 1 cup of heavy cream and the pumpkin mixture.

Heat and serve. •

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866) 240-3530, using the file number assigned to this case 2013-04061. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Wowzer Schnauzer

My name is Addison, and it's uncertain why my previous owner turned me in to an L.A. County shelter, because I'm absolutely

Addison adorable! Everyone tells me that I'm a cute, quiet and reserved little lady. I look forward to spending social time with other dogs – we get along great. At 11 pounds, I'm considered petite – just a bit of a girl, really. I will fit comfortably on your lap owner passed away about a year ago. A family member took me in for a year but couldn't keep me, so they took me to an inland shelter. When the nice people from MSFR met me, I really needed some TLC – my nails were so long they curled. I needed dental, a physical and a grooming. I had to have two teeth extracted, but my blood work came back normal and I've been transformed with my makeover. I would like to lose a few pounds, my current weight being 24 pounds, however, I'm a happy, well-socialized lady who enjoys the company of both dogs and people. I have many years of love to give and would be a great companion if you'll just give me a chance.

I know that Waffles is a strange name for a 5-year-old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer, but there's a funny story about how that came to be. I was rescued from an L.A. County shelter, where I had been brought in as a stray. First, I was listed as a male. Then my listing changed to a female. When the volunteers from MSFR come to pick me up, they found that, indeed I was a male, and I wasn't neutered. Hence, due to my "waffling" gender, the name "Waffles" became mine. Please come visit me at our Gretchen or in your arms when we cuddle. Really, what more could anyone ask for? I can't wait to meet you at adoptions – we will be the perfect match!

Hello, I'm an 8-year-old purebred female Miniature Schnauzer named Gretchen. My life was turned topsy-turvy when my elderly pet adoptions and see what a honey of a dog I am.

If you're looking for a 1-year-old male Chihuahua/Dachshund mix named Mozart look no further. I was rescued from a high-kill shelter in the nick of time, and I have to admit, it was pretty scary. I may not be able

Mozart to read a note or compose a song, but I am one bouncy, happy little guy who loves to play with dogs and people. I can't play the piano, but I can give you lots of love, and

I'm very entertaining. If you want to meet 10 pounds of joy, come see me at Yellow Brick Road Doggie Playcare in El Segundo. Call 310-606-5507 for more information. •

Happy Tails

Congratulations to Marge and her new family. Marge was rescued from an L.A. shelter in mid-August and now has a 7-year-old male min. and her daughter as playmates. Marge's new forever mom is retired and is home all day, which works out perfectly for Marge, who has had some separation issues. Much happiness to all of you.

If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org.

Please visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoptions fair held every Saturday from noon-3:30 p.m. or check out our website, www.msfr.org. Our adoptions fairs take place at Petco, 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway, Redondo Beach, California. Schnauzers – bet you can't adopt just one! •

THE YELLOW DOG PROJECT.com

If you see a dog with a YELLOW RIBBON or something yellow on the leash, this is a dog who needs some space. Please do not approach this dog with your dog. Please maintain distance or give this dog and his/her person time to move out of your way.

There are many reasons why a dog may need space:
HEALTH ISSUES
IN TRAINING
BEING REHABILITATED
SCARED OR REACTIVE AROUND OTHER DOGS

THANK YOU!

Those of us who own these dogs appreciate your help and respect!
