After 29 Years, El Segundo's Still Feeling Lucky

By Chase Maser

Since the early 1990s, Lucky's has been a staple of El Segundo, supplying the community with fresh baked pastries, donuts, coffee and lottery tickets non-stop.

The shop's owner, Seng Fou, opened the donut shop with her husband, Than Chau, with one goal in mind—to run a successful family business with the skills passed down to her from years of experience.

"When we were looking for a donut shop to open, we just drove around and stumbled on El Segundo. We saw the area, we loved it, and so we bought it," says Fou.

From behind the counter, her daughter, Brenda Chau, chimes in and adds some context to her mom's statement.

"We actually live in Long Beach, and at the time, my parents lived in Orange County when they opened the business."

Brenda, who is currently a student at Cal State Long Beach, studying Criminal Justice, shares that "it was already a donut shop when [they] took over."

"There used to be a gas station here a long time ago, but they tore it out and built a shopping center instead. The area has changed a lot, especially the people, but everyone is so nice—the changes keep us busy," Fou explains.

Staying busy is understatement.

According to Brenda, her mom works seven days a week, baking twice a day with her father and brother, Kevin Chau, working the night shift.

"So my dad bakes at night time, and my mom hired a person to bake here in the early mornings before she comes in," says Brenda. "Our donuts are always fresh—we bake them at around 8 AM. It's the best time to come—when the donuts are still warm."

But even after the morning crowd gets their fix, Lucky's gets a second wind from local officers and travelers leaving and entering the city.

"At night, all the customers are from the airport," Brenda chuckles. "And from what I hear, the El Segundo police always stop by. For some reason, they don't come by in the morning, but at night they always stop in. It must be because our coffee is pretty good, too."

Along with delicious coffee from Farmers Brothers mixed with a few different blends, their top donut sellers are Glaze and Maple Longs. Fou even claims that she prepares and goes through more than "a hundred ham & cheese croissants a day."

The Book Hog by Greg Pizzoli

Review by Kristen Morell, Youth Services Librarian

The Book Hog by Greg Pizzoli tells the story of Book Hog, a lover of books but not necessarily a fan of reading. Book Hog loves the smell and feel of books, in fact, he collects them. Book Hog gets his hooves on books a number of ways including purchasing them at local yard sales, independent book stores and even hunts for them in the trash can. Despite his love for books, Book Hog didn't know how to read, he never learned how to. All of the books Book Hog collected went unread, and he ended each night without a bedtime story. One day he stumbles across a book lover's paradise, the library! Book Hog meets Miss Olive, the kind librarian who invites him to Storytime. He becomes inspired by Miss Olive and her willingness to read with him and soon learns how to read on his own. The Book Hog is an inspiring story and would be great to share with early readers. This story is written by Greg Pizzoli, author of another great picture book, The Watermelon Seed. To check out Book Hog or to browse more fun picture books for kids, please visit the library to apply for your free library card. For more young reader picks and staff favorites, stop by our Youth Services Desk. Our friendly Youth Services Librarians would love to help you find your next great read. •

Film Review

Sundance 2020: The Assistant is a Gripping Thriller for the Harvey Weinstein Era

By Morgan Rojas for cinemacy.com

A day in the life of an overworked and under-appreciated production assistant plays like a silent horror film as she becomes increasingly aware of her boss's inappropriate transgressions - and the company's feigned ignorance - in Kitty Green's third Sundance-selected feature, The Assistant.

The film's protagonist, Jane (Julia Garner), is a reserved yet whip-smart young woman flourescent lights all add to the hyper-realistic nature of the story, really placing the audience in the office with Jane. Bare and constrained, the film's soundtrack is also delicate, much like our protagonist. Composer Tamar-kali uses sparse piano sequences and strings to convey a sense of fragility. Director Kitty Green's dedication to the ASMR aspect and absence of a large orchestral score is subtle and the perfect choice for this type of film.

The Assistant, Courtesy of Bleecker Street.

who endures verbal and emotional abuse within the culture of an unnamed NYC production company. As the film opens, it's immediately clear that she is the backbone of the company, keeping the office running in a timely and orderly fashion. Despite her dedication to her position, the office environment is very much a "Boy's Club." She deals with the disparity by keeping to herself and excelling where she can, usually in solo office projects and menial tasks. But when water cooler gossip circulates that the boss is engaging in inappropriate acts with the company's newest intern (Kristine Froseth), Jane is faced with the reality that speaking up for what's right could risk her dreams of "making it" in the film industry.

Julia Garner (Ozark) quietly commands the film as Jane, her performance is steadily impressive and authentic. Co-star Matthew Macfadyen (Succession) plays the intentionally ignorant HR representative with his signature "nice guy" demeanor despite sneaky intentions. In a unique display (and much to my delight), The Assistant is very ASMR heavy. It's a fairly quiet picture and largely dependent on setting up scenes with ambient sound and sound effects during Jane's solitary moments. The deep cleaning, office equipment, and buzzing of

The takeaway from The Assistant is a subtly gripping and timely portrait of power in the #MeToo/Harvey Weinstein exposé era. But as the workplace culture of The Assistant shows, there is still a long way to go before toxic masculinity and improper balances of power are halted and support is given to those brave enough to bring powerful predators to conviction. Kitty Green's defiant drama is the encouragement we need right now. The Assistant opens in select theaters this Friday. •

Lucky

"With a small business like this," says Fou, "you have to be here all the time. Especially with food—you can't trust other people to be as dedicated, so it's a big job that I handle, but I love it. My husband and I have to be here all the time."

Funny enough, when Fou came to Los Angeles, she met and married Than who was already a baker. With her roots extending from China, her parents fled the rise of Communism only to wind up in Cambodia during the reign of Pol Pot and the Khmer Rouge. Luckily, Fou's older brother moved to California first in 1983 and set up his own donut shop before she arrived five years later. When she settled in, her brother gave her a job. Who knew that she would one day carry on that tradition with her own family?

"First, I learned from my brother, and he put me straight to work. Then I married a guy who was a baker—we started looking for our own donut shop and landed here," says Fou.

When asked if she would continue to carry on the family tradition, Brenda smiles and shakes her head.

"I'm not sure because I have plans of my own. I want to go into the FBI—I can't work like my mom. My mom is a very hard worker, but I'll still come in and enjoy the food."

Not only does the family crank out fresh donuts on a daily basis, but they even manage to give back to the community by partnering with local restaurants, like Britt's BBQ, supplying them with desserts for their patrons.

"They always order Bavarian cream donut holes from us to serve as desserts," Brenda explains. "And we also donate lots of baked goods to the high school whenever they have breakfast events or community gatherings."

Before heading out, Fou goes on to share that she never took her husband's last name, clearing out the confusion about their Fou and Chau namesakes.

"I kept my last name because I didn't like my husband's," Fou laughs. "But we both agree on Lucky's—it's something we both feel being here."

Lucky's is open seven days a week, 24 hours a day with baking times at 8 AM and 8 PM—those are the windows to try it for yourself. •

FDR Student Leads the Flag Salute

Lawndale Elementary School District is a community in which all are scholars and all are teachers, working together to spark a life-long love for learning”

At Thursday’s Board Meeting, we had the honor of having an FDR student lead the flag salute. She’s a ROAR model student who aspires to be a pharmacist. The meeting was particularly special because the Stakeholder Committee, made up of staff and parents, shared their work around analyzing the 51 action items in the LCAP. Thank you to Ms. Lety Varela and Dr. Janson for leading the team in meticulous and amazing work! (not all committee members are pictured). Photo Lawndale Elementary School District.

Your Neighborhood Therapist

Dear Neighborhood Therapist: My partner is only speaking in rhyme and it is upsetting my parents. My friend is obsessed with taxidermy and it is embarrassing me. My child wears a three-piece suit to middle school and is getting bullied. What should I do? Is this normal?

— J. Q. Public, El Segundo

Is this normal? It is a simple and common question that usually comes from one of two places. The first is a concern that our own behavior or that of a loved one will invite mistreatment, bullying, or worse. The second is a desire to win an argument: we want our own position to be the “normal” one, as if normality equals morality and worthiness.

I hope you see it as good news that even if I had some authority on what “normal” is, I don’t think devotion to normality will solve much, and I would never suggest pursuing it for its own sake.

While being “normal” can certainly make life easier, I’m not convinced that it’s something we should aspire to. When we consider that smoking on airplanes, not wearing seatbelts, corporal punishment, bloodletting, perms, and popped collars were at one point considered “normal” by many people, it’s a safe bet that future generations will look back on us today and shake their heads at much of how we live our lives.

We reserve some of our worst treatment for young people when it comes to “normality.” Our institutions are set up to funnel them into silos of “acceptable” attire, interests, body type, activities, and ways of thinking. Some argue this helps immunize them to a harsh world that will judge them and sanction them. “You will be bullied if you don’t conform” is a powerful, effective message. It’s also easier than saying, “I will stand with you.”

Perhaps a better question than Is this normal? would be, Is this a problem? Assess whether it is harmful, including whether or not it is worth the social pushback. If it is a serious problem, then by all means work to make a change.

But perhaps your loved one will say, “I really love unicycling down Main Street wearing a polka-dotted tophat on Sunday afternoons. I know people will make fun of me, but I can take it.”

So, what should you do? As usual, I have questions. If it’s not harmful, and if it is worth the social pushback, then can you stand with them and support them? If you cannot do it, can you help them find people who are able to? Can we all look in the mirror and decide whether or not we want to be enforcers of normality or the enablers of diversity and, just maybe, a work of genius or two?

See you next week. Send questions!

Summary of Adoption of Ordinance 2195 Enacting Section 2.41 of the Hawthorne Municipal Code ("HMC") Re: the Establishment of the Reserve Police Officer Program.

Pursuant to Government Code section 36933(c), the following constitutes a summary of Ordinance No. 2195 which was unanimously adopted by the City Council at its regular meeting on January 28, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. Pursuant to California Government Code section 36933(c) (1), the City Council has previously directed the preparation and publication of a summary of Ordinance No. 2195 which adds Section 2.41 to the Hawthorne Municipal Code establishing the Reserve Police Officer Program. The Hawthorne Police Department supplements its complement with the Reserve Unit, which consists of police officers who are civilian members of the community, and who receive limited compensation in return for performing the functions of sworn police officers. The reserve police officers assume all duties and privileges which are vested in regular police officers while on assignment. Reserve police officers are not exempt from the responsibilities charged to regular police officers by the Department, and are held to standards of conduct enumerated in the Hawthorne Police Department Policies and Procedures Manual. California Penal Code Section 830.6, et seq., sets forth authority to form a reserve unit, and provides guidelines and requirements for the designation of reserve officers. These designations govern the scope of authority and duties of reserve officers. Section 830.6 requires a duly enacted ordinance that grants the Chief of Police the authority to appoint reserve officers to certain level designations. Ordinance 2195 fulfills the requirements of Section 830.6. The City Council finds and determines that there is no possibility that the adoption of this Ordinance will have a significant effect on the environment. Accordingly, this Ordinance is not subject to the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to Sections 15061(b)(3) and 15378 of Division 6 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations. A certified copy of the entirety of the text of Ordinance No. 2195 is available both on the City's website and also in the office of the City Clerk, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, and is open for public inspection. Pursuant to Government Code section 36933(c), the summary Ordinance No. 2195 was published at least five (5) days before the ordinance was considered for adoption on January 28, 2020 at a duly convened regular meeting of the Hawthorne City Council. STATE OF CALIFORNIA COUNTY OF LA CITY OF HAWTHORNE I, Diana Cuccalon, the duly appointed Acting Deputy City Clerk of the City of Hawthorne, California, DO HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing Ordinance No. 2195, was duly adopted by the City Council of the City of Hawthorne, CA, at their regular meeting of the City Council held January 28, 2020, and that it was adopted by the following vote, to wit: AYES: Councilmembers Awad, Valentine, Monteiro, Talleda and Mayor Vargas. NOES: None. ABSTAIN: None. ABSENT: None. Believe in yourself and MARVELOUS things can happen!!!
- Love You, Mom

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Purrrfect Companions

Tippy Tail

Every second of every minute of every day, a helpless animal is put to death just because no one was there to take them home. Give them second chance for love when you adopt one of these precious kitties. You can also check out their friends on our website – www.kittenrescue.org

Rescued from the city shelter with his siblings as bottle babies, Tippy Tail is an adventurous, boisterous, leader of his litter. As the biggest kitten, he has always been the first one to explore, the first to try something new, and the first to claim a toy. Tippy is hilarious with toys, growling over them and carrying them around the house. He will purr like crazy when pet and loves to sleeps on the bed with you. Tippy Tail is an independent boy, yet he gets along great with other kitties. He would love a feline buddy in his home and can be adopted with any of his siblings or foster friends. This fun-loving guy has a very sweet personality and would be a great addition to any family.

Jamie is a sweet and playful kitten. He loves chasing toys and wrestling with other kittens. While not a lap cat, he does enjoy curling up next to you on the couch and sleeping next to you at night. Jamie has plenty of kitten energy and would be very happy having another cat of equal energy to play with.

From the moment he arrived at his foster home, Bernie has not stopped purring. This happy-go-lucky purr-monster is a playful explorer who is equally at home energetically chasing a feather toy and relaxing in your arms. Despite his boundless energy, Bernie is very calm and gentle with his human friends and loves to be cradled in their arms. While he hasn't been around children, his foster parents think he'd be a great addition to any home, from families to working professionals. Like all kittens, he'll need a buddy to play with while you're away, but he's great at keeping himself happy and entertained. Named for the lyricist Bernie Taupin, he'd love the chance to be adopted with his brothers (fellow rocket-cats and tiny dancers) Elton and Taron.

If Kahn had an online dating profile, it would describe this handsome devil as "loves food and long conversations." Kahn will start talking as soon as he sees you enter the room, and he'll keep up a steady conversation with you until you lavish affection on him – affection which he is always happy to receive. Kahn loves pets and snuggles almost as much as he loves food. This gentle boy isn't super high-energy (he loves to sleep at the top of a cat tree), and he will co-exist with other cats. What Kahn wants the most is an attentive human, or humans, who will love and treat him like a beloved king

Motley is a gorgeous kitty with pretty white slippers on her front feet. This stunning girl was returned to Kitten Rescue because her former adopter was moving to Mexico. Though she is a little overwhelmed being at our sanctuary, she enjoys attention and getting pets. Motley comes out of her enclosure at night and enjoys hanging out with Isabel and Salty Joe. This girl is comfortable with both people and other kitties. She waiting to share a comfy couch with you in her new home.

Curtis is a strikingly handsome Russian Blue mix with plush smoky grey fur that shimmers and stunning green eyes. He is a big fellow, 14 pounds of muscle. Curtis was dumped at the shelter when his family decided to have a baby. What a shame! This fellow enjoys exploring closets and sitting in the cat tree watching the world go by. He loves affection and might up for being your lap cat. He prefers to be the only male cat in the family, but he gets along with female cats. Or Curtis could be happy as your only cat. This big handsome gentle boy just needs someone to love him.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave. and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave, just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •

Happy Tails

Our darling little Toffee (featured last week) has been adopted! With a new home came a new name and Toffee is now Peyton. He joined two other kitties previously adopted from Kitten Rescue, both orange. It was instant love between Toffee and his new brother, five-year-old Oliver. His new family reported back the first morning that the three "orangesicles" were happily sharing breakfast together.

When you adopt a "pet without a partner", you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Congratulations to Peyton and his new family!
