Recycled Water Project Brings Beauty to the Home of the Rams

West Basin is a proud provider of recycled water to SoFi Stadium in the City of Inglewood Government. The stadium's use of this sustainable supply in the lake alone conserves the equivalent of roughly 11 million gallons of water each year. Using recycled water saves drinking water for drinking. War and Peace in Jutland

Article and photos by Ben & Glinda Shipley

If you only count history when it's written down on paper, then you could say that the saga of western Scandinavia started far away, across the gray-blue waters of the North Sea, at the Lindisfarne Priory on Holy Island off the coast of northeast Britain. Admittedly, biased Anglo-Saxon monks wrote the book, but on June 8, 793 AD, those innocent priors glanced out their windows to find open boatloads of fiery, helmeted savages headed their way. The Vikings spent the next few days slaughtering the godly, enslaving every woman of child-bearing age they could catch, and sailing off with every bright, shiny object they could carry.

And that was just the beginning of the Viking Age. Over the next 250-odd years, the ancestral residents of coastal Norway, Denmark, and Sweden would alternately terrorize, trade with, and conquer the European world all the way down the Atlantic coast and into the Mediterranean as far as Constantinople. With their long, shallow-bottomed vessels, rivers were no problem either, as the residents of Paris, Kiev, and central Germany soon found out. By the time the Vikings lost their mojo, their name would translate into several languages as a shorthand for all the evils of pagan piracy.

Fast forward to August 22, 1707, and Sweden is a world-class military power locked in a perpetual squabble with its Scandinavian kin. After decades of Swedes bullying Russians, Poles, Danes, and Norwegians, the entire continent of Europe (other than the French) has had enough. So what does King Charles XII do? 105 years before Napoleon and 234 years before Adolf Hitler repeat the same grievous blunder, he invades central Russia.

After two exhausting years of fighting, it takes less than a day at the Battle of Poltava to wipe the Swedish Empire off the map.

Fast forward again to 1888, and the Swedish magnate Alfred Nobel is sitting down to breakfast, when he reads his own obituary in a French newspaper (clearly an editor's error). At this point, Alfred is world-famous as the inventor of dynamite and sundry explosives, the manufacturer of massive guns, mines, and shells, and as a partner in Branobel, the Nobel family's avaricious oil monopoly on the Caspian Sea.

For many Europeans and at least one obituary writer, Alfred has done everything to earn his nickname, "The Merchant of Death". But oddly enough, the insight profoundly shocks Alfred—so much so, that he immediately defunds his heirs and invests his massive fortune in the grand public apology we know today as the Nobel Prizes. The most important of these, both in Alfred's mind and in its impact on history, is the Peace Prize. Overnight, the warmonger is transformed into a saint.

Fast forward yet again to May 31, 1916. Sixty miles off the coast of Denmark, 250 ships of the British Grand and the German High Seas Fleets collide in the Battle of Jutland (Skagerrakslacht to the Germans). 8,645 sailors and 62,300 tons of hyper-expensive steel sink to the bottom of the North Sea and Skagerrak Straits in the largest—and possibly most futile—surface action in naval history. For the Danes (who naturally go uninvited to the slugfest), the northwestern skies light up in a loud, manmade aurora borealis never seen since.

In the European rematch, twenty-three years

UFO Cult Bizarreness Abounds in Cosmic Dawn, Based on a True Story

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

If you're in the mood for some low-stakes, campy cult bizarreness, Cosmic Dawn may pique your interest. Written and directed by Jefferson Moneo, this isn't your average sci-fi story that's rooted in imagination and make-believe; this is based on Moneo's own lived experience. He states, "Cosmic Dawn was shaped by an extraterrestrial encounter I had as a child. Like Aurora in the film, no one believed my story." Now we're talking.

Cosmic Dawn, courtesy Cranked Up.

Starring Camille Rowe as Aurora, the film tackles an ambitious premise with obvious production quality limitations, but still makes for an enjoyable watch. Aurora was never the same after witnessing the disappearance of her mother by a UFO as a child. The unexplainable paranormal event wreaked havoc on her life. Everyone believed she was crazy, despite knowing that what she saw was true. It isn't until she meets Natalie (Emmanuelle Chriqui) at a local bookstore that she finally feels seen. Natalie reveals herself to be a member of The Cosmic Dawn, a UFO worshipping cult that all share a common paranormal experience (and a karaoke obsession).

Aurora is skeptical at first but eventually falls in with the cult and its high-powered feminine leader Elyse (Antonia Zegers). Elyse is a visionary, revered by her members in the same way Peoples Temple leader Jim Jones or Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh were admired. It's not until Aurora is invited to a remote island compound for The Cosmic Dawn retreat that she begins to question Elyse's motives, sanity, and self.

Cosmic Dawn plays in a nonlinear timeline, jumping very liberally back and forth four years into the future throughout the film. A bit distracting at times, the purpose is to show that Aurora's integration into the cult happened four years in the past. Even though she has since moved on and distanced herself from The Cosmic Dawn, Aurora soon discovers that she hasn't really escaped Elyse's control.

While Jefferson Moneo never explicitly says what he saw as a child that inspired this film, we're led to believe it was some truly wacky stuff. Camille Rowe embodies a traumatized child turned adult with undeniable magnetism. Even when dressed the same as the other cult members in full-length jumpsuits, Rowe always stands out. As a whole, Cosmic Dawn has a similar The Scary of Sixty-First vibe that feels intentionally trippy and off-center. That's not a big surprise given that the score is composed by Alan Howarth and features music by MGMT.

One of the big takeaways after watching Cosmic Dawn is the film's message of discovery and acceptance. Acceptance is a journey that looks different for everyone but staying true to yourself and your beliefs will keep you on the right path. Just be aware that a belief in UFOs may lead you on a direct path to the mothership.

The Deepest South of All: True Stories from Natchez, Mississippi by Richard Grant

By Roz Templin, Library Assistant, El Segundo Public Library

As quoted from the cover, this title is "A page-turner that's nothing short of a masterpiece. Think Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil with a conscience." A cast of local eccentrics, descriptions of palatial mansions and lovely country and quite a bit of history rounds it all out. Richard Grant made many trips over some years, since fellow author Regina Charboneau invited him to visit her in her hometown of Natchez, Mississippi, where her family has lived for many generations. Regina, the "Queen of Biscuits," authors cookbooks (she is a respected chef of the South) and has owned and operated restaurants and cooking schools. Through her many contacts, Grant was invited to parties, pageants and festivals where he experienced (and heard tales of) some mind-boggling behavior from the citizenry.

Snapshots of characters like 6 foot 4 inch tall Buzz Harper, a gay antiques dealer who was friendly with Anne Rice and "Denver," who lived in a former mental hospital with an odd assortment of folks there "without his permission," and a man who revealed the origins of the Deacons for Defense, a secret group of African Americans who defied the nonviolence policy of Martin Luther King. Events such as the Historic Natchez Tableaux and its relationship with author Greg Iles, and the annual Santa Claus Parade, "the only police-escorted drunk driving event in America," make for entertaining reading.

Winding through these surveys of quirks of character is the tale of Prince Ibrahim, a Muslim commander of 6000 warriors in Futa Jalon (what is now Guinea) in West Africa. Ibrahim was sold into slavery by an opposing tribe. He arrived in Natchez in 1788 and spent 40 years in bondage to small farmer Thomas Foster. Ibrahim eventually made the acquaintance of influential people of the time (Henry Clay and John Quincey Adams to name but two!) and was able to rally many people to his cause to repatriate him to his home in Africa.

The Deepest South of All reminds me somewhat of Douglas Brinkley's The Great Deluge, which was about Hurricane Katrina and its effects on the people and land of New Orleans and the Gulf Coast. Reading this book can assist in a better understanding of race relations and put into context the historical animosities that have existed between North and South for generations. There is always the hope that with continued conversations that include listening (and truly hearing!), we can help to better communicate and work together.

A great example of nonfiction that reads like fiction, I was hooked as I listened to our library's audiobook edition, narrated by Matthew Lloyd Davies, a British actor. It was as if the author was sitting beside me, letting me in on long-kept secrets and unlikely-yet-true accounts of life south of the Mason Dixon Line.

Your Neighborhood Therapist

Dear Neighborhood Therapist,

My partner and I recently began couples counseling. Our relationship is generally pretty good, but we sought out a counselor because we want to work through some problems that have come up in the last few years. When we have our meetings, my partner is constantly trying to convince the therapist that they are right about what is happening. It's not working, but I still feel like this is really unfair and it is making our relationship worse. Is this normal in therapy?

— Not Losing, El Segundo

Dear Not Losing,

Unfortunately, it's pretty common that one partner will try to "win" couples' therapy. Some people come to therapy claiming to be seeking a referee, but what they really want is someone to call fouls on the other person as a way of validating, elevating or normalizing their own position. Of course, if one person is winning couples' therapy, then that means the other person is losing, and generally that's not helpful to the relationship.

A good therapist is not going to focus on who is right or wrong, because assigning blame is unlikely to serve the relationship. Nor is therapy a negotiation where compromise is by default the preferred solution. Are you going to try to negotiate for half as much abuse? Half as much infidelity? Not likely.

Instead, a good therapist is going to ask hard questions that ask people to justify their behavior and their positions. This is when it gets uncomfortable sometimes! Some people feel like a therapist is "against" them, when in fact the therapist is simply pressing for answers to a question that a partner does not want to answer. The reason they do not want to answer is because their answer is unsatisfactory according to their own values, and nobody likes to come face to face with

Financial Wellness Is Critical As Americans Seek Personal Change

(BPT) - As we continue to navigate the economic impact of the pandemic, a Prudential Financial survey* finds more than half of Americans have made a significant change in their lives in the past 18 months, and three-quarters are considering life changes in the future; changes that include switching jobs, taking time off from work and retirement.

According to Brad Hearn, Prudential's president of Retail Advice and Solutions, for those considering making a major financial change, now isn't necessarily the time to throw caution to the wind. "For many, the impact of the pandemic has been life changing, from income disruption, job loss and even reduced or eliminated employer contributions to insurance and retirement plans. Any financial decision needs to be carefully planned before executing," said Hearn.

To help get your financial status ready to support a significant change in your life, Hearn offers these tips:

- Conduct a financial wellness assessment: Take advantage of free tools like this financial wellness assessment to help you create a plan to reach your financial goals. From retirement planning to household budgeting, you can see where your finances currently stand and how to plan ahead for the future.

- Set clear goals and make a plan: What do you plan to achieve with your money in the

their own hypocrisy.

But we are all hypocrites to one degree or another. Many people don't like the way cattle are treated, but they still eat burgers. Being a hypocrite does not itself make you a bad person.

In therapy, it often happens that one partner has "gotten away with" something for a long time, and that time is ending. And so they try to "win" therapy instead, hoping that a "neutral referee" will rule in their favor. Hoping their partner will be told to change.

That's the wrong way to look at it. The fact of needing to change or to act differently in order to accommodate your partner's wants or needs does not itself make you a bad person. Every person could change in ways that would please their partners or loved ones, and most of those changes are uncomfortable in one way or another (otherwise we would have changed already!).

Neither one of you would be there if you did not want things to be better. So why is your partner trying to win instead of looking for ways to support your relationship? Are they trying to get you to submit to their will? How do they think that will go? Perhaps it feels easier to fight to be "right" than to face the shame that they might have been "wrong" all along. Your therapist will be working hard to kick shame out of the room, and once shame is gone, your partner may find that changing isn't so hard or so bad.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: VICTOR ROMAN VELASQUEZ CASE NO. 22STPB00708

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of VICTOR ROMAN VELASQUEZ. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by JOSE ALBERTO VELASQUEZ in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that JOSE ALBERTO VELASQUEZ be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 03/01/22 at 8:30AM in Dept. 44 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgage, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.STOXPOSTING.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 094993-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 094993-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, February 22, 2022, at 6:00 pm, a public hearing will be held via teleconference to consider resolution 8334, approving an amendment to the franchise agreement between Allied Waste Services of North America and the City of Hawthorne. This amendment will affect the rates Allied charges to its customers in the City for solid waste, organic waste, recyclable collections, and other services. The proposed amendment will make the following changes to the franchise agreement: 1) Implementing SB1383 Compliant programs and services 2) Removing of the existing diversion language requiring a minimum diversion rate of 35% of total tons collected from Hawthorne residential accounts and adopting diversion requirement language consistent with SB1383 and the State of California. 3.) Increase the City of Hawthorne's franchise fee to 20%. 4.) Establish a fixed 4.2% annual rate (CPI) adjustment for the life of the contract term. 5.) Allied Waste, currently collects a set number of 20 free scheduled bulky items per year. For customers who do not schedule pickups, Allied Waste will collect items and automatically issue a charge to the customers. Other provisions of the Allied Agreement will remain in effect. Local jurisdictional are required to implement an organic waste recycling program and provide organic waste collection and recycling services to all residential dwellings and commercial businesses within their boundaries. Operations under the franchise agreement will continue to enforce Ordinance 2226 regarding Organic Waste Disposal reduction requirements and target statewide efforts to reduce emissions of short-lived climate pollutants in various sectors in California's economy. In the interest of maintaining appropriate social distancing and protecting the health and safety of the City of Hawthorne Staff and the public from exposure to COVID-19, the public hearing will not be an in-person meeting, and the Council Chambers will not be used for this meeting. Members of the public are encouraged to make comments by submitting written letters to 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California 90250 or by sending comments via email to pjimenez@cityofhawthorne.org, by phone to (310) 349-2915, or by leaving their return phone number. Members of the public who wish to participate in the virtual meeting must contact the City Clerks department no later than 5:00 pm on the meeting date, noting the item on which the member wants to speak. Written information pertaining to this item must be submitted to the City Clerk prior to 5:00 pm on February 22, 2022. Hawthorne Press Tribune Pub. 2/10, 2/17/22 HH-27454

INTERIM ORDINANCE NO.: 22-05 AN UNCODIFIED INTERIM ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF INGLEWOOD, CALIFORNIA IMPOSING A TEMPORARY MORATORIUM ON THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SHORT-TERM RENTAL USE IN THE CITY OF INGLEWOOD AND PROHIBITING PARTY-HOUSES.

WHEREAS, there is a shortage of affordable housing throughout State of California, including the City of Inglewood; and WHEREAS, advances in technology (AirBNB, VRBO, HomeAway and other similar websites, collectively "Online Platforms") have made it increasingly popular for persons to engage in the short-term rental of dwellings as a business and thereby remove long-term housing from the rental market; and WHEREAS, the City must preserve its available housing stock for long-term renters who contribute to the City's cultural and ethnic diversity, and economic revival; and WHEREAS, if left unregulated, the short-term rental of dwellings can negatively affect the character of residential neighborhoods, weaken community bonds vital for a city to flourish and increase demand for public services; and WHEREAS, Inglewood Municipal Code section 8-1.42 provides that whenever any person rents, leases, or has available for rent or lease, one or more residential units, such person is deemed to be in the residential rental business; and WHEREAS, the Inglewood Municipal Code (IMC) contains various provisions which are applicable to persons in the residential rental business, including but not limited IMC section 8-2 (business tax certificate and tax payment required); IMC section 8-23.4 (residential rental business annual tax levy); IMC sections 9-56 through 9-67 (duty to collect and remit transient occupancy tax to the City); and WHEREAS, persons who offer short-term dwelling rentals through Online Platforms may not be familiar with the applicability of the City's various code sections to their business activity; and WHEREAS, most of the City's code sections and regulations were adopted before the advent and now common use of Online Platforms for short-term rentals; and WHEREAS, with the recent major development happening within in the City, the City Council finds itself needing to adopt and regulate the practice of house renting, sometimes referred to as short term rental; and

WHEREAS, short-term rental shall mean a dwelling unit (rented in whole or in part) in which a building (other than a motel, hotel, or an inn) houses visitors, for compensation, for periods of 30 consecutive days or less; and WHEREAS, the content of the City's regulation would address the inspection of proposed short-term rental properties, the notification of nearby residents of proposed rentals, and other factors ensuring the safety of residents and visitors; and WHEREAS, the lack of regulation has created an atmosphere where "anything" goes regarding the condition of properties being rented, their location within the City, the size of the party renting, and other factors that can directly impact the health and safety of the City's residents and visitors alike; and WHEREAS, the City has experienced a recent shooting at an unregulated short-term rental property that caused the unfortunate deaths of four young adults and injuries to another individual; and WHEREAS, this senseless act of violence has resulted in grief, shock and outrage for the victims' family, friends, and the Inglewood community; and WHEREAS, criminal investigations remain ongoing; and WHEREAS, Government Code sections 65858 empowers the City Council to adopt effective immediately, as an urgency measure, an interim ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public health or safety without following the procedures otherwise required prior to adoption of a zoning ordinance; and WHEREAS, an urgency interim ordinance requires a four-fifths vote of the City Council for adoption and it shall be of no further force and effect forty-five (45) days from its date of adoption unless otherwise extended pursuant to Government Code section 65858(a); and WHEREAS, based on the foregoing the City Council finds that there is a current and immediate threat to the public health, safety, and welfare associated with the proliferation of short-term rentals and that allowing such business activities to continue while staff studies the adoption of a comprehensive regulatory scheme would result in a threat to public health, safety and welfare; and WHEREAS, disorderly conduct, crime, and other activities that have an adverse impacts on public health, safety, and welfare are more likely to occur and be severe at short-term rentals if the host does not own or live on the property, rents for less than two nights, and/or is not present to monitor and regulate the rental; WHEREAS, ten days prior to the expiration of this interim ordinance or any extension thereof, the City Council is required by Government Code Section 65858(d) to issue a written report describing the measures taken to date to alleviate the condition which led to the adoption of this ordinance; and NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF INGLEWOOD does ordain as follows: SECTION 1. The City Council finds and determines the foregoing recitals to be true and correct and hereby incorporate them into this ordinance. SECTION 2. In accordance with Government Code section 65858, from and after the date of this Ordinance, a moratorium against the establishment of short-term rentals anywhere within the City of Inglewood is hereby enacted for a period of 45 days pending further study by City staff and development of appropriate regulations. This moratorium shall apply to any use which has not yet been lawfully established in accordance with all applicable requirements of the City of Inglewood, and which has not yet obtained substantial vested rights as defined by the California Supreme Court in Avco Community Developers, Inc. v. South Coast Regional Com. (1976) 17 Cal.3d 785. SECTION 3. In accordance with Government Code section 65858, from and after the date of this Ordinance and for a 45 day period, any short-term rental which is operating in compliance with the Inglewood Municipal Code as outlined above shall be subject to the following additional regulations prohibiting "party-houses": 1. If the short-term rental takes place on property where it is not the primary residence of the host, the rental period cannot be for less than three (3) days, i.e., no party-houses. 2. If the short-term rental takes place on the property where it is the primary residence of the host, the host must be present for rentals that are for less than three (3) days. 3. These regulations apply to any bookings/reservations that occur on or after the effective date of this Ordinance. SECTION 4. Any short-term rental operating in compliance with the Inglewood Municipal Code shall be subject to Chapter 9 (Taxes) Article 8 (Transient Occupancy Tax). Any Short-term rental operating out of compliance with the Inglewood Municipal Code shall be subject to fines, Transient Occupancy Taxes, and penalties. Transient Occupancy Taxes for any Short Term Rentals operated in Inglewood as of January 1, 2022 shall be remitted to the City of Inglewood by the host platform no later than March 1, 2022. SECTION 5. This moratorium may be extended by the City Council in accordance with the provisions of California Government Code Section 65858(a). SECTION 6. The City Council finds that this Ordinance is not subject to the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA") pursuant to CEQA Guidelines (Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations) Sections 15060(c)(2) (the activity will not result in a direct or reasonably foreseeable indirect physical change in the environment) and 15060(c)(3) (the activity is not a project as defined in Section 15378) because it has no potential for resulting in physical change in the environment, directly or indirectly, it prevents changes in environment. Further, this action is exempt from CEQA under CEQA Guidelines section 15061(b)(3) (the amendments are exempt because it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the activity in question may have a significant effect on the environment.) SECTION 7. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this interim ordinance is for any reason held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council declares that it would have adopted this interim ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase be declared invalid. SECTION 8. The City Clerk shall certify that this interim ordinance was passed and adopted by the City Council of the City of Inglewood at a regular meeting thereof held February 1, 2022 by the following vote: AYES: NOES: ABSTENTIONS: ABSENT: Aisha L. Thompson, City Clerk APPROVED: James T. Butts, Jr., Mayor Inglewood Daily News Pub. 2/10, 2/17/22 HH-27453

OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, March 1, 2022, at 2:00 p.m. at the Inglewood City Hall Council Chambers, One West Manchester Blvd. 9th Floor, Inglewood, the City Council will conduct a public hearing to consider and discuss draft Council District Maps and receive and file public comments on the Composition of Council Districts Boundaries, Communities of Interest, and Draft Maps. Pursuant to Elections Code Section 21622(a)(3), the City must adopt its final map of the council district's boundaries by April 17, 2022, as the City's next regular municipal election will be held on November 8, 2022. Adhering to this public hearing will ensure the City has enough time to adopt the final draft map by the next scheduled public hearing on March 15, 2022. Due to the existing COVID-19 health emergency and the social distancing measures currently in effect, and pursuant to Assembly Bill 361, please note that members of the public will be allowed only to observe and address the City Council Meeting of March 1, 2022, at 2:00 p.m. by telephone, video and other electronic means. You may choose to submit written public comments by sending them to the Inglewood City Clerk at athompson@cityofinglewood.org and Deputy City Clerk at aallen@cityofinglewood.org before noon (12p.m.) March 1, 2022. Comments received will be made part of the official public record of the meeting. Contact the Office of the City Clerk at 310-412-5280 with any questions. Aisha L. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: DOROTHY J. PERRY CASE NO. 19STPB00440

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of DOROTHY J. PERRY. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by DARVESA PERRY in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that DARVESA PERRY be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 3/18/2022 at 8:30 AM in Dept. 5 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012 IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: NOREEN T. later, the Norwegians land in the crosshairs of the Hitler-Churchill chess match and lapse into the kind of undeclared civil war that plagues most of the Nazi conquests. The Market-savvy Swedes assert their neutrality and sell iron ore to the highest bidder. The exposed Danes try to sit out this one, but the Germans invade anyway, and it's over in a few hours. But then, with the superb society—is what makes travel so fascinating. But if you venture to Scandinavia in search of warlike or warmongering, good luck. In the 21st century, the Scandinavians live at the top on every happiness, safety, and satisfaction index on the planet. Walt Disney recognized this in 1951, when he brought the grinning Art Linkletter to the Tivoli Gardens of Copenhagen in search of scatterbrained whims of foreigners. They might trawl around town in their modest fleets of bicycles, but these people know all about their impact on history and might even relish it. In many ways, change the shop and road signs, prune back the Volvos and Saabs, and we could have been touring those thoroughly Scandinavian colonies of (northern) Wisconsin and Minnesota.

realized just how perfect the weather had been, how hushed the vast blue waters, how clear and clean the intense indigo atmosphere. After years of commuting across the North Sea, we had direct personal experience of the noisy, vicious storms and cyclones that could churn these angry seas and appall the stomachs of the most hardy voyagers. We'd seen bitterly cold days when the sun rose and leadership of King Christian X, the Danes become the only Europeans to truly sit out the Holocaust—refusing to co-operate with the Nazis and spiriting all but a few hundred of their Jewish neighbors into neutral Sweden.

So what does all this have to do with travel? After millennia of vicious raids, brutal battles, bloody squabbles, and all the murderous hardware they'll ever need, you might expect to find a particular type of personality in these three countries. Nowadays, it might not be fashionable to generalize about race and culture, but countries and regions do sport unique and specific personalities born out of their shared experiences. There are a hundred explanations for all the good humor—honest government, minimal interference, income equality, low crime, great welfare benefits, universal health care and education, mutual social trust—but none of them has anything to do with kicking down the neighbors' doors and running off with their women.

It's not as if the Scandinavians spend their days grinning and giggling with joi de vivre. We found people to be correct more than friendly—informative and well-spoken, generous with their time and advice, modest in their dress, and mild in their manners—but not particularly interested in catering to the Hirtshals — Germans spent billions on an invasion spun purely out of Churchill's spiteful, devious imagination.

Our last trip to these parts started off in Belgium as a drive to anywhere and, by pure chance, took us to the Skagerrak Straits and the Kattegat Sea, the enormous body of water between the Baltic and North Seas that both unites and divides the western Nordic kingdoms. We try to incorporate at least one ferry into every adventure, and this time went overboard (so to speak), crossing the Elbe and the Fehmarn Belt to Denmark, the overnight cruise up the Kattegat from Copenhagen to Oslo, several fjord-jumpers down the jagged Swedish coast, and the afternoon boat from Göteborg back to the Jutland peninsula.

But it was halfway up the Kattegat, with flat, featureless Jutland on our left, that we set within an hour of lunch. Admittedly, those experiences hadn't turned us into marauding Vikings, but they hadn't exactly left us happy either. Nevertheless, on this trip and in the perfection of that ageless maritime paradise, we could pretend that we were, in fact, two of the most satisfied souls on the planet. And that alone was worth the price of admission.
