El Segundo Troop 2505 Girl Scouts Earn Gold Awards

Three Girl Scouts from Troop 2505, led by Robin Funk and Eileen Tinoco, have recently achieved their Gold Award, which is equivalent to the Boy Scout Eagle Award and involves a community project with a minimum of 80 hours planning and implementation. Hayley Funk's project developed and promoted an International Culture exchange between ESMS and students in Guymas Mexico. Aiyanna Sanders organized a book drive and developed a library in a local shelter. Noelle Hale created a Military Personnel outreach program and a club at the High School called "Support our Troops" to recognize and thank our military servicemembers. The Gold Award Ceremony will take place on June 6th at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium for the Los Angeles Girl Scout Council. Tasty Topics in the Works for 15th Annual Author Fair

By Brian Simon

Food, or at least food for thought, will serve as the thematic thread for this year's El Segundo Public Library Author Fair. The 15th annual installment of the popular local event is set for Sunday, June 7 and will feature more than 40 authors representing a wide variety of genres. The festivities will also include book signings and sales, poetry readings, special children's programs, goodie bags, refreshments, live music, balloon sculptures and raffle prizes.

A Non-Fiction Author Panel will take place from 12:30 to 1:30 in the Friends of the Library Room with the theme "Dishing it Up: Foods to Satisfy Every Palate." Panelists will include noted food authors Linda Civitello, Jennie Cook, Richard Foss, Martha Rose Shulman and Clifford A. Wright. A moderator had yet to be announced as of press time. Then from 2:30 to 3:30 at the same location, Library Board member Kevin Smith (not the Fire Chief) will moderate "Genre Pairings: Tastes of Fiction and Non-Fiction." Panelists will include Rachel Howzell Hall (noir), Jillian Lauren (memoir), Isabel Quintero (young adult), David Rensin (biography) and Desiree Zamorano (noir/mystery)

Rensin's appearance represents a major coup for the event, according to Senior Librarian Julie Todd. "David is the co-author and friend of Louis Zamperini [the famed Olympian and World War II survivor who grew up in Torrance and was the subject of the Oscar-nominated film Unbroken released in November 2014 only a few months after his death]," she said. "David and Louis were friends for about 16 years and had worked together on Zamperini's biographies, including Don't Give Up, Don't Give In: Lessons from an Extraordinary Life that came out last year, and Devil at My Heels from 2003." Rensin's extensive resume also includes collaborations with show business legend Bernie Brillstein, New Age musician Yanni, and several notable comics—Tim Allen, Jeff Foxworthy, Chris Rock and Garry Shandling. He has also been a contributing editor of Playboy since 1981 and written extensively for other nationally renowned magazines.

Other authors appearing at the event will include Jennifer Banash (young adult), Lawrence Bridges (poetry), Janelle Brown (fiction), Elena Karina Byrne (poetry), Diane de Anda (children's), Kim Dower (poetry/noir), Sue Ganz-Schmitt (children's), Julia Gibson (young adult), Steve Gray (children's), Tracy Holczer (children's), Stephanie Kegan (fiction), Max Kornell (children's), Nicole Maggi (young adult), Peter Mehlman (fiction), Gabriel Meyer (poetry), Gina B. Nahai (fiction), Wendy C. Ortiz (memoir), Candace Pearson (poetry), Eric Pierpoint (children's), Kwei Quartey (mystery), Suzanne Fedfearn (mystery), Teresa Rhyne (memoir), Greg Sestero (memoir), Sarah Skilton (young adult), April Smith (fiction), Lilibet Snellings (memoir), Barbara Thomason (art), Fawn Weaver (relationships), Rex Wilder (poetry) and Desiree Zamorano (noir/mystery).

School Board Reveals New Richmond Street Principal

By Duane Plank

The Tuesday night meeting of the El Segundo Unified School District School Board featured a special presentation made by High School Assistant Principal Ali Rabiei recognizing a standout achievement by Business Pathway students in a recent debate competition.

But prior to the special presentations, Board President Jeanie Nishime announced that, in the just completed closed session, the Board had approved the recommendation of Superintendent Melissa Moore and ratified the appointment of Middle School Assistant Principal Alice Lee to become the new Principal at Richmond Street Elementary for the 2015-16 school year.

Completing her third year at the Middle School, Lee will take over for interim Principal Rebecca Jane Godbey, who had been filling the post since the requested leave and then resignation in February, for personal reasons, of Elizabeth Ramirez.

In a statement released prior to the open meeting, Moore noted that opening at Richmond Street had "attracted a large and highly competitive pool of applicants." She said that "in the end, Dr. Alice Lee

Shoe Drive a Success

By Gregg McMullin

The Physical and Health Education Department along with the PTSA conducted a shoe drive in honor of "Earth Week." The "Shoe Drive" brought in 2415 pounds of shoes and were hopeful to get to 2500 pounds. Angel Bins would pay 60 cents per pound with the ultimate purpose of purchasing sound system for ESMS P.E. department. Angel Bins is a for-profit recycling company that helps schools and other charitable organizations raise money through the recycling of shoes, clothing and toys.

The students were in a contest to see which class period would bring in the most pairs of shoes. At the end of the contest the ESMS students brought in over 2,400 pairs of shoes. The "Shoe Drive" was a tremendous success; recycling the shoes will help our environment and the proceeds will benefit the Physical & Health Education Department

Angel Bins picked up the shoes at El Segundo Middle School. These shoes will then be shipped to third world countries where quality shoes are badly needed and sold at a price most people can afford. At the ESMS Open House a parent, who was a member of the Peace Corps, commented when the shoes were delivered to the country where he worked, the people there were so excited because they literally had no shoes. This was indeed a win-win situation for everyone involved.

ESHS Receives Six Year Accreditation

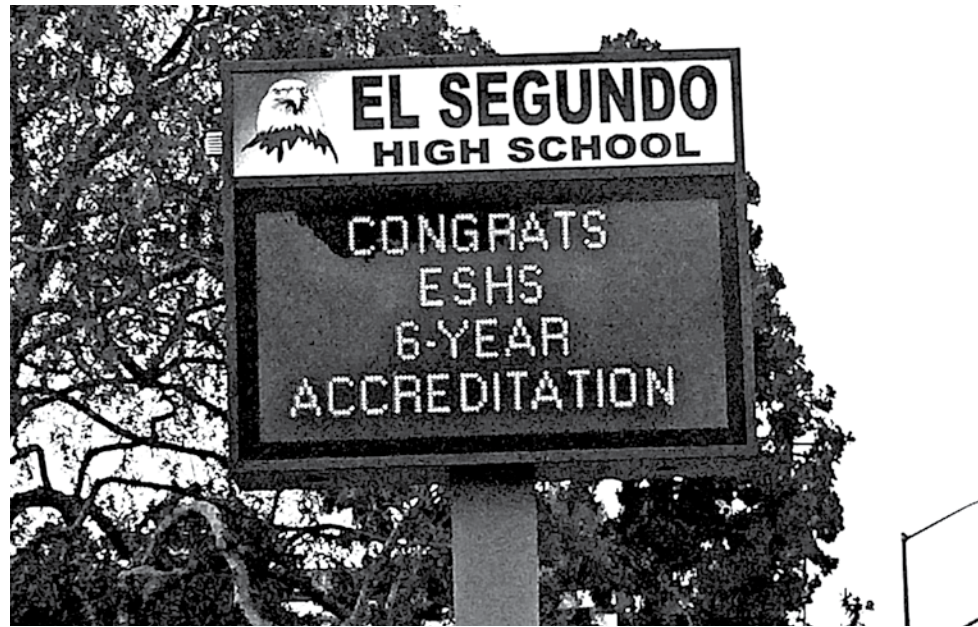

By Jaime Mancilla, Principal of El Segundo High School

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) Visiting Team concluded their El Segundo High School accreditation visit on March 11th with a report to all stakeholders in the El Segundo High School library. The report was a summary of the group's findings after three and a half days of classroom visits, meetings and discussions with all ESHS stakeholders.

The library was packed with the entire faculty and staff, district personnel, members of the committee is not authorized to reveal what their recommendation is to the commission. Their report and recommendation is read by the Commission and the Commission validates it by approving the recommendation. The ESHS stakeholders felt that the report was fair and accurately described every aspect of our school. Overall, they were very comfortable with the report.

On Friday, May 1st, ESUSD Superintendent Dr. Moore and ESHS Principal Jaime Mancilla each received an email from the WASC Accreditation Commission granting El Segundo

El Segundo School District's message board announces the news.

Board of Trustees as well as parents and students. All present had participated in some way or another in the school's year and a half long mandatory self-study that preceded this visit. Each member of the six-person visiting team presented a portion of the report and at the end of each segment the member shared his or her thoughts on the school's strengths and areas of focus. Some of the strengths mentioned were the overwhelming community support, a prominent school culture that embraces a Cycle of Improvement and the open access for all students to participate in rigorous classes. They noted that the areas we should focus on were deepening and strengthening critical thinking, reading and writing; improving college and career readiness; and continuing to align assessment and curriculum, assessments and instruction to Common Core and Next Generation Science Standards. These next steps received the full support of all stakeholders at ESHS. The team concluded their report and thanked the El Segundo community for its incredible hospitality. They also commented on the fact that the packed library epitomized everything they felt about their experience during their visit. This accreditation process truly reflected a community effort.

The visiting team left with their report and the recommendations that they would make to the WASC Accrediting Commission. As part of the process, the WASC visiting

High School a full six year accreditation with a one-day mid-term visit. This is the best term or outcome a school can receive and is a validation of all that is going well at El Segundo High School. Upon hearing the news, El Segundo High School Self-Study Coordinator, Mark Doering, stated "I'm very proud of all of the work that everyone has put in over the last year and a half. I'm excited with the outcome. It motivates us to move forward with Common Core, technology, and most importantly, meeting the needs of all students." When asked about the news, Dr. Moore replied, "I commend the entire faculty and administrative team for this tremendous accomplishment. Earning a six year accreditation is truly significant. It serves as evidence of the collective contribution of all participants to examine the instructional program and analyze student data for the express purpose of developing meaningful goals that will positively impact student learning. El Segundo High School team received feedback that they indeed modeled and embraced the best practice of the ongoing cycle of improvement. As a professional learning community, the faculty was vested in the betterment of the school. The visiting team also validated the outpouring of support the school receives from the Ed! Foundation, business partners and the community-at-large. El Segundo High School has much to be proud of for a job well done!"

Correction

In Brian Simon's city council article for May 7th, he quoted council member Marie Fellhauer as saying that the golf professionals knew "how to make The Lakers better and all those years did nothing." The quote should have been "how to make The Lakes better." We regret the error. •

Reality is Another Wonderfully Bizarre Outing From Quentin Dupieux

By Ryan Rojas for CINEMACY

By now, fans of the eccentrically French filmmaker Quentin Dupieux should know that his highly original films are made for the cinematically adventurous type – those of whom feel comfortable knowing that for all of the elaborate tangents and philosophically-staged ponderings, his films might not make a lick of sense.

However, in Dupieux's refined Dadaist style, this happens to be for the very best, as his newest feature film Reality (Réalité) to gut his claim. Much to his young daughter Reality's (Kyla Kenedy) amazement, a blue VHS tape fall out of the innards, but when pressing the witnessed impossibility, her father dismisses the notion of a video tape being able to get into the belly of such a woods creature – because that would be crazy. This is the sort of confounding anti-logic that both Dupieux and the film thrive on.

Meanwhile, in real time, filmmaker Zog (John Glover), sits on the edge of his seat at a remote screening room, where he watches once again falls in line with his other reality-bending comic send-ups (2010's Rubber, 2013's Wrong Cops) which makes for another wonderfully bizarre and absurd outing that continues to raise artfully interesting questions while confronting the very medium itself.

With his third feature film, Dupieux (AKA electronic music-maker "Mr. Oizo") has found a story about showbiz that he finally seems ready to tell. Gone is his freshman debut with the killer car-tire gag in Rubber, as well as his sophomore shenanigan-laden midnight movie Wrong Cops; in Reality, the story of a film director who discovers that his passion project film has already been made – and by his alternate-reality self. There are a million more moving pieces that propel the flat-out ridiculousness in this movie.

Reality certainly falls in line with what fans of Dupieux's should expect, but for those new to the director, it should be said that you might have to take a real leap outside of the comfort zone on this one.

The movie opens in a wordless sequence where a backwoods rifleman takes out a tranquil deer, brings it home, and proceeds that very scene of Reality and the videotape and the deer, seeing her stare back into the camera itself. It's a circus act of self-references and meta-dwellings that makes for a silly, fun watch.

Aside from this and many other head scratching rabbit holes, Reality mainly centers around a public-access channel camera operator by day, budding artistic filmmaker by later-that-day Jason (Alain Chabat), who sets out to find the ultra-specific and correct "dying human shriek" sound effect that he needs to make his new film about a killer microwave (no doubt a sly wink to Rubber). With appearances by Reality's cross-dressing principal, Henri (Eric Warheim), and public-access show host in-an-itchy-rat-costume, Denis (Jon Heder), the film circles around to these seemingly non-connected stories, but finds a common (if long-shot) thread to pull the entire story together in its final act.

So, where does a film like this, one built on the honest intention of being purely meaningless and non-logical, stand among his other films, and movies in general? Where

NBA Playoffs Take Center Stage

By Adam Serrao

After last Saturday afternoon's game between the Atlanta Hawks and the Washington Wizards at the Verizon Center in Washington, it became clear that the NBA playoffs have officially caught fire and continue to capture the attention of America. Even if you're not particularly into the game of basketball, you simply can't deny the drama and the intrigue of the second round of these playoffs. That is, if you've been among the fortunate enough to watch. Last week's buzzer-beater by the Bulls' Derek Rose combined with old faithful himself, Paul Pierce's game winner, both showed us all why these playoffs are so good. Maybe the first round fell flat as sort of a dud, but it looks as if the latter stages of this year's tournament are sure to tickle even the most blasé basketball-onlooker's fancy.

If you've been following basketball at all this postseason, then you've noticed that it was pretty obvious that the first round of the playoffs were a yawn fest. Almost every team that was expected to win won, and did so handily. The Golden State Warriors swept the New Orleans Pelicans in four games, Memphis and Houston almost swept Portland and Dallas, respectively (each team only gave away one game), Washington and Cleveland swept Toronto and Boston, and Atlanta and Chicago made quick work of Brooklyn and Milwaukee. Too much sweeping going on for my taste. The only thing not sullied and deserved of a good sweeping in the first round was the series featuring the Los Angeles Clippers and the San Antonio Spurs. That may go down in history as one of the best NBA playoff series ever. The Clippers eventually won in the seventh and final game, sending the defending champion Spurs into an offseason full of wonder and speculation that their dynastic team may at last be headed for a breakup.

The second round, though now almost completely over, began in a way that was distinctly different from the first. As if taking the lead of the Spurs and Clippers in round one, each of the four series was clearly headed for our own enjoyment and satisfaction from the very start. Each team that started off round two on the road won a game to immediately steal home court advantage from their opposition. While that in itself didn't tell us who was going to win the series, it did tell us that each one was going to be long, drawn out and intense in nature. Even when the first two games of each matchup were played, it strangely felt as if the series' were yet to begin. Every team, at one point, was tied at 1-1, and after a long and grueling 82 game regular season and first round of the playoffs, every team was dealing with their own set of issues.

You always know you're in for some good playoff basketball when the team that has home court advantage goes down early in the series. In round two, every team that had home court advantage trailed 2-1 after three games in the series. That includes the Cavaliers and LeBron James. What's interesting about James and his team's series against the Chicago Bulls is that James and company were forced to play with a distinct disadvantage from the get-go. In Kevin Love's very first playoff appearance ever against the Boston Celtics in round one, he dislocated his shoulder and is now out until next year. J.R. Smith punched a guy in the face and was suspended for the first two games, Iman Shumpert pulled his groin muscle and talk arose that Kyrie Irving's foot was less than 100 percent. Advantage Bulls, with a healthy and suddenly explosive Derek Rose; that was, until Pau Gasol went down with an injured hamstring. These two teams seemingly always have a way of evening each other out; but hey, at least that makes for good television. So did Rose's last second shot from beyond the arc that helped his team take an early 2-1 advantage over LeBron. In the next game, LeBron evened things once again with his own buzzer-beating game-winner.

Then there are the Houston Rockets vs. the Los Angeles Clippers and the Atlanta Hawks vs. the Washington Wizards. In both series, the team with home court is seemingly expected to lose. Through three games, the series played out that way. Both L.A. and Washington held 2-1 series lead. While the Clippers did so basically without Chris Paul, the Wizards used an old, ex-Boston Celtic to get the job done. After his game winning bank shot, Pierce proclaimed that he didn't call the bank shot. "I called, 'Game!'" he declared. The old man's still got it. After nailing a game winning three-pointer against the Raptors in round one, Pierce exclaimed, "That's why I'm here." He showed again against the Hawks that indeed, it is. As for the Clippers, it looks as if their tough matchup of the playoffs was in the first round. They could have beaten the Rockets even if they had to do it without Chris Paul. Perhaps they deserved an easy second round matchup after opening against the Spurs, but now Los Angeles is headed for the Western Conference Finals for the first time even in the team's existence.

Then there are the Golden State Warriors. The team that won 67 games in the regular season has the league MVP in Steph Curry

Eagles Complete One Goal, Eye Another

By Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo Eagles completed one of their standing goals and could complete another this week. By winning their twentieth game of the year they can cross off one of their three standing goals. Next on the list is knocking off Santa Monica this week and winning the Ocean League title to check that goal off the list. The third is an obvious of contending for a CIF title.

The Eagles ran their record to 20-7 overall by walloping Lawndale 12-2 on Senior Day. It was a day where the eleven seniors were honored for their hard work, dedication and loyalty to a storied program. It was fitting that they won their twentieth game at home and improved to 7-0 in the Ocean League.

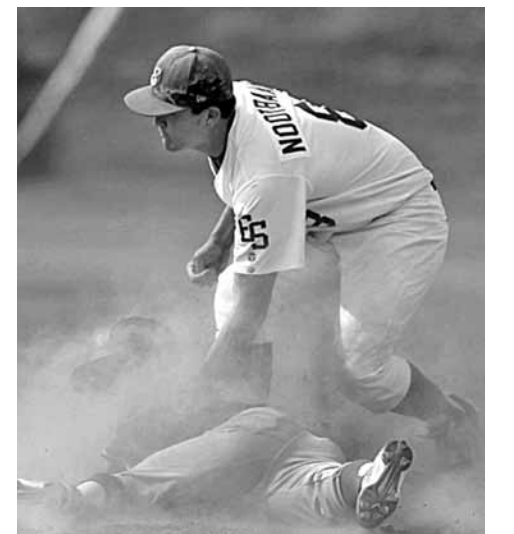

For the first time in league play though, they found themselves trailing the opposition when they were down 2-1 in the second inning. The Eagles have used their tight-fisted defense to handle their opponents all year long and have taken advantage of errors by those same teams. Lawndale committed two costly errors and just like that the Eagles benefitted by scoring six runs, four unearned, to take a 6-2 lead. The Eagles scored two more in the third inning and three more in the sixth inning to finish off the Cardinals.

Hunter Lewis started for El Segundo and went four innings before giving way to Albert Galicia. Both pitchers benefitted by the defense of second baseman Dylan McDonnell, who made an absolute ESPN highlight reel play. A ground ball that was hit and was destined for a single to rightfield was snagged on a sliding-rolling stop by McDonnell going to his left and threw out the batter by a step. Frankie Martinez threw out a would be base stealer and Nick Saucedo threw out a batter trying to stretch a single into a double.

"That's the way our defense has played all year long. The pitchers keep the ball in play and the defense makes play after play," said Eagle head coach Steve Eno.

To win the Ocean League, the Eagles would need to defeat Lawndale on the road and then get a split with Santa Monica this week. That all fell into disarray when the Eagles gave up an unearned run in the first inning and fell 1-0 proved that she was the best selection to lead Richmond Street as a Principal. I am confident in Dr. Lee's leadership to serve the students and families. Three strengths Dr. Lee possesses include: she has grit, an internal strength to overcome obstacles, is compassionate, and is a relationship builder. These three strengths will serve her well and contribute to her success."

During the special presentations, nine students were recognized for placing first in the debate portion of the 2nd Port of Los Angeles International Economic Summit. The competition is designed to get the students interested in the interconnected nature of countries, to learn more about the effects of imports and exports, and to see that there are many similar challenges that connect all nationalities. The Summit required the students to learn the economics as well as the history of the countries that they represent, to develop a strategic plan for improvement, visit a pressing issue with a proposed solution, and to trade for what their country needs to improve the overall quality of life for its citizens.

High School Business Pathways teacher Bonnie Mae served as the faculty advisor for the students taking part in the competition. "We really didn't know what to expect, so we prepared as quickly as we could and just tried to enjoy the day," Mae said. "It's all encompassing and requires students to work together, develop strategies, and to be able to think on their feet."

Prior to the meeting, High School Principal Jaime Mancilla had emailed that winning the competition was "a great accomplishment. We are proud of them for representing the Business Pathways program and the school."

The students recognized were Savannah Cervantes, Sydney Ainsworth, Sheyna Ascencio, Kristal Palomo, Emily Manning, Gianni Camberos, Steven Robledo, Alaadin Stumm, and Ciara Cuevas-Felix.

Recent District hire, Guadalupe Grijalva, Director of the Preschool, then took to the presentation podium to make the State of the School address for the Eagles' Nest Preschool. Prior to the meeting, Grijalva emailed that "these last three months have been wonderful because Eagles' Nest is a great preschool, parents who are invested in their children's learning, and a school district that supports our program and our future students."

Ed! Foundation CEO Carol Pirsztuk then made her monthly presentation, reminding all about Friday night's Ed! Gala that will be taking place at Chevron Park, with more than 30 El Segundo restaurants, bars, and food wholesalers providing samples of their wares. All proceeds from the highly anticipated Ed! Gala will go towards the foundations $1,000,000 grant to the ESUSD. Pirsztuk also mentioned registration for the Ed! Summer Academy, with most classes beginning on June 16 and running through mid-July.

The consent agenda portion of the meeting included the Board consenting to 14 agenda items, giving their consent to a High School Concert Orchestra course, a High School Beginning Strings course, and a contract with Illuminate Data and Assessment Management System.

As mentioned during the last Board meeting agenda notes, the Beginning Strings course will include regular rehearsals throughout the year and help students to work, on campus and at home, in developing their musicianship skills as well as attain excellent intonation through regular ear training. The Concert Orchestra course is slated to rehearse regularly as an orchestra to further develop rehearsal techniques, and will also be required to complete a "Composer Project" in which they will choose a composer to learn about and then make a presentation to the class.

The contract with Illuminate Data became was considered when the new California Content Standards were adopted. According to District-provided notes, it was concluded by the District that the Illuminate system would "work best with our curriculum and current assessments. This system will be used by grade-levels and departments to create assessments to help with pacing, re-teaching, and formatively assessing student progress. The contract includes a one-time cost of three professional development days for $4,500."

The approval of a resolution designating the week of May 17-23 as Classified School Employee Week was one item on the action item portion of the agenda. Also approved was the District's agreement with the State Department of Education and the El Camino Community College District that will net the District funding that will go towards the District's Pathway Engineering program. The grant is for $140,910.

The information pending action portion of the agenda was highlighted by the possible implementation of Middle School Strings Orchestra and Beginning Strings courses next school year, as well as a Technical Design and Production Course at the Middle School.

Superintendent Melissa Moore then highlighted upcoming events on the District's calendar as the 2014-2015 school-year winds down.

The next regularly scheduled Board meeting is on the docket for Tuesday evening, May 26. • to the Cardinals. It was the first time, perhaps in five decades, that Lawndale had defeated the Eagles on the diamond. The last known time was in 1965 when Lawndale's Mickey Swanson outdued the Eagles' Kemer Brett 2-0. How coincidental that the Eagle ace in 1965 and the one in 2015 would both be a league championship would guarantee a first round home game.

Playing at Lawndale is no easy feat, as any former Eagle player will tell you. It's cold, windy and at times plain miserable. For those who can remember Thompson Field here in El Segundo that will give you an indication of playing conditions. It can be a home-field advantage and Lawndale finally took advantage.

The Eagles had their opportunities and even left the bases loaded in one inning but couldn't produce any runs. Jason Kehl, Hunter Lewis and Jackson Stone were the only Eagles that had hits.

The Eagles traveled to Santa Monica on Tuesday and host the two-time defending Ocean League champions today at 3:15pm. Both teams enter this week with a 7-1 record so the Eagles need a sweep to claim an outright league championship and most likely being the fourth seeded team in the CIF-SS Division 3 playoffs. The playoffs start next Thursday and anything like the past there will be dazzling defensive plays and eye-popping long balls hit and of course a lot of story telling at The Standard Station afterwards.

The frosh/soph Eagles swept four games to improve their overall record to 16-5 and their Ocean League record to 6-0. They defeated Hawthorne 4-1 behind the strong pitching of Nico Celestial. Mateo Camano and Vance Watkins with two hits and Jimmy Galicia with two RBI's led El Segundo's offense.

Ryan Maryoung earned his 6th straight win with a complete game shutout at Lawndale 4-0. Maryoung, Evan O'Connor and Jake McDonnell each had two hits to lead the attack.

The Eagles pounded Lawndale 13-3 at home. Jimmy Galicia, Hunter Lynch, and Jared Whitney combined to shut down Lawndale's hitting. Camano, O'Connor, Lynch, and Maryoung led a balanced El Segundo offense.

The Eagles 10-3 victory over South Torrance avenged a loss in the first game of the season. Maryoung again led the offense with two hits and four RBI's. Celestial earned the victory to improve his record to 4-2 on the year.

game against Brentwood 17-12. Cory Lund, despite playing with a severe case of the flu, had nine points. Senior midfielder Nolan Roles tallied seven points while Devin Bonney, just a freshman, took command at the face-off spot to secure the win.

Lund was sidelined for the second round game against fourth seeded Peninsula. With Lund missing on offense the Panthers dominated for a 13-1 victory that ended the Eagle's post-season run.

"Given how new our program was when we started and where we got to we overachieved", said Coach Brooks Roscoe. "The boys gave it their all and we're looking forward to 2016." So are we, coach, so are we.

Girls' Softball

The Lady Eagles defeated Culver City and Hawthorne to run their overall record to 20-6 entering this week. They played Lawndale on Tuesday and assuming El Segundo won, it would setup today's matchup with Santa Monica for the Ocean League championship. Former Eagle great Erin Burner was crowned the unanimous BIG EAST Player of the Year after a record-breaking season with the St John's Red Storm. With the regular-season complete, the senior currently holds the program's career record in batting average at .360, breaking the former mark of .350, held by Jo Sherlock (2003-06). With 43 career doubles, 42 home runs and 147 RBI, the senior is also on her way to setting new program bests in each of those categories. This season, Burner has set the program's single-season record in batting average (.450), slugging percentage (.867) and on-base percentage (.556), has tied the program mark with 48 RBI and is close to setting new records in hits (54), doubles (14), home runs (12) and walks (30).

Babe Ruth League

Sunday is Opening Day for the El Segundo Babe Ruth League. Though there aren't any special ceremonies planned this will be the league's 60th year. The ESBRL has won an amazing five World Series championships (1964, spanning some 119 consecutive league wins, so tonight's 7pm game looms big. The Eagles would need a win to breakup the streak and be crowned co-champs. Get there early this could be the game of the year and a historic moment that you can say you were there for.

1969, 1974, 2002, 2013) and have advanced to the Babe Ruth World Series three other times (third in 1996, second in 2004 and third in 2012). Come out and enjoy the future of El Segundo high school baseball being played most nights at Stevenson Field. • and is expected to win it all this year. Don't tell that to Tony Allen. He'll yell that he's "first team all defense" right in your face. That's what he's been doing to the Warriors anyhow. His play has been backing up his shouting as well. A steady dose of size inside with Marc Gasol and Zach Randolph mixed together with smothering defense spearheaded by Allen vaulted the Grizzlies to an early 2-1 series lead over Golden State. Looks like the favorites are in for a long series.

Obviously there is no way to look into the future and see how each of these series, or even the entire playoffs in general, will end. What is for sure, however, is that with each passing game, the matchups are getting more and more exciting. Whether you're rooting for your hometown Clippers, you're in love with Steph Curry or you just want to see LeBron lose and Pau scoop up another ring, the intrigue is there. With football now clearly in the rearview mirror and baseball still in its infancy, why not give the NBA playoffs a chance? With so many good players and storylines remaining, you may even get hooked on the sport all over again. •

Dupieux's wheelhouse is in all-out manic absurdity, Reality operates in a much more operatically-meta stage, and somewhat more narrative-driven (somewhat).

No doubt, as much as Dupieux wishes to claim that he is all detached deadpan shenanigans, he is at his best when he allows himself to dip his toe into the pool of substance - but only just so. New audiences might find themselves unprepared for this offbeat brand of subversively alt-anarchic movie mayhem, but those with patience to try out a new midnight-movie with flair should find themselves oddly entertained. • during the author panels, with the winners garnering free eats from Beach Mex, Deluca Trattoria, Petros Kafe, Rock & Brews, Second City Bistro and Vinny's Pizza. "The Friends of the El Segundo Public Library, who have generously co-sponsored the Author Fair since it began, have also purchased two Kindle Paperwhite e-readers," Todd said. "Every Author Fair attendee will have the chance to win one of the two e-readers. Raffle names will be drawn and winners contacted the following week."

Long-time Library Director Debra Brighton devised the concept of the Author Fair in 2001 as a way to bring a community book event to El Segundo. It now attracts more than 600 attendees annually from all over the Southland, as well as many prominent authors and poets. "It has really grown into a signature event that has earned a great deal of acclaim not just in El Segundo, but across the region," Todd said.

The June 7 festivities will run between 11:30 and 4:30 p.m. In addition to the panels noted above, the Poetry Corner will take place in the Rose Garden Room from 3:30 to 4:30 hosted by the aforementioned Byrne and Meyer (an El Segundo resident who has participated in the Author Fair for many years). Brown, Greenberg, Kegan, Miller, Nahai, Quartey, Rhyne, Skilton, Thomason, Weaver and Zamorano will be available for book signings on the Library main floor from 11:30 to 12:30. Banash, Bridges, Byrne, Civitello, Cook, Dower, Foss, Meyer, Pearson, Shulman, Wilder and Wright will be on-hand from 1:30 to 2:30. Gibson, Gurwich, Hall, Lauren, Maggi, Mehlman, Ortiz, Quintero, Redfean, Rensin, Sestero, Smith and Snellings will wrap up the signings from 3:30 to 4:30.

The program will additionally include balloon artistry courtesy of Marco Espindola, Boom Boom Balloon Man; music from Different Drum (a Linda Ronstadt tribute), Smokey Hollow (American traditional), Cat Terrones (folk and original tunes) and Sini Vineyard (classical violin). The Young People's Program at the Children's Library will feature a drawing demonstration with illustrator Steve Gray from 2 to 3; author/illustrator signings with de Anda, Ganz-Schmitt, Gray, Holczer, Kornell and Pierpoint from 2 to 3; and storytelling with Nicolle Tibbets (The Land of Imagination) from 3 to 4. For more information on the Author Fair, go to Elsegundo.org/library or call 310-524-2728.

Purrrfect Companions

Pippi

Looking for your purr-fect match? Come and meet this group of canine loving kitties.

Pippi and her siblings were rescued from the LA City Shelter system when they were just four weeks old. Dressed for every occasion from the tips of her white paws to the end of black tail, Pippi is perfect for every home. She loves to play with toys and is a huge cuddler. She gets along famously with other cats and absolutely adores dogs!! Pippi really loves her sister Beatrice; they love each other and spend lots of time in embraces and kisses. It would be wonderful for them to find a home together, but as long as Pippi has another kitty to play with she will be very happy.

Potter is a very sweet but quiet kitty. After taking a few minutes to warm up to you, he is an affectionate boy. Playful and loving, Potter would thrive in an adult home without the commotion of young children. However, he loves dogs and could also be a wonderful companion to a cat-loving canine. When he's looking for extra cuddles, Potter will nose bump you to gain your attention.

Skeeter is another dog-friendly cat. In fact, he really, really loves dogs. Skeeter is also very people oriented especially with teens and adults. This super loving and cuddly guy is bonded to his brother, Shy Guy, but he would be happy to be a buddy to another loving cat. From humans to dogs to cats, Skeeter is your all-round friendly guy.

Beatrice is sweet and playful girl, but not a cuddler. What she does like is a good belly rub. Beatrice will first check you out, and then it's time to play! This adorable girl is another fan of doggy friends. So whether her new friends are dogs or cats, Beatrice is ready for playtime fun.

These kitties are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All of our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave. and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave, just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Donate Your Greens to SPCA Bunnies

Do you feel guilty throwing out the wilted lettuce? Feel bad over uneaten bruised apples? What will you do with that overabundance of zucchini from your garden when the neighbors say no more? The bunnies at SPCA would be delighted to help you with your dilemma! The SPCA has a lot of rabbits for adoption and would welcome your donations of "greens," vegetables, and fruit for their rabbits. (Did you know rabbits love bananas?!) Parsley, carrot tops, spinach, bok choy, squash, and apples are just a few of the many vegetables and fruits they enjoy. So don't throw out that less-than-perfect produce in your house. Gather it up from your family and neighbors and head over to the SPCA, 12910 Yukon Avenue in Hawthorne.

Or maybe you like to adopt a veggie-loving friend of your own! Simba is one of the many rabbits waiting for a new home. He loves to cuddle and enjoys the company of people of all ages; he doesn't seem to mind cats either.

For questions or further information, call the SPCA at (310) 676-1149.

Donate your leftover greens to the SPCA and feed cute bunnies like Simba.

Pets can get loose or lost through mishaps and travel quickly. Microchip: it works!

Happy Tails

Margot was rescued together with her sister Genevieve. After spending sometime in foster care, Genevieve was adopted. Margot moved on to another foster home, so she would have kitty playmate. There she met Aurora and they became instant friends. Happily, when it came time for her adoption, their new family welcomed both Margot and Aurora into their heart and home. Congratulations, Margot and Aurora (and Genevieve) on your purr-fect match!

When you adopt a "pet without a partner," you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Be kind. Save a life. Support animal rescue.
