Interim Fire Chief Appointment Cause Public Comment from Resident and Retired Firefighter

By Liz Spear

The El Segundo City Council tackled some heavy topics at its regularly scheduled meeting last Tuesday night, including appointing an interim fire chief that sparked commentary from a resident, a Community At Large report from the city's Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee that mentioned residential outcry at having a DEI committee, and nonprofits in the city asking the city to help them financially.

While the appointment of Los Alamitos resident Robert Espinosa, a former fire chief who retired from the City of Manhattan Beach in 2018, sparked lengthy oppositional commentary from Jim Boulgarides, himself a previous El Segundo city council member from 2004-2008, the interim appointment of David Cain as the chief financial officer to fill the gap left by departing CFO Joe Lillio, who is moving on to the City of Burbank, did not elicit any public comment.

During the Public Comment portion of the meeting, Boulgarides took to the microphone to offer his input: "I want to speak to the agenda item on the hiring of the interim fire chief Robert Espinosa—just a couple of things. I'd like to start, I'd like to talk for a minute about how we got here, and why we're hiring an interim fire chief. I remember when I got the invitation, December 7, 2021, at 3 p.m. over on the apron of Fire Station 1, they had the badge ceremony for Fire Chief Deena Lee. After decades of service in the department, she achieved her dream job. And she was the fire chief. And I think that was one of the best decisions this city ever made. I mean, you had a trailblazer; she had her program to encourage young women to get into the fire service. I think she was a feather in your cap. And then I have to ask myself, why less than two years later, achieving her dream job, is she gone? And what does that mean for the city? And then you consider that she was three years from maxing out her retirement, and it wasn't a lightly taken decision. I spent 25 years, 26ish, and retired from the fire service, so I know what that means. And I think the reason she left, and it's more than hearsay. I've spoken with her, and she wouldn't tell this you herself, but I don't think she wanted to watch the dismantlement of her beloved fire department. And there's been some real substantive cuts, and I don't think she wanted to have to sit and justify them to the public. And so she walked away from a job that I know she loved and I know she was proud to have, and I think that she was a trailblazer. And I think it's a loss. I think it's a loss to the city.

"And then I'd like to just remark for a second on what brings people to El Segundo. And there are a couple of big things, banners that we stake our city on. And one of them is our schools, and one of them is our public safety. And trust me, I don't wanna; I mean, this is the second time I've been in this chamber in three weeks, and my poor wife is going, 'Oh my god, you're not running again, right?' and I just saw Mr. Hensley (city attorney), and he goes, 'By god, you know, three times in two weeks and it's been 15 years.' And I go, 'No, not running for anything. All I want to do is drink coffee and coach Babe Ruth.' I don't want to come back here and keep bothering you guys, but this is something that I knew I'd regret if I didn't come and talk to you about it. And I don't expect to agree with you guys every time. We had this conversation before you ran for council member Giroux. If I wanted to agree with a council member every time, I'd run again. You guys are gonna make your best judgment. I think maybe there's something you haven't considered in this particular appointment. Of course, you need an interim fire chief.

"I'm assuming that you guys all know that he walked away from Manhattan Beach after he got a vote of 'No confidence' from the Manhattan Beach firefighters. I've been in the industry for decades. I've never heard of that happening before. And this isn't a remote department, Manhattan Beach, as we all know, is next door. They run calls with these guys. They go into house fires with them. They're their brothers and sisters in arms. OK. This is, as you know because god knows we've been talking a lot about mutual aid as we make cuts here. Those are the guys that are going to be coming in; we go into their city. And for you to take a guy that their brother and sister firefighters had no confidence in, and this is a guy already drawing a pension, and you know to pay him $18,000 a month to come here and take over your fire department, I don't think you realize, maybe you don't, that that to your firefighters, it's just going to feel like one more kick in the teeth. Yeah, you've gotta fill that spot. It doesn't have to be him. OK. It doesn't have to be him. He's drawing a pension. He's done fine. He walked away. He walked away after his firefighters had no confidence in him. If he's not good enough for the firefighters of Manhattan Beach, I don't think he's good enough for your firefighters here in El Segundo. So, throw 'em a bone, maybe. Show 'em you do still support them.

Eagles are Playoff Bound

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

As busy and active as the spring high school sports scene has been, the Eagles will be busy this week playing in the CIF Southern Section playoffs. The volleyball team advanced to the third round with a couple of first two-round victories. The boy's tennis team is heading to the playoffs as a team for the first time in several seasons. The baseball is expected to draw a playoff berth after their sweep of Lawndale. The softball team got into the playoffs, and the boy's lacrosse team drew a favorable first-round opponent.

Volleyball Team Advances to Third Round

The third-seeded Eagles have swept their way into the quarterfinals of the CIF-SS Division 3 playoffs. In the opening round, the Eagles were in complete control over La Serna and came away with a 25-14, 25-13, and 25-16 win. Then they went on to throttle Warren 25-17, 25-18, and 25-17 to reach the quarterfinals.

It was a relatively easy win for El Segundo over a team that had a 20-win season the year before and had plenty of returners back. The Lancers really posed no threat to the Eagles, whose net play overwhelmed their guests.

The win sent the Eagles into the second round against the Warren Bears, the Gateway League champions, who went undefeated in league play. In the pre-game warm-ups, El Segundo showed off their thunderous hits that must have been somewhat intimidating to their opponents.

Sophomore Ryan Pilkvist had a big say in the first game. His hit gave the Eagles a 14-9 advantage after the Bears were creeping back into the game. His block gave his team a 23-16 lead, and the Eagles went on to win game one.

In the second game, the two teams played a close match with four lead changes and extended rallies. Jackson Brenneman helped rally his team and take a 13-12 lead, and the Eagles never looked back. After a long extended exhausting rally, Ryan Pilkvist put away a point to give the Eagles a comfortable 17-13 lead. His game-ending hit gave the Eagles a 25-18 win.

Game three went as expected as the Eagles wore down Warren's attack. Nolan Kelly's serves were tough to handle, and the front line made it a challenge to score. Brenneman had a couple of blocks, and Kelly Escobar's ace ended the game and sent the Eagles into the quarterfinals against Vista Murrieta on Tuesday. A win would send them into the CIF semi-finals tonight, with the finals set for Saturday.

Tennis Team Advances to CIF

As a tennis team, the Eagles finished as co-league champions with South Torrance in the Pioneer League. This marks the first time in a number of years that that team has made it to the CIF Team Playoffs.

"The boys' have been putting in the time and effort, and it's paid off. The addition of Assistant Coach Paul Rayburn and our team managers from the girls' team has been the key to our success," explained head coach Bonnie Maye. In addition, freshman Shane Hines, and the team of sophomore, Caleb Tsai, and freshman Aarush Antil will be representing the Eagles in the CIF Individual Tournament that begins after the end of the CIF Team Tournament. "The team has put incredible amounts of effort and time in, and it is paying off. The commitment that they made has been the turning point," said Coach Maye.

Team members include Chase" Lai-Yates, Camden Chen, Connor Fracisco, Nicolas "Nic" Rayburn, Andrew Clouse, Caleb Tsai, Dylan Evers, Arush Antil, Hiroto "Hashi" Yamashit, Aden Calof, Kai Clifton, Thomas Cuzzocrea, Bennett Fischer, Dorde Gilsovich, Jacob Rodriguez, Luke Martinez and Shane Hines. Their playoff run starts this week.

Baseball Team Honors Seniors Before Returning to the Playoffs

The Eagles needed to sweep Lawndale in the last week of the regular season. They did it in convincing fashion when they dismantled the Cardinals on Senior Appreciation Day 15-0 and then secured their playoff invitation with a 4-1 win.

The Eagles honored their nine seniors, including Tucker Stevens, Lucas Bonham, Colby Sutherland, Shane Thompson, Brady Engelhardt, Cooper Gamble, Dylan Immel, Evan Sherrill, and Luke Elward, before the first game against Lawndale. Then before the National Anthem, which the award-winning El Segundo choir emotionally sang, a moment of silence was taken for former Eagle pitcher

Non-Fiction Picture Book Roundup

By Kristina Kora-Beckman, Senior Librarian, El Segundo Public Library

This week, I'm reviewing two of my favorite Non-Fiction Picture books. These titles use stories that read like fiction to engage young readers with history and help it come alive with gorgeous images and lyrical text. Additional information including photos and drawings

Only the Best: the Exceptional Life and Fashion of Ann Lowe by Kate Messner and Margaret E. Dowell

help relate the story to historical context and provide more resources for interested readers.

Only the Best: the Exceptional Life and Fashion of Ann Lowe by Kate Messner and Margaret E. Dowell, illustrated by Erin K. Robinson tells the story of the first nationally known African American fashion designer. As a girl, Ann dreamed of creating dresses as perfect and beautiful as flowers. She practiced creating flowers from leftover fabric scraps her mom and grandma, both who were seamstresses. Through hard work, vision and ambition, Ann becomes a sought after designer, overcoming prejudice, and racism to dress even Jacque Kennedy on her wedding day.

Manfish: a Story of Jacques Cousteau by Jennifer Berne illustrated by Eric Puybaret takes readers on a journey of a boy who dreamed about breathing underwater and flying among the ocean creatures in the sea. As a grownup, Jacques combines his interests of diving, filming, and tinkering to invent the aqualung, a device that brings his childhood dreams to life and an underwater camera to capture life below the waves. Later in his life, Jacques uses his passion for the ocean to bring attention to pollution that threatens the seas and planet he loves.

Moonage Daydream is a Stunning Portrait of David Bowie, Now Streaming on HBO Max

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

They say never meet your heroes. Unfortunately, I'll never have the chance to meet one of mine. The world changed on January 10, 2016, when the news of David Bowie's death stunned everyone who knew and loved him. If you listened closely, you could hear the collective gasp from fans worldwide as we sat in disbelief. How could he be gone when, just two days earlier, his 26th studio album – Blackstar – was released? It wasn't fair. Bowie was one of those rare artists who only got better with time. And now we were to be robbed of what genius he could have contributed in his golden years. Moonage Daydream may be the closest thing we'll get to having another Bowie experience, and that's reason enough to consider this documentary a treasure.

Director Brett Morgen's (The Kid Stays in the Picture, Kurt Cobain: Montage of Heck, Jane) kaleidoscopic retrospective of one of the greatest artists of our time is an amalgamation of sight, sound, and spirit. The film premiered at this year's Cannes Film Festival and more recently, crossed the pond with screenings at TIFF, before opening in theaters last Friday. Unlike a traditional biopic, which can be hard to tonally get right, Moonage Daydream plays like a video collage of rare concert footage, TV talkshow appearances, and behind the scenes moments. It truly is David Bowie like you've never seen him before. Plus, this is the only officially sanctioned film from the Bowie estate (which says a lot).

Moonage Daydream is so whimsical that, for a moment, it's easy to forget Bowie himself isn't calling the shots behind the lens. Morgen channels his protagonists' energy and playfulness by breaking the "rules" of traditional documentary storytelling. There is no beginning, middle, or end here. Rather, we jump forward and back in time, onstage and off, creating intimate controlled chaos. Visually, it's stunning. And sonically, it's outstanding. Long-time collaborator, friend, and music producer Tony Visconti and Academy Award-winning sound mixer Paul Massey (Bohemian Rhapsody) remixed and translated Bowie's original stems for theaters in 12.0, 5.0, Atmos, and 7.1/5.1. That's nerd talk for: see it in an IMAX theater if possible!

Running 2 hours and 15 minutes, Moonage Daydream is the furthest thing from a sleeply affair. Prepare for a full-body adrenaline rush as your mind attempts to wrap around a technicolor explosion of the senses. You don't have to be a David Bowie fan to appreciate the film either; although there is a high chance you will be converted into one by the end credits. Moonage Daydream is a love letter to a hero who continues to inspire us, even in the afterlife.

Moonage Daydream is distributed by NEON. Now streaming on HBO Max. •

Need a Small Loan? Make Sure You're Not Adding to Your Financial Woes

(BPT) - April is Financial Literacy Month, and it's an opportunity for people to take a closer look at their finances and be smart about their money. These days, it's difficult to save money - whether it's an appliance breakdown, car repair or other unexpected bill, sometimes you just need to borrow a little cash. When you need to find a little financial help, it may seem like plenty of options are out there for borrowing money. But the problem is, borrowing even a little can cost you. A lot. Even if you need just a small loan - but you don't have much of a credit history (or none at all) - you may find yourself owing a lot more than you can afford, causing bigger problems down the road. If you don't have a solid credit history, you may find yourself in deeper financial trouble just from borrowing as little as $500.

"Unfortunately, just when you really need a loan, you can end up owing a lot more than you can afford," said Matt Jenkins, chief operations officer, Oportun. Oportun's customers, the majority of whom live in low- and moderate-income communities, are hardworking individuals who have limited savings. Approximately half of Oportun's new loan customers did not have a FICO credit score when they first came to Oportun. "Understanding how much you're expected to repay for any loan, and when, is crucial, so you don't end up in a deeper financial hole."

This is especially true with unsecured loans such as payday loans or online-only installment loans, as well as short-term secured loans such as auto title loans. While you may have needed to borrow just a small amount, after adding interest and fees, you could ultimately end up paying back many times more than the original amount you borrowed.

Personal loans fall into two categories: secured or unsecured. Secured loans require you to offer up an asset as collateral, while unsecured loans do not. Secured loans can give you access to larger loan amounts, especially if you don't have as much credit history to qualify for an unsecured loan. However, being unable to pay back your secured loan could result in losing access to the property you put up as collateral - such as your vehicle - which creates even more challenges, especially if you need your vehicle to get to work.

Unsecured loans place a greater risk on the lender, since the borrower does not provide collateral. To account for that risk, lenders may offer unsecured personal loans in smaller amounts, charge higher annual percentage rates (APRs) and/or require the borrower to have a much higher credit score to qualify. These requirements can create barriers to accessing or building credit for anyone who is financially struggling.

To find out how much these products can really set you back, a 2022 analysis by the Financial Health Network, "The True Cost of a Loan," compares six financial products - payday loans, online-only payday loans, rent-to-own, installment loans, online-only installment loans and single-pay auto title loans - to unsecured installment loans from Oportun to estimate the total cost of these products to typical borrowers.

The study showed that even short-term, small-amount loans can end up being very expensive to borrowers in the long term, especially when compared to loans from Oportun. Overall, Oportun loans can be significantly less costly than alternative products, as they often have lower rates and more affordable terms than many other choices on the market.

To learn more about your options to borrow money when you need it, as well as financial resources, information and tips to help you build a better credit history, visit Oportun.com.

Boost Your Immune System and Reduce Allergies During Travel

(BPT) - Have you gone on a trip and gotten sick during or after traveling? Not only does it take away from your enjoyment during your travels, but it can make it difficult to get back into your routine when you go home.

When traveling, especially in close quarters with others, like on a train or airplane, other travelers expose you to viruses and bacteria. Also, if you have seasonal allergies, you'll be exposed to more allergens, especially if you're traveling to new locations during spring. When you combine these two immune disruptors, travel and allergies, you're looking at a recipe for a miserable time.

However, there are things you can do to boost your immune system and manage your allergies during travel. Here are three tips you can employ during your next trip to stay healthy and enjoy your vacation.

You've heard it a million times, but it's true. Drinking enough water is critical to maintaining your immune system. According to the University of California, Irvine, Integrative Health Institute, staying hydrated helps your body transport nutrients to your organs, detoxify pathways, increase lymphatic drainage and clear out foreign substances and waste, all of which support a healthy immune system.

Staying hydrated is especially important during air travel. Have you ever noticed how thirsty you are during a flight? That's because airplane cabins are typically kept at low humidity, leading to quicker dehydration. You also may notice that your nasal passages dry out, which can worsen allergies after a flight.

Make sure to carry a water bottle with you on your flight (although you'll want to fill it after you go through TSA) and carry a saline spray to moisturize your sinuses. Your immune system and sinuses will thank you for it, and you'll have a more enjoyable trip.

Did you know your gut is home to more than 70% of your body's immune cells? By supporting your gut health, through nutritious foods and dietary supplements, you're nourishing your immune health. While supporting immunity is important year-round, as spring begins your immune health can be put to the test with allergies and travel. "One way to support your immune health is through postbiotics. You've probably heard about the health benefits of probiotics and prebiotics, but you may not have heard about the newest biotic on the market - postbiotics," said Keri Gans, registered dietitian nutritionist and author of The Small Change Diet. "Postbiotics are inanimate yet effective. While each postbiotic is unique there are options available today that have been clinically studied and shown to support immune health."

Boosting your immune system doesn't have to be hard! A convenient option that tastes great can be found in products like Wedderspoon

Manuka Honey Lozenges.

These lozenges deliver a powerful and fast-acting immune boost that is backed by science, using the beneficial nature of genuine New Zealand Manuka Honey to soothe and coat the throat and clinically proven EpiCor postbiotic to boost the immune system. Keep a bag in your carry-on to keep you happy and healthy during your travels and another at the ready for any time you need a boost of immunity. Learn more and stock up by visiting Wedderspoon.com.

Stress isn't just a drain on your mental health. It can also have very real physical effects. According to the University of Maryland Medical System, stress reduces the number of lymphocytes - white blood cells responsible for fighting off foreign viruses and bacteria. In other words, stress weakens your immune system, making it harder for your body to resist the common cold and other sicknesses and infections.

Also, stress can worsen your allergies because it increases the release of histamines, which trigger allergy symptoms. This does not mean that stress causes allergies. However, an increase in histamines in the bloodstream can make existing allergies much worse. Also, according to The American Institute of Stress, studies show that stress increases inflammation, which can also make allergy symptoms worse, especially when it comes to inflamed sinuses.

While it's impossible to remove all stressors from your life, you can employ these and other strategies to manage your stress at work, home or abroad. And remember, you are on vacation! •

The Unsung Hero Behind Mortgage Lending in America

(BPT) - If you've ever purchased a home, you've probably at least considered a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage. It's the most popular type of mortgage loan in the U.S. But this wasn't always the case. The 30-year mortgage was a product of the Great Depression - and the Federal Home Loan Bank System, which was formed more than 90 years ago to help increase homeownership in America, was a key player in bringing it to fruition.

The FHLBank System was created by the federal government in 1932 to promote mortgage lending by thrifts and insurance companies in response to the economic devastation of the Great Depression. Previously, mortgages typically could be "called due" after three to five years if the bank didn't choose to extend, resulting in the demand for a balloon payment. Obviously, this would wreak havoc during a financial crisis, and the new FHLBank System began working to support the creation of a true 30-year fixed-rate, fully amortizing mortgage loan (meaning a loan with the principal and interest paid down via equal payments over the life of the loan), that would provide more stability for everyone.

Today, the 11 regional FHLBanks continue to support homeownership and mortgage market stability by providing member financial institutions with reliable liquidity - the ability to quickly access cash when it's needed - in the form of low-cost loans, which in turn facilitate lending at the community level. FHLBank System lending benefits lenders, homeowners and local communities in three key ways.

- Providing consistent, low-cost liquidity that reduces the cost of borrowing for both businesses and consumers. Lenders need money to lend, and the less they are required to pay for the money they lend (referred to as liquidity), the greater the savings they can pass on to borrowers. Although the FHLBank System is overseen by the Federal Housing Finance Agency, the FHLBanks themselves are private cooperatives owned and supplied with capital by their members, receiving no government funding. As cooperatives, they pay no income tax, have moderate overhead, and the loans to members are low risk because they are fully collateralized. As a result, the FHLBanks are able to offer low-interest loans that help reduce the overall cost of borrowing - saving homeowners as much as $17 billion in interest payments each year, according to a recent University of Wisconsin study.

- Enabling community lenders to keep loans on their books. The ability of member institutions to obtain liquidity through loans from their FHLBank using mortgages and mortgage-backed securities as collateral gives community lenders the confidence to provide mortgage loans and hold mortgages long term rather than selling them on the secondary market. When local lenders keep home loans on their books and service them from start to finish, borrowers benefit as well, since their banker is better able to get to know their particular situation and work with them if their circumstances change suddenly. "We saw the clear benefit of this approach during the Great Recession," said Teresa Bryce Bazemore, president and CEO of FHLBank San Francisco. "Borrowers still need to be qualified and uphold their obligations, but if we can help people through tough times and they fully repay their loan, that's far better - for them, for their bank or credit union, and for the community as a whole - than letting them default and lose their home."

- Boosting community lending. Low-cost liquidity enables community lenders to invest in mortgage-backed securities, making more money available for home loans generally, and also levels the playing field, allowing community lenders to better compete with larger institutions and giving them more opportunity to draw on their deep knowledge of local credit needs. When local institutions have access to the liquidity they need, they can more effectively respond as the credit needs of their community evolve. Ultimately this results in more home, business, and economic development lending that grows local economies.

You may never have heard of the FHLBanks, but they play an important behind-the-scenes role in keeping money flowing within the mortgage lending and banking system, making sure that community lenders have the liquidity they need to support housing finance and community investment. While the housing and financial markets are in constant evolution, and housing affordability continues to be a critical concern across the country, the FHLBanks' efforts - from the initial work facilitating a true 30-year mortgage to helping keep local lenders in our communities today - have played a pivotal role in fueling community lending and helped millions of families achieve their dream of homeownership.

Tim Chrisman who lost his courageous battle with cancer. Chrisman, who played in the Dodgers organization, was also a former pitching coach for the Eagles.

The Eagles cranked out a seven-run first inning on their way to an easy 15-0 win. Hudson Comer led the 14-hit attack with two hits and knocking in five runs. Brady Engelhardt collected his first hit and, in the process, had two RBIs. Dylan Alcala had his best outing of the season by going the distance, giving up just three hits while striking out nine.

In the final game of the regular season, the Eagles sent Engelhardt to the mound, and he was impressive. The senior gave up one run on one hit and struck out 11 in six innings. The Eagles were challenged on offense when they could muster up just four hits, but the hits they did get were timely. Tucker Stevens' RBI single in the third inning gave the Eagles a 1-0 lead, and Shane Thompson's RBI single in the fourth inning extended the lead. In the fifth inning, Lucas Bonham's RBI single made it 3-0, and Hudson Comer's team-leading 18th RBI gave the Eagles a 4-0 lead. Lawndale pulled off a successful delayed double steal in the sixth inning to score their only run.

The Eagles (15-11) finished in a tie for third place in the Pioneer League. They received a first-round road game on Friday against the Don Lugo Conquistadors (16-7), the first-place team from the Mt Baldy League. The winner would most likely face second-seeded Linfield Christian on Tuesday.

Softball Team Draws Top Seed

The Eagles defeated Lawndale 16-0 on Senior Appreciation Day and finished fourth in the Pioneer League. Prior to the game, the El Segundo high school softball program paid tribute to the seniors on both teams. It was a classy move by the Eagle's program to include the four seniors from Lawndale. The six Eagles honored were outfielder Miranda Sullivan, infielder Bella Gridley, infielder Peyton Ernest, outfielder Avery Chavez, outfielder Sammie Kleiger and outfielder Val Miranda.

Each of the six seniors had a memorable day, and each had at least one hit and scored. Gridley was 4-for-4 with two RBIs and scored four times. Kleiger had three hits, including two doubles, two runs scored, and one RBI. Ernest went 2-for-4 with two RBIs and scored once. Four pitchers combined to no-hit the Cardinals. Maiya Anderson went two innings with four strikeouts, Jacy Lindsay struck out three in her brief appearance, Miranda Peyton Ernest fields a ground ball helping to secure the no-hitter for the Eagles.

Sullivan struck out the only batter she faced, and Avery Chavez locked down the final inning that ended the game with a strikeout.

The Eagles will travel to Moorpark today to take on the top-seeded Musketeers. It marks the second consecutive year the Eagles have been paired with a top two-seeded team. Last year the Eagles fell to second seed and eventual CIF champions Mission Viejo 1-0 in the first round. Should the Eagles pull off the upset, they could host Redondo on Tuesday.

Boys Lacrosse Team Gets into Playoffs

The Eagles trounced Beverly Hills 14-1 and, in the process, secured second place behind

Ocean League champion Santa Monica. They will face the Long Beach Millikan Rams at home today at 3:15 p.m. in the first round of the CIF-SS Division 3 playoffs. Should the Eagles defeat the Rams, a team they defeated 14-3 earlier this season, they would travel to Carpinteria to face the third-seeded Cate Rams. •

And that you still do have their backs. And by the way, I haven't spoken to anybody in the fire department. I'm not here for anybody but a guy that owns a home on Bungalow and wants the best for the city. I want to make that clear, too. So, thank you for your time. And again, I do appreciate your service. You could all be home with your families."

City Council unanimously voted to approve Espinosa's appointment as interim fire chief after council member Ryan Baldino asked City Manager Darrell George if he had interviewed the proposed interim fire chief and if he'd done his due diligence, and if he believed in his judgment that Espinosa is the right choice and he answered affirmatively. Baldino also elicited the information that the only reason the interim fire chief appointment was coming before the city council was because CalPers has certain requirements when a city is hiring retired CalPers members as interim staff.

A report on other city council business conducted at this meeting will publish next week, including information on the city's DEI Committee report and the nonprofits that asked for funds from the city.

The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.AUCTION.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 108693-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 108693-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
