Da Vinci Student Awarded Scholarship

By Dylan Little

The Wiseburn School Board congratulated Daisy Chavez, a senior at Da Vinci Science Academy, on being awarded the Caldwell, Flores Winter's Foundation award, which includes a $1,000 scholarship. During the April 24 meeting a representative of the financial planning company presented Chavez with the award.

Chavez will use the scholarship to assist her in attending Sacramento State University to study biology. District Superintendent Tom Johnstone said she was a "very deserving recipient" of the award. He told Chavez that he expects her to be well suited to college. "Daisy, we are very proud of you," said Johnstone. "We know you are very well prepared and you'll go up there and be very successful. Keep up the good work."

The scholastic financial firm funds an annual scholarship open which is open to all graduating seniors in California. Caldwell, Flores Winters representative Patricia Raphael said the firm looks to help students overcoming challenges on their path to high education with the scholarship. Board president Roger Banuelos expressed the Board's gratitude to the company for their assistance in fueling the success of one of the district's students. "Thank you for . . . the scholarship," said Banuelos. "It really does go a long way."

Also during the meeting, the Board was addressed by Bill Magoon on behalf of the residents of the "Choice Blocks," made up of the four blocks south of 138th Street between La Cienega Boulevard and Inglewood Avenue, during the public comment portion of the agenda. Magoon said the residents of this area are once again looking to leave the Lawndale

Elementary School district and Centinela Valley Union High School District and join the newly formed Wiseburn Unified School District. However, Magoon said they are facing a problem with building enthusiasm for the possibly long political battle. "We have started this again," said Magoon. "We had a lot of momentum last time, this time not so much. People have in some respects lost hope and faith because it didn't happen the first time. And there's a little bit of apathy about it, which has been me nervous."

The residents of the Choice Block have cited both the stronger academic record in Wiseburn and the looming threat of additional property taxes under Lawndale and Centinela as motivations for pushing to join Wiseburn. What Magoon thought would further energize the residents is a Board resolution supporting the community in its efforts to join the district. "They want some support from you," said Magoon. "They want to know that this Board supports this effort and that this Board is behind this effort 100 percent. And kind of what they're looking for is something in writing, so they know you're behind this."

The Board agreed to approve a resolution stating their support, which will be signed during the Board's May 8 meeting. Banuelos explained that Magoon's belief that these four blocks belong in Wiseburn is in line with beliefs of the Board, which views every neighborhood in the Wiseburn community as part of the district. "We view everyone who lives in the Wiseburn area as being in Wiseburn, as part of our school district," said Banuelos. "We support this effort, you definitely have our support."

More personally, Board member Dennis Curtis said he has been fighting for this change for over two decades and will continue to push for the Choice Blocks to join the district. "This has been a hot ticket item," said Curtis. "This has been on my radar for over 20 years. At one time I thought we had all figured out. This is still on my to-do list. You have my support, no matter what it takes. I want to dispel any inkling of, 'Well they don't care,'" because I personally do." Board member Blanca Estrada also expressed that making these blocks into a full-time fixture of the district is a personal goal of hers. "It one of the big things I'd love to do as a Board member," said Estrada.

Magoon said he and his neighbors won't give up on their goal of moving into the Wiseburn School District. He hopes for an agreement that keeps Lawndale, Centinela Valley and Wiseburn school districts out of the courtroom, but the recent issues with the Centinela Valley Union High School district has made the prospect of joining Wiseburn especially pressing. "The residents, the neighbors, want to be part of the district. They always have and always will. It's everybody's hope we can resolve this amicably," said Magoon. "At the same time, we as a community, we're determined to get what we want - what we've deserved from 30 years. We're just done. Everyday it's shenanigans in the paper."

Johnstone hoped for a quick resolution to the issue. No stranger to long political battles himself, he referenced the district's long road to unification but said this conflict will be dealt with faster. "It won't take 14 years this time," said Johnstone. •

Traveling Smart

Traveling to the East Coast this past week reminded me of how much we have come to depend upon technology. It is changing everything. Whether or not you have a "smart phone", an iPad, or an Instagram account, technology affects how we do things. This is especially true when we travel. From booking our tickets online, to selecting our seats on an airplane, to showing the gate attendant our e-tickets, these advancements do make traveling easier. In the past I have always been afraid of losing my airplane ticket before I made it to the gate. Now, as long as I have my smart phone I don't have to worry. Since my wife and I are not souvenir people, we tend to take photos to save memories of our traveling adventures. In the past five years, our picture taking has gone from waiting for one week, to one day, to one hour for our film to be developed at Costco. Now there is no wait. There is no need to carry a separate camera any longer now that phones do the job just as well. We can take digital photos and instantly send them out to all of our family members and Facebook friends to make them envious of our excursions. The only thing we have to worry about now is keeping our phones charged. Without a smart phone I may have to actually talk with my wife and stay with her on our outings rather than text her.

Hawthorne Keeps Pace by Routing Inglewood

By Joe Snyder

Hawthorne High's softball team remained in second place in the Ocean League with a five-inning mercy rule 16-2 win over Inglewood last Thursday at Hawthorne. The Cougars, who improved to 3-1 in league and 11-5 overall, dominated the Sentinels right from the start. They blew the game open with six runs in the bottom of the third inning.

Kerri Ludman sparked Hawthorne's offense by going three-for-three with four runs batted in and two runs scored. Casandra Perez hit a three-run home run for the Cougars. Winning pitcher went five innings, allowing four hits to Inglewood, which is 0-4 in Ocean play.

Two days earlier at Hawthorne, first place Santa Monica rolled over the Cougars 12-5. The game started out close with the Vikings leading 5-4 after two innings, but Santa Monica let loose for two runs in the top of the fourth and five in the fifth to break the game open. The Vikings accumulated 17 hits off Cougar pitching.

On April 15 at Culver City, Hawthorne downed the Centaurs 12-6. The Cougars surged out to a 10-1 fifth inning lead, then coasted to an easy win. Hawthorne will visit Morningside next Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. before showing down at Santa Monica next Thursday at the same time.

SOUTH PITCHERS SHUT DOWN LAWDALE

After splitting two games with North Torrance two weeks ago, the Cardinals began going through a series of Pioneer League powers, the first of those being South Torrance last week. At South on April 23, Lawndale was downed by the Spartans

8-1. At Lawndale last Friday, the Cardinals were shut out 4-0.

On April 23, Lawndale, which is 6-11 overall and 1-3 in league, mustered just two hits and one run off winning pitcher Matt Mogollon. The Cardinals started with a 1-0 lead with two outs in the top of the second inning, when Jesus Sanchez drove in George Escobedo with a base hit, but from there, it was all Spartans as they scored eight unanswered runs. "We ran into South's number one starter," Lawndale head coach Jeff Prihode said. "He had a good fastball and off speed. It was the errors and walks that hurt us. They would capitalize on them." Last Friday, the Cardinals ran into South's unbeaten pitcher Drake Pingel, who increased his record to 5-0. Pingel allowed just three hits over six innings. "He was a crafty pitcher," Prihold said of Pingel. "He did a good job. We had a lot of fly ball outs." Prihold was pleased with the strong defense that kept Lawndale in the game most of the way. According to Prihold, the Cardinals had nine fly ball outs.

For Lawndale, it is the second week of facing three power squads. After visiting El Segundo at Stevenson Field on Wednesday, the Cardinals host the traditional power Eagles Friday at 3:15 p.m. After that, it's on to Torrance, which came off sweeping El Segundo in Pioneer action last week, as the Cardinals host the Tartars next Wednesday at 3:15 p.m. Also on Saturday, Torrance, which improved to 14-8 overall and 3-1 in league and is ranked seventh in the CIF-Southern Section Division IV, added an impressive 7-6 win over usual Moore League and Southern California power Lakewood in the Redondo Tournament last Saturday, and, the Saturday before (April 19) rolled over Redondo 11-4.

MIRA COSTA PROVES TOO MUCH FOR LEUZINGER

Leuzinger High's baseball team was able to go the distance in a 7-0 loss to last season's CIF-Southern Section Division III runner-up

Mira Costa on April 23 at Leuzinger, but was crushed by the host Mustangs 22-0 in a five-inning mercy rule game last Friday in Manhattan Beach. At Leuzinger, Edgar Gutierrez and Angel Vital combined for a six-hitter despite the loss. Vital struck out six batters in four innings. Francisco Rubio went one-for-two and had four running catches on defense.

Last Friday, Angel Vital was a bright spot as he got the first hit to break up a no-hitter in the top of the fourth inning with a single. Sergio Hernandez had the Olympians' other hit in the fifth. Leuzinger, which is 3-17 overall and 0-4 in Bay action, will host Palos Verdes in league Friday, then visit Peninsula in Rolling Hills Estates next Wednesday. Both league games begin at 3:15 p.m.

The Sea Kings are coming off an impressive two-game Bay sweep of Redondo by scores of 2-0 on April 23 at Redondo and 5-2 last Friday at P.V. The Panthers, who entered last week ranked second in the CIF-Southern Section Division III, split their two games with West Torrance winning 4-2 at West on April 23 but falling 3-2 last Friday at Peninsula.

COUGARS FALL TO CULVER

Hawthorne High's baseball team fell to 0-4 in Ocean League play after a pair of losses to Culver City last week.

At Culver on April 22, the Cougars lost to the Centaurs 9-4. At Hawthorne last Thursday, Culver shut out the Cougars 2-0.

After visiting Beverly Hills at La Cienega Park last Tuesday, Hawthorne (0-4 in league) will host the Normans today at 3:15 p.m. The Cougars, then, are at home against Inglewood next Tuesday at the same time. •

Politically Speaking

One Man's Opinion

By Gerry Chong

Just went a'flippin' through the papers this morning, hoping against hope that this is the day... the one day the government that wants to make all decisions for us individually, can finally do something right. My good old boy buddy from Texas often laughed and said, "Even a blind pig finds an acorn once in a while" so keep your hopes up. Maybe today is the day.

Anyway, on to page one: it seems President Obama said he would respond to the Ukrainian crisis in a measured way, with no boots on the ground. Well, guess what? Today the Pentagon announced 6,000 U.S. paratroopers would be sent to Eastern Europe in response to the crisis. Maybe these troops won't wear boots, thus rationalizing the president's prior message. Seems to me most people would want a president to respond in a clear and unequivocal way, but this president wants to so nuance his message that there is no meaningful message.

Well, on to page two we go. The IRS had given $2.8 million in bonuses to 2,800 employees who had not paid their income taxes. While that is a violation of federal law, it is not a violation in the union contract so the government must enter a grievance procedure with the union to require employees pay income taxes. Otherwise they can keep their bonuses for their good work.

Now to news about the environment: Having tracked cows for years, the EPA has concluded methane is a greenhouse gas that pollutes the environment, and that cow flatulence is a major source of methane. In late March the EPA has proposed cutting methane by 25% by 2020, no doubt laying the groundwork for a new federal law requiring cows to conduct themselves in a more ladylike manner. After all, the human race depends on it.

Flip the page again to state and local news: 26 states have found a win-win solution to the growing cost of paying for their prison population while promoting government health insurance. First, prisoners are enrolled in Medicaid so their costs are transferred to the Feds. Then when prisoners are released they will be automatically enrolled to a healthcare plan at taxpayer cost. Voila! Fewer uninsured people so it's a "two-fer"one winner.

And finally, on to the last page of the paper: The Cato Institute released its report entitled "The Work versus Welfare Tradeoff," which concluded that in 35 states welfare paid more than the minimum wage, and in some places like Hawaii, welfare paid over $60,000 per year! Yet, The New York Times bemoans the fact that the poor and middle class are falling behind the rest of the world in per capita revenue. Clearly the solution to poverty is to raise the minimum wage to the level of welfare.

Oh, well, I'll just throw today's paper in the trash, and hope tomorrow we'll see stories of the government's successes. •

Another Man's Opinion

In Need of Trustworthy News Outlets

By Cristian Vasquez

This week there has been a feud going on between two cable-television stars. Anchor of Comedy Central's The Daily Show Jon Stewart and Fox News anchor Sean Hannity have been in the middle of an entertaining back-and-forth that was triggered by comments made by Stewart. Naturally, Hannity responded and now we have an entertaining exchange between one of the loudest conservative voices on television and one of the funniest late-night comedians on TV. As funny as it is to see Stewart and his team of writers tear Hannity apart one clip at a time, it is a reminder that the biggest sources of news for Americans are beyond inefficient.

In honor of full transparency, I will admit that I am not a fan of Fox News. They are irresponsible in using fear to reinforce conservative principals with their viewers, with absolute disregard for honesty. Also, I do enjoy The Daily Show because it makes fun of the absurd flaws in the media, among conservatives and liberals, and anything pop culture related. Yet, this exchange highlights what a short attention span we have as a society and the desperate need for real fair and balanced news. Considering MSNBC, Fox News, or even CNN, as unbiased, fair, or balanced news sources is a horrible mistake. The truth is that when a 30-minute news satire can accurately ridicule and highlight the hypocrisy and inefficiency in our major news outlets, then we have a huge problem. In this world of the 24-hour news cycle, a half-an-hour comedy show is infinitely better at sorting out the lies and propaganda packaged by these news outlets.

However, because Stewart and his staff of writers are in it for the comedy and entertainment value of things, they are not the answer to this lack of efficient information. The Daily Show's writers compile some great investigative pieces that are informative and worth the 30-minute investment each night, four times a week, 40 weeks out of the year. Still, the show airs on a network that is home to comedian Daniel Tosh and his collection of internet videos featuring people falling off roofs, getting hit by cars or anything resembling a typical frat party on a Saturday night. So we have to take their programming for what it is: entertainment.

The frustrating thing is that the biggest news outlets that exist on cable television are a failure. They fail to simply provide the news and instead serve to promote liberal or conservative agendas. MSNBC is to the liberals what Fox News is to conservatives: a source of information meant to reaffirm their beliefs and biases. So instead of giving us quality news coverage, productive analysis of events, or constructive criticism of any sort, these news agencies provide all of the material needed for The Daily Show to succeed. I am sure the Hannity/Stewart feud will eventually settle down; each side will believe they won the feud but Americans will continue to lack a dependable news source. •

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Pets Without Partners

Lovey is the sweetest dog ever! She was found as a stray in an empty lot with her two puppies; her owners were never located. Lovey is wonderful with all other dogs, loves all people and would like nothing better than to just hang out in your lap. She is very sweet, very smart and a very quick learner. With her cheerful personality, Lovey's tail is always wagging. She loves going for walks and is up for whatever outing you have planned. Lovey is spayed, current on vaccinations, microchipped, and fine with other dogs.

Lovey's favorite place is your lap.

Jackie is a beautiful 3 year old Shepherd/Lab mix. She was found as a stray and microchipped, but the people at the address she was registered to denied knowing her.

Jackie loves walks and family time.

So it's time for a new, better home for Jackie. Jackie is a wonderful dog who is 3 years old and weighs 68 pounds. She already knows how to sit and lay down on command. As she loves to go for walks and is great with kids, Jackie will be a great family addition. Jackie is spayed, current on vaccinations, dewormed, and microchipped.

Spurs is one in a litter of 5 week old puppies we found being sold on the street corner: three boys and two girls. We DNA'd two puppies from this litter, so about the time they are 8 weeks old we will know what their breed is. We do know that they will be medium to large in size since they weigh 5 pounds at only 5 weeks old and they were all born with docked tails. This is a fantastic litter of sweet, curious, lovable, no-issue pups. They will require that you have the time on your hands to raise them properly. They will need to stay in the South Bay and north Orange County area since they are unfixed and will need to visit us frequently during the next several months. Spurs will be neutered when of age; is currently on vaccinations, is dewormed, microchipped, fine with other dogs; and for the puppy's well-being, best placed with mature children over 7 please.

To learn more about these and other wonderful dogs, visit our website at www.animalsrule.org. If a dog is on our website, it's available. Come to our Saturday adoption events from 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. at 305 North Harbor Blvd., San Pedro (just off the 110 near the cruise port). We are always in need of donations for veterinarian bills and our senior dogs. Donations can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to: Animals Rule Placement Foundation at 305 North Harbor Blvd., San Pedro, CA 90731. All donations are tax-deductible; we are a registered 501©3 non-profit organization.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •

Happy Tails

With a little dog like Radar, what's not to love! His new family is totally smitten and as well as everyone who meets him.

"Radar is settling in great. He played, chased his ball, ate well and has more energy than Jim and I combined. Radar loved Jim from the moment we walked in the door and even though Jim looked at him and said "he's a Chihuahua," it didn't take long for Jim to fall in love too. He is the happiest, sweetest, loving, and funny little dog we've ever had! When he takes off running, he skips the first few steps...so funny to watch! He's great at meeting people too. Our contractor stopped by, too, and was instantly smitten. Radar greeted him with his little waggie tail and lots of kisses. I got him a booster seat for the car so we can start going for rides and coming to Animals Rule in the mornings. Bud the cat is not happy but that will come in time. Radar just doesn't understand why this guy will not play with him!

Radar is settling in and loves his new family and all the friends that he is meeting there!

He's sleeping well. He has a bed in the living room and one in the den, but, of course, he sleeps in bed with us lying flat on his back with all four feet in the air. He's managed "sit" several times, but Jim says it's accidental. I know better: he is so smart and so very eager to please. All it takes is a gentle "no" and he stops whatever he is not supposed to be doing. Did I mention he loves his back yard? We play ball with him, but he's great at throwing the balls around himself and chasing them. Yesterday a butterfly landed on one of the balls and he was totally in awe: stopped, stared for the longest time and when the butterfly flew away, he was in hot pursuit. I like to think it was Roxy welcoming him home.

And his name will stay Radar: he walks around half the time with one ear up and one down. Radar suits him nicely. Thank you both for rescuing Radar and for all the other dogs you have rescued and will continue to rescue. What you do is incredible! Love, Mary, Radar, Jim and Bud."

When you adopt a "pet without a partner," you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Purrrfect Companions

Come and find your perfect partner at our Cinco de Meow open house on Sunday, May 4, noon to 5 pm, hosted by our Kitten Rescue Sanctuary. You'll enjoy raffle prizes, music, food, drinks and meow-garitas with your fellow animal lovers. Adoption fees for adult cats will be only $20. To RSVP and for directions to the sanctuary, please email Sandra@kittenrescue.org.

Arwen is a gorgeous little brown tabby and white girl with soft golden eyes. This sweet girl was rescued from death along with her 4 less than one week old kittens. In her foster home, Arwen has four playmates, and she loves them all! She is very playful and runs around with the 6-month-old kittens; it's a good match- she's a small cat! Arwen loves to be petted, and she will purr up a storm if you let her. Arwen needs patience, love, and understanding as she continues to gain confidence from whatever made her so scared before being rescued and would be best suited in a calm household. If you're looking for a kitty who is low maintenance, but is a good playmate for your cat, Arwen would be your girl!

JellyBean is one very lucky kitten. He was discovered in a car engine, and his foster mom fished him out and cleaned him up. With his fluffy black coat, Jellybean is going out of his way to prove that black cats are lucky! And as if his handsome licorice coloring wasn't enough, he has developed hints of a white undercoat giving him a smoky appearance that is just too adorable for words. JellyBean absolutely loves other cats and even dogs. He is the perfect companion for a lonely cat as he is very high energy due to his youth. If you don't already have a kitty companion for him, Jellybean would love be adopted with Charleze, a gorgeous black female kitty who has adopted JellyBean as her baby or with fluffy grey kitten Constantine, who became his kitten companion upon his own rescue.

Arwen loves to be petted in a calm environment.

These pets are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All of our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see our other kitties, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave. and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave. just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Smart Shopping Tips for Budget-Savvy Baby Boomers

(BPT) - While the economy is moving again, many Americans - baby boomers included - continue to realize the importance of good money management skills. Boomers are focused on making the most of their money by boosting earnings, investing more and shopping smarter.

"Smart shopping isn't about spending less on something, but about making sure you get the best value for the money you spend," says America's top lifestyle expert and author Mar Jennings. "Fortunately, with some savvy shopping tactics, it's possible to stretch your dollars without skimping on your lifestyle."

Jennings offers some SMART shopping tips for boomers:

- Plan shopping trips before you leave the house. Make lists, map out your route and consolidate errands into one trip. You'll not only save time and gas, you'll cut down on impulse buys that will affect how much you spend overall.
- Keep quality in mind when you're tempted to buy less expensive brands of everyday necessities. For people with bladder control issues, Depend Underwear with new Fit-Flex protection is a smart buy because it offers a discreet fit that helps give you the freedom and confidence you need every day.

- Try samples before investing in a full-sized product. Many manufacturers offer free samples of everyday items - like laundry detergent or personal care products - through their websites. For example, you can request a free sample of Depend Underwear with new Fit-Flex protection at www.Depend.com. Sampling products can help ensure you spend money only on things that you know you'll use and work well for you.

- If you have the storage space, don't be afraid to stock up when something you use often is on sale. Buying something you know you will use when the price is right ensures you won't end up paying more when you run out of it.

- Coupon, coupon, coupon! Digital coupons have made it easier than ever to save. Consumers have embraced high-tech mobile coupons as a "green" and convenient alternative to traditional paper coupons. Look for a free app, like Retail Me Not, that allows you to select your favorite stores and use online or in-store coupons. You can even opt in to receive emails with additional discount offers.

- When you're buying a big-ticket item, ask for a discount, even if none is advertised. More retailers these days are open to negotiation, and often the difference between paying full price and getting a discount is simply asking for one.

- Pay cash whenever possible and minimize credit card purchases. It's human nature - and a tried-and-true tactic - that seeing actual dollar bills go out of your wallet underscores the fact that you're spending real money. Paying with a credit or debit card often doesn't have the same psychological effect. Spending cash can make you think twice about impulse purchases.

Evidence of 26 Atomic Bomb Scale Asteroid Impacts since the Year 2000

By Bob Eklund

At a press conference April 22 at the Seattle Museum of Flight, three prominent astronauts supporting the B612 Foundation presented a visualization of new data showing the surprising frequency at which the Earth is hit by asteroids. The astronauts were guests of the Seattle Museum for a special series of public events on Earth Day 2014.

Dr. Ed Lu, former US shuttle and Soyuz astronaut and co-founder and CEO of the B612 Foundation, was joined by former NASA astronaut Tom Jones, president of the Association of Space Explorers and Apollo 8 astronaut Bill Anders, first chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and former chairman and CEO of General Dynamics, to discuss findings recently released from the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Organization, which operates a network of sensors that monitors the Earth around the clock listening for the infrasound signatures of nuclear detonations.

Between 2000 and 2013, this network detected 26 explosions on Earth ranging in energy from 1 to 600 kilotons—all caused not by nuclear explosions, but rather by asteroid impacts. To put that in perspective, the atomic bomb that destroyed Hiroshima in 1945 exploded with an energy impact of 15 kilotons. While most of these asteroids exploded too high in the atmosphere to do serious damage on the ground, the evidence is important in estimating the frequency of potential "city-killer-size" asteroids. For a video visualization of the findings, showing the impact size range and location of all 26 explosions, see: <https://b612foundation.org/portfolio/impact-video>

The Earth is continuously colliding with fragments of asteroids, the largest in recent times exploding over Tunguska, Siberia, in 1908 with an energy impact of between 5 and 15 megatons. More recently, we witnessed the 600-kiloton impact in Chelyabinsk, Russia, in 2013, and asteroid impacts greater than 20 kilotons occurred in South Sulawesi, Indonesia, in 2009, in the Southern Ocean in 2004, and in the Mediterranean Sea in 2002. Important to note as well is the fact that none of these asteroids were detected or tracked in advance by any existing space-based or terrestrial observatory.

"While most large asteroids with the potential to destroy an entire country or continent have been detected, less than 10,000 of the more than a million dangerous asteroids with the potential to destroy a major metropolitan area have been found by all existing space or terrestrially-operated observatories," stated Lu. "Because we don't know where or when the next major impact will occur, the only thing preventing a catastrophe from a 'city-killer' sized asteroid has been blind luck."

The B612 Foundation aims to change that by building the Sentinel Space Telescope Mission, an early warning infrared space telescope for tracking asteroids that would provide many years to deflect an asteroid when it is still millions of miles away. The B612 Sentinel Mission will be the world's first privately funded deep space mission that will create the first comprehensive dynamic map of our inner solar system, identifying the current and future locations and trajectories of Earth crossing asteroids. Sentinel will detect and track more than 200,000 asteroids in just the first year of operation, after a planned launch in 2018.

The B612 Foundation (<http://www.b612foundation.org>) is named for the asteroid home of the "Little Prince" in Antoine de Saint-Exupery's classic novel, Le Petit Prince. The Little Prince came to realize that what is essential in life is often invisible to the human eye.

Notice of adoption of Ordinance No. 2070 of the City of Hawthorne, California, which amended or deleted various chapters related to unclassified uses and site development plan

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on April 22, 2014, the City Council of the City of Hawthorne, California adopted Ordinance No. 2070 entitled "An ordinance of the City Council of the City of Hawthorne, California approving zoning text amendment No. 2012ZA12, amending various chapters and deleting Chapters 17.36 and 17.62 of the Hawthorne Municipal Code, removing unclassified uses and site development plan and all references thereto within the Municipal code

A summary of that Ordinance is as follows: Summary of Ordinance No. 2070

The term "unclassified use permit" is unique to the City of Hawthorne and is not recognized by State Law. Many of the uses called out in the Unclassified Use chapter of the HMC have, over the years, been classified in various commercial or industrial zones. Many others are obsolete or so special in their scale and impacts that they should not be considered under any circumstances or only with careful and in-depth study.

The unclassified uses section became a catch all when the zoning chapter of the municipal code added controversial uses or new uses that were emerging. The intent of the unclassified use permit was to identify uses that have characteristics of such unique and special form as to make impractical their being included automatically in zoning classifications. The authority for the location and operation of any of the uses listed in the chapter were subject to review by both the Planning Commission and the City Council. The purpose of review by both bodies was to determine that the characteristics of any such use shall not be unreasonably incompatible with the type of uses permitted in surrounding areas and for the further purpose of stipulating such conditions as may reasonably assure that the use would be compatible. However, a conditional use permit accomplishes the same task.

Those Council members voting for or against Ordinance 2070 were as follows:

AYES: Valentine, Michelin, Reyes-English, Vargas

ABSENT: Brown A certified copy of the entirety of the text of Ordinance 2070, together with the Codes to be adopted thereby, is available in the office of the City Clerk, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, and is open for public inspection. Dated: May 1, 2014

The Meyer lemons are coming in and they are very juicy this year. I love to use them to make a Meyer lemon key lime style pie. If you don't know what a key lime pie is then you've got to go to the Florida Keys and try one. When I was a kid I would go down to the keys and dive into the pie that is made out of the limes that grow in the region. It's pretty easy to make. It just takes time to squeeze the lemon juice. You know what they say "if life gives you lemons... make lemon pie!"

The Chef

Meyer Lemon Pie

Crust

2 cups graham cracker crumbs • 1/2 cup sugar • 6 tablespoons melted butter
Mix together in a bowl then press into a 10-inch pie pan.
Bake in the oven at 350° for 20 minutes then cool.

Filling

2 x 4 oz. cans condensed milk • 1 cup fresh squeezed Meyer lemon juice • 2 eggs
Mix together; pour into cooled pie shell and bake at 350° for 15 minutes then cool.

Topping

1 cup sour cream • 3 tablespoons powder sugar • 1 teaspoon lemon zest
Mix the sour cream and sugar together and pour over cooled pie.
Sprinkle with the zest, chill and eat. •
