El Segundo's Natalie Strong Attempts to "Create Gold out of Every Day."

By Duane Plank

Communicate with El Segundo resident Natalie Strong, who serves as the cities Arts and Cultural Advisory Council vice-chairperson, and her return email features the motivating tagline "create gold out of every day."

So, what does that mean? Strong is a child of the evil empire a tad bit south, Manhattan Beach (just kidding, Plank spent his formative years in MB, which at one-time was a quaint little beach town), an attendee of the Chadwick School up in the Peninsula, and a USC collegiate grad who spent some schooling time in Kent, England, a year she said was "amazing."

Instead of encapsulating her living life to the fullest philosophies, let us let Strong have center stage. In her own words, we will let Strong tell you about her motivating philosophies. "Attempting to create gold out of every day" is my artistic philosophy," she said. "The Alchemists (her email handle starts with alchemist) were trying to make gold out of lead, and though they never succeeded, they never stopped believing that it could be done. Pens and Paints and Paper are my lead, and whether or not I make gold out of them, I will never stop trying. I will never stop believing that it is possible." If you want to view some of her artistic renderings, you can access them through her Instagram account.

Continued Strong: "My hashtag #letthem-findmeworking is another idea that I live by. When inspiration hits, when the Muses visit, if I am working, then I am open to receive that inspiration. Maybe what I am working on today is nothing special, but you never know. If the Muses visit, let them find me working."

On settling in El Segundo, Strong said that "the thing I like best about (El Segundo) is the scale. It is a place that is built and operates on an individual human scale. One person can make a difference; leave a mark. It is possible to feel at least like you know everyone. I can walk anywhere that I might need to go. It is possible to be familiar with all of it. It's a knowable place."

Someone who has met and associated with Strong in our "knowable place" is Josette Murphy. Murphy is the owner of About Space Interiors in town, and she has collaborated with Strong multiple times to showcase Natalie's artistic renderings during the always popular Art Walk, which, if the

Donna Taylor Praises El Segundo for its Donations to Animal Shelters

By Kiersten Vannest

From July of last year through May of this year, Los Angeles processed over 9,000 dogs in its shelters. This was in addition to over 6,000 cats and over 5,000 other animals, like birds and other pets. Some are found, some are surrendered, but all are collected and kept at animal shelters throughout the county. During this time, shelters struggle to find enough resources to care for all of these animals at any given time. Enter Donna Taylor and the generous community of El Segundo.

Every so often, Donna Taylor, a long-time resident, and neighbor of El Segundo, runs her donation drive for local animal shelters. She asks her communities of Playa Del Rey, Playa Vista, El Segundo, and the surrounding neighborhoods to donate towels, food, blankets, and other necessities for the sake of rescued animals. El Segundo, she says, never disappoints.

"El Segundo continuously steps up to the plate and overfills my SUV with whatever it is that I'm asking for," says Taylor. El Segundo specifically has fueled the majority of her donation runs, making sure the animals have towels for surgeries, beds for comfort, and enough food to keep them healthy.

Taylor says she has always loved animals. After working for several shelters, she realized that although they were doing the best they could, many animals were still not receiving the complete care they

School District Not Being Truthful

I am writing in response to the El Segundo School District full page ad regarding the proposed gym at the middle school. The residents on Center Street and the north side of the middle school are the most affected by the gym addition and it's location. I am telling you, we were only made aware of the gym project recently by chance. At no time did we receive any communication from the school district or school board. When we made our concerns known to the school board, they gave us drawings of 5 construction proposals which we studied and responded to. We learned, however, that the construction layout they had already approved was NOT among the 5 proposals given us. We have given our views by way of letters and comments at several zoom meetings. We have a neighbor who has offered to sit down with the board as a representative of the neighborhood and the board has ignored the offer. The school district is not being truthful in conveying that they considered input from residents who live around the school. It's clear by their minimum required approach and dismissive actions and comments towards us that the neighbors really don't matter.

- Mike Effler

Comments on Middle School Construction

Many wondered why three jurisdictions of school Bond oversight would take out a full-page advertisement after a deceitful force-feeding of community STEM bond scope on the neighborhood? The ad targets neighborhood resident's objections to advancing ESUSD's agenda and aesthetics. All for another hostile, anti-community, public school facility hardening. Meanwhile residents (now bond victims) must accept the loss of another ESUSD open campus and wildlife habitat; with associated heat island generated by parking lots, paving, and a Gym—at the only one of three alternative locations they opposed; to enhance a STEMM learning facility. They see ESUSD's version of "beauty" a block away where a "Pepto-Bismol" pink mural will scream "Community" for 12 months. Why would they need an ad where they have successfully replaced goodwill with deception, and used their power against neighbors who came as volunteers? After the Bond Facilities, Citizens Bond Oversight, and ES School Board meetings wherein the two STEMM classrooms the community refers to as "pathetic investment returns in STEMM for over 150,000 total square feet of development" the invaluable ad finally reveals the intended use of $19M for classrooms were not for "Science, Technology, Engineering, Math and Medicine" but instead, the classrooms will be "used by the PE program". All residents are now educated. Most realize they have been duped, abused and insulted by the bond and ESUSD's oversight process. Worse, these students will not see the promised educational benefits due to ESUSD's deceptions, and lack of ethics.

Oaks Crowned Champions

By Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo Babe Ruth League's sixty-fourth season ended with playoffs that crowned the champion. The league was handicapped this season with the Covid protocols that limited each team to a ten-game schedule. There was limited practice time, but the players and coaches soldiered on, through some challenging times, to get their games in. As Beavers manager Joe Dornblaser said, "It was a unique year, but everything went fine, and the players learned a little more than they did; they had a fun experience."

upset the Seals 5-4 to set up an Oaks/Beavers match up and a Stars/Angels meeting. The winners would advance to play a one-game winner take all championship game.

Oaks 5 Beavers 1

The top-seeded Oaks road the arm of Dylan Garcia, who pitched a complete game. Leading 3-1 in the fifth inning, the Mays Borgmeyer doubled to right centerfield, followed by Aaron Newman, who drew a seven-pitch walk. Garcia's fielder's choice scored Borgmeyer to make it 4-1. In the sixth inning Aiden Corral led off with a double, and Bowen Everitt

The Oaks celebrate their championship.

With a ten-game schedule, it meant improvising a playoff that would benefit each team. The top two seeded teams based on won/loss records were given a bye in the first round of a one-game elimination playoff format. The Oaks finished 8-2 while the Angels finished 7-3, so they watched the Stars win their first game 13-0 over the Padres, and the Beavers reached on an error. Daniel Mikula's sacrifice scored Corral to make it 5-1, and the Oaks advanced to the championship game.

chips fall in the right direction, will resume this year in late August.

Murphy has known Strong for eight or so years, with their friendship starting when the mom's shepherded their kids to-and-from school. Murphy said that their paths have crossed in many ways. "We are both artists, in different media," Murphy said, noting that her artistic design specialties include fabric and tile and paint and appliances and lumber, while Strong specializes in "fiber arts," but she also "paints and draws, and does all sorts of other things."

Murphy said that their shared interest in artistic projects had led her to commission Strong to design not only "a beautiful custom quilt for my own house," but also pieces for Murphy's clients, including embroidered and painted items. Murphy has also hosted Strong's work during prior Art Walks.

"We are kindred spirits," Murphy said. "Natalie cares so much," noting her work for the El Segundo library and the arts and cultural committee. "She does it with her whole heart, with a passion for promoting art in all of its forms. She is definitely a voice of art in town."

As previously noted, Strong was a Manhattan Beach gal who attended Chadwick, moved for an awhile to Hermosa Beach, and settled in El Segundo with husband Richard. He just happened to be recently profiled in the Herald. Why land in El Segundo?

Strong cited the strength of the El Segundo Unified School District, as well as El Segundo being touted as a good place to raise her children. And is a city located close to her day job, which she has plied for nearly two decades, as she runs her father's dental office in Manhattan Beach. Strong said that her proximity to her workplace, as well as her proximity to her boss (her dad), has allowed her to work a schedule that not only has provided the opportunity to attend her children's events, but also given her the chance to pursue her passions on the artistic side. So here are some of Strong's contributions: Vice-chairperson, ES Arts and Cultural Advisory Council, Art teacher with the ES Parks and Recreation Department, private art teacher, with students ranging from ages four to thirteen, ES Art Walk participant, Administrator of the 'Room of Requirement' at the ES public library, part-timer at the El Segundo Museum of Art, columnist for the 'El Segundo Scene' magazine and published author in the

'El Segundo Writes' anthology.

And when she is not working for pay, volunteering her time, or supporting her husband and kids, Strong said she likes to quilt and knit. When asked why she is so passionate about participating in art-related projects, Strong said she sees a vital need for "everyone to express themselves. Some people do it with gardening, some with computer coding. Arts are an important way to enrich the community, make the world more beautiful."

Strong has been working on the Arts and Culture Council for three years. She sees the council's mandate as one that tries to continue bringing culture to our city, "lending a hand to existing projects," as well as developing new endeavors. She is eagerly looking forward to, now that the COVID scourge has decreased, the resumption of the Art Walk program, and other similar El Segundo cultural outreach activities.

As for her post with the Parks and Recreation department, which Strong said that she has manned for about five years, she is looking forward to working again with the youths of El Segundo. "I can't wait for it to all come back," she said while noting a tentative resumption date of programs this Fall. "I never stop being inspired by the things kids think of," she said. "Their brains work definitely different than ours," she said.

She hopes her work with the El Segundo Museum of Art will commence soon. She is looking forward to teaching her 'just draw' class as soon as she gets the green light. "I love the museum," she said. "The people over there are so interesting, and creative, and inspiring."

So, the definition of an alchemist, at least the first one that I conjured up, is a person who practices alchemy. Which is a useless definition, right? I learned a long time ago as I was studying journalism at the great Cal State Dominguez Hills campus, under the tutelage of the hopefully still strolling around Mr. Davidson, was that you could not define a word by using that same word. Easy way out. So here is my second attempt to seek a definition of an alchemist: "a person who transforms or creates something through a seemingly magical process."

OK, that definition seems to encapsulate the efforts of Natalie Strong and her endeavors to make El Segundo a better place, striving to "create gold out of every day." •

4 Films We're Looking Forward to Watching This July

By Ryan Rojas for Cinemacy

As heat waves keep things sizzling outside, so too does this month's hot new titles, which we've rounded up in our July preview. Enjoy some indoor air conditioning and catch up on these highly anticipated films, both in theaters and streaming, from your living room. In our July preview, we include some films whose original releases were delayed due to the pandemic, as well as all-new releases. We're ready to settle in with a cold beverage and watch everything in this month's July preview – are you?

No Sudden Move

What it's about: A group of criminals are brought together under mysterious circumstances and have to work together to uncover what's really going on when their simple job goes completely sideways.

Why we're looking forward to it: After making Let Them All Talk for HBO Max, Steven Soderbergh is back with another film for the streaming service. Not only is he returning to his heist roots (with an amazing all-star cast to boot), but he's taking things back to 1950s era noir, which is a time period we cannot wait to see his vision of.

'No Sudden Move' opens in select theaters and is available to stream on HBO Max starting Thursday, July 1st.

Summer of Soul (...Or, When the Revolution Could Not Be Televised)

What it's about: Summer Of Soul (... Or, When The Revolution Could Not Be Televised) is a feature documentary about the legendary 1969 Harlem Cultural Festival which celebrated African American music and culture, and promoted Black pride and unity.

Why we're looking forward to it: I first saw this film make its premiere at the Sundance Film Festival, and it was rightfully awarded the Festival Winner Documentary. Director Questlove knows that music is always accompanied by stories, and the stories here—along with never-before-seen archival footage—makes this one of the most powerful films of the year so far.

To Build Your Savings, Start With Small Goals

(BPT) - Paid Content by Vanderbilt Mortgage and Finance, Inc

Building a savings account can seem daunting. Many people believe they should have a high amount of savings tucked away, but then often become overwhelmed thinking about that goal. By shifting your mindset and taking small, achievable steps, you can reach your savings goals and more.

Keep in mind, if your savings is low or nonexistent, you're not alone. Fewer than 40% of Americans could pay an unexpected $1,000 bill with their savings, according to a recent survey. The pandemic has presented countless challenges for many people, and even if you tapped your savings to make ends meet, you can always restart and refocus.

The good news is there are simple steps you can take to establish a savings account and help you reach other goals like a down payment on a new home, or extra payments on the principal balance of an existing mortgage loan. Vanderbilt Mortgage is happy to share its 2021 Home Loan Guide created to help educate and prepare homebuyers for a mortgage.

Here are three simple steps to start a successful savings plan:

Set a Realistic Goal

It may not be realistic for you to start saving $500 a month, but that doesn't mean you can't save an amount that makes you comfortable. Consider $50, $25 or even $5 if that sounds reasonable. Starting with a small, realistic goal can help you stick to a savings plan. Tracking your goals builds excitement, whether that's for an emergency fund or to buy a new home. Visibly seeing progress reinforces your goals and you can be proud of building momentum.

Create and Stick to a Budget

There is power in knowing the exact amount of money coming in and going out each month, so budgeting is an essential step in understanding your finances and guiding your saving efforts. If you budget and find a surplus, consider using that extra money to bolster your savings. If there is a deficit, reevaluate and decide what adjustments can be made. Understand necessities versus nice-to-have expenses and find ways to make your money work for your situation.

Know Your "Why"

Building a savings takes time, but having a motivation for your commitment can support your success. Whether it's to have a safety net or you're saving for a down payment on a home, a goal can help keep you focused, which means you are more likely to follow through.

If you're interested in buying a new home, you might not need as much down payment as you think. Apply now at Vanderbilt Mortgage and learn about financing programs that fit your budget. If you already have a loan with Vanderbilt, consider paying ahead or even paying extra towards your principal balance; this will help you pay your mortgage loan off earlier.

These three initial steps can give anyone a guiding start to building a savings account to help them reach their goals. To access the 2021 Home Loan Guide and to get more details about smart steps you can take to save, visit www.vmf.com. Remember, just like a runner needs to train from completing a mile to completing a marathon, the best way to build a savings account is with consistent, achievable steps. •

Do You Have Arthritis? Consider These Changes

(BPT) - Arthritis is a common health condition in the United States, affecting one in four adults according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Characterized by the inflammation of one or more joints, arthritis can cause joint pain, stiffness and swelling that can limit one's functionality and impact daily activities.1 May is recognized as National Arthritis Awareness Month to bring attention to the widespread impact that arthritis has on adults, children and families.

These Changes Can Make a Difference for Those Living with Arthritis

Two of the most common types of arthritis are osteoarthritis (OA) and rheumatoid arthritis (RA). For those living with OA or RA, these changes could help improve daily life with arthritis:

- Do simple exercises: Exercise a few times a week to keep your joints as functional as possible. Find an activity you enjoy doing, such as taking a walk or swimming in a pool.2 Be sure to check with your doctor about what exercises are right and safe for you.

- Improve your sleep: According to the patient organization, CreakyJoints, there are many lifestyle changes you can make that may help improve your sleep, even if you suffer from arthritis pain. You may want to try avoiding caffeine in the evening, reducing screen time before bed, eating lighter meals at night and keeping your bedroom cool, dark and quiet.3

- Choose foods that fight inflammation: The Arthritis Foundation says that, while there is no miracle diet for arthritis, there are foods that can help fight inflammation and improve joint symptoms. A diet rich in fruits, vegetables, fish, nuts and beans but low in processed foods and saturated fat is not only great for overall health, but can also help manage disease activity.4

- Lose any amount of extra weight: According to The Osteoarthritis Action Alliance, extra weight greatly increases joint pain and damages the cartilage of the joints, especially in the hips and knees. Losing excess weight, even in small amounts, can help reduce joint pain, avoid joint surgery and become more active.5

Speak to Your Physician About Medicines for Pain Management

In addition to lifestyle adjustments, a range of medicines are available to help relieve arthritis symptoms. Nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), such as ibuprofen and naproxen, are frequently used to ease inflammation and pain caused by arthritis.6

"While it is important to have balanced pain management with arthritis, it is crucial to speak to your physician often and openly about your daily lifestyle. That way, your physician can help personalize your treatment which may include NSAIDs or other types of pain management techniques," said Hasan Abed, MD, Anesthesiologist and Pain Management Specialist, Advanced Pain Management located in Timonium, Maryland.

If you take NSAIDs, it is important to talk to your healthcare professional because as many as one in four regular NSAID users are at risk to develop stomach ulcers - sores on the lining of the stomach caused by stomach acid.7 In addition to taking high doses of NSAIDs, other risk factors include taking NSAIDs with aspirin, or while taking corticosteroids or blood thinners, having had a stomach ulcer in the past and being older than 65 years of age. If you have more than two of these risk factors, you are considered at high risk for stomach ulcers.

Gastroprotection with Nsaids Can Help Lower the Risk of Stomach Ulcers

Over-the-counter and prescription NSAIDs come in many different forms. They are available topically, as a lotion or gel and can be taken by mouth.6 Some NSAIDs include a gastroprotective medicine to help reduce the risk of getting a stomach ulcer.8

Because every case of arthritis is different, it is important to talk to your physician about pain management and the potential risk of stomach ulcers if you take NSAIDs," said Dr. Abed. "If appropriate, your doctor may suggest you take a medicine that can lower the risk of getting a stomach ulcer when taking an NSAID."

needed. So she began taking it upon herself to make sure no animal in her care was neglected in any way.

One day, a dog named Teddy crossed her path. At just four months old, Teddy was bitten by a much bigger dog, necessitating wheels for mobility. Taylor fostered Teddy, got him his wheels, rebuilt his strength through hydrotherapy, and fell in love with fostering in the process.

From there, Taylor began operating her rescue. In her time, she rescued and found homes for 90 dogs. The dogs she chose to foster were the ones that might have been receiving less attention and were less likely candidates for adoption—all of this she paid for out of her pocket.

The most common type of dog that gets adopted are the ones that are considered "cuter." This includes pugs, French bulldogs, and fluffy-looking dogs. Typically, says Taylor, she sees breeds like chihuahuas and pit bulls stay in shelters much longer, as well as dogs that are shy or haven't been introduce a new pet without the danger of aggression.

Though she no longer runs her rescue, Taylor is now a professional dog sitter and walker, using her years of experience to help busy families take care of their pets while keeping them in the loop at all times.

Having been working with dogs directly since 2010, Taylor wants to encourage adopting, not shopping. She says you can even adopt purebred dogs with serious searching and some patience, as many are surrendered and lost.

Taylor posts on local Facebook pages when she is doing a drive and adds that the most common need from shelters is towels, blankets, and food. Toys are not usually accepted, and bowls typically have to be metal, as ceramic may break and hurt the animal.

"Adopting an animal is unconditional love. You don't realize how much that animal adds to your life until you've had an opportunity to get one of your own." •

Zuzu was so matted that adopters could barely see her, so Taylor got her groomed.

"I have a dog that I [rescued]..." she says, "she had foxtails in her eyes, and she couldn't see. You absolutely couldn't see her with all that matting." After some time of being overlooked for adoption, Taylor took her in, got her cleaned and shaved, and was surprised to see an adorable white Shih Tzu. Unhealthy and shy before, now she was fluffy, confident, and ready for a new home. Taylor got over fifty applicants to take her in.

Through her time rehoming dogs, Taylor describes her process of vetting applicants before releasing the dog. For her, the whole process was about making sure the dog was the most comfortable and cared for that it could be. This included checking applicants' spaces and making sure they knew all the responsibilities that come with dog ownership. This is meant to ensure the dog's safety and decrease the likelihood of a returned adoption.

For example, a common concern of new dog owners is kennel cough or Bordetella.

Often, dogs coming from shelters will have kennel cough, leading new owners to believe they are seriously sick. According to Taylor, there is no need to panic if a new adoption has a cough.

"Oftentimes, the adopter gets scared and returns the dog. It's nothing to be scared about. It's a cold, and it will go away in about ten days," Taylor says. Dogs coming from shelters have been exposed to more than they would in a home, so having some illnesses or infections isn't unlikely.

Another reason adoptions might not work out is that the dog may not get along with current pets. This, says Taylor, is partly due to the adopter not bringing their dog to the adoption to find out their reaction ahead of time and partly due to the way the dog is introduced.

"Take them outside on a leash, let them sniff," she says. Keeping a new dog out of an old dog's territory until the old dog has time to acclimate is the best way to a walk, and Tim Klug was hit by a pitch, but they were both left stranded. In the second inning, Anders Tipton drew a 10-pitch walk but was left at second base. In the bottom of the third Forthuber singled, but was left in scoring position.

With the game, a scoreless tie in the fifth inning, the Stars broke through. Aiden Barbosa singled and stole second base. Kevin Blake singled, and Barbosa went to third base. Grady Lubs' sacrifice bunt scored Barbosa to make it 1-0. Shaun Conley's sacrifice fly scored Blake to text the lead to 2-0.

In the bottom of the fifth, the Angels threatened to score thanks to Jack Pintens and Nathan Ibarra drawing walks. Reed Abrams, who had shut down the Angels through the first four innings, wildness took over, and Max Martinez replaced him. He struck out the next three Angel hitters to get out of the inning.

In the sixth inning, the Stars loaded the bases when Tristan Foster led off with a double, and Martinez was walked. Kyle Whalen then drew a walk, but the Angels' Dominick Kopecky worked out of the jam. The Angels had their chances in the sixth inning when Mateo Heredia walked, and Brendon Pate reached base on an error. But Martinez struck out the side, including two in a row.

In the seventh inning, the Stars extended their lead. Kevin Blake singled, and two batters later, he scored on Jordan Blake's RBI single to make it 3-0. The Angels didn't go down without a fight. Anders Tipton drew a base on balls, and Nathan Ibarra singled. With one out, the game ended on a double-play on a highlight catch in centerfield by Reed Abrams and the perfect throw to first base to double up Ibarra and end the game.

Championship Game

The Oaks and Stars met for the title two years ago, and the Stars defeated the Oaks 7-2. So this season, the Oaks were looking to avenge that loss, while the Stars were gunning for their twentieth league title. The season came to an official close with a game highlighted by 12 walks and a game that ended with a ten-run rule. The Oaks benefitted from most of the free passes and defeated the Stars 11-1.

The Stars scored early when Grady Lubs drew a walk to start the game. Reed Adams drew a walk, and Lubs scored on Adan Barbosa's RBI single. In the second inning, Max Martinez struck out seven in three relief innings to help send the Stars to the championship game.

the Oaks drew four walks to Aiden Corral, Lincoln Quaintance, Porter Robbins, and Damian Espino to tie the game at 1-1.

In the third inning, the Stars' Kyle Whalen was hit by a pitch, but was later caught trying to steal the home plate that ended the inning. The Oaks took the lead for good when Dylan Immel singled and later scored on Dylan Garcia's RBI single.

The Oaks would get a three-run double from Immel, an RBI double from Lincoln Quaintance, and RBI walks by Jake Stein and Vinny Baldino and go on to win the league championship.

It was a gratifying win for the Oaks in front of a large crowd that was not restricted by Covid protocols. Oaks manager Arnel Celestial was thrilled for his players. Not so much for the championship win but for what they had to endure through a modified season that didn't allow many practice sessions. "They had a short time together to bond, and it'll be a memory they'll never forget."

All-Stars Set for Action

The All-Star teams were announced, and they had a short time to practice to get ready for their respective tournaments. The 15-year-old team will play a best of three-game series with Heartwell Babe Ruth League from Long Beach. The roster includes Brett Abitante, Dylan Alcala, James Baldino, Adan Barbosa, Kevin Blake, Lucas Bonham, Aiden Corral, Kye DeChristopher, Dylan Immel, Dominik Kopecky, Kvitik Nikolas, Jackson Lund, Max Martinez, Cruz Ochoa, and Ryan Pascarelli.

The first game is set for Saturday at 10 a.m. at Heartwell, located at 6242 E Carson St,

Long Beach. The second game is scheduled for Sunday at noon at Stevenson Field, with a coin flip determining where a third game would be played next Wednesday, July 14.

The winner advances to the Pacific Southwest Regional Tournament in Bakersfield starting July 25, with the winner advancing to the World Series in Eagle Pass, Texas, beginning August 10.

The 14-year-old All-Stars will travel to Glendale to play in the four-team double-elimination state tournament held at Stengel Field (1601 Canada Blvd, Glendale) and Dunsmore Park (4700 Dunsmore Ave., La Crescenta). The 15 player team consists of Reed Adams, Ethan Ayler, Mays Borgmeyer, Robert Cantu, Dylan Garcia, Mateo Heredia, Shane Huber, Grady Lubs, Gavin McKinnon, Sean Mossman, Shane Mossman, RJ Puffer, Owen Reed, Porter Robbins, and Kyle Whalen.

El Segundo opens up with Heartwell on Saturday at Stengel Field at 3:30 p.m. The winner of this tournament advances to the Pacific Southwest Regional Tournament held at Price, Utah starting July 25, with the winner advancing to the World Series starting August 12 at Ottumwa, Iowa.

The 13-year-old team is playing in the three-team state tournament hosted by Westchester Babe Ruth (Ivan Miller Field, 8141 Gulana Ave, Playa Del Rey). The team will comprise Shaun Conley, Samuel Forthuber, Cole Knupfer, Benjamin Lee, Aaron Newman, Spencer Osbourne, James Owen, Brendon Pate, Townes Potter, Lincoln Quaintance, Jaiden Rico, Remy Romero, Andre Sugden, Anders Tipton, and Joaquin Wagner-Bagues.

El Segundo got a bye in the first round and plays the winner of Heartwell/ Westchester tomorrow at 5 p.m. Should they win, they would advance to Sunday's first championship elimination game at 1 p.m. If needed the championship game would be on Tuesday at 5 p.m. The state tournament winner would advance to the Pacific Southwest Tournament in Fallon, Nevada starting July 25. The World Series will be held at Jamestown, New York, starting August 12. •

Featured Pets of the Week

Provided by Hannah Collett, spcaLA

Pearl is a sweet and special little 10 year old Corgi/Cardigan Welsh Mix girl, and a staff and volunteer favorite. She was abandoned at a nearby veterinary hospital and brought to spcaLA. Since she has been with us, our medical team has treated her for a skin condition. At some point in her life, she sustained an injury and is unable to use her back legs. Our maintenance staff built and fitted her for a cart (or wheelchair), and there is no stopping her now! She loves to scoot about the play yard and soak in the sun. She is food motivated and the volunteers have taught her sit and settle, and she delights in playing the name game. Her favorite activity is being pet, especially around the neck, head and belly. If you have room in your heart and home for a special needs doggie, apply for Pearl today! <https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=LACA-A-330>

Theo is a 2-year-old domestic short hair female, confident, and friendly cat. She's looking for her forever home where she can play and nap all day long. If you are interested in Theo, apply today! <https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=LACA-A-285>

Guerro is 5-year-old, male Pit Bull/Terrier mix...happy doggo! He's working on his manners and enjoys training time. He likes belly rubs, playing, and zooming away his troubles. He would love to go home with you and continue his training. Apply to adopt! <https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=LACA-A-354>

Janelle is a sweet 10 month young female kitty looking for her forever home. She loves to stretch out for a cat nap in a sunny place or on your lap! Janelle would love to be your Friend for Life. Who's ready to make Janelle the happiest kitty in the world? <https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=LACA-A-379>

Happy Tails

Logan, one of our senior residents, has found his forever home! The happy couple who adopted him love senior dogs. Logan is joining them and their sweet Golden Retriever.

Logan is 10 years old, but that did not deter his adopters. Age is just a number! Senior dogs, may be less active then younger pets, but you can teach them new tricks! •

Congratulations to Logan and his new family.
