Mattel Drops 420 Tons of Snow for Children at '12 Days of Play'

Last week, Mattel hosted its fourth annual "12 Days of Play," a global series of holiday-themed events. This year, Mattel gave the gift of play to more than 100,000 children in more than 30 countries. In L.A. County, thousands of employees volunteered at inner-city elementary schools and the Mattel Children's Hospital at UCLA, as well as Habitat for Humanity and LA Area Regional Food Bank. Council Approves Extension of Contract, Financial Agreement with Consulting Firm

By Cristian Vasquez

In a 4-1 vote by members of the Inglewood City Council, an amendment to a previous agreement with SMF Consulting, LLC for services to assist with accounting processes and procedures was approved. "About a year ago, the chief financial officer was hired and one of the things he was specifically tasked with was to address the audit findings as a result of the City's annual audits," Assistant Finance Director Sharon Koike said. "So one of the things that staff has been looking at is the volume of cash transactions going through our [the City's] cash accounts. In order to address these issues, this consultant has been looking at how our bank work is done and looking at ways that staff has been extracting data and leaking files so the volume of activity through the City's cash accounts is quicker."

The amendment to the agreement was for an additional $45,000, which doubled the amount of the original contract that was approved back on Oct. 15 of this year. The lone vote of dissent came from District No. 4 Councilman Ralph L. Franklin, who expressed concerns about having to double down on financing the contract so soon after its approval.

"To come to us now is premature, in my position and opinion," Franklin said. "We approved the contract and there is no amendment to the contract identifying that there is additional services. So to say now that you want to increase the contact for twice its value, I find disappointing since the contract hasn't been vetted out for at least for the first six to nine months that it should merit this substantial increase."

Of the accounting areas in need of more comprehensive attention were the daily and monthly bank reconciliation processes and procedures. SMF Consulting has, with the assistance from staff, begun the process of

"...this consultant has been looking at how our bank work is done and looking at ways that staff has been extracting data and leaking files so the volume of activity through the City's cash accounts is quicker."

compiling data in a more efficient and timely manner with the goal of developing a system that will allow for the reporting of accurate information on a daily basis.

"There have been a number of revelations within the finance department and we are bringing professional services in order to address that because as we cut deeper and deeper into our operations, we are finding that there are other faults, gaps and missing pieces that are not being correctly monitored," Assistant City Manager/CFO David L. Esparza said. "As this council knows, the City when I arrived had 27 findings. Within our audits this past year we were able to correct 12 of those, but we got back nine additional audits. The use and expansion of these consulting services is to use and address those types of issues that are underlying our operations."

Since the contract was approved in October, SMF Consulting and staff have documented the Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for the many ways to deal with insufficient funds (NSF) returned check items, documented SOP for daily cash receipts and how they reconcile back to cashiers' daily cash reports and daily bank files, set up Excel templates for reconciling and compiling the downloaded daily cash activity bank files, provided training to staff to work with the Excel templates and reconcile the bank files on a daily basis, reconciled the daily cash reports to the monthly treasury reports and to the monthly bank statements, mapped out the general ledger accounts to the bank statements and investment accounts for the 2012-2013 fiscal year, reconciled the investment accounts to the general ledger for the 2012-2013 fiscal year and identified prior period audit adjustments impacting the bank reconciliations.

"We have linked all of our bank accounts, we have looked at our cash activity for the entire fiscal year, we have looked at lead investment accounts and we have trained existing staff to understand the entire process because the intent is that staff takes this over and to do it themselves," Koike said. •

Understanding the 'Kiddie Tax'

By Jason Alderman

For something that's nickname sounds so innocent, the "kiddie tax" certainly can wreak havoc on unprepared taxpayers' yearly returns.

Congress first introduced the kiddie tax as part of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 to discourage wealthy parents from sheltering their investment income in accounts under their children's names, thereby avoiding paying taxes on the amounts. The rules have been tweaked periodically ever since.

Although the kiddie tax once applied only to the unearned income of children under 14 (hence the nickname), it now impacts all children under age 19 (as well as full-time students under 24), provided their earned income does not exceed half of the annual expenses for their support.

Moreover, the kiddie tax is not just a wealthy person's problem: Any outright gifts parents or grandparents bestow on young children, whether to avoid triggering the gift tax or simply out of generosity, could actually be generate investment earnings that would be subject to the kiddie tax if they exceed a threshold amount.

Here's a primer on how the kiddie tax works and whom it impacts:

As it does with adults, the IRS differentiates between income children earn (paper routes, summer jobs, etc.) and unearned investment income they receive such as interest, dividends and capital gains – usually by way of accounts opened in their names by parents.

Taxation of the first $1,000 of a child's unearned income is generally offset by the $1,000 standard tax deduction for dependents and thus won't be taxed; the next $1,000 is taxed at the child's own income-tax rate (e.g., it's 10 percent for taxable income up to $8,925). However, all unearned income over $2,000 is taxed at the parent's marginal tax rate, which can be as high as 39.6 percent for married couples with taxable income over $450,000.

There are two ways to report your child's investment income to the IRS: File a separate return for your child using IRS Form 8615; or include it on your own tax return, using IRS Form 8814 – the latter only works if they had no earned income to report. The tax owed will be the same either way.

Important note: Although including your children's investment income on your return may be more convenient, doing so could increase your adjusted gross income so much that you become subject to the alternative minimum tax or ineligible for certain income-based deductions and credits. For example, eligibility for the American Opportunity Tax Credit begins phasing out for individuals whose modified adjusted gross income exceeds $80,000 ($160,000 for married couples).

Other kiddie tax rules: To be considered full-time students, children must attend school full time during at least five months of the year. The kiddie tax does not apply to children who: are 19 to 23 and not full-time students; provide more than half of their own support from earned income; are over 24 and still dependents of their parents; or under 24 but married and file a joint tax return. These children are all taxed like adults at their own tax rate.

Remember, gifts themselves are never taxable to the recipient. If a gift generates unearned investment income, however, that's when taxation comes into play. Also, any gifts over $14,000 per individual, per year, will trigger the gift tax – although most of us will never come close to the $5.25 million lifetime gift exemption.

For more details on tax filing requirements for children, see IRS Publication 929, "Tax Rules for Children and Dependents." •

Wiseburn Holds First Unified School Board Meeting

By Dylan Little

Both Superintendent Tom Johnstone and Board member Nelson Martinez called it an “obviously historic moment” when the first Wiseburn Unified School District meeting was held during the regular Dec. 12 meeting. The meeting had a very brief agenda consisting of just swearing in members and appointing Board officers, but it represents a culmination of over a decade’s worth of volunteer, Board member and staff efforts to split from the Centinela Valley High School District. Johnstone credited the community’s tenacity for getting the District to finally clear the hurdles to unification.

“Unification is something all the districts in Centinela Valley have been talking about . . . [but] Wiseburn is really the only community that took it seriously,” said Johnstone. “Typically what happens is there’s a lot of energy—it’s almost like running a sprint. It’s like running a 50-yard dash. Well, unification is a marathon. If you get to the end of the 100 yards and think that you’re done, you’re not.”

Board member Israel Mora said that in addition to the overwhelming public support, there was another factor that guided the efforts to split from Centinela Valley--Johnstone. “I thought we ran into a wall and we couldn’t do this and along comes Tom Johnstone,” said Mora. “I tip my hat to you. I wasn’t sure we could do this and you made it happen.”

Since 2001 when unification efforts started in earnest, the District has faced challenges from both Centinela Valley--which sued Wiseburn for not filing an environmental study and caused the District to miss its first chance at unification--and the other “feeder” districts to Centinela Valley, which wanted to see an area-wide vote instead of just the residents served by Wiseburn voting. However, by crafting a solution that amicably addressed the concerns of the other districts, Wiseburn was able to clear the way to unify into a K-12 district.

“Things got shot down, we had a bad experience with the State Board of Education in 2010,” said Johnstone. “We came back, put on our thinking caps and started to work collaboratively for what we called a regional solution with the other districts in the Centinela Valley.”

When Measure W, the initiative that would create the Wiseburn Unified School District, finally did end up on the ballot, 92.77 percent of the voters approved it. Still, Johnstone would’ve liked to have done better. “I’m still bummed out we didn’t get 95 percent of the vote,” said Johnstone.

While the hard work of becoming a unified school district is over, Board member Dennis Curtis said now Wiseburn faces a bigger challenge in making the best of the opportunity the District has been given.

“Unification has been a very important milestone,” said Curtis. “We know it did not come easily. Now it rests on our shoulders to carry on with the important element of unification. How to implement it, the things we do with it and how we embrace the community spirit of what they want and how we put it into--not only the structure of the building, but also the curriculum. That we give the Wiseburn community, just like we always have at least as far back as I can remember, the best educational process that they can get.”

Johnstone saw the successful unification as another way the Wiseburn community works together to provide the best possible education for its children. “The education of our children is the task of all of us,” said Johnstone. “Look at how much we can contribute when we work together. The ultimate beneficiaries of this are our kids and families.”

Lastly, the Board also considered a plan to add a student-painted mural to the east side wall of the multi-purpose room at Juan Cabrillo School. Principal Margaret Lynch explained the mural would be based on student artwork depicting gestures and movement and would be painted on four movable wood panels by the students. Lynch said that parents have sought to spruce up the school’s image, but only with the help of art nonprofit P.S. Arts did the mural plan come together. Part of why the idea worked is that it can be done “super cheap” or for about a third of the cost of a conventionally done mural.

“When I first came to Cabrillo, what parents and community members asked me is, ‘How can we get the feeling of children, that this is a place that celebrates children . . . can we do something like a mural?’” said Lynch. “Well, it’s taken a few years but [the PS Arts instructor] said, ‘This school needs a mural and I can do this with your kids.’”

While the project is still in the planning stages, the Board seems excited by the idea, especially since it would allow the students to paint it themselves. •

News for the ‘City of Good Neighbors’

From City Clerk Norb Huber

Merry Christmas

I would like to wish you and your family a very blessed Christmas. Christians around the world will mark the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem on December 25, even though there is much evidence that Jesus was probably not born on that date. Doing a little research we find the following comments from biblicalarchaeology.org:

“The most loudly touted theory about the origins of the Christmas date is that it was borrowed from pagan celebrations. The Romans had their mid-winter Saturnalia festival in late December. To top it off, in 274 C.E., the Roman emperor Aurelian established a feast of the birth of Sol Invictus (the Unconquered Sun), on December 25. Christmas, the argument goes, is really a spin-off from these pagan solar festivals. According to this theory, early Christians deliberately chose these dates to encourage the spread of Christmas and Christianity throughout the Roman world: If Christmas looked like a pagan holiday, more pagans would be open to both the holiday and the God whose birth it celebrated.”

The traditions that are associated with our American Christmas now far overshadow the origins of the holiday. Americans like holidays. We really don’t care how the holiday started or what we are celebrating. We just like to celebrate. We like to give gifts. We like to be together with our families. That is all good. As for me, God gave us the greatest gift of all in the form of a baby that came to save all humans and me. I have Jewish friends who exchange gifts at Christmas time. I know of people of other faiths who enjoy the traditions of Christmas. No matter what you believe spiritually, the joy and happy times associated with this holiday be with you. Merry Christmas!

Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project

metro.net/projects

Winter 2013 Project Update

This year has been very productive for the Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project Team, beginning with the Metro Board of Directors awarding a contract to build the 8.5-mile rail extension to Walsh-Shea Corridor Constructors (WSCC). Running from the Expo Line to the Green Line, the $1.272 billion project includes two recently added stations, one in Leimert Park and one at Hindry.

Construction

Since September 2013, Metro has been completing final design, mobilizing its team, conducting right-of-way surveys and preparing for major construction, scheduled to begin in Spring 2014.

Scores of utility lines have been relocated. These include an 18-inch sewer line at Crenshaw Bl/67th St, a 10-inch sewer line at Crenshaw Bl/59th St and a storm drain just north of Crenshaw Bl/48th St.

There have been zero accidents, and Metro remains committed to safety. Construction Safety Awareness Training for project neighbors has also begun. Schedule yours now at crenshawcorridor@metro.net.

Additional pre-construction activities include meeting with diverse stakeholders, coordinating construction activities and conducting business profiles in anticipation of construction. The project team has finalized its list of properties to be acquired and acquisition has begun.

The Project Groundbreaking is set for early 2014. Regularly scheduled construction update meetings will begin in February 2014. Be sure to sign up at crenshawcorridor@metro.net, to receive construction notices and invitations to all future meetings.

Delivering on Measure R’s promise of speeding the delivery of transit projects to provide congestion relief, the majority of funding for the Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project flows from the Measure R half-cent sales tax approved by Los Angeles County voters in November 2008.

Jobs

Besides building the new rail line, the Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project will bring many benefits to the City of Los Angeles, particularly jobs and economic revitalization. Construction and administration jobs for the project can be found at: walsh-shea-corridorconstructors.com/opportunities. Metro also offers ongoing employment opportunities and those jobs can be found at: metro.net/about/jobs.

WSCC is a joint venture between Walsh Construction and J.F. Shea Company. Together, they have collaborated on many rail projects in the United States, including systems in Dallas, Phoenix, Charlotte and Chicago. In addition to its October Business Opportunities Summit, WSCC has made an immediate impact in the Crenshaw/LAX community by hosting two food drives and a toy drive for the 2013 holiday season.

Lawndale Proves Too Much for Hawthorne

By Joe Snyder

After a disappointing showing in losing three of four games in the highly regarded Westchester Trevor Ariza Tournament two weeks ago, Lawndale High's boys' basketball team regrouped and rolled over host Hawthorne 83-45 in non-league play last Thursday. In front of a crowd of approximately 500 at the Hawthorne Gym, the Cardinals, who improved to 4-5, held a 13-9 lead after the first quarter but they turned things up with an effective full-court press that the Cougars were unable to handle.

Lawndale proceeded to outscore Hawthorne 24-8 in the second period for a 37-17 halftime lead and 30-13 in the third quarter to grab a 67-30 bulge. Spurts of 21-2 in the second period and 17-3 to start the second half enabled the Cardinals to surge out to a 56-20 lead with about three minutes into the third quarter en route to the blowout win over the inexperienced Cougars. It also was a turnaround after eight days earlier when Lawndale was routed by Gardena Serra 77-33 in the Westchester Classic. "I'm blessed with the talent," Lawndale head coach Chris Brownlee said. "It's nice to win by 38 after we lost to Serra by 44."

Highlighting the spurts was 6-foot-9 junior center-forward Chimezie Metu with some spectacular dunks that inspired the crowd. Metu led the Cardinals with 15 points, followed by Quincy Pinkard with 14.

For Hawthorne, which is 2-4, Marlon Towns led with 11 points. "They [Lawndale] were strong," Hawthorne first-year head coach David Gray said. "We didn't play solid defense. We've got some work to do."

The Cougars started the season losing their first three games of the St. Monica Tournament two weeks ago in Santa Monica, but managed to salvage their final game with an easy 82-44 win over New Designs, a small charter high school in Downtown Los Angeles.

At Hawthorne on Dec. 10, the Cougars held off Costa Mesa 51-50. Sparking Hawthorne was Towns with 16 points, including four three-point baskets. Jermaine Martin added 13 points and 11 rebounds. "It was a very good defensive effort for the team," Gray said.

Lawndale is off this week before playing in yet another highly regarded tournament in the National Prep Tournament at St. Joseph High in Santa Maria. The Cardinals open up next Thursday (the day after Christmas) against Central Catholic from Modesto. The Cougars are currently playing in the Westminster Tournament, which began on Monday and will run through Saturday.

REDONDO OVERCOMES INGLEWOOD

The two South Bay traditional boys' basketball powers in host Inglewood and Redondo met in non-league action last Saturday. In the end, it was the Sea Hawks that downed the Sentinels 61-47.

The first half was mostly seesaw, as both teams entered halftime tied at 28. Inglewood looked like it might pull away from Redondo to start the second half, scoring the first seven points, behind a basket by Darae Elliott. After that, the Sea Hawk defense tightened in holding the Sents to just three field goals the rest of the contest.

Redondo was able to pull ahead by eight points after three quarters behind two free throws by Cameron High, two inside baskets by Terrell Carter, a three-pointer from sophomore guard Leland Green and a basket by Cameron Williams. The Sea Hawks, who improved to 5-1, continued to pull away in the fourth period.

Ian Fox led Redondo with a game-high 20 points. Inglewood, which fell to 2-3, was led by Christian Odionu with 11 points.

The Sentinels are moving to the Bay League with the Sea Hawks, which should be an interesting boys' basketball rivalry. Both teams are made up mostly of underclassmen. Inglewood visited Peninsula High in Rolling Hills Estates last Monday.

LADY COUGARS OUTLAST CARDINALS

In a match-up between two promising prep girls' basketball teams, it was host Hawthorne that outlasted Lawndale 46-39 in overtime in a non-league rivalry last Thursday. The Cardinals, who are 4-1 and coming off winning the South El Monte Tournament from a few days earlier, held an eight-point lead in the fourth quarter but the Cougars (4-1) came back and sent the game into overtime as Deonshanae Sadler made one of two free throws to tie the contest at 36 with 15 seconds left in regulation. Sadler scored the overtime period's first two baskets to give Hawthorne the lead for good. They scored the first nine points of the extra four-minute period.

Noe Tukutau led the Cougars with 12 points, followed by Kristina Brown with nine. Lawndale was led by Taylor Hall with a game-high 14 points.

In another Centinela Valley non-league rivalry at Lawndale on Dec. 10, the Cardinals topped an improved Leuzinger team (under first-year head coach Bo Corona, who was earlier successful at Inglewood St. Mary's Academy and Playa del Rey St. Bernard) 54-48. The Olympians fell to 5-3 with the loss, but it is already much better than the 1-19 record of last season.

The Cougars, meanwhile, won against Crespi--a former all-boys' Catholic school in Encino that recently went co-ed--47-40. Torie Johnson and Kristina Brown shared Hawthorne's high-scoring honors with 13 points apiece.

Hawthorne is currently playing in the El Segundo Tournament, where it opened against the host Eagles last night and will face Venice Friday at 4:30 p.m.

Lawndale is also playing in the El Segundo Tournament where it began Monday against Westminster and played Palos Verdes yesterday. The Cardinals take on defending Ocean League champion and last year's CIF-Southern Section Division IIA finalist Culver City Friday at 3 p.m. The classic runs through Saturday. •

The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $331,604.61. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property.

You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (619)590-1221 or visit the internet website www.dlppic.com, using the file number assigned to this case 1325547-33. PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Wowzer Schnauzer

If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org.

Please visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoptions fair held every Saturday from noon-3:30 p.m. or check out our website, www.msfr.org. Our adoption fairs take place at Petco, 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway, Redondo Beach, California. Schnauzers! Bet you can't adopt just one!

Let's see if we can give these furry kids a Happy Tails ending of their own!

"Hi I'm Garth and I've had more than my share of neglect during my eight years. My owner was arrested and I was terrified, but that turned out to be the best thing that could have happened to me. The MSFR folks rescued me from an LA County shelter and they took me in even though I was pretty disgusting. I was mortified because I hadn't been bathed or groomed in so long that I was a matted, filthy mess. First stop on my road to a new life was a trip to the vet where I had to have 21 teeth extracted because they were so rotten the stench was terrible. Then I had to have a senior screen for bladder stone surgery. When the vet X-rayed me to check for stones, they also found out that I had been shot with a BB gun and had a BB lodged in my hip muscle. You can't believe how much better I look and feel now that I've the proper care, but I am going to have to be on Rx dog food to prevent reoccurring stones. Other than being a little overweight (21 pounds), I'm ready to start living life again. I'm a real people guy and I'm looking forward to making some new doggie pals. My one wish is to find a family that will appreciate my sweet disposition and adopt me. I know that not everyone is neglectful and I'm ready to give all my love and share my life with a family who will love me back."

Great things come in small packages! If you come to our adoption fair and ask for Becky, you'll see that it's true: "I was rescued from an LA County shelter where I was called a stray, but now I'm looking for my forever home. I'm a friendly, two-year-old female that is most likely a Miniature Schnauzer/Shih Tzu mix, but that's only a guess. My pedigree might be questionable, but one thing that's certain is that I am as cute and cuddly as can be. I may be petite, just under 10 pounds, but my personality and desire to find a family to love is huge. I have lots of love to give and I know you'll want to take me home once I've stolen your heart."

"Aye, my name is MacTavish but my friends call me Tavy. I got me name because I have a charcoal face and remind folks of a Scottie! I'm a 15-pound, one-year-old, male, Miniature Schnauzer mix. Before I was rescued, I spent several weeks at an LA city shelter after coming in as a stray. I'm not afraid to admit that I was a tad overwhelmed by it all and kept to myself during me stay there. 'Tis probably why not many folks were interested in meeting me. Once I get to know you, and that doesn't take long, I'll be your best friend and a loyal, loving companion. I get along well with other dogs and the ladies say I am cute as a button! I'd love to meet and greet you at our adoption fair, so stop on by."

"Hello. I'm Lady and that's exactly what I am. I'm a two-year-old Terrier mix who is a petite 7.5 pounds. Some may call me timid, but I like to think of myself as reserved. I was rescued from the Devore shelter in San Bernardino several weeks ago and now spend my time with the lovely volunteers at Yellow Brick Road. I must admit that I have bloomed under their care and I love to be held and cuddled. I get along well with both the large and the small dogs at Yellow Brick Road. I'm not a barker, I walk well on a leash and ride well in a car. I would be a wonderful addition to any household, but especially for an older person who wants a loving little companion to hold on their lap. If you would like to meet me, I can be seen anytime at Yellow Brick Road Doggie Playcare in El Segundo. Call 310-606-5507. •

Alvin

This one will really warm your heart. We wish the best of luck to everyone's favorite senior, Alvin, and his new family. Alvin is the nine-year-old, male, Miniature Schnauzer/Yorkie mix that was to be euthanized--not once, but twice--and luckily got reprieves. He was rescued by MSFR and has found his forever home. Alvin now has two human sisters and two Chihuahua sisters to love him and give him a wonderful rest of his life. •

THE YELLOW DOG PROJECT.com

If you see a dog with a YELLOW RIBBON or something yellow on the leash, this is a dog who needs some space. Please do not approach this dog with your dog. Please maintain distance or give this dog and his/her person time to move out of your way.

There are many reasons why a dog may need space:

- HEALTH ISSUES
- IN TRAINING
- BEING REHABILITATED
- SCARED OR REACTIVE AROUND OTHER DOGS

THANK YOU!

Those of us who own these dogs appreciate your help and respect!
