Plunge Project Gains Approval

By Liz Spear

In a 4-1 vote Tuesday night at its regularly scheduled meeting, with Council member Lance Giroux the lone “No” vote, the El Segundo City Council officially breathed life into its ailing community indoor pool facility, the Urho Saari Swim Stadium, also known as the Plunge. It was built in 1940 under a federal program known as the Work Projects Administration (WPA) created by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Congress. The aging Plunge, now nearly 84 years old, has been nonfunctional and closed since 2021 after suffering through years of equipment and facility issues that kept its use unpredictable.

In a brief presentation before council Tuesday night, Recreation, Parks, and Library Director Aly Mancini chronicled the history of the Plunge’s potential renovation, noting that in 2005, the city’s Aquatics Master Plan recommended the facility be renovated and repaired. She also stated that in 2006, the city council had approved the concept of a two-pool swim stadium complex at El Segundo High School, located a few blocks from the Plunge. The bond measure that supported that endeavor, Measure Q, was rejected by voters in 2006.

In 2008, a study conducted by Rowley International determined that the Plunge needed $676,000 in filtration and circulation repairs. A 2010 “pool alternative study” by Rossetti and Counsilman-Hunsaker consisted of community input meetings and stakeholder strategic plan meetings to gather feedback on aquatics programming and facilities for the city.

Tuesday night, with a mix of public comments that included several individuals asking the council to pause to take a look at building an outdoor pool with a depth sufficient enough for water polo players on the property instead of renovating the Plunge, many in the community rallied for the renovation, urging the council to make good on its pledge to renovate the Plunge. They mentioned that the Plunge, a 25-yard lap pool with a second shallower children’s pool, is suitable for children’s swim lessons, seniors, and exercise. One pointed out that the city had accomplished its goal to have a world-class aquatics facility and it was time to bring the community pool, the Plunge, back. Notably, the Plunge sits just off the small town’s Main Street, near the public library and a park and school, on the residential side of the city, west of Pacific Coast Highway.

In terms of the large aquatics facility desired by the city, in 2015, the Wiseburn Aquatic Center Program was undertaken, delivering the El Segundo Wiseburn Aquatics Center to the community and public at large east of PCH next to Wiseburn High School and amongst the city’s commercial buildings. That swimming complex features an Olympics-caliber 10-lane competitive lap pool that can change size and shape thanks to adjustable bulkheads, creating the potential to swim in one area and play water polo in another, along with a four-lane teaching pool. The complex also includes stadium seating for 500, a public-address system for competitive events, and other high-level amenities/capabilities. The aquatics center held its grand opening in January of 2019, and the complex cost $13.8 million, paid for with a bond measure from the Wiseburn community at $6 million, the City of El Segundo pitching in $1.8 million after an agreement was reached in November 2016. A fundraising effort led by Richard C. Lundquist, president of Continental Development Corporation, funded at least another $4 million of a $6 million goal.

The Plunge renovation will cost an estimated $13 million, with the city funding $9.2 million and loaning itself another $4.7 million. Council approved a $1.3 million contingency fund Tuesday night, as well. Lundquist again is set to raise funds for the Plunge renovation via South Bay Sports Health and Recreation. As the president of Continental Development, he has an outstanding record of fulfilling and reaching goals and commitments in the community. It was noted that the city has to “loan itself” via a funds transfer and designate all the funds needed for the project to start, unlike what occurs with federal government projects.

In dissent, Giroux said that all he wanted to know was what the cost would be for an outdoor pool instead of renovating the Plunge. He said his “concern is fiduciary,” noting that the two pool facilities will require

Theresa Loretta McCready

On February 20, 2024, Theresa ("Teri") Loretta McCready passed away at home in Huntington Beach, California, just three months shy of her 100th birthday.

Theresa was born in Yonkers, New York, the third of nine children. After high school, she entered beauty college, and during the Second World War, she worked as a "Rosie," doing wiring for US planes.

Toward the end of the war, she met the love of her life, James "Jim" McCready, who she married and shared the following 57 years of her life with.

Theresa's life was devoted to taking care of her family. She had the patience and compassion of a saint, and an unshakeable positive attitude. She also possessed the strength and fortitude of the fiercest warrior. One of her greatest legacies was the ability to overcome life's tragedies, without becoming bitter or hard-hearted. When their children were grown, she and Jim bought a motor home, and made four cross-country trips.

Theresa was a talented painter, and a superb seamstress, but her greatest passion was quilting. She gifted her quilts throughout the family, all the way down to her great grandchildren. These quilts will serve as a reminder of Theresa's loving and thoughtful nature.

Theresa was preceded in death by her parents, Albert and Agnes Melillo, her step-mother "Maizy"

Peterson, husband, James McCready, son, Michael McCready, and all of her siblings except Carol. She is survived by her sister Carol Ann Garner, and her children, Michelle and husband Larry McAndress, Maureen and husband Gary Glassman, Melissa and husband Mike Meshishnek and Patricia Barraco, and husband Anthony Barraco; grandchildren, Tiffany, Lindsay and Darcey, Nemo, Eric and Emery, Debbie, Terri, Sharon and Kevin, as well as her great-grandchildren, Connor, Ashley, Emily, Drew, Jake, Dylan and Nixon, Dani, Michael and Alicia, and many much-loved nieces, nephews, and great, great grandchildren. •

Remembering a Hero

I was saddened to hear a true hero, Chris Barrett, lost his battle with Leukemia. I first met Chris as reserve police officer for the El Segundo Police Department when I was assigned to ride with him on various shifts. I remember how dedicated he was to law enforcement and to our community. He is one of the reasons why I went into law enforcement. I remember much about Chris and how he never asked "Why Me". He once told me, "If my incident prevents one officer from getting hurt because of the training they'll receive then I'll be ok." Chris was involved in a gun battle on May 6, 1979 in the alley behind the Target Bar. Chris was struck by a round from the suspect but as Chris lay wounded on the ground, he fired back at the suspect fatally wounding him. For the next 54 years Chris was paralyzed from the waist down and restricted to a wheel chair. It didn't stop him from his passion of coaching girls' softball at various levels including at ESHS for twenty-six seasons. Chris, thank you for your heroism, dedication to our city, your friendship over the years and for teaching me the correct way to load the unit's shotgun.

Stars and Smoke by Marie Lu

By Kim Harris,
El Segundo Library Assistant

Marie Lu is a Young Adult fantasy/science fiction writer who wrote the Legend, Young Elites and Skyhunter series. When I saw the book Stars and Smoke, I knew I had to read it. Marie Lu's books always have a good plot and great characters. Having not read the book jacket, I was expecting another science fiction book. Imagine my surprise when it turned out to be a spy novel! This is the first book in the series. The next book, Icon and Inferno, comes out in June. Winter Young, a Chinese American young adult, is one of the biggest pop stars on the planet. He used to be a backup dancer before hitting it big and now is an international rock star. I think of him being a cross between Taylor Swift and Justin Bieber. Because of his superstar status, Winter is recruited by the covert ops organization Panacea Group. They want to catch international tycoon Eli Morrison but he proves to be too slippery and slick. His only weakness is his daughter, Penelope. She is turning 19, the same age as Winter and wants to have a private concert. The Panacea Group persuades Winter to help them out and teach him some survival skills before performing for Penelope. They have a secret agent, Sydney Cossette, who is also 19 and is the perfect cover as Winter's bodyguard.

Sydney doesn't have any family. Her mother died and her father was abusive, so Sydney

Ennio is a Singing Tribute to a Legendary Film Composer

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

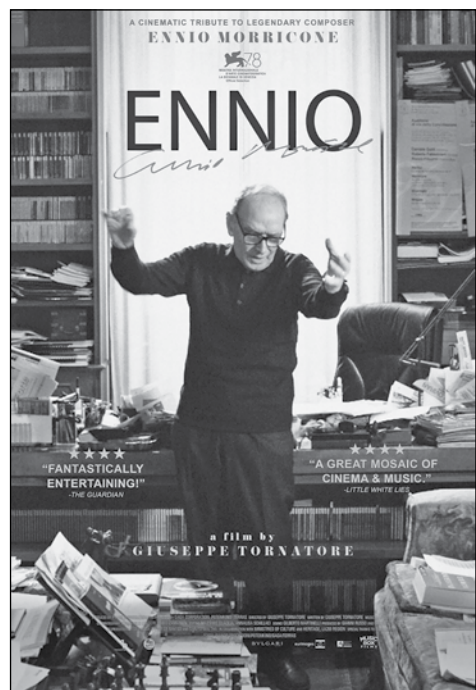

It's been said that, at the sound of the first note, you will be able to identify an Ennio Morricone score. The duality of the music's boldness and beauty is unmistakable. We also know what will follow is a rich orchestral melody that weaves in and out of emotional landscapes. The prolific composer's influence on music scores in cinema is explored in great detail through Ennio, directed by his longtime collaborator, Cinema Paradiso filmmaker, Giuseppe Tornatore. Paying tribute to one of the industry's most legendary artists, Ennio explores the maestro's career across his iconic film scores, including The Good, The Bad, and the Ugly, Days of Heaven, A Fistful of Dollars, and his Academy Award-winning work on The Hateful Eight, among hundreds more.

I like to listen to music when I write, and sitting down to begin this review was no different. As I opened Spotify and searched for his name, I was shocked but not surprised to see that the Ennio Morricone profile receives an average of 3.3 million listeners a month. His most recognizable song, "The Ecstasy of Gold" from The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly shows that it has been streamed nearly 69 million times and counting. These numbers, while staggering, are only a snapshot of the storied career of the Italian maestro.

The documentary runs just over two hours and thirty minutes, and every frame is packed with words of admiration from Ennio's peers, including autobiographical anecdotes from Ennio himself. Fans of his music-making process will revel in the abundance of fascinating interviews with various musicians and directors who have either worked

Opening Day is a Special Day

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

There's something special that happens once a year. For our community, it has been each year for the past seventy, yes 7-0 years. The El Segundo Little League celebrated its Platinum Anniversary's Opening Day Parade and ceremony. The El Segundo Girls Softball League hasn't been around quite as long but held their opening day festivities a week earlier with just as much hype.

Little League Opener Like a Party

On a cool morning the El Segundo Little League's 70th annual parade with more than 400 Little Leaguers marched, with their teammates marched down Main Street. The Challenger Division Dodgers led the parade, then the newly formed Tee-Ball Division, followed by the Rookie Division, Single-A, Double-A, Triple-A, and Majors. It was all smiles by these athletes showing off their proud uniforms. Other communities may have their Opening Day Little League Parade, but El Segundo's is reminiscent and worthy of a Norman Rockwell cover on a Saturday Evening Post magazine. You'd be hard pressed to find another Little League Opening Day with the media attention that this year's ESLL Opening Day garnered. From the LA Times to three local television stations covered the ceremony.

Once the parade of players ended at Brett Field the forty-three teams lined the infield and settling in to listen to the league President Jamin Griffiths. He addressed the standing room only crowd and thanked the sponsors, families and supporters of Little League baseball. After introducing each team and managers of their

- 1 can (12.5 ounces) Swanson® Premium White Chicken Breast in Water, drained
- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 packages (about 16 ounces each) jumbo-size biscuit dough (16 biscuits)
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1 teaspoon dried parsley flakes
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

Send us a photo and recipe of your favorite dish.

We'd love to share it with the community. Send to: web@heraldpublications.com

Directions

- Step 1: Heat the oven to 400°F. Line 2 rimmed baking sheets with parchment paper. While the oven is heating, roll the biscuit dough pieces into 6-inch circles (you can do this on a lightly-floured work surface, if desired).
- Step 2: Mix the soup, chicken and cheese in a medium bowl. Spoon about 2 tablespoons soup mixture in the center of each dough circle. Fold the dough in over the filling in sections, pinching to hold in place as you go, until the edges of the pies are covered but not the center. Place the pies onto the baking sheets.
- Step 3: Bake for 20 minutes or until golden brown. While the pies are baking, stir the butter, parsley and garlic powder in a small bowl. Remove the pies from the oven and brush the crust edges with the butter mixture. Let cool on the baking sheets on wire racks for 5 minutes before serving.

directly with him or were indelibly inspired by him.

Bringing a personal component to the film, Ennio shares stories about his childhood and reminisces about wanting to be a doctor. It was his father who convinced him to study the trumpet instead. It's a scenario you don't hear too often, parents persuading their children's career path towards the arts over medicine. From there, we weave in and out of his repertoire, growing more awestruck with each passing film score.

The film itself is very traditional in its documentary format, fueled by sit-down interviews that bounce from subject to subject. The stories themselves are larger than the formulaic way in which they are told, which seems like a conscious choice by Giuseppe Tornatore to not let stylistic filmmaking choices get in the way of the heart and soul of the film. It's clear that this documentary has been in the works for a while; some interviews have a dated, public-access look to them that seems ripe for screening in a museum.

The descriptions given about Ennio Morricone range from "very serious" and "very absorbed" to "a genius" and "a marvel." Waxing poetic about their idol, some interviewees stated that "the God of music speaks through him as if he were possessed" and "His music is... eternal." Before his passing in 2020, Ennio finally won his long overdue Oscar for Quentin Tarantino's 2015 film, The Hateful Eight. At 87 years young in 2016, Ennio Morricone set a new record: the oldest recipient of an Academy Award, proving age is nothing but a number.

Ennio is now playing in Los Angeles at Laemmle Noho with a national expansion and home entertainment release to follow. • decided to make the Panacea Group her family, particularly her handlers, Sauda and Niall. They substitute as surrogate parents to Sydney and help her out of tough situations. After training Winter to handle himself in case something goes wrong during their operation, Winter and Sydney go to London to fulfill their mission. At first, Sydney is resentful of Winter and thinks that he is just a pretty face and one dimensional. As she gets to know him, Sydney discovers that there is a lot of depth to Winter and he has a hidden agenda. Winter is famous and popular, but is also lonely. He doesn't have many true friends and is not close to his mother. His older half-brother, Artie, worked in the Peace Corps and was killed. Their mother fell apart after Artie died and completely ignored Winter. One of the reasons Winter agreed to work for Panacea Group is he wanted to find out what really happened to Artie. Did he really work for the Peace Corp? Was he a secret undercover spy? These burning questions fuel Winter and make him want to bring down Eli Morrison and his illegal arms operation.

The action really starts building up when Winter and Sydney arrive in London. They scope out the party location and try to plan for any eventuality. As the concert nears, Winter and Sydney grow closer. They both get to use their skills and try to catch Eli and his associates before the arms deal is completed. Some complications arise when the concert for Penelope starts. Who are the ones wanting to buy the weapons? Does Penelope really have a boyfriend? Will Winter and Sydney be able to escape the dangers that surround them? Does Sydney ever get the promotion that she is after? Read the book to find out!

I enjoyed reading Stars and Smoke! It was fast paced and made you want to root for Winter and Sydney. I like spy novels, especially teen spy novels, so this hit the spot. It's nice to see Marie Lu venture into a new genre and combine romance with intrigue and espionage. a hefty annual operations and maintenance cost. "All I wanted to see was an alternative," said Giroux. Council member Carol Pirstuk noted that recreation programs and facilities generally are a service to the public. It was also noted that the city's reserve is now 25 percent. Just four years ago, it was 15 percent.

In more news concerning the city's recreation and parks, the Recreation Park renovation project moved forward on a 5-0 vote. The Teen Center, Teen Plaza, basketball court, and skatepark plans are being examined, with a focus on how to configure the basketball court and skatepark.

Also, a postcard-like entry sign to the city set for Imperial Highway and Main Street passed on a 3-2 vote, with Giroux and Pirsztuk the two "No" votes.

In other news, El Segundo Police Chief Jaime Bermudez introduced nine of 12 new members who have joined the police department within the past year. He thanked the City Council for approving a $40,000-tiered lateral incentive bonus they approved in May of 2023 to help the department's recruitment efforts.

El Segundo resident and former El Segundo Police Officer Chris Barrett, who was paralyzed in a robbery incident while on duty in the city in May 1979, died on Feb. 24. Bill Brand of Redondo Beach and the South Bay Parkland Conservancy was honored. He passed on Feb. 9. • teams Jamin introduced the 2023 All Star teams starting with the 10U followed by the 11U and finally the 12U Little League World Series champions. He reminded the crowd that each All-Star team reached the District 36 championship game for the first time together in the same year.

The first pitch ceremony was delivered by Danny Boehle, the manager of the 2023 Little League World Series champions. Then, the unveiling of a permanent plaque commemorating the World Series Champions was revealed. Finally, the unveiling of a special sign that will be a permanent fixture on the Brett Field scoreboard honoring the 2023 World Champions, was uncovered.

The 2024 schedule got underway with the Major Dodgers defeating the Royals 8-1. It's a long season that will wind its way into May. To get your baseball fix, come out and support Little League baseball. Weather permitting there are games nearly each day with a full slate of games on weekends.

ESGS Starting Another Fun Season

The ESGS League celebrated their 58th year with an Opening Day Ceremony. The focus of the league is a recreational league with the primary goal of providing a venue for players to have fun, learn and compete. They offer programs for girls ages 6U through 12U in 2024. The league acts as a feeder system to the high school softball program. They have had many successful all-star teams do well in tournaments leading up to Nationals.

The festive atmosphere the ESGS League put on, for the nearly 220 girls in the league, resembled a huge party. There was a face painting station, a giant blow-up slide and a fun DJ playing music that players were dancing to prior to assembling for their entrance onto the field.

League President Jeremy Adler introduced nine-year old Charlee Gronendal to sing an emotional National Anthem. Then teams with unique names such as 8U Evil Sour Grapes, Tealor Swifts and Pink Ice Cubes to the 10U Golden Potato Girlies and the 12U Banana Bruisers were introduced. The teams marched onto the infield between archways of balloons. After the 19 teams surrounded the infield before last year's all-star teams were announced.

The 2023 All-Star teams were then introduced and were recognized for their success. The ceremony concluded with the first pitch thrown by Jena Rich, arguably one of El Segundo's finest softball players.

Games are played on Saturdays prior to Spring Break, starting at 8 a.m. and ending around 9 p.m. at both the Rec park softball field and Richmond Street School field. After Spring Break, games are 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday and all day long on Saturdays. With a fully stocked menu of snack bar items why not attend a game, support the girls and have a meal.

Eagle's Basketball Season Comes to End

The El Segundo high school's boys' basketball season came to a crashing end in the first round of the CIF Southern Region State Championship. The Eagles traveled to Reseda to face the Cleveland Cavaliers the second seeded team. After a close first quarter the Cavaliers pulled away in the second quarter on their way to 70-54 win over the Eagles.

Junior guard Darreson Naruse led the Eagles with 23 points, while senior guard Shane Biscaya added 12 points. Gavin McKinnon ended with nine points, and Eli Coles had eight points and nine rebounds.

It was an incredible season that saw the Eagles win 23 games and a share of the Pioneer League title for the first time in three years. They competed for a section title for the first time in twenty-one years and advanced to the CIF Southern Region State tournament. With ten players returning next season the Eagles have optimistic reasons why they'll be considered a favorite team to watch.

Baseball Team Finishes Third in Tournament

The Eagles had an impressive week defeating Culver City 6-2, losing a heartbreaker to Palos Verdes 1-0 and defeating Carson 8-7. The games were part of the El Segundo-Stevenson Tournament believed to be the longest running high school baseball tournament in Southern California.

Mateo Heredia started against the Palos Verdes Sea Kings and went five strong innings. He gave up one run on four hits, struck out four and walked two. Dylan Garcia tossed the last two scoreless innings and struck out two. But their efforts came up short when the offense was limited to one hit and never really established a rally.

In the third place game against the Carson Colts the Eagles gave up three earned first inning runs before they got two of them back in the second inning. Hudson Comer and Lincoln Quaintance scored on Chase Matoon's double to left-center to make it 3-2. In the third inning Comer clobbered a two-run home run and Matoon had an RBI single to give the Eagles a 5-4 lead. Trailing 7-6 after the Colts' Dylan Mares hit a two-run homerun in the top of the seventh the Eagles mounted a two-run winning rally. With one out Comer walked and Quaintance doubled to leftfield. Ethan Ayler was walked intentionally and Matoon's RBI walk scored Comer to make it 7-7. Then Kyle Whalen hit a ball up the middle forcing Matoon out at second base but scoring Quaintance with the winning.

The Eagles opened Pioneer League play yesterday at North Torrance and host the Saxons on Friday at 3:30 p.m. On Saturday the Eagles host the Simi Valley Pioneers at 10 a.m.

Softball Eagles Look Impressive

The Eagles put together a complete game against the Valley Christian Defenders. They pounded out 13 hits and scored six runs while the defense played flawlessly behind the pitching of Maiya Anderson. The result was an impressive 6-0 win over the Defenders.

The Eagles had a productive third inning offensively. They scored four runs on six hits, highlighted by Sienna Mayer's towering homerun. In the inning, Kacey Ekstrom had a double and scored on a double steal with Jazzy Ramos on the front end of the play. In the fourth inning, Taryn Walker singled and later scored on Ramos' RBI single. In the fifth inning, Allie Stevenson singled and scored on Maggie Green's RBI single to make it 6-0. Maiya Anderson tossed a complete game shutout. She gave up just two hits while striking out six and walked none to lower her ERA to 1.50.

The Eagles hosted the Bay League defending champion Redondo Sea Hawks. The Eagles took a 4-3 lead into the seventh inning but gave up two runs and fell 5-4. Sienna Mayer was 1-for-4 with a triple and three RBIs, while Jazzy Ramos, Kacey Ekstrom, and Sullivan McLaughlin each had two hits.

The Eagles opened their Pioneer League schedule yesterday against North Torrance and host Da Vinci on Friday at 3:30 p.m. •
