Michael Klesic: Springing into Action

By Allison Armijo

El Segundo resident Michael Klesic has twice saved someone's life using CPR. His philosophy in times of crisis is both familiar and important: doing something, no matter how small, is always better than doing nothing at all.

On February 23, 2023, Michael Klesic was home, waiting for the plumbers to finish repairs in his apartment on Virginia Street. He took the morning off of work and was about to head out when he heard screaming from the building directly next to him. While initially thinking it was a couple fighting, he quickly realized that there was only one voice, and she was screaming. "I thought I heard her yelling, don't bleed out," Klesic explained.

Klesic, who was in the Croatian military in 1993, said his response was almost instinctual. While he found himself in a position where anyone needed to be revived during his time in the army, he saw people wounded and acted on that. "You just act. You don't really think," he said. Running outside and into the neighboring building, he announced himself as he headed toward the door, toward the voice of someone screaming for help. Upon opening the door, Klesic explained how he ran into the back bedroom, where he found a man, Justin Rivera, lying on the floor. Klesic began straddling him, putting his legs around Justin's waist to position himself to check his airway. "I jumped on top of him, gave him CPR, then checked his pulse. CPR again and checked his pulse, but still nothing. CPR again, checked his pulse, and there was a faint heartbeat," he explained, "All I started thinking was, we have to get blood to his brain, we have to get blood to his brain."

According to Klesic, fifteen seconds later, an El Segundo Fire Department EMT came running in, followed by a police officer. They spoke to both Klesic and the woman who initially screamed for help, who he later learned was Rivera's girlfriend. He had had a heart attack in his sleep when Klesic found him on the floor. Rivera, who has a rare heart condition, was in a coma for a week after the initial incident. A week later, when he was released, Klesic was able to meet Rivera's parents, who were extremely grateful for what he had done to help their son. "His mother gave me the best hug of my life," Klesic explained, "It was really sweet."

Much like his parents, Rivera was and continues to be extremely grateful for Klesic and his ability to jump into action in times of crisis. "He saved my life, and I'm extremely grateful for it," Rivera said. Looking back on the moment when Klesic met his parents for the first time, Rivera also mentioned how touching it was to see everyone who supported him in his time of need together in the same room. "It was very heartwarming to have something so crazy happen and for everyone to support me," he said, "I wouldn't be here without them."

Now, Rivera is focused on moving forward. "I'm just trying to piece it together and move on from it," he said, "But I am and will forever be so grateful for Michael and what he did for me."

Michael Klesic on the set of a previous acting project for Marvel's Agents of Shield.

Klesic, who has been a professional actor since he was eighteen years old, pointed out the irony of the situation, as Rivera is also an actor. "I'm used to saving an actor on stage, but not in the real world," he commented.

That being said, Klesic made it clear that he wasn't the only one helping Rivera at the moment. "It wasn't just me who saved his life," he explained, "It was the fact that the girl that was with him was yelling, and I wouldn't have been able to help if I hadn't heard her screaming." He also mentioned that, according to Rivera, the paramedics revived Justin once more in the ambulance. Klesic reflected, "If we didn't live so close to the fire department, you know, they got there so quickly. I don't know how successful I would have been if he coded again." 'Coded' is a term that refers to the state of El Segundo residents Erin Petersen and Amy Siegel traveled with their families to Moab, Utah on Mother's Day weekend to participate in the "Thelma and Louise," an all-women's half marathon in the middle of the desert. Both mamas finished the 13.1 miles of rugged terrain in elevations up to 6000 feet with huge smiles on their faces and such a sense of accomplishment.

ESGSL Crowns Champions and ESHS Golf Team a Success

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo Girls Softball League celebrated its 57th year by crowning league champions in the 10U and 12U divisions. What began in late February ended on a high note with two well-played games. In the 10U game, the Devils overcame a deficit to win a thriller over the Orange Crush, and the Iron Maidens put together two big innings to defeat the Bombers in the 12U finale. After a long hiatus, the El Segundo high school's boy's golf team had a great inaugural season.

and Brynn Hill scored on a passed ball to make it 6-4. In the third inning, Zoe Aguilar reached on an error and scored on an RBI single by Preslee Cline, and Cline scored on a passed ball to tie the game at 8-8.

In the fifth and final inning, with the Orange Crush trailing 10-8, they scored seven runs. Zoe Aguilar was hit by a pitch, Preslee Cline singled, and Caroline Cook drew a walk. Emily Bosco was hit by a pitch for an RBI, and Brynn Hill's three-run single gave her team a 14-10 lead, and Viviah Martinez's RBI single stretched the lead to 15-10.

Devils Win a Thriller in 10U Final

It was a high-scoring game that kept the large crowd glued to their seats. With the score 4-4 in the second inning, the Orange Crush's Heidi Johnson had an RBI single,

The Devils put together a winning rally in their half of the fifth inning. Clara Brown and Miriam Yussman walked, and Desi Chappell reached on an error to load the bases. Logan Arnold delivered a two-run single to make

Murder at Haven's Rock by Kelley Armstrong

By Kim Harris, El Segundo Middle School Library Assistant

Usually I review a book from the MS Library, because I like to promote YA books. This time, I want to talk about one of my favorite authors, Kelley Armstrong and one of my favorite detective series, The Casey Duncan/Rockton books. Murder at Haven's Rock is the first in the Haven's Rock series featuring Casey Duncan. It is a spin off of the Rockton series which ended with book

7, The Deepest of Secrets. Casey and her husband Eric Dalton live deep in the Yukon Territory in Canada. They used to live in Rockton, which was a camouflaged city about five miles from Haven's Rock. The city disbanded due to corruption and politics so Casey, Eric, Casey's sister April and some of their friends decide to build their own town, Haven's Rock. It would be similar to Rockton, but they would decide who gets to live there, not an unknown board of directors. Haven's Rock will be a town for people to disappear and a sanctuary for those that need a refuge to escape for a while and seek safety.

Casey and Eric met in Rockton. He was the sheriff, and she came to escape with her

Master Gardener is a Beautiful, Complicated Story of Metamorphosis

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

Many ecosystems benefit from controlled fires. The act of burning to rebuild is a natural phenomenon that has occurred Haverhill's attempt to keep her off the streets and away from the crowd she's currently caught up in, so he cuts her some slack. As the days become easier for both Narvel and Maya, their relationship grows into an unexpected entanglement of feelings, desires, and secrets.

Suppressed violence is at the root of Paul

Schrader's drama, making for a rich juxtaposition between the beauty of the present and the darkness of the past. Narvel's current rehabilitated image may be one of gentleness and care but his previous dealing as a white supremacist hitman is never far from the surface. The film's tension comes from the growing love story between Narvel and Maya, a black woman. He can only conceal his swastika-bearing tattoos for so long, and his growing existential crisis threatens to blow up his newly-curated life, his relationship with Maya, and his future.

For all of the film's darker themes, Master Gardener emits a vibrant frequency through the cinematography and the score. We dip

IS A HOME REMODEL RIGHT FOR YOU?

(BPT) - There comes a time when every homeowner looks around at their house and ponders a few upgrades. Sometimes, those ideas turn into full-on renovations as you reimagine your space to better meet your lifestyle. But before you start calling contractors, ask yourself: Does remodeling make financial sense?

How necessary are the improvements you want? Some home projects may end up costing you more than the value they provide. That doesn't mean certain projects aren't worthwhile.

"Home renovations come in all shapes and sizes. For some, it may be about the investment and increasing the home value, for a good few it might be about what looks the best, while others might not have a choice," said Adam Fingerman, assistant vice president of equity lending at Navy Federal Credit Union. "Whatever the reason, it's always a good idea to understand how a large renovation might impact your finances and the overall value of your home."

Consider creating a chart with all of your cost estimates, and include columns for high-, medium- and low-cost options. Don't forget supplies for do-it-yourself projects and always allocate a certain percentage for unexpected expenses.

Also be sure to get estimates from different contractors and compare them. Carefully check references and business licenses.

Ideally, you've already established a home improvement savings plan. But if you're planning to borrow, explore your financing options through your trusted bank or credit union.

"Think about the size of your project, whether or not you'll have ongoing expenses, and your current finances," said Fingerman.

For example, Navy Federal offers members various options for funding home improvement projects, such as home equity loans, home equity line of credit or personal expense loans. Members also have access to a wealth of information to help them make informed decisions about the right financing products for their home improvement goals. Home renovations of any size - large or small - can be overwhelming. Consider these tips to help make it easier and more affordable in the long run. Navy Federal Credit Union is federally insured by NCUA. Equal housing lender.

And what's more, this isn't the first time Klesic has saved someone's life using CPR. About eight years ago, he was sitting at the Wolfgang Puck restaurant in terminal seven of LAX when he looked over to find an older gentleman sitting on a stool table, turning blue. "He wasn't eating, and he collapsed on the floor," Klesic explained, "I gave him CPR, and he ended up getting up and walking out [of the restaurant] before any EMTs got there." Klesic, who had been sitting on the opposite side of the restaurant, said he was surprised that nobody helped the man before him. "Did that really just happen?" he remembered asking himself.

It is moments like this, he explained that reveal the importance of being able to think independently and trust oneself, especially in stressful situations. Klesic explained how this is a lesson he teaches his two boys, Liam and Luca, who are eight and twelve, respectively. "I've tried to tell [my sons] when the crowd goes one way, sometimes it's best to go the other, but you have to make that decision really quick," he said.

This is a lesson Klesic first learned back when he took his first CPR class when he attended Beverly Hills High School. He explained, "Bad CPR is better than no CPR. Somebody attempting something is better than nothing." This approach to moments of crisis prioritizes jumping into action, something Klesic has always been familiar with. For him, time slows down in crisis situations, and he is able to think clearly about what he will do next. He said this is why he wants his boys to take CPR classes. "They will definitely have training; it's nice to have in the back of your head," he explained.

Since the incident, Klesic has gone back to work as an actor, mindful of others around him and how he can help, especially in moments of crisis. His last role was on NCIS: Los Angeles, and since then, he has pivoted to theater, working for The Groundlings, amongst other companies. But whether it be acting in a role or in a moment of crisis, Klesic tries to help however he can, mindful that while he's not the only one offering support, he will still do everything he can to help, making him a truly Good Samaritan. •

How Confident Are You That You'll Be Able to Retire?

(BPT) - More Americans are retiring earlier than previous generations. According to a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank, their odds of retiring before age 62 rose to roughly 50% in July 2021, partly due to the pandemic. For many, moving up their retirement seemed like the right choice given the state of the labor market and economy, but many were not and are still not financially prepared to retire.

According to a 2022 retirement confidence survey from the Employee Benefit Research Institute, one in three workers are "not too" or "not at all" confident they will have enough money to live comfortably throughout their retirement. And for those surveyed who say they are confident, retiring "comfortably" only covers the basics like housing, transportation, health care, food and utilities.

Retirement can mean a lot of things, but most people envision it as a time after their working life to enjoy things they may not have had the time to do before. While this looks different from person to person, many look forward to traveling, visiting family and enjoying hobbies.

Are you confident you will be able to retire with your basic expenses covered and enjoy the post-work life you've imagined? Check these three things.

1. Define Your Goals

After decades spent working, the prospect of retirement can feel sudden, and some people may have difficulty envisioning what it will look like. When you picture your retirement, what do you see yourself doing? Traveling abroad and checking cities off your bucket list? Paying for your children's or grandchildren's weddings? Setting up a legacy fund for your loved ones?

If you don't yet know what you want out of retirement, start thinking now. Without clear goals, you won't know how much money it will take to reach them. Beyond your core living expenses, consider how you would like to spend your time during your "go-go" (the first 10 years of retirement), "slow-go" years (middle retirement), and beyond.

2. See Where You Stand

Now that you have defined your goals, it's time to see how your savings, investments, retirement accounts and other assets can support your desired retirement lifestyle. An easy way to check your retirement readiness is to use an online platform like Prudential Stages for Retirement.

This digital tool will take the information you share about your current financial life and retirement goals to determine your personal "confidence score," which indicates your retirement readiness. In a few steps, you will have a clearer picture of your retirement based on how you are saving and investing today.

3. Speak With an Advisor

Once you have a clearer view of the big picture, you can meet with a financial advisor to help map out a step-by-step financial plan. If you do not have a financial advisor, you're not alone.

Millions of Americans do not have a financial advisor. Some do not because they don't know how to find someone they trust. Still others may feel an advisor is not for them, mistakenly thinking they need a certain level of wealth to engage a professional's help. However, establishing a relationship with a financial advisor can help you confidently plan for a better retirement and even give you an edge.

According to the Warrington College of Business, industry data suggests that people who receive professional financial advice can add 1.5%-4% to their portfolio returns over time. Enlisting the help of a financial advisor can make planning for retirement easier and grow your wealth so you can achieve your retirement goals instead of having "just enough," or even not enough.

Through Prudential Stages for Retirement, you can set up a meeting with a noncommission-based financial advisor who will recommend strategies and products that can help you reach your retirement goals. They will look at your retirement confidence score and establish a personalized plan to help you refine your goals and determine if you're on track to afford your retirement. You do not have to be an existing Prudential customer; anyone can get started planning a more secure retirement. To learn more and get started, visit Prudential's Retirement Calculator. • it 15-12. Nora Basterretche's two-run single made it 15-14. Later in the inning Harper Green delivered the winning two-run RBI hit to win it 16-15.

Iron Maidens Put Together a Winning Formula

The 12U championship game between the Iron Maidens and Bombers started slowly in terms of offense but turned out to be a slugfest. In the end, the Iron Maidens put together three consecutive rally run-producing innings to win 11-3.

The Bombers had runners on base in the first three innings but couldn't find the timely hit. The Iron Maidens broke the scoreless Indelicato-French had a two-run single, and Lucy Ladd's two-run single gave the Iron Maidens an 11-3 lead and eventually the championship.

Boys Golf Team Has a Successful Season

The 2023 season wrapped for the ESHS boys golf team, a first-year program. After a good start, winning matches in both the non-league and beginning league season, the team continued to grow as the season went on. The team showed continual improvement with late-season matches against Mira Costa and Santa Monica and make up matches against both Redondo and South Torrance.

Due to inclement weather to start the league season, the team had make-up matches at home vs. South Torrance and Redondo to end the regular season. The South Torrance match came down to the last groups, with the Eagles down 183-193. Emmitt Lozano and Ronald Lemus led the way, with each shooting a respectable 37. Against an undefeated Redondo team, to end the season, the Eagles shot a season-best 178, narrowly losing by six strokes. This score showed the overall improvement of the group and a preview of things to come. The team was led by Jack Harris, who shot a two over 34, and Collen Ungaro with a three over 35.

Coach March says he is very excited for what is to come with this group and said, "I believe that next season they can push each other for more individual spots in CIF as well as qualifying as a team."

Tim Chrisman to be Remembered Saturday

Former Eagle pitcher Tim Chrisman, who went on to pitch at El Camino College and in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization and was a pitching coach for the Eagles, will be remembered on Saturday in a celebration of his life. A 'Toast to Torch' will take place at the Richmond Street Bar and Grill Sunday, June 4, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Come out and share your stories or game and scored two third-inning runs Ciell Martinez reached base on an error and later scored on a ground ball by Eve Iverez. Avery Tipton drew an eight-pitch walk and would later score on Maddy Indelicato-French's RBI single to make it 2-0.

In the fourth inning, the Bombers tied the game when Delaney McAndrews led the inning off with a double and scored on Emma Navarro's sacrifice fly. Chloe Fitzgerald singled, stole second base, and later scored on a wild pitch to tie the game 2-2. The Iron Maidens answered with four runs of their own. Darla Vudmaska singled, Kaitlyn Samaan walked, and both scored on a two-run single by Izzy Martinez. Ciell Henderson's sharply hit ground ball went for a fielder's choice but scored a run, and Eve Iverez's RBI single gave the Iron Maidens a 6-2 lead.

In the fifth inning, Karen Ayala's RBI single gave the Bombers their final run of the game. The Iron Maidens benefitted from consecutive walks to Avery Tipton and Zenee Guerra and a single by Against Mira Costa, the Eagles battled what would be the second-place team in the league and a CIF Team qualifier. On the road at Chester Washington GC, the Eagles shot a team score of 207. This was a 21-stroke improvement from their early season match against St. Monica when Jack Harris led the Eagles and shot a 5 over 37. Against Mira Costa, the Eagles were defeated 194-173 and were led by Harris and Joey Schobel, who shot 35 and 36, respectively.

The following week the Eagles played a hot Santa Monica team coming off some very close matches. The Eagles played at Balboa GC and lost 221-208. Santa Monica played one of their best matches of the season to get the win. The Eagles were led by Jonah Rouse and Jack Harris, who shot 42 and 43, respectively. At home, the Eagles went to battle without Harris and Collen Ungaro due to illnesses. Santa Monica came away with the victory 193-183, but the short-handed Eagles battled until the end. The team was led by Joey Schobel and Ryan Sowder, who shot 35 and 36, respectively.

The Iron Maiden's Isla Ortega steals second base as Bomber shortstop Avery Stein attempts to tag her out.

With the non-league and league match season finished, the group moved on to CIF Individual League Qualifying. Jack Harris, Joey Schobel, and Collen Ungaro all earned a spot to compete from their season league scoring averages. The first round was held at Lakewood CC, with all three players shooting below their season averages on the 18-hole course. Harris led the way with a seven over 79 to advance to the league finals. He was able to post a score of 77 during the second round at Skylinks GC. He battled until the end, losing in a six-man playoff for the final spot to advance to the next round of CIF. Head coach David March said, "They all represented the program well and got the experience needed to advance farther next season."

Overall, the season was a success for the first-year program. With a team consisting primarily of freshmen and sophomores, the future looks good for the Eagles. The team will get a month off and then begin their summer program consisting of short game work, range time, and golf at local courses.

Four Eagles to Play in South Bay All-Star Classic

After going dark for three years, the shutdown triggered by COVID-19, the South Bay High School Senior All-Star Baseball and Softball Classics are returning. The 28th All-Star Softball Classic will be Friday, June 2, at Torrance High at 6:30 p.m. Second baseman Bella Gridley and outfielder Sammie Kleiger were selected along with Wiseburn-Da Vinci shortstop Selene Cervantes. The 51st All-Star Baseball Classic will be Monday, June 5, at Redondo High and is also scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m. Infielder Lucas Bonham and pitcher Brady Engelhardt were selected to play in one of the oldest high school all-star baseball games in Southern California.

Gridley is a three-year varsity player who led the Eagles this season in doubles and base-on balls while fielding at a .993 clip. In 78 plate appearances, she struck out a team low three times. Kleiger, a three-year starter, was an All-League selection while hitting .397 and was the team's captain. Da Vinci's Selene Cervantes was third on the team in batting average and second in RBIs while anchoring the infield.

Bonham was a two-year starter for the Eagles, converting from being one of South Bay's top catchers as a junior to being an elite shortstop as a senior. He hit .424 and was selected to the All-Pioneer League team. Engelhardt, who hopes to continue his baseball playing at the University of Alabama as a walk-on, was a two-year starting pitcher for the Eagles. He led the team's pitching staff in strikeouts (80 in 60 innings) and wins with six, and was selected to the All-Pioneer League's first team.

Each nine-inning game will start at 6:30 p.m. Admission: $10 for general admission (5+), $5 for students with school ID. Are you interested in watching batting practice? It starts at 4:45 p.m. before each game. Proceeds from the games assist the South Bay Athletic Club, the sponsors of the South Bay High School Senior All-Star Baseball and Softball Classics. • into surrealism for a moment in the film's third act, and the visuals draw parallels to the whimsicalness of Disney's Fantasia. Set to hypnotic synth-forward melodies from Devonté Hynes, who also performs as Blood Orange, the soundtrack is also the perfect mood-y supplement to an already tense film. Ultimately, Master Gardener is a story about a man's search for redemption.

Thematically, Schrader doesn't stray far from his last two films, The Card Counter and First Reformed (the latter of which made my top 10 list in 2017), so fans or critics can expect as much from his "man in the room" storyline here. It's not a lighthearted affair, but the heftiness is not without incredibly powerful performances and breathtaking views of the natural world. • friend and was the detective for Rockton. The new town, Haven's Rock, will still be hidden from the outside world, but it is still living off the grid. They have solar for heating and electricity, but also use wood stoves and the tundra to make ice boxes for food. There is no cell phone service, little electricity and use a generator sparingly. When Casey and company decided to build Haven's Rock, they hired architects and builders and only had one warning for all of the workers: don't go into the forest. Before Haven's Rock is finished, two of the workers disappear and Casey and Eric go up to investigate.

The two workers broke the rule and disappeared in the forest. Casey and Eric immediately start searching for them when they arrive and find a dead body. To their surprise, the body isn't one of the crew's, but is someone who no one knew. Now there are two mysteries to solve: find the missing crew members and identify the dead woman. Casey uses her Newfoundland dog, Storm, to help track the missing architect and builder. They only have a couple of days to find the missing crew members because the timeline has moved up for the new town to be up and running and everyone has to help build the town.

When Casey and Eric search for the missing members, they discover that a prospector and gold aren't very far from their new property. This causes concern because the town wants Haven's Rock to be hidden from outsiders. Do Casey and Eric rescue the workers? What else do they encounter in the forest besides bears and other wildlife? Read the book to find out! I really enjoyed reading this book because I like all of the characters, and the idea of a hidden town in the middle of the Yukon fascinates me. Readers are kept in suspense for the entire book trying to figure out where the missing crew members are, who is the gold prospector, and what happened to the dead lady.

Chicken Parmesan

Provided by Campbells Soup Corp.

Once you know how to make this easy Sheet Pan Chicken Parmesan bake, you'll wonder why you ever bothered with other recipes. The entire meal of Parmesan-crusted chicken breasts, topped with Prego® Traditional Italian sauce and mozzarella, and tender, roasted cauliflower is ready in just 30 minutes. The recipe uses pantry staples and only one pan, so cleanup is easy, too. You can even learn how to make this oven-baked Chicken Parmesan with different vegetables following the same simple recipe, so you and your family can enjoy it over and over, any night of the week.

Ingredients

- 1/4 cup Italian seasoned panko bread crumbs or regular Italian seasoned dry bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese
- 2 1/2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 pound thin-sliced boneless, skinless chicken breast
- 1 cup Prego® Traditional Italian Sauce or Spicy Marinara Sauce
- 4 ounces part skim mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced
- 4 cups fresh or frozen cauliflower florets

Tip

- You can substitute fresh or frozen broccoli florets or fresh or frozen green beans for the cauliflower, if you like.

Send us a photo and recipe of your favorite dish.

We'd love to share it with the community. Send to: web@heraldpublications.com

Directions

- Step 1: Heat the oven to 425°F. While the oven is heating, stir the panko, Parmesan cheese and 1/2 tablespoon oil in a small bowl.
- Step 2: Spray a rimmed baking sheet with vegetable cooking spray. Place the chicken on one side of the baking sheet and brush with 1 tablespoon oil. Season with salt and pepper.
- Step 3: Spoon the sauce over the chicken (we like to use a 1/4 cup measuring cup instead of a spoon). Top with the mozzarella cheese and panko mixture.
- Step 4: Arrange the cauliflower on the other side of the baking sheet, drizzle with the remaining 1 tablespoon oil and season with salt and pepper.
- Step 5: Bake for 20 minutes or until the chicken is done. Sprinkle with chopped fresh basil just before serving, if desired.
