Hawthorne City Council Honors Donzaleigh Abernathy

Create & Express Yourself with Crystals, Jewelry, Arts and Gifts

By Chase Maser

Every year in February, Tucson, AZ is home to the world-famous Gem Show.

Vendors from all over the globe haul their rocks, beads, gemstones, and crystals to the desert and set up shop under huge white tents for visitors to peruse. Among tumbled stones and trinkets, on any given day, you can find amethyst crystals the size of a king's throne. If you're looking for something smaller, you can easily find tiny opal rings or selenite crystals as thin as straws. Believe it or not, you can even find elephant tusks that sell for $95,000 USD a pair.

It's a true hodgepodge of products, and among the vast assortment, Carrie Brooks, the owner of Create & Express at 405 Main St., is always there picking out treasures for her shop.

Like clockwork, Brooks has been going to several gem shows a year to handpick new, captivating stones to pique customers' interests and bring beauty or healing vibes into their lives. Originally starting her business 16 years ago with a meditation studio called True Insight, Brooks outgrew her first location on Eucalyptus Dr. and moved onto Main St. in 2018. Now, Brooks maintains two locations to house her crystal shop (at the 405 address) and her meditation studio a few doors down at 431 1/2 Main St. With both locations, she offers customers a unique approach to experience enlightenment and peace.

At True Insight, Brooks serves as the Creative Director and offers students a chance to explore who they really are.

"True Insight is here to assist each individual to know and learn more about themselves," says Brooks. "True Insight is about empowering each individual in their innate ability to open up and begin to discover and explore their own nature—their original essence."

Essentially, Brooks shares that each person has their own set of instructions and information inside of them that's available for them to explore and understand. The only trouble is, so many people lose sight of their own intuition, which eventually leads to feeling lost or out of place. To remedy the disconnect,

In Burden, Inspired by True Events, a Klansman Seeks Redemption

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy.com, Burden debuted on the big screen two years ago at the 2018 Sundance Film Festival and despite being officially released in a new decade, its message is still as timely as ever.

Writer/director Andrew Heckler's Southern drama tells the incredible true story of an ex-Klansman who, with the influence of his girlfriend and the town's local reverend, is forced to overcome his own racism and face his disgraceful past. It can be argued that everyone deserves a second chance, including those who we may not think deserve it, and Burden, now playing, is a testament to the belief that people can change when surrounded by unconditional love.

Reverend Kennedy's words ruminate within Mike, who slowly begins to let his guard down in order to let the light, and love, in.

A hard-hitting companion piece to another recent Neo-Nazi true-life adaptation, Skin, Burden is a fascinating retelling of Michael Burden's life. Fueled by a powerhouse performance from Garrett Hedlund, he seamlessly embodies the quirky mannerisms and Southern drawl of the real Mr. Burden. He's a character whose philosophy we can't understand yet still sympathize with his struggle to leave the familiar for the unknown. Andrea Riseborough brings compassion to her confident portrayal of Judy, a strong woman whose sense

It's 1996 and a motley crew of people are preparing to open a new tourist attraction in their rural South Carolina town; curated and operated by Tom Griffin (Tom Wilkinson), the revealing of this "Redneck KKK Museum" hits like a punch to the gut. Racism still operates throughout the bigoted town, with Mike Burden (Garrett Hedlund) at the forefront of the organization's next-generation leaders. The brotherhood of the KKK had been his whole life, so the last thing he expected was to fall in love with Judy (Andrea Riseborough), a young mother, who would force him to choose between his relationship with the Klan or her heart.

As Mike struggles with this decision internally, on the surface he is still very combative. His behavior catches the attention of Reverend Kennedy (Forest Whitaker), who sees Mike as a lost boy and is determined to help him work through his destructive past. Reverend Kennedy reminds his skeptical congregation that only love can drive out hate, a nice message in theory, but difficult to put into practice when the person you are asked to unconditionally love has threatened to kill your community.

of justice and self-respect ultimately saved Mike Burden's life. Unsurprisingly, Forest Whitaker commands every scene; his delivery of Reverend Kennedy's words of optimism is both inspiring and soul-shaking. Usher also makes an appearance as Mike's childhood best friend, a fun addition to a solid cast. Usher also makes an appearance as Mike's childhood best friend, a fun addition to a solid cast. •

Surveying Shrubbery: The NASA Tree Challenge

By Tommy Vinh Bui, MLIS, Associate Librarian, Inglewood Public Library

Toddlng up to the library, one finds their nostrils flush with the revivifying and life-buoying boons afforded by the presence of foliage-filled trees and vine-tangled trellises. The surroundings are sumptuous and bracing to the constitution. It's undiluted brahmin coursing through your bloodstream, it is.

It's a pleasant stroll from the parking lot to the sliding double glass doors. The transition from the health-giving verdance of outside to the brain-nourishing tonic that is the interior of the library is a seamless one. Trees certainly have their work cut out for them. Along with providing the raw materials in which to produce our bounty of books, they also perform another crucial environmental duty by absorbing and storing carbon. And you, as citizen scientists, can help with the study of this critical component of the ecosystem and advocate for and protect trees, forests, and woodland spaces.

The height of trees is a reliable indicator of an ecosystem's robustness. Scientists scrutinize data such as tree height utilizing satellite instrumentation and compile that data to recognize trends and patterns in growth over a long period of time. Citizen Scientists are being compelled to participate by measuring tree characteristics such as height and circumference using NASA's GLOBE Observer app. These observations will prove critical as scientists compare historical data to help further a better understanding of how carbon travels through an ecosystem. Volunteers are compelled to gauge and measure the height of as many trees as they can within their local vicinity so that scientists might be able to study and possibly improve forest health by being aware of where pests and diseases might be adversely affecting trees and where stalwart and healthy resilient ones remain. Rigorous data collection will also aid in overall forest health research such as determining the genetic diversity of tree species within a specific region. You'll also get the singular satisfaction of knowing that you're making a pivotal and significant contribution to NASA through your diligent data-gathering and arboreal investigations.

So have an aimless amble around the library's grounds and harbor a keen eye for treetops and shrubbery of all shapes and sizes. No sapling is too small for your scientific scrutiny. And when you're done evaluating those trees on your tippy-toes, mosey on into the library and feel free to cobble together a tiny tower of books and appraise the height of that too. Imposing and a monument to the new knowledge raring to be acquired. •

Huber's Hiccups

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy Named Norb Huber

NO MORE TOUCHING

The NBA has issued a decree that players are not to give high fives out to fans, no more autographs, no more touching. This is in an effort to keep players and fans safe from the Coronavirus, also referred to as: CORVID-19. The spread of this virus really shows that we are all connected to one another, community-wide, nation-wide and even globally. A virus that had its start half way around the globe now has people worried all over the earth. This "no touching policy" is nothing new to people like teachers. As a former teacher, I was instructed never to touch any child or student in my class. I understood that an innocent touch might be interpreted completely different by the young person, charges might be filed, and I might lose my livelihood. Then we moved into the sexually harassment period, where anyone of the opposite sex could take a comment wrongly, or a hand touch or tap on a shoulder was an outright sexual advancement. Which now leads us to the latest reason not to touch, a virus with no vaccine. It's strange to see local big box stores sell out of hand wipes and sanitary liquids. The fear that grips people almost leads to a panic. I know we should be aware and take precautions, but at least right now I don't think we have to self quarantine ourselves by hiding inside our homes, even though staying home and downing some cold ones does seem a lot better than trudging off to work every day. God is in control, be smart, wash your hands, enjoy each day for whatever it brings, eat your fruits and vegetables, turn off the tv and read a good book, love the old lady or old man that God has blessed you with, pray that God would use you to bless others, and finally relax and enjoy having a cold one or two. If you do all of that, you won't have time to worry about getting infected. Be clean my friends. God loves you, forgives you and makes you clean.

JUST A NUMBER OR A SPECIAL PERSON?

Some of my loyal readers are now self-identifying themselves by their LR (loyal reader) number, LR#14 or LR#17 or LR#5. These numbers are just numbers. I'm thrilled that a couple of dozen people want to be part of my readership club, team, tribe, consortium, and/or losers group. LR#20 wrote me and referred to my readers as Norb's Nerds. (I always thought nerds were smart, so I guess that title would be a complete misnomer.) But, let me remind you that behind each one of those numbers is a real live person, a warm body, a special person, maybe even a Bible-believing, gun-toting, patriotic, old geezer who loves to drink coffee, have a donut and read a real newspaper. Every person is special. I am not into quantity, nor am I into quality. What qualifications do you have to have to be a LR? None. Nada. You really don't have to even be alive. Some of my LRs are long gone, but I still count them, I still send my rubble to their late email address. In this tech world in which we live, no one is officially dead until the great IT guru in the cloud shuts down their account and that happens only when one of their grieving relatives are given permission to reset their beloved's passwords.

CHASING AFTER THE WIND

Recently I have been reading the book of Ecclesiastes. King Solomon writes throughout the book that everything on earth is like a "chasing after the wind". We can search for wisdom, we can try to be wise, but at the end of the day everything lacks lasting meaning. We are "all from the dust and to dust all return". Solomon concludes that we should enjoy the work put in front of us, "whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might". Also, he adds, "Enjoy life with the wife whom you love" and finally, "Go eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart, for God has already approved what you do." Doesn't this all sound familiar? I wonder how many LRs King Solomon had?

GENDER REVEAL PARTY

So, in 2020, you don't just call up your friends and family to tell them what gender your baby is, you have a gender reveal party. Me and my OL will be there Saturday anxiously waiting to find out from our daughter whether our grandchild will be male or female. I just pray for a healthy birth and look forward with joy no matter whether Wolfgang or Wolfina is birthed in mid-July. I count it all joy.

Brooks hosts meditation sessions that she calls "Intuitive Meditation."

"Intuitive Meditation is the place in you that you go to—to where you are grounded and where no one else exists except you. In this place, you begin to explore levels of yourself you knew existed but did not know how to access or recognize."

By exploring aspects of yourself and learning new techniques to stay present and grounded, Brooks believes that people can lead stronger, healthier lives. Plus, with the addition of a healing stone or crystal, the journey to self-discovery is even more pleasant.

At Create & Express, customers have the opportunity to explore authentic relics and unique creations that also amplify the spirit and bring solace to a trembling heart.

For instance, Brooks curates a massive selection of gemstones that each have their own distinct properties to help someone in need. A good example of healing properties comes from a stone called Aventurine—a light green stone that promotes focus, creativity, good fortune, and protects against environmental pollution. With another stone called Howlite, those in possession can enjoy a stronger sense of patience and a stimulated desire for knowledge. It even helps balance calcium levels throughout the body.

One of the great things about Create & Express, too, is that Brooks and her creative team offer little cards with all the corresponding information for each stone. If you're searching around her shop, but you're unsure about what properties a certain crystal has, you can easily read about it and keep the reference with you once you make a purchase.

It's a highly supportive and friendly atmosphere that cherishes connection and community. Brooks promotes that mission even further by offering her gem shop as a creative outlet for aspiring, local artisans.

"In addition to True Insight and Create & Express, we also feature many artisans from the local community! We now showcase over 25 artisans, artists, and makers."

Ranging from colorful paintings to essential oils and handmade jewelry, local artists can find a home for their work that beats the hustle of setting up shop outdoors and waiting for customers. Brooks offers a generous consignment plan for goods sold, giving artists a professional in-store experience, while still honoring the fun and beauty of searching for one-of-a-kind treasures.

Brooks has just gotten back from Tucson with a brand new load of rocks and crystals that she plans to rollout in the coming weeks. You can check them out for yourself—Tuesday through Friday—between 10 AM and 8 PM. On the weekends, Create & Express is open from 11 AM to 6 PM.

"Thank YOU for being a part of the journey," says Brooks.

"I'm into crystals and good energy and harnessing more. It's just like prayer. It helps you be grateful, think about good things, and keep that positive energy around you."

Your Neighborhood Therapist

Dear Neighborhood Therapist,

I'm a new mom. My husband works while I stay at home all day with this beautiful child, and often my only interaction with another human being is changing diapers and feeding. If I go back to work, it will basically just pay for us to hire a nanny, so then I end up working for nothing and being away from my child. Everyone tells me this is supposed to be the best time of my life, but I'm lonely and miserable. I feel like I cannot tell anyone about this. I feel like a totally inadequate mother and therefore a totally inadequate person. What is wrong with me? What am I doing wrong?

- Lost at Home, El Segundo

Dear Lost at Home,

This is an easy one. Coordinate your maternity and paternity leave over the next several months so that both of you can take the needed time to bond with your child and learn to live as a family. Once the child is robust enough, take them to the free, high quality child care center down the street next to the kindergarten. Enjoy this time to be together with your child and bond with them, going to the playground and meeting other parents who have children of similar ages. When you need a break, get a babysitter and go out on a date with your husband. Join a mom's group and trade tips and secrets.

Wait, what? We don't have free preschool? Maternity leave isn't enough? (We're lucky in California - most states have none.) Wait, and you also don't have family who lives nearby? Or your parents are elderly and cannot take care of a newborn? Wait, and because you're not working, and because babysitting costs a lot, it's also too expensive to go out on a date? And on top of all that, you're not naturally an extrovert, or you don't like comparing yourself to other moms at a mom's group? If you answered "true" to any of these questions, then you must be an inadequate mother and person! Right?

Of course not. This is not easy; it's impossible. You are one of millions in what I call a Postpartum Situation, under the thumb of a system not set up (ahem, set up mostly by men) to support new families, especially now that one salary is no longer enough to support most families in Southern California. It is a system that blames mothers for anything that goes wrong, adding enormous pressure to an already intense situation. It is a huge and horrible problem.

So what to do? In dire circumstances, connection with others is often the best way forward. Do you have anyone you are comfortable connecting with? If not, let me know. I am starting a Secret Kindness Club in El Segundo and I can help connect you.

To everyone else: do you know any new parents? Sometimes they are really struggling even if it does not seem that way. If you have a chance to reach out and help, do not pass it up. You may make more of a difference in the life of a friend or acquaintance than you can possibly realize.

Summary of Adoption of Ordinance 2196
Enacting Section 2.41 of the Hawthorne
Municipal Code ("HMC") Re: Amending the Procedure for Permitting Events to Occur at the Hawthorne Municipal Airport.

Pursuant to Government Code section 36933(c), the following constitutes a summary of Ordinance No. 2196 which was adopted by the City Council at its regular meeting on February 25, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. Pursuant to California Government Code section 36933(c) (1), the City Council has previously directed the preparation and publication of a summary of Ordinance No. 2196 which amends Section 10.80 to the Hawthorne Municipal Code.

SUBJECT: Ordinance 2196: An Ordinance Of The City Council Of The City Of Hawthorne, California, Amending Title 10 (Vehicles & Traffic) Chapter 10.80 (Airport Rules & Regulations) of the Hawthorne Municipal Code For Sponsoring or Hosting Events at the Hawthorne Airport, Including Filming & Food Trucks At the Hawthorne Municipal Airport.

In 2007, the City Council adopted Ordinance No. 1881, establishing a procedure for permitting special events to occur at the Hawthorne Municipal Airport, terminal building or adjunct airport public facilities in accordance with the special event policy delineated in Chapter 9.39 of the Hawthorne Municipal Code. By adopting Ordinance No. 1881, the City Council recognized the substantial community benefits that may result from such special events. Since the adoption of Ordinance No. 1881, the City has appreciated the feedback from the Airport applicants seeking airport special event permits regarding a more streamlined process for obtaining such permits. Ordinance No. 2196 endeavors to restructure the process for obtaining these permits by accomplishing the following:

- An event application must be submitted a minimum of 15 business days prior to the event.
- A one-time application fee of $10,000 for a one-day event and a fee of $3,500 for each additional day. These fees are for event days only setup and tear down do not have a daily fee.
- Vendors participating in the Airport Special Events are exempt from the business licensing obligations imposed under Title 5 of this Code with respect to their activities at the special event.
- In case of filming activity only, the application must be submitted a minimum of 3 business days before the filming event. The filming application shall be submitted with a flat fee of $5,000 for the first day and $2,500 for each additional film day.
- The flat fee application for special events and filming include City Airport Escort and Hawthorne Police hourly time.
- The one-time application fee will also include food truck gatherings which are part of the airport special event
- The applicant will be required to execute a specific hold harmless and indemnity agreement which sufficiently protects the City from future liability.
- The applicant will be required to provide evidence that both Commercial General Liability and Workers' Compensation insurance is procured and that certificates of insurance are provided to the City.

The City Council finds and determines that there is no possibility that the adoption of this Ordinance will have a significant effect on the environment. Accordingly, this Ordinance is not subject to the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to Sections 15061(b)(3) and 15378 of Division 6 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations. A certified copy of the entirety of the text of Ordinance No. 2196 is available both on the City's website and also in the office of the City Clerk, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, and is open for public inspection.

Summary of Adoption of Ordinance 2198
Amending Chapter 17.74 of the Hawthorne
Municipal Code ("HMC")
Re: Short Term Rental Permits.

Pursuant to Government Code section 36933(c), the following constitutes a summary of Ordinance No. 2198 which will be considered for adoption by the City Council at its regular meeting on March 10, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. Pursuant to California Government Code section 36933(c) (1), the City Council has previously directed the preparation and publication of a summary of Ordinance No. 2198 which amends Chapter 17.74 of the Hawthorne Municipal Code establishing regulations to permit and regulate Short-Term Rentals in the City of Hawthorne as follows

Purpose of Ordinance. While short-term rental activities have become increasingly common, there may be some predictable negative impacts to a city, such as increased noise and trash, changes in the character of a community, and decreases in affordable housing stock. The City has an interest in protecting the quality of life in single-family and multi-family residential neighborhoods. At the same time, the City has an interest in created an environment of economic growth for the City and additional income for residents.

Proposed Ordinance No. 2198 regulates the location, duration and manner in which short-term rentals are permitted in order to protect the residential nature of neighborhoods, prevent non-conformity in commercial and industrial zones, maintain the City's supply of housing, address nuisance activities and ensure that the City collects TOT that is due.

Definitions:
Numerous terms related to short-term rentals are defined in the proposed Ordinance. Of note are the following:

"Short-term rental" is a dwelling unit, or any portion thereof, offered for rent or rents for dwelling, lodging or sleeping, for no more than thirty (30) consecutive days in the city, including single-family or multi-family housing, as limited by this Chapter.

"Home-sharing" means an accessory use of a primary residence, while the host lives on-site, for the purposes of providing temporary lodging, for compensation, for periods of thirty (30) consecutive days or less.

"Hosted stay" means a home-sharing activity whereby the host remains on-site throughout the guest's stay (except during daytime and/or work hours).

"Primary residence" means a host's primary residence or usual place of return for housing, documented as required by this Chapter. A person may have only one primary residence and must reside there for a minimum of nine (9) months per year.

"Un-hosted stay" means a home-sharing activity whereby the host remains off-site during the guest's stay.

"Vacation rental" means a dwelling unit that is not a primary residence of the owner and which is available for temporary lodging, for compensation. The term "vacation rental" shall not include: single-room occupancy buildings; hotels; a dwelling unit for which a tenant has a month-to-month rental agreement and the rental payments are paid on a monthly basis; or corporate housing.

Zoning
Short-term rentals, including both home-shares and vacation rentals, will be permitted in the R-1, R-2, R-3, and R-4 zones of the City.

However, vacation rentals are not permitted in Regional Commercial, Local Commercial, General Commercial, Mixed Commercial, Limited Industrial and Heavy Industrial zones, although home-sharing will be permitted in legally conforming structures within those zones.

In addition, dwellings identified as "vacation rentals" (not primary residence) in residential zones may only be utilized as short-term rentals for a total of ninety (90) days during a calendar year. Vacation rentals are considered a less desirable short-term rental option because owners typically do not frequent the property, creating a "transient" housing situation; as such, the City wishes to disincentive this short-term rental option.

Eligible Units
Short-term rentals will be permitted in (a) single-family residences, (b) duplexes, (c) triplexes, and (d) planned unit developments and multi-family residential dwellings with no more than four dwelling units. Short-term renting will not be permitted in Section 8 housing nor in accessory dwelling units (ADUs) and related structures. The restriction for ADUs preserves affordable housing stock and is consistent with new ADU law effective January 1, 2020.

Permitted STRs per parcel
A limitation on how many units within a property can be rented on a short-term basis is proposed as follows:

- One (1) unit in a duplex may be utilized as a short-term rental.
- Two (2) units in a triplex, or planned unit development and multi-family residential dwelling of three or four units may be utilized as a short-term rental.

An applicant must designate the short term rental unit annually if there are multiple dwellings and cannot alternate between or among dwellings. The purpose of this regulation is to ensure that entire properties or buildings do not become strictly devoted to short-term renting and lose their residential character.

Application Requirements
A permit application will consist of a standard form prepared by the Department of Planning and Community Development. Information solicited will include, but not be limited to, contact information of the owner and/or applicant, plot plan, proof of property information, and an affidavit attesting that the dwelling meets certain health and safety requirements.

Applications will be accepted and approved by the Department of Planning and Community Development; approved applicants will be required to apply with the Department of Finance for a business license as well as a TOT Registration certificate. The applicants will be required to collect and remit TOT.

The permit is not assignable, i.e. does not run with that land and cannot be transferred to another party. Changes to an STR activity will require applicants to re-submit their applications.

Prohibitions:
There are numerous prohibitions in the proposed Ordinance:

- Only one short-term rental period, reservation, stay or booking by guests per residence per night, regardless of the number of bedrooms available for occupancy, is permitted.
- There is a limitation on the number of total guests. No more than 2 guests per bedroom and two additional guests are permitted at one time.
- Short-term rental can only take place in areas approved for residential use (i.e. no garages or trailers).

Advertising signs on the property are prohibited and events such as weddings, corporate events, commercial functions or any other similar events which have the potential to cause significant traffic, parking, noise or other problems in the neighborhood are prohibited from occurring at the short-term rental unit as a component of short-term rental activities

Hosting Platform Requirements
If necessary to assist with law enforcement efforts, hosting platforms may be required to disclose each short-term rental listing located in the City, including names, addresses, length of stays and price paid, subject applicable federal and State laws that require a legal process for obtaining such information (i.e., subpoenas).

Operational Requirements

There are numerous operational requirements contained in the proposed Ordinance: Permittees will be required to maintain the dwelling in compliance with all federal, state and local laws, including Title 17 of the Hawthorne Municipal Code.

Permittees must provide at least one on-premises/off-street parking space for the host and one for the guest, with the driveway (if it may be utilized as parking without obstructing ingress/egress) serving as parking for the host and/or guest.

There are also operational requirements related to noise, trash, responding to calls regarding the conditions of the property, guest log books and inspection.

The City Council finds and determines that there is no possibility that the adoption of this Ordinance will have a significant effect on the environment. Accordingly, this Ordinance is not subject to the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to Sections 15061(b)(3) and 15378 of Division 6 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations. A certified copy of the entirety of the text of Ordinance No. 2198 is available both on the City's website and also in the office of the City Clerk, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, and is open for public inspection. Pursuant to Government Code section 36933(c), the summary Ordinance No. 2198 was published at least five (5) days before the ordinance was considered for adoption on March 10, 2020 at a duly convened regular meeting of the Hawthorne City Council.

Happy Tails

It was a happy adoption day for Joni! Joni, at 13 years young, is a senior pet with vision impairment but that didn't stop her from finding her Friend for Life. While she was at spcaLA Joni learned a few new tricks on the agility course, among other activities. Who says you can't teach an old dog new tricks? Joni and her new mom met at South Bay Pet Adoption Center and it was love at first sight! •

Congratulations to Joni and her new family!
