Yum, Beyond Burger Tastes Great!

By Ron Sokol

One of the great characteristics of our species is the determination to discover, indeed to invent, and by so doing, to try to increase the quality of life here on this mysterious planet, Earth.

Does that sound a bit lofty? Well, consider that scientists believe the first plants on Earth were algae-like and lived in water many, many millions of years ago. Further, it was not until about 150 to 200 million years later that plant life became abundant on land.

“Wait a second, wait... just hold on! I’m hungry. I do not want a lecture. I just want to eat!” said my friend during a recent car ride.

“Yes, you told me that. We are driving to the market, and we are going to buy some Beyond Burgers, come home, and cook them up.”

“That’s going to take a while. Can’t we get them more quickly?”

“Well, okay, we can. Carl’s Jr. has Beyond Burgers if you want to go there.”

“Fine, let’s do that! I repeat: I’m hungry.. okay?”

We drove in silence to Carl’s Jr, went in, parked, did not do the drive-through, and each ordered our own version of a Beyond Burger. I can report that my friend was much more relaxed after he finished eating.

Beyond Burgers are plant-based meat. I regret if I am being “professorial” here, but many (I think most) do not know that plant-based meat has a very long history, with evidence that dates back to ancient civilizations. Mahayana Buddhist monks in China, from 206 BC to 220 AD, were known to be dedicated to vegetarianism and developed tofu meat substitutes.

Today, El Segundo is the headquarters of one of the world’s leading plant-based food makers, Beyond Meat. The company was founded

Art Therapy and Dementia

By Lauren Mahakian,
Family Connect Memory Care

In the most severe stage of dementia, 24/7 care is needed, and significant communication issues worsen. The question then is, how do we know how a person with severe dementia is feeling?

Art therapy – which anyone with dementia enjoys – can improve the daily life of a person with dementia and their caregivers. Because art is a form of personal expression, people with severe dementia and extreme challenges communicating can often express their feelings through art, even among those who never had what they consider artistic talent. This is why we developed our proprietary Live Love Art program for our clients with dementia.

One of my favorite art therapy activities starts with photos of someone with dementia alone or with their loved ones. This taps into long-term memory and evokes an emotional response. I then ask how they feel while looking at the photo and encourage them to paint freely, usually with watercolors. Because watercolor is transparent, they may portray deep and complex feelings, even if we don’t fully understand them.

Coloring is another great activity, especially if the person with dementia has trouble drawing. Coloring with crayons – whether they stay within the lines or not – is an excellent way to keep them engaged and calm.

Another favorite activity is using modeling clay. It’s highly sensory, with the

Why Support the Bank?

As a resident of an 18-unit condo development in El Segundo, our Association needs a $70,000 loan to repair and renovate our pool area. Citizens Bank in town has handled our finances and checks for years. There was no doubt who we would turn to for help. Our Treasurer went into Citizens and explained our situation and asked for a loan. To our shock, the unbelievable answer was no! Our condo development has been in El Segundo for over 40 years. Needless to say, our condo association was very, very disappointed and surprised at the Citizen's underwriter decision. Where is the local support El Segundo is known for...helping each other? It is my belief that banks are here to help locals buy and build their community together. It is a wonderful life says Jimmy Stewart and we are part of this fine community who needs a helping hand. All 36 condo residents work in the area, pay taxes, retired, go to school, attend church, volunteer, support our excellent fire department and super police department. Collectively, we support fundraising activities such as our 11-12-yr-olds baseball team winning the World Series, along with daily support for local businesses, and city sponsored events. We believe in our small community and want us to succeed, grow and be happy but need a hand today.

El Segundo Seniors Get Their Day

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

In this day of recognition, there comes a point near the end of each high school sports season to recognize the seniors. They are lauded for their commitment, time, dedication, and how they have grown within the program. They are escorted or joined by family members or close friends as they are introduced.

Before the final scheduled home football game, the seniors from the football team, Eagle Pride Marching Band, Cheer, and choir were introduced to an overflow supportive crowd. The boy's water polo team held their Senior Appreciation this past Monday before their final regular season home match.

Football Team

years) saxophone section, Quinn Gregory (six years) co-section leader, Bianca Hammer (nine years), Anna Harper (four years) co-mellophone section leader, Tyler Kazen (six years), Olive Nelson (nine years) co-trombone section, LaVie Soc (three years) clarinet section leader and woodwind captain and Hayden Song (four years).

Cheer Squad

No athletic event is complete without the Cheer squad, especially at football and basketball games. These gifted students are not only athletic but also leaders in the classroom. They bring their school spirit to the fans and perform for the community in parades, too. The seniors honored included Abby Cabrera, who has cheered for 12 years, including Pop Warner and All-Stars, and hopes to become an attorney. Kaylin Milo has cheered for five

Eagles Fall to South Torrance

With a possible playoff berth on the line against South Torrance, there was much riding on Senior Appreciation night. A win would give the Eagles the win total needed to be playoff-eligible. Before the game, an emotionally charged ceremony honoring the Lawndale on the road. The Eagles will need to cut down on their penalties and turnovers and limit Lawndale's passing game to stay in the game.

Water Polo Team Wins Orange County Tournament

The Eagles continued their unblemished season by sweeping through the Central Orange County Tournament, defeating Segerstrom 19-7, Brentwood Academy 21-2, Woodbridge 16-7, and Capistrano Valley 12-7 in the finals.

Sophomore center Tristan Foster led all scorers in the tournament with 21 goals. Max Hale was stellar, with 14 goals and six assists. Senior goalie Luc Giroux had 23 blocks over the four-game tournament, including 11 in the championship game. Other Eagles who stood out were Nolan Barnett (seven goals, Eagle quarterback Anthony Temesvary was chased out of the pocket all game long against South Torrance.

Chasen Lafolette, Isiah Torres, Max Janicek, Diego Escario, Jesse Ruiz-Sandoval, Jonah Gardiner and Gabriel Blanco. Each of the players was introduced and met their family members on the sidelines.

El Segundo HS Band

The award-winning Eagle Pride Marching Band honored their seniors. Most of these band members have played an instrument for as many as ten years. Their dedication over the years culminates as seniors performing at competitions, parades and events. The seniors include Haper Dame (seven years) Head Drum Major, Rose Padlipsky (ten years) flute section, Benjamin Barnett (four years), Aaron Fernandez (eight years), Josie Gardner (nine years), Bella Gonzales (eight years and plans to study sports management at a four-year university. Kylie O'Connor has ten years of cheering to her credit and plans to take her excellent GPA to a prestigious university. Raylene Dallas Silva started her cheering at five years old and has 13 years of experience. She plans on attending a university to study nursing.

Choir Seniors

The El Segundo HS choir has been an award-winning group for many years under the direction of Gianna Summers. The choir, including the honored seniors, has performed on the national stage and represented the school and our community at international venues.

Hailey Atteridge (four years), Fundraising Director; Hailey Cadmus (four years), choir

Isaiah Rodriguez helped stop the South Torrance running game.

Eagle's seniors was followed by a moving National Anthem rendition by the seniors of the choir. Unfortunately, those were the highlights of a game that got away from the Eagles early and fell 28-0.

The Spartans scored on their third play of the game on a 23-yard pass play. They would score in the second quarter on a deep pass play from Matt Espinosa to Kyle Brown to make it 14-0. Espinosa ran one in from four yards out in the third quarter to make it 21-0 and scored on another long pass play midway through the fourth quarter.

It was a disappointing loss for a team that had improved immensely over the season's first eight weeks. Now, the Eagle's playoff hopes hinge on their final game against eight assists, five steals), Carter Williamson (eight goals, seven assists, four steals), and senior defender Logan Fastman, who led the defensive effort with seven steals and had three goals and four assists.

The first three games leading up to the championship match were relatively easy. El Segundo outscored their opponents 56-16. In the final, the Eagles, who are the top-ranked team in the CIF Southern Section Division 3, faced the Capistrano Valley Cougars, who is the fourth-ranked Division 2 team.

In the championship game, the Eagles maneuvered their way to a 3-0 first-period score. In the second period, El Segundo continued its scoring ways by getting in moist, pliable clay squishing between fingers as they work with it. The process is more important than the product. Be sure to ask questions about what they're creating and offer your encouragement.

Making a collage is a fabulous way to tap into a loved one's long-term memory. You can use newspapers, photographs, or magazines, but let your loved one make the collage however they want. It can help trigger some memories, and you may ask them to share, which they may communicate with expression or body language.

Look for inspiration from your loved one's former career if needed. This may bring a sense of satisfaction or fulfillment. Try to understand better what they did when they were working and see if there is any way those former skills are helpful in art therapy. For example, a person may have worked as a landscaper, so do artistic gardening activities. Practice arranging flowers with someone who worked in design. Build models with a loved one who was more technical or hands-on in their career. Get a little creative and try several approaches.

When doing art therapy activities with a person with dementia, keep the activities at an adult level. Treating them as a child can feel demeaning and may have undesired effects that can lead to resistance or agitation. Make the activity social, ask questions about what they're drawing or creating, and ask them to share their thoughts.

Art therapy is a fantastic resource for caregivers of people with severe dementia, but you can also use it with people in all stages of the disease. Remember to look for safe materials, supervise the activity, and remain engaged. Art can resonate with our souls. •

Teen Book Review of Chalice of the Gods by Rick Riordan

By Issac Ingram

Have you ever read a book by Rick Riordan? He is a well-known author who excels in developing characters and keeping the reader on the edge of every page. He just released a new suspense novel about Percy Jackson titled "Chalice of the Gods." This fantasy/mythology book takes place in the modern world and chronologically falls after the series titled "The Heroes of Olympus," where Percy saves the world from the earth itself, but before the series titled "The Trials of Apollo." In the Trials series, Apollo battles both with Roman emperors and with the fact that Zeus made him human, but he wants to be a God again.

In this new release, Percy Jackson must get a college recommendation letter (ugh, haven't we all heard about this from our parents) from Ganymede, who will only do this in exchange for Percy and his friends retrieving his magic chalice, which was stolen. Read the book to find out who stole the chalice and the path of events Percy and his friends--Annabeth and Grover--had to go through to gain Ganymede's recommendation letter.

This includes the unfortunate events of getting turned into 8-year-olds, being told they have to go to a river full of snakes and being required to sneak into Mount Olympus. One more tantalizing fact, if you are not interested already, is that this golden chalice grants immortality to anyone who drinks from it. Will Percy and his friends be able to resist? Find out, by reading this fabulous new book, Chalice of the Gods!

Check out the ebook from the Libby App, or from the Libby site on our digital library page, www.elsegundolibrary.org/digital-library.

Film Review

Lost Souls Connect Over Christmas in The Holdovers

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

At the expense of sounding corny, The Holdovers is a film that truly warms the heart and soul, like the cinematic equivalent of a self-soothing hug by a crackling fireplace. Directed by Alexander Payne (Nebraska, Sideways), Paul Giamatti returns to the big screen in top-tier form as a cranky and out-of-touch professor whose cold heart begins to melt after forging an unlikely connection with a student. The Holdovers is a beautifully told story about the human condition and how understanding an individual's complexity can lead to an empathetic, life-changing awakening.

What one will notice immediately as the film opens is the visual homage to classic cinema of the 1970s. The desaturation and film stock quality make The Holdovers feel as if it is a treasure pulled from the archives bad behavior, and Mary is a caretaker who is navigating through the heartbreak of losing her only son. All three are tortured by their own thoughts and sense of hopelessness and, ironically, their lack of communication in expressing these feelings causes them to miss out on a chance for connection. Despite their many differences, Paul, Angus, and Mary are more alike than they even realize. Over the course of the two-week holiday break, the trio engages in comical misadventures, turbulent growing pains, and emotional catharsis—ultimately leading to the creation of an impromptu family unit that they all so desperately wanted.

The Holdovers feels like an instant classic, anchored by a knockout performance from Paul Giamatti. His pompous, pipe-smoking, historical text-spewing character is not only a riot to watch on screen but also mimics the classic tortoise archetype. He retreats into his shell when feeling threatened and is extremely vulnerable without his defensive armor. Paul's armor in this case is his intelligence, which is constantly tested by the wilding, unruly, and hare-like Angus. Newcomer Dominic Sessa is a breath of fresh air, acting as if he was somehow plucked from the 70s as well. The authenticity in his performance is incredibly impressive and sets a high bar for any future projects. The consistently wonderful Da'Vine Joy Randolph delivers an award-worthy rendition of a single grieving mother experiencing many emotions at once. She is undeniably phenomenal.

The world of The Holdovers feels so real and tangible, in large part due to the outstanding production design by Ryan Warren Smith which is artfully realized and captured by cinematographer Eigil Bryld. A sweeping and delicately pieced orchestral score by composer Mark Orton—which includes the standard guitar, piano, and strings along with the unexpected addition of a toy trumpet, sleigh bells, and a marxophone—perfectly compliments the abundance of synced songs. Music supervisor Matt Aberle must have had their hands full licensing tracks from Cat Stevens, The Allman Brothers Band, and Labi Siffre among others. A film to experience with friends and loved ones this holiday season, The Holdovers promises to spread joy and put a smile on the faces of even the most curmudgeonly of people.

of yesteryear. This throwback aesthetic carries on throughout the entirety of the film and is largely responsible for the overall tonal sense of comfort and warmth. The Holdovers doesn't just take place in 1970, Alexander Payne wanted audiences to feel as if the film was made in the time period as well.

Paul Hunham (Giamatti) is an ancient history teacher at Barton Academy, the New England-set boarding school for the upper echelon of privileged society. Paul is a single man, never married, and fiercely devoted to educating his students despite his ill attempts to inspire. His strict style of teaching and less than generous "Christmas gift" to the students of homework over the holiday break makes Paul the most despised professor on campus. All Paul wants for Christmas is a break from his students but as fate would have it, he is stuck with supervisor duty. This means he is forced to stay on campus and oversee the handful of students who aren't going home for the break, or the "holdovers".

15-year-old Angus Tully (Dominic Sessa) is one of the unlucky boys whose mom and new stepfather refuse to release him from Barton Academy for the holidays. Angus's frustration at the situation grows substantially when, comically, the four other boys who were initially holdovers manage to get released into the care of a friend's wealthy dad. This leaves Angus stuck with Paul and the only other faculty resident on campus, Barton Academy's head cook Mary Lamb (Da'Vine Joy Randolph).

Paul is a self-appointed loner who is forced into a parental role, Angus is a smart kid with position to score from different angles to take a 7-2 lead. The second half would be a little closer when the Cougars created scoring chances. The Eagles put on a clinic defensively by stopping 9-of-13 extra-man opportunities. They filled up passing lanes and had takeaways that thwarted scoring.

Luc Giroux was at his best down the stretch, making key blocks, including a counterattack that had no Eagles in a defensive position on a breakaway attempt.

With the big lead the Eagles had in the first half and their continued scoring in the second half, El Segundo won their second tournament of the year, 12-7. Max Hale led the Eagles in scoring with five goals, while Tristan Foster had four goals, and Cooper Albano, Carter Williamson, and Nolan Barnett scored one goal apiece. The tournament MVP went to Max Hale, while Tristan Foster and Luc Giroux were named to the All-Tournament team.

The Eagles improved to 26-0 on the season before finishing up Pioneer League play this past Monday against Beverly Hills and yesterday against Downey. The playoff pairings are scheduled to be released on Saturday, and the Eagles are likely to be the top seed. •

Blueberry Lemon Overnight Oats

Provided by Campbells Soup Corp.

We love overnight oats, and when you learn to make these overnight oats, you'll love them, too. These easy overnight oats take only 5 minutes to assemble, and this Blueberry Lemon Overnight Oats recipe is a pretty and delicious version. V8 Pomegranate Blueberry adds flavor and a pretty purple color while lemon zest brings a citrus pop. Chia seeds bump up the fiber, making this a good-for-you breakfast that you can customize by topping with your favorite fresh fruit. We like to add blueberries, but strawberries or sliced banana are great, too- or all three! Blueberry Lemon Overnight Oats are a grab-and-go breakfast that you'll feel great about.

Ingredients

- 1 1/3 cups uncooked old-fashioned oats
- 1 cup V8® Blends 100% Juice Pomegranate Blueberry
- 1 container (5.3 ounces) vanilla plant based yogurt
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon zest
- 1 teaspoon chia seeds

Directions

- Step 1: Combine the oats, V8, yogurt, lemon zest and chia seeds in a bowl. Cover and refrigerate overnight or for up to 3 days.
- Step 2: Stir before serving and top with fresh blueberries, if desired.

Send us a photo and recipe of your favorite dish.
We'd love to share it with the community. Send to: web@heraldpublications.com

Purrrfect Companions

Tommy
Kitten Rescue rescues cats and kittens from a variety of situations. Most live in our volunteers' homes and those volunteers foster them until we can find permanent homes for them. Young or old, tabby or Maine Coon, we care for orphaned and abandoned kittens that need to be bottle-fed around the clock, moms with litters, cats that need socialization, and sick or injured animals. When they are finally ready for their forever home, we will help match you with the purr-fect one. When you adopt, you save a life... and in turn enrich your own.

Tommy is an affectionate, curious little adventurer, who loves exploring every nook and cranny of the house. He likes to follow his foster mom around and "assist" her with everything she does. His favorite thing is to play with his foster sister, Callie. Tommy grooms her once they get too tired and need to rest. As soon as you start petting him, he turns into a loud purr machine. Tommy absolutely loves his cat tunnel and crinkle balls, that he sometimes carries around or even plays fetch with them! Tommy is adventurous yet gentle, loving nature makes him a purr-fect companion. Due to his young age, Tommy will need to be adopted together with another kitten or go to a home where there already is a friendly playful cat to keep each other company.

Molly is a sweet and cuddly cat. She enjoys spending her days exploring and playing with her siblings. Molly likes to be pet and shows it by purring instantly. This loving girl will do best in a home with another cat she can spend her days with. Molly would love to be adopted with her sister, Bella, if possible.

Kenny is a darling tuxedo who was found abandoned on the street as a tiny skinny kitten hiding under cars. Kenny was instantly adopted by resident foster kitty Richie who is also available if you are looking for two feline friends. Kenny loves to play with toys, cuddle in bed, sit on your desk while you work and give kitten kisses. He loves

Molly his buddy "daddy" one year old Richie who washes, cuddles, plays and sleeps with him. Kenny gets along with other cats and small dogs. He needs either another young cat or kitten to play and socialize properly with

Viola is a vivacious and vibrant little girl who is the complete package: sweet, social,

Viola playful, extremely soft, and utterly gorgeous. She is the belle of the ball who loves other cats and they love her. She also adores humans. While she enjoys toys (tunnels in particular), Viola much prefers playing with other cats (especially their tails!) and being an affectionate shadow to her humans. Some of Viola's favorite things include: laying on her back for belly rubs, being kissed and held like a baby, zoomies, being goofy and making humans laugh, perching on top of cat trees. Due to her young age and love of feline friends, Viola will need to be adopted with another kitty or go to a home that already has a young playful cat.

Looking for a lively and fearless addition

Lucky to your family? Lucky is the epitome of spunk, high energy, curiosity, and bravery – a bundle of feline enthusiasm waiting to bring excitement into your life! He is a thrill-seeker with boundless energy. Whether he is boldly investigating new spaces or engaging in spirited play, Lucky is always up for a good time. Give Lucky the loving home he deserves, and let the thrilling entertainment begin.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information to see these or our other kittens and cats and for a list of our weekend adoption events, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

The donations and support we receive from individuals like you, who share our love and commitment to helping cats and kittens in Los Angeles, are the sole reason we are able to do what we do. We are grateful for your financial help. By making even a small donation today, you can touch the lives of the many deserving, wonderful animals in our care. There are many ways you can donate and help, and every dollar means so much. Kitten Rescue is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 3519 Casitas Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90039.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. • in 2009, with its first products launched in the United States in 2012. In 2019, Beyond Meat went public and became a public-traded stock on the Nasdaq exchange. It has been a roller coaster; there is a lot of competition, but Beyond Meat is in nearly 14,000 stores nationwide and some 80 countries across the globe.

The most well-known product is the Beyond Burger, which indeed is designed to look, cook, and taste like a traditional beef burger. There also is quite a variety of other plant-based meat products and Beyond Meat products are available at well-known stores, markets, and outlets, and there is an e-commerce site as well. Efforts have been made, and invariably will continue, to develop and market Beyond Meats food items in conjunction with other companies. Not everything works according to plan, or as well as hoped, but the effort is admirable and impressive. You gotta try! Remember, determination and invention are vital.

El Segundo is well known for aerospace, a charming downtown, a quality high school, and nice homes, but it also can proudly tout the headquarters of Beyond Meat. Part of the company's effort is to promote good health, but when Ethan Brown founded the company, its stated mission was to combat climate change. The bottom line is that the company is focused on "the good." The good for us, the good for all. •

City of El Segundo
PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The PLANNING COMMISSION will hold a public hearing on:

ZONE TEXT AMENDMENTS TO IMPLEMENT PROGRAM 9 OF THE CITY'S HOUSING ELEMENT
Address: Citywide

Project Description: Amend certain sections of the City's Zoning Code (Title 15) pertaining to Emergency Shelters; Employee Housing and Low Barrier Navigation Centers; regulatory classifications for Residential Care Facilities and Senior Citizen Housing; and add a section regarding Reasonable Accommodations. (Environmental Assessment No. 1345 and Zone Text Amendment No. 23-02)

Applicant: City of El Segundo
Hearing: Thursday, November 9, 2023, 5:30 p.m.
City Council Chambers
350 Main Street, El Segundo, CA 90245

Environmental Determination: An Initial Study of Environmental Impacts was prepared for the Housing Element pursuant to the requirements of CEQA Guidelines § 15063. The Initial Study demonstrated that the Housing Element would not cause any significant environmental impacts, nor would not result in approval of any physical improvements. A Negative Declaration was prepared and circulated for public review and comment from November 26, 2021 to December 27, 2021. A Notice of Intent to adopt a Negative Declaration was prepared, posted and circulated pursuant to CEQA Guidelines § 15072. Thus, it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the Ordinance may have a significant effect on the environment.

Further Information: The project file and plans are available for public review, Monday through Thursday between 7:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. and Fridays between 7:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. in the City of El Segundo Community Development Department, 350 Main Street, El Segundo, CA, 90245.

Notice of Public Hearing

The CITY COUNCIL will hold a public hearing on:

Zone Text Amendment to Permanently Allow and Regulate Home-Sharing

Address: Residential Zoned properties in El Segundo

Project Description: On October 1, 2021, El Segundo commenced a 15-month pilot program allowing property owners to apply for a Home Share Rental Permit, a very limited program that allowed only property owners to obtain a permit to conduct short term home sharing within their residence. On November 15, 2022, the City Council extended the pilot program through the end of 2023, and directed staff to gather more data and return to City Council with an Ordinance prior to the end of 2023. The City Council will consider whether to continue allowing homeshares through a Homeshare Permit process in the City's Residential zones, and may also discuss whole-house Short-Term Rentals, and to proceed with whole-house Short-Term Rentals. (Environmental Assessment No. EA-1180 and Zone Text Amendment No. ZTA 23-02).

Applicant: City of El Segundo
Hearing: Tuesday, November 7, 2023, at 6:00pm
City Council Chamber
350 Main Street, El Segundo, CA 90245

Environmental Determination: The proposed zone text amendment is exempt from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA Section 15061), because it consists only of minor revisions to existing zoning regulations and related procedures and does not have the potential for causing a significant effect on the environment.

Further Information: The public can participate in person at the location above and may provide comments via email to allcitycouncil@elsegundo.org by no later than 3:00 p.m. on November 7, 2023.
