The Plunge Moves Forward and City Council Adds 10 Sworn Officers to Budget

By Liz Spear

Instructors holding private classes in two city parks may soon be required to pay $15 per hour to the City of El Segundo to secure a permit, per a new Private Instructor Permit Fee process the city council moved forward during its Tuesday night regularly scheduled meeting. The two parks the six-month pilot program will be instituted at are Library Park and Recreation Park. In addition, Tuesday night, the council approved growing its police department from the currently approved 62 sworn personnel headcount to 72. A move officials say will take months to achieve given its current headcount of 57 officers, with five of that number not able to presently work solo in the field while they are fulfilling the requirements of either attending a five- to six-month police academy and subsequent field training for entry-level officers or, for officers making lateral moves, lateral field training with another officer.

City Council also heard about the progress being made on the Urho Saari Swim Stadium ("The Plunge") renovation project, about how the project will be financed, and when it will go out to bid. With a cost estimate of slightly over $11 million, the project falls approximately $4 million short. However, as noted by Public Works Director Elias Sassoon, by law, the city must have the funding before awarding the project to a vendor. As was explained at the meeting, city staff is working on a private sector/corporate fundraising campaign that is expected to be presented to the city council in August. Sassoon also noted the city's plan to accelerate funding by moving $2.5 million from its July 2024 budget to the project sooner. The city also expects

$1 million of funding from the El Segundo Unified School District once the project is completed. Council member Carol Pirsztuk implored council and city staff, "Please don't let the funding stop the process," and was assured that funding details would not stop the project from moving forward. She asked city staff to prepare a one-sheet document to easily and quickly see where the funds are coming from and the associated timeline.

Mayor Pro Tem Chris Pimentel, attending the meeting remotely, noted that once the design is complete, staff will bring the design back to the council for plan approval and advertisement to potential vendors wishing to bid on the project. Sassoon said that would happen "probably October-ish" and would "hopefully be awarded" in the first quarter of 2024.

The project update Tuesday night provided more details and covered the extra steps being taken to ensure the project is as sound as possible. As council member and former planning commissioner Ryan Baldino explained, taking a pool stadium building built in the 1940s is akin to renovating a house built in the 1940s, noting that there would be unforeseen issues that would arise during the design and that such issues are "much easier to fix in the design stage."

The new pool building and pool will use a Pulsar chlorination system, and a condensing boiler system will replace the "typical atmospheric heaters" used in the past. Those heaters were 82 percent thermal with an 18 percent energy loss that "goes up the stack." While, the condensing boiler has 97 percent efficiency, a greater life expectancy, and is more reliable, according to the design firm the city contracted with for the project. Pool leak testing has been done and to resolve all of the leaks, all of the wall tiles in both pools will be replaced. However, most all of the pool floor tile will be kept, except where trenches need to be dug to install new main drains compliant with regulations. Close matching tile is expected to be used in those areas, and the tile will align with seams, making it difficult to discern that it is any different. A geotechnical ultrasound was conducted on the soil underneath the building and returned a report that the soil is reliable and sustainable. The roof will receive a seismic retrofit upgrade with the entire roof coming off (half would need to be removed at a minimum) so that a "single-ply PVC" material with a lifetime guarantee and no maintenance could be installed. Borings were made inside the yard between the adjacent school and pool, and there was no evidence of any settlement. Interior leaking has been noted at the southeast corner, with a projected $150,000 cost requiring excavation to remedy the issue. It was also noted the city might need to do a new main drain to the street drain. A fire suppression system will be installed using fire risers. And the men's and women's locker rooms have been modified to include family changing rooms whereby a father could take his daughters into a private entry and area in the men's locker room to help them change and vice versa. Offices will be on the ground level, with one there for the manager/supervisor of the pool and two more upstairs.

Skunk Invasion in Gundo Public Health Problem

Since we moved back to El Segundo, we have had a serious SKUNK invasion. We have relocated 21 skunks on West Walnut over the past few months & there are many more aggressive skunks on our camera. My neighbor had one in a cage & called the Police Department. They came & got the cage but never returned it so now she cannot catch them. I called the police about 6 months later to report this. I received a call back stating that they'd call back but never did. I have distributed Skunk Prevention flyers in our neighborhood as they carry Rabies & there are only 3 of us catching them. We have small children & have seen the skunks appear as early as 6:30 PM when the kids are in the yard. This is Public Health Crisis when a City allows an invasion and does nothing about it.

SKUNK Prevention: Sprinkle gardens

w/Cayenne or Epsom Salt. Keep food sources out of reach, cat food, bird food. Place rags soaked in ammonia, pine-sol, vinegar, moth balls, citrus, peppermint oil, bleach under all entry areas as they burrow deep. Cut tall grass, trim bushes. Place chicken wire under fences, motion lights scare them off, reduce access to water, fallen fruit from trees. Large traps are $30-50 at Harbor Freight & peanut butter is great bait. Ashe Animal Control is the most inexpensive 562-414-9523. My neighbor paid over $700 last year & has caught two. Ashe is $50 a skunk! The neighbor above is awaiting her cage return. Another neighbor caught 4. We have caught 15 and are now taking a break to see if our prevention can keep them at bay while the City sleeps.

Following Baseball Around Town

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

It's often been said that El Segundo is a baseball town. What other community our size can boast of having numerous CIF Southern Section titles that included one mythical National Championship team (1971)? Or how about the El Segundo Babe Ruth League's All-Star resume, which is dotted with historical significance? The league has won five World Series titles and has been to the World Series seven times. El Segundo has Padres didn't get their first hit until the sixth inning when Caleb Kim laced a line drive up the middle. The Angels scored two runs in the second inning when Brendon Pate was hit by a pitch and scored on an RBI single by Carson Rollins. Rollins scored on an RBI double by Grant Ostler. Leading 3-0 in the sixth inning, the Angels opened the game up by scoring four runs. The inning was highlighted by a two-run double by Anders Tipton and an RBI double by Pate.

Dedan McRoberts was solid for four innings giving up one run, three hits, and striking out four in his team's 13-1 win over Palos Verdes Little League.

also seen over fifty players sign a professional baseball contract, including one that entered the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999. With a top-notch baseball academy in our backyard that continues to churn out prospects, it's no wonder we hold our community to a higher standard of baseball accomplishments.

This time of year is a busy one following baseball. The Babe Ruth League completed its season with a championship playoff tournament, the Little League All-Stars started their District tournament, and the American Legion's season is in full swing.

Angels Win Babe Ruth League Title

The Oaks attempted to become a three-peat winner after winning titles in 2021 and 2022 but fell in the semi-finals opening the door for the Angels to win it all. In the opening round, the Oaks eliminated the Beavers, and the Padres defeated the Stars.

Angels 7 Padres 0

The Angels sent Sam Forthuber to the mound, and all he did was throw a complete game shutout. He was such in control the

Seals 5 Oaks 2

The Oaks and Seals were involved in a close game that allowed each team to have numerous scoring opportunities. The Oaks took advantage of a first-inning error when Lincoln Quaintance reached base and scored on an RBI single by Aaron Newman. The Oaks held a 1-0 lead until the third inning when the Seals tied the game when Tyler Brooke walked and scored on a RBI single by Jayden Rico.

In the fourth inning, the Oaks took a short-lived lead when Jordan Slavens singled and scored on a ground ball. But that lead would disappear in the fifth inning when the Seals scored three runs. Brooke walked, and Cole Knupfer singled. With two outs, Ben Lee sent a sinking line drive to right field. Oaks right fielder Nathan Guerrero attempted to make a dazzling shoestring catch, but the ball landed before his glove, and the ball skipped by him and rolled to the right field bank. Both Brooke and Knupfer easily scored, and with Lee's speed, he came all the way around also to score, giving the Seals a 4-2

Asteroid City is Wes Anderson's Most Spiritual Film to Date

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

Wes Anderson's latest film, Asteroid City, may be missing the auteur's most repeatedly cast actor—Bill Murray—but his absence doesn't leave too big a dent in this otherwise riotous affair. Jason Schwartzman—and to some degree, Bryan Cranston—anchor this were about to collectively witness would change their lives forever.

Of course, this being a Wes Anderson film, there is more to the story than this surface-level synopsis. The unexpected narrative choices and plot delivery throughout the film allow the audience to go inward and explore the themes that resonate with them personally. Watching the movie and mining for themes myself—both subtle and loud & clear—it is obvious to me how Anderson intentionally creates scenes with characters that have juxtaposing outlooks on love and loneliness, grief and hope, and life and death.

It should come as no surprise to hear that the acting is superb. As mentioned earlier, Bill Murray is missing from the typical all-star lineup, but like a classic SNL skit, nearly all returning cast members are represented (even if it's just for a cameo). That includes Edward Norton, Jeffrey Wright, Tilda Swinton, Adrien Brody, and Tony Revolori. While not meaty enough for any one person to be a frontrunner in the awards conversation, as an ensemble, the synergy fits like a glove.

The deadpan dialogue between the characters is delightfully funny but the real humor comes from what isn't said. A subtle look, a lack of acknowledgment, a simple sign indicating that road construction has stopped indefinitely. In addition to expectedly brilliant soundtrack curation by music supervisor Randall Poster, Alexandre Desplat's score, and costumes by Milena Canonero, special attention should be paid to the puppeteers, specifically Andy Gent (please stay through the credits to see why he deserved a shoutout).

Asteroid City, courtesy Focus Features.

Asteroid City, a meta-tale of a science field trip gone wrong and the controlled chaos that occurs after a small town's unexpected meet-and-greet takes place with an extraterrestrial.

Wes's quintessential quirks and styling shine in this dry desert landscape. Combined with the film's use of a once-again perfectly-curated soundtrack, Asteroid City is one of Anderson's more commercially accessible feature films.

Asteroid City is a nostalgic take on America's nuclear-era obsession with aliens. Set in 1955, the town of Asteroid City (population: 87) is set to hold a convention for families to congregate and celebrate their children being named Junior Stargazers. Augie Steenbeck (Schwartzman) arrives with his son Woodrow (Jake Ryan) and three daughters and quickly meets the other families attending the literal star-studded affair.

Midge Campbell (Scarlett Johansson), her daughter Dinah (Grace Edwards), and three other Space Cadet award winners and their families are also amongst the group. Their cumulative IQ is highly concentrated in this remote city, but despite being some of the smartest people in the American Southwest, no one could have guessed that what they

The Bill of Obligations: The Ten Habits of Good Citizens by Richard Haass

By Roz Templin, ESPL Library Assistant

As we look forward to July 4th, our celebration of our country's Independence, let me recommend The Bill of Obligations: The Ten Habits of Good Citizens by diplomat and policymaker Richard Haass. I'm sure you are familiar with news articles discussing democracy and its fragility in today's world – this book addresses that issue and provides ideas to strengthen and re-envision citizenship.

According to Britannica.com, citizenship is the "relationship between an individual and a state to which the individual owes allegiance and in turn is entitled to its protection. Citizenship implies the status of freedom with accompanying responsibilities. Citizens have certain rights, duties, and responsibilities that are denied or only partially extended to aliens and other noncitizens residing in a country. In general, full political rights, including the right to vote and to hold public office, are predicated upon citizenship. The usual responsibilities of citizenship are allegiance, taxation, and military service."

Author Haass states that he is non-partisan, explaining that he has worked for Democrats and Republicans, both liberal and conservative. He states, "Party was never as important to me as individual candidates and issues." Mr. Haass is the president of the Council on Foreign Relations, which is an "institution dedicated to being a nonpartisan resource for Americans across the political spectrum ..."

Why does the author think our democracy is in peril? His perspective includes an important part of the relationship we as citizens have with our country. Not only should we be concerned with individual rights but also obligations that we have to the United States. Think of John F. Kennedy's important words on the occasion of his presidential inauguration, "And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country can do for you - ask what you can do for your country." Become an active and involved citizen!

Some points of the suggested "Bill of Obligations" include: Be informed, get involved, stay open to compromise, and remain civil.

As a benefit of being informed, citizens can more wisely cast their votes and importantly, hold officials accountable. An uninformed citizenry is much more vulnerable to being misled or manipulated. Voting is also the most basic part of being an active citizen. The author gives examples of close outcomes of elections which illustrate how much voting matters. People can join or create organizations that can have direct influence in politics. Parents can influence their children to learn about and become involved in the political process.

Compromise should not be a sign of weakness. Again, John F. Kennedy: "Compromise need not mean cowardice. Indeed it is frequently the compromisers and conciliators who are faced with the severest tests of political courage as they oppose the extremist views of their constituents."

Civility can build bridges over differences. It allows for dialogue and relationships to grow and continue. Civility greatly decreases the chances that disagreements may end up in violent acts.

TIPS YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE BUYING A HOME

(BPT) - Have you ever wished homeownership came with a user's manual? There's only so much you can prepare for, whether you're buying your starter home, forever home - or something in between. It's all too common to face unexpected expenses, including ongoing maintenance.

Home maintenance will cost you. No matter what type of home you buy - from fixer-uppers to move-in ready - you should expect some repairs and replacements, plus routine maintenance. While this will vary depending on your home's age, size and condition, rest assured that most homes require regular care to help prevent long-term (and potentially expensive) damage. On average, homeowners' top expenses during their first year were appliance replacements (56%), exterior repairs such as windows (53%) and major repairs like roofing (52%). Maintenance, such as yard or lawn care (39%) was also high on the list. Be prepared to handle unanticipated repairs and routine maintenance before you buy.

The average homeowner will spend two and a half years upgrading their homes before they were pleased with it. Despite the time and money they invested in the property - or perhaps because of it - nearly 71% of homeowners said they now feel like they've found their forever home. Your house is more than just a place to call home, it's also an investment. And if it's managed properly, your home can also provide a great return on investment. However, there will always be surprises. Even the most prepared homebuyer will encounter unexpected expenses after signing on the dotted line. The average homeowner will encounter about four major or unexpected costs within their first year of homeownership.

According to most experts, 60%

would call a professional for a home improvement project, and nearly one-third of homeowners would hire a pro for home maintenance.

"Buying a new home is a tremendous milestone that brings much to celebrate, but the new responsibilities of homeownership can also be stressful," said Brian Feldman, senior director of technical operations at TruGreen. "As a new homeowner, there's no need to waste time figuring out the best ways to maintain your home. To help tackle what can seem like an ongoing to-do list, you should consider partnering with the professionals." *

The other obligations Haass suggests are discussed and integrated with those I have mentioned. There is also a conclusion, a section called "Where to go for more" (or, 'how to be informed'), and notes that detail points previously encountered.

The author sums it up by saying "We get the government and the country we deserve.

Getting the one we need, however, is up to us."

Film Review

The most spiritual in his film canon to date, Wes Anderson pokes the philosophical bear by creating Asteroid City to play as a cosmic meditation on life outside of our atmosphere. How people react to the unfamiliar—like being quarantined in a new city, adapting to the death of a loved one, or even the invention of new technology—is explored here. One of the lines that have stuck with me, and that is a good barometer read of the film's intention, states, "You can't wake up if you don't fall asleep." Interpret it as you will, but it's no doubt Asteroid City will take you on an explorative journey of how we embrace "the other."

advantage. The Seals would add a run in the sixth inning and hold off the Oaks to advance to the championship game.

Angels 11 Seals 2

The Angels won their second league title under manager Eric Batty, the first being in 2018 when they defeated the Stars 14-4. The Angels sent hard-throwing right-hander Brandon Pate to the mound, and all he did was go six innings, giving up two runs, four hits, and striking out five before giving way to Anders Tipton with one out in the seventh inning.

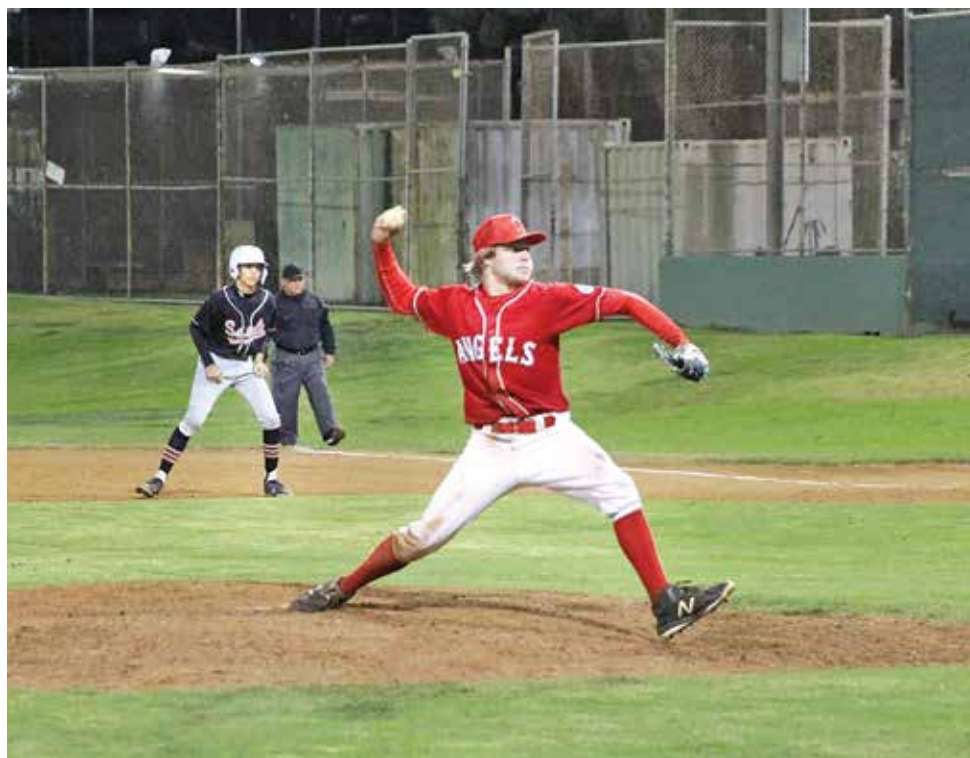

The Seals got a gutsy performance out of starter Townes Potter. The left-hander had injured his throwing hand in a collision at first base in the game against the Oaks. He managed to work through the pain and throw four-plus innings before being lifted.

The Angels scored a second-inning unearned run when Ryan Wiacek reached on an error and scored on a ground ball by Roman Rienis. The first of two big innings, the Angels came in the fifth inning when they scored six runs, highlighted by an RBI single by Anders Tipton, a two-run double by Wiacek, and a two-run double by Carson Rollins. In the seventh inning, the Angels tagged on another four runs and then held the Seals to a brief rally allowing one run on an RBI single by Townes Potter. The win was the eleventh consecutive victory for the Angels, who peaked at the right time.

El Segundo Little League 12-year-old All-Stars Look Formidable

For the past two seasons, as 10-year-olds and 11-year-olds all-stars, this bunch has stuck together and has won the league's first state title and placed third the following year. This season the rules for all-star tournament play have changed. Instead of mandatory play for each player on the team, now the hitting lineup is the entire roster. So, if there are 15 players on the roster, all 15 players bat in order. What this has done is slice rosters to as few as 11 or 12 players, giving the top hitters on the team fewer at-bats while giving each player an opportunity to play.

Brandon Pate helped lead the Angels to the league title.

Of El Segundo's roster of 12 players, ten of them were on the 2021 Southern California State championship team.

El Segundo showed why they are the favorites to win another District 36 banner when they took care of Palos Verdes Little League 13-1 in the opening round. In the first inning, ESLL scored two runs when Brody Brooks beat out an infield single, and Louis Lappe clobbered a two-run home run. They increased their lead in the second inning when the bottom of the lineup put up a pair of runs. With two outs, Ollie Parks doubled, Colby Lee had an RBI single, and Quinn Boehle drove Lee in with a double.

ESLL opened the game up with a four-

Brody Brooks.

While the offense was clicking with their 14-hit attack, the pitching was solid. Declan McRoberts tossed four innings, giving up one run on three hits while striking out four. Louis Lappe looked impressive in his two innings with a fastball that touched 70 mph.

El Segundo faced Lunada Bay this past Monday; a win would send them into the winner's bracket final on Saturday at 1 p.m. at Rolling Hills Little League 3011 PV Drive North.

American Legion Team Looking Good

The American Legion baseball Blues team consists of returning high school varsity players and players hoping to make next year's varsity team. They are playing against some of the top programs from the Long Beach area and other local teams, such as Narbonne.

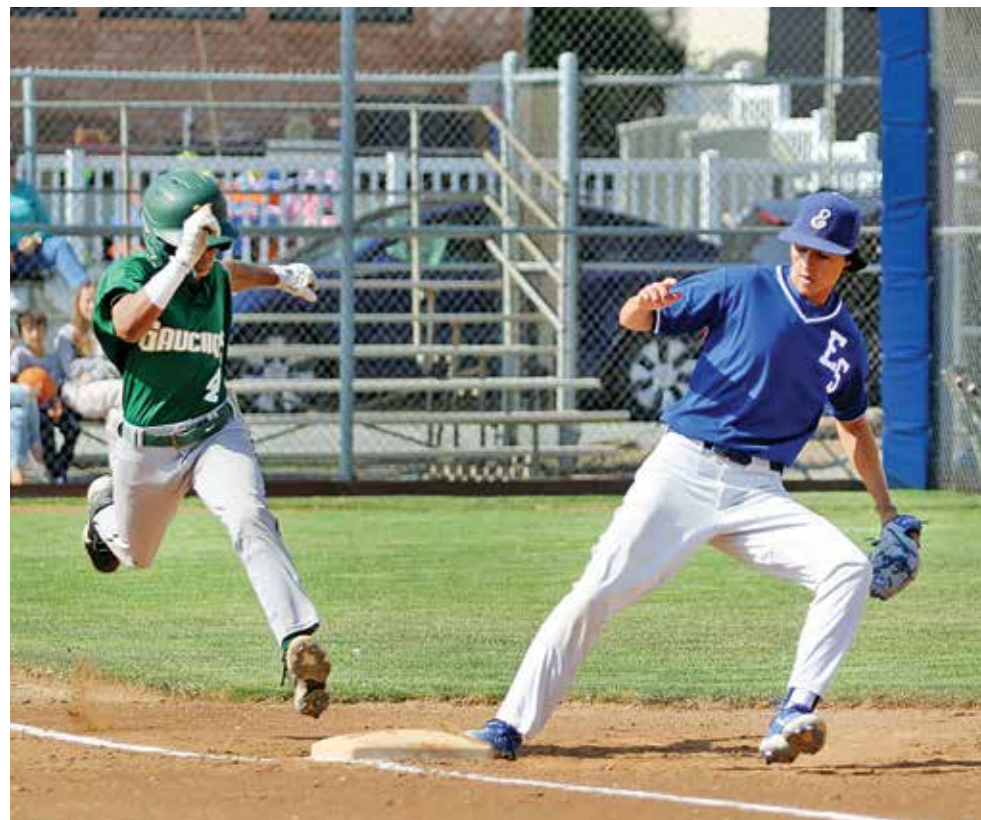

The Blues played Narbonne, one of the City Section's top teams recently, and fell 5-4. Dylan Alcala was effective on the mound, while the offense had some timely hitting. Reed Abrams doubled and scored on a double by Mays Borgmeyer in the third inning. In the fourth inning, Sean Mossman had an RBI double to cut the deficit to 3-2. In the fifth inning, Ben Lee doubled, advanced on an infield hit, and scored on a double steal to tie the game. Then Borgmeyer doubled and came around to score later in the inning to give the Blues a 4-3 lead.

Though the Blues lost the game, they showed how well they have been coached by limiting extra bases on defense and pitchers covering first base. Offensively they have the potential for big-inning rallies with Anthony Temesvary, RJ Puffer, Kyle Whalen, and Reed Adams in the lineup. • run third inning. Brooks and Lappe each had back-to-back singles to open the inning. Brooks scored on an RBI single by Jaxon Kalish, and Crew O'Connor hit a three-run home run for an 8-0 lead. In the sixth inning, with the score 8-1, ESLL tagged on another five runs, highlighted by an RBI single by Finely Green and a three-run home run by

Louis Lappe connected on a first-inning two-run homerun for El Segundo

noting the three patrol areas the city is divided into and how they have not changed since at least 1992 and probably since the 1970s. In the presentation, Bermudez noted a 3 percent crime drop from 2021 to 2022, calling 2021 "a bad year for crime" and noting that auto theft, catalytic converter theft, and retail store theft are the biggest crimes in the city and nearby cities as well as statewide. He said the business expansion east of Pacific Coast Highway had brought an uptick in crime in what is Patrol Area 3. Year-to-date, he noted

Ralph's, primarily because of liquor, has had 253 incidents, with TopGolf logging 221. Nordstrom Rack has had 67 incidents, with Dick's Sporting Goods logging 65. After that, the Nike Store has 12, and Ulta Beauty has 11, according to Bermudez's presentation. He said the businesses east of PCH tax police patrol resources "pretty heavily." He also noted the 14 hotels in the city create "a big tax on our resources" due to calls about parties in multiple hotel rooms and the number of patrol cars and officers required, plus the time it takes to evict hotel guests, which, for officers, includes remaining in the parking lot until everyone leaves to ensure there isn't any property damage. The city has 2,463 hotel rooms, according to the presentation, with Bermudez saying many guests stay in these hotels while attending events at Sofi Stadium in Inglewood. Bermudez noted that incidents included in his report include calls and self-initiated actions by officers who stop to look into something based on what they've seen or heard. He said Ralph's incidents include people out front bothering customers, homeless individuals asking for money, and/or an officer seeing something suspicious and getting out of the car to initiate contact, and while there, an officer self-initiates looking into something. When asked about Topgolf incidents, Bermudez said the facility in El Segundo is "obligated to staff our officers at the fully burdened rate" and that the incident numbers in the report included times when El Segundo police officers were staffing the facility at the fully burdened rate. •

Purrrfect Companions

Kitten Rescue rescues cats and kittens from a variety of situations. Most are fostered in our volunteers' homes until we can find permanent homes for them. Young or old, Siamese or calico, we care for orphaned and abandoned kittens that need to be bottle-fed around the clock, moms with litters, cats our adoption partner, Tail Town Cat Café. Are you looking for cuddles? Asher loves to snuggle and will sleep with you every night. He is not a lap cat during the day, but he loves to keep you warm at night! Asher can be a rambunctious, playful kitty, but will take long naps by the window, dreaming about ready to settle down, she will seek you out for affectionate pets and reward you with the most delightful purrs. Her brother Kai is the ultimate snuggle champion! This charming boy, boasting a captivating blend of gray and white fur, is a true master of the art of cuddling. With his expressive meows and microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

that need socialization, and sick or injured animals. When they are finally ready for their forever home, we will help match you with the purr-fect one. When you adopt, you save a life... and in turn enrich your own.

This beauty is not just easy on the eyes and absolutely adorable...she also has a gentle, loving personality as well. Amber loves affection and is not shy about seeking you out for cuddle time. The person lucky enough to adopt Amber will have a friend and snuggle buddy for life. She has a beta personality and gets along with other cats so she can be adopted into a home with an existing friendly cat or adopted into a single-pet household.

Betsy exists somewhere between kittenhood and the magical dust bunny realm. She is petite, stunning, and so-very-floofy! Betsy is playful and rambunctious, but cautious with new people. Although, quickly won over by a dangling toy or treats, she would prefer a proper introduction before bestowing her affection. If you go slow and give Betsy a moment to get acquainted, she will show you how good she is at purring and melting into your arms. Betsy is great with other cats and needs to be adopted with a friend or to a home with a young or active kitty friend. Come meet Betsy and her new friends at squirrels, birds, and yummy treats. Although Asher loves his nighttime cuddles, he does need his space most times and will need to warm up to you before he completely trusts you. Asher needs a steady home without a lot of daily changes or noise. He will be an amazing work from home partner and will sit right next to you all day, keeping you company. He would be best in a home without dogs, but another cat would be ok.

Jimmy was found living under a hoarder house — filthy dirty. His foster mom gave him a good bath first thing and he settled into being an indoor cat quickly. He has a great personality and is playful and affectionate. He has a unique cute, worried look that does not match his sweetness. This handsome tabby Siamese boy also has a distinctive wavy white stripe down his back.

This perfect duo, Mochi and Kai, is seeking a forever family that can provide them with double the love and cuddles and welcome them both into their hearts and homes. Mochi is the fearless explorer with a heart full of curiosity! This tuxedo girl is always on the move, eager to investigate every nook and cranny of her surroundings. Her adventurous spirit extends beyond her playtime, as she gets along famously with cats, dogs, and humans alike. Once she is pleading eyes, he will melt your heart and captivate your attention, often requesting to be scooped up and carried for the most comforting embraces. These little bundles of joy are eagerly awaiting a loving family who will appreciate their affectionate nature and provide them with a lifetime of cuddles and adventures.

Are you looking for a soft, laid-back roommate who sleeps roughly sixteen hours a day, and provides hours of endless entertainment and emotional support? Meet Polly! After surviving outside for most of her young life, she has been having the best time lounging on the couch and making biscuits in the throw blankets in her foster home. She is both an active athlete and a couch potato, depending on the time of day. If zoomies were an Olympic sport, she would win a gold medal. Polly is also a "tree dweller" who loves to be up high. With her unique markings, lively green eyes, and a sweet disposition, Polly would be a great addition to any household. As much as we love her, we know her forever family is out there, waiting to meet her!

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, appointment at the Kitten Rescue Adoption Center.
