Walk with Sally: The Power and Strength of Community

By Allison Armijo

Founded on the understanding that children of those diagnosed with cancer need support too, Walk with Sally has been a staple of the South Bay community for almost twenty years. “Sometimes when a child’s parent or sibling is going through cancer, understandably so, we focus on supporting the person that is fighting for their life. And sometimes we don’t realize the subsequent impacts that are being had on the children of those loved ones that are diagnosed,” said Tash Brooks, the new CEO of Walk with Sally.

Walk with Sally was founded in 2005 by Nick Arquette, whose mom, Sally was diagnosed with cancer. Arquette’s focus in founding the nonprofit organization was on mentorship, pairing up children ages seven to seventeen with mentors to establish a support system for those impacted by a loved one’s diagnosis.

Brooks joined the company in October, but has always been involved in philanthropy. Born and raised in Australia, she used to be a dancer, where she designed a dance program for children with autism and Down syndrome. Reflecting on that time, Brooks said, “It was extremely empowering for me to be able to use my talents in service of another.” Referring to this as the “helper’s high,” Brooks aims to put community at the forefront of everything she does, including in her new role as CEO of Walk with Sally.

“I have been in the nonprofit space for the majority of my life, and I understand that community is everything. The first thing I wanted to do was listen to the needs of the community” she said, explaining that she finds it useful to ask herself questions like, “Who is our community? Who are we serving? Are we providing the programmatic impact that we’re dedicated to providing?”

“Walk with Sally 2.0” expands on Arquette’s original vision for the organization by prioritizing the variety of support available to families of those going through cancer; this includes mental health resources and consultations, in addition to physical resources like wigs and clothing. “We realized, as amazing and healing it is for a child to spend time with a mentor and build that connection, they may come home with complete food insecurity and housing instability,” Brooks explained.

The majority of families involved in the program, Brooks explained, live below the poverty line. Thus, her team decided to focus their efforts on improving the financial empowerment program, even opening a shop in the office where children and families can come in to receive food, clothing, homeware items, and mental health consultations with licensed therapists. Accessibility, Brooks explained, is equally as important. She mentioned that for children who live too far away or have parents who are unable to take them in-office, Walk with Sally offers virtual therapy appointments and delivery service for home items, making resources available for those unable to physically come into office.

In addition to physical and emotional support, Brooks also wanted to look at what the organization was doing to invest in the future of children in the program. “We looked at the data and realized there was a bigger issue here that we weren’t looking at. We realized that a lot of teens who are in the midst of grieving their parent or are fearing for the loss of their parent, it’s really hard to invest in a future that might mean that you no longer have your parent or you may have to go into foster care because your parent is a single mom or single dad,” she explained.

All-Star Season's Teams Looking Good

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

With July just around the corner, the youth baseball energy, with the Little League, Babe Ruth League, and the high school teams that consumed our community from the beginning of March, ended in mid-June. Now it's all-stars season time, and El Segundo is in full, pardon the pun, swing at the Little League and Babe Ruth League levels. The American Legion baseball team is winding down its league schedule and should qualify for its playoff schedule.

12-Year-Olds Look Solid in Lopsided Wins

The El Segundo 12s look more like a team that has played together for years, not your typical all-star team. Their familiarity with each other is obvious, and their total team chemistry suggests a long summer of playing baseball. In the District 36 tournament, El Segundo has outscored their opponents 37-3 in the first three games. After defeating Palos Verdes 13-1 in the opener, they took care of Lunada Bay 11-0 and walloped Manhattan Beach Little League 13-2 to advance to the District 36 final on Saturday.

EL Segundo wasted no time getting on the scoreboard against an undermanned Lunada Bay. Brody Brooks led off the first inning with an infield single. Louis Lappe followed with a single, and then Jaxon Kalish blistered a three-run home run to give his team a 3-0 lead. Lucas Keldorf connected on a fastball and sent it 225 feet for a solo home run for a 4-0 lead. El Segundo went on to load the bases, but Lunada Bay got out of the inning miraculously without giving up any more runs.

In the second inning, Quinn Boehle and Finley Green led off the inning with consecutive singles. Lappe was intentionally walked to load the bases bringing up Kalish. The power-hitting left-hand hitter delivered a 250-foot bomb for a grand slam. Keldorf then reached on an error and scored on a double by Max Baker for a 9-0 lead.

El Segundo wasn't done scoring yet when they tagged on two more third-inning runs. Lennon Salazar reached base on a walk and scored on Boehle's RBI single. Boehle ended up scoring on Brooks' RBI single.

Finley Green started for El Segundo and gave up two hits, no walks, and struck out

Max Baker slides in safely for a double against Manhattan Beach Little League.

West Basin Announces Funding for Grass Replacement+ Program Now Available

West Basin Municipal Water District (West Basin) announced that a new round of funding for the Grass Replacement+ Program (Grass+) is now available to eligible applicants on a first-come, first-served basis.

The water-saving rebate program offers valuable incentives to be water-wise outdoors: a significant rebate of $5 for every square foot of grass removed, up to $25,000 in value; a free custom landscape design, valued at approximately $2,000; and a free, low water use tree to expand urban canopy cover. West Basin will help fund 35 Grass+ packages beginning June 21, 2023. West Basin service area residents can find more information, confirm eligibility, and get started by visiting www.westbasin.org/grass-plus.

"The West Basin Board of Directors continues to encourage water use efficiency in our communities, regardless of current water supply or drought conditions, by replacing water-intensive lawns with beautiful, climate appropriate landscapes," said West Basin Board President and Division IV Director Scott Houston. "We especially want to support our neighbors who are disproportionately affected by environmental and socioeconomic factors. The Grass+ program is specifically designed to make increased water-efficiency at home a goal that is accessible for all," said Houston.

The Grass+ program is open to residents in historically underserved neighborhoods within the West Basin service area that have been disproportionately affected by environmental pollution and other socioeconomic considerations as defined by the California Environmental Protection Agency's (CalEPA) California Communities Environmental Health Screening Tool (CalEnviroScreen 4.0).

Last year, West Basin piloted this grass replacement program and successfully distributed 20 free design packages and a number of drought-tolerant trees. This year, the program builds on West Basin's efforts to reduce potable water demand with the potential to achieve an annual water savings of approximately 3.4 million gallons.

All of West Basin's grass replacement programs encourage climate appropriate landscape transformations to make water conservation a way of life. To learn how to adopt a Super-Cali-Frugalistisc lifestyle, visit www.westbasin.org/conservation.

Ozark Dogs by Eli Cranor

By Library Assistant Mary Martes

A grizzled Vietnam veteran watches over the junkyard from high atop a teetering tower of metal, waiting for his granddaughter to get home after Homecoming. He has left behind the drink that numbed the pain, but he still sees the horror of that hellish landscape in flashbacks. In a story of family loyalty, secrets, blood, and betrayal, Eli Cranor sets this tale of Southern noir amidst the craggy countryside of the Missouri Ozarks in his sophomore novel.

Methamphetamine, murder, and the White Supremacist movement coalesce in a tiny town at the base of the mountains. Poverty reigns after the factory shut down and the only jobs available were ones no one wanted to do, resulting in an influx of cheap labor, creating vehement animosity and division. Two families, inextricably intertwined, can never forget the pain exacted by each. From the high school quarterback and Homecoming Queen to the meth cooking bible quoting white supremacists to the sheriff and the haunted veteran, it is all about how to get through each day. For some, vengeance is all there is to live for. For others it is protecting the ones they love. What justice will appease the boiling rage? What will they do to protect their own?

Cranor writes with an ease of voice and an intimate knowledge of the rural existence. His characters throb with life, pain, and heartache. It's survival rather than living. Burrowing deep into his characters, we inhabit the poverty-stricken, emotional lives of these rural inhabitants. We are immersed in the struggle for their souls, the fight for power and money, against hate and violence, battling for their lives. Gripping from the first page, Cranor carefully builds the tension, reveals some shocking surprises, then unleashes violence in a cascade of bullets. This writer is one to watch.

Check out Ozark Dogs and Cranor's award winning first novel Don't Know Tough for a dark, gritty thrill ride through the South. Read these and other fiction finds to win prizes for all ages during the Summer Reading Program, going on now through August 5th. •

Blue Jean is a Confident and Resonating LGBTQ+ Drama

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

We're halfway through 2023 and I can confidently say that writer/director Georgia Oakley's Blue Jean has a snug place on my forthcoming list of favorite films of the year. This indie gem-winner of the Venice Film Festival's People's Choice Award and four British Independent Film Awards—is not only a confident directorial debut, but an achingly resonating drama about one woman's desperation to safeguard herself when her livelihood is threatened.

In a phenomenal lead performance by BIFA-winning actress Rosy McEwen, Blue Jean captures the life of a closeted queer woman living against the backdrop of Margaret Thatcher's conservative England. The year is 1988 and P.E. teacher Jean (McEwen) rounds up her rambunctious class of high schoolers to discuss the day's topic: fight or flight. Honing in on the fact that one doesn't decide how to react but rather this instinct is innate ment her motorcycle, Paula is the definition of a woman who is not interested in anyone's opinion. This confidence can scare Jean, who finds herself downplaying their relationship when out in public or caught off guard.

Jean's hidden secret is further challenged when a new student enrolls in her class. 15-year-old Lois (Lucy Halliday) is unlike the other girls, she keeps to herself and doesn't care to assimilate into the school environment. One night, at the gay nightclub Jean and her group of friends frequent often, Jean spots Lois at the bar. Terrified that Lois may out her, Jean is quick to realize that she needs to be very cautious about how she approaches Lois from here on out. It's a delicate dance between teacher and student, which culminates into a crescendo in the film's final act.

Blue Jean is a stunning and meticulously beautiful feature debut from Georgia Oakley. A debut like this feels few and far between, creating a sense of both wonderment and disbelief that such talent has been discovered. Much in the same way that Charlotte Wells' Aftersun stunned audiences with its unexpected greatness, Blue Jean deserves the same attention.

The film grain adds a layer of visual aesthetic that radiates a warm and lived-in quality. Cinematographer Victor Seguin captures a saturated moody England, playing to the shades of blue and all-over desperation of the situation. Equally as impressive as the cinematic choreography is the score by composer Chris Roe. The melodic scales he traverses throughout the gentle, ambient score make the music feel alive, like living art.

Blue Jean is a modern-day masterpiece, an astounding feat by all involved. Its entry into the queer cinema canon is a welcomed addition, and its impact will no doubt resonate with all who watch.

Mounting political pressure from the right pushes a new law, Section 28, into the forefront of conversation among her colleagues, who are unaware of Jean's sexuality. The law, which is equivalent to Florida's "Don't Say Gay" bill, prohibits the "promotion of homosexuality" by local authorities, essentially intimidating all queer men and women into silence.

Walk with Sally

In response, Walk with Sally developed a new scholarship initiative launched this month, on June 6th. The program is a six-week self-esteem, growth mindset workshop facilitated by Wendy Lewis, a licensed marriage and family therapist who specializes in teen grief. "The workshop is really going to empower our teens to use the tools to support their mental health in times of grief and crisis," Brooks said. The program will culminate in a graduation ceremony where children will be connected with mentors in their field of interest who will share stories of how they overcame hardships in their own lives. Additionally, participating children will also take part in a quick-pitch competition, where they will present their goals and visions for the future to the community; the scholarships will be funded based on these pitches.

Only last year, the program was struggling to get students to apply, making this year an exciting and promising step forward in the future of Walk with Sally and the scholarship program, more specifically. "We have had an overwhelming response," Brooks explained, "Fifteen kids applied, and some are even driving hours just to come in."

Brooks also mentioned the upcoming White Light White Night, which is Walk with Sally's largest, most critical fundraiser since the organization's inception. "We want the community to come together and celebrate life," Brooks said, "We just want to unite everybody." The event will be held in El Segundo on August 19th. The goal is to raise awareness for the organization's goals to support those affected by cancer and their loved ones and raise funds so they can reach as many people as possible.

"We are so inspired by the impact we're making," Brooks explained. She highlighted one moment recently when her team was able to help a single mom going through chemotherapy who didn't know how she would feed her son while she was out of work, recovering from the treatment. "We were able to provide six weeks-worth of prepared meals and groceries," Brooks explained, "which will be a big help to the mom's mental health too; she can worry less about how she'll feed her son and focus more on getting better."

Helping people like the mother and her son Brooks mentioned is central to Walk with Sally's mission. The White Light White Night fundraiser is a way for the organization to not only strengthen current programs, but also expand to develop new approaches to helping families with loved ones diagnosed with cancer.

But above all, Brooks hopes that the fundraiser can serve as an opportunity for people to not only uplift and support their community, but also learn more about themselves in the process. "Life is extremely heartbreaking and extremely inspiring. And what I know for sure is we are not supposed to go through life's trials alone. We are stronger together; we are stronger as a community. And Walk with Sally is that. It is a community that unites people to uplift those going through unimaginable trials," she said.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF JANET GAIL MONTELLI

Case No. 23STPB06130

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of JANET GAIL MONTELLI

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Dennis Miller in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Dennis Miller be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 11, 2023 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 29 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

El Segundo was missing one player from their lineup against Manhattan Beach. It didn't matter, though, not with the dynamic pitching coming from Brody Brooks, Max Baker and Jaxon Kalish, who combined to limit MBLL to two runs, two hits, and struck out nine.

Offensively, El Segundo continued its dominating assault on their opponents. After taking a 1-0 first-inning lead, Lucas Keldorf hit a sinking line drive in the third inning that was misplayed into a two-run triple for a 3-0 lead. In the fourth inning, Ollie Parks highlighted a three-run inning with a three-run home run.

With a commanding 6-0 lead in the fifth inning El Segundo sent 12 batters to the plate and scored seven additional runs. Max Baker's two-run single made it 8-0. Declan McRoberts doubled to score Crew O'Connor, and Ollie Park's two-run double made it 11-0. El Segundo would tag on two more runs and led 13-0. Manhattan Beach's only offense in the fifth inning came on a walk and two infield hits. Their two runs came on a wild pitch, and on the same play scored another run when the ball was overthrown on the play at the plate. With the hard-throwing Kalish on the mound, he struck out the next two batters to end the game.
