

He Can Fix Computers (and Play Hockey!)

By Ron Sokol

What does hockey and computer technology have in common? There must be some connection. Come on, there must be!

Both require a level of precision and thought, although one indeed is moving, pushing, skating, and engaging with the other players, whereas the other typically is sitting, thinking, well, bottom line, quietly computing.

Hawthorne's Andrew Dershimer, a genuinely nice young man, plays a lot of ice hockey. He has done so for years. As a youngster, it was street hockey and roller hockey (on skates). Then, in 1993, the great one (Wayne Gretzy) led the Los Angeles Kings to the Stanley Cup finals. While the Kings sadly would lose to the Montreal Canadiens, it was a storied year, and for Andrew, ice hockey became the sport. The determined work that Andrew handles will include, among other troubleshooting, setting up a computer, connecting it, and making sure the printer works; or transferring what is on one computer to the replacement; or, often having to investigate and figure out what to do about problems that some (probably many) are just not able to resolve; or, setting up a bank of computers for a company.

One incident: My office computer worked perfectly fine, but when printing, there were spaces between letters in various words, and the end of a sentence would be followed by a space or two before the period or other punctuation. It made reading letters and columns very difficult and was not at all professional looking. I called Andrew, who came over on his trusty motorcycle. It was very quiet for a while. It took him about 40 minutes to figure out what was causing the problem. He went through several steps to check the computer to see if that would direct him to the problem, and even watched a video online. Turns out it was related to the font that I was using. For some reason, the particular size and style of the font was causing a problem with the software program. The bottom line, he fixed it. He solved the Rubik's Cube. All good. Snap of the fingers, or, well, hockey puck into the net! To get hold of Andrew: andrewfixesit@gmail.com. "I am presently working with more elderly people. I think of myself as a kind of 'rent a grandkid .'One client is 95, on the computer a lot, and orders her groceries online, but her printer would not print. I was there for two hours: installed, reinstalled, ran

Andrew Dershimer also has another passion, another environment, as it were, another tenacity and agility. He is the go-to person for many folks when something is wrong with their computer, printer, laptop, or some combination thereof.

"My dad is a retired teacher. My mom does what I do, but on quite a larger scale. She manages projects that involve IT repair for businesses. That may be where my interest in computers comes from, at least in part, but what I most remember is that my dad brought home a computer when I was about eleven. Teachers like my dad were given a computer to use at home. Well, I was just immediately interested in it and, of course, wanted to play all sorts of games there."

troubleshooters, did all the basics, and finally decided to google it. Found similar issues where someone had a printer that stopped working when Microsoft Explorer was updated. I uninstalled her version of Microsoft Explorer, and voila, all was fine. But, sometimes, to get to that point, to find the fix, to solve the issue, you have to be equally patient and determined."

Interestingly, Andrew was not so keen on school. That said, he was just starting at Hawthorne High when he applied to California State University, Los Angeles. There was a program for advanced and gifted kids. Even so, that step ultimately was not his cup of tea either. You can say he is a self-learner. He has his own wheels, as it were.

"One thing about working with computers, being a computer nerd, I guess, is you aren't likely to get physically injured. Playing hockey, on the other hand... There, I have

Bottoms is an Edgy, Back to School Comedy That Earns an A+

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

As the credits rolled at the end of Shiva Baby back in 2021, I contemplated an immediate re-watch. I didn't want the good times to end. This progressive, cool girl comedy that filmmaker Emma Seligman so effortlessly brings to life (in her directorial debut, no less) was the type of movie that spoke to me, and I wanted more of it! Luckily, her sophomore feature, Bottoms, lives up to the hype and is now playing in select theaters including AMC and Alamo Drafthouse LA.

Rachel Sennott (The Idol, Bodies Bodies, Bodies) and Ayo Edebiri (The Bear) play PJ and Josie, best friends about to enter into another dreadful year of high school as the "weird girls". Both proudly queer and frustrated with the local dating scene, the girls devise an unconventional idea to start a school-sponsored fight club in an attempt to get close to Isabel (Havana Rose Liu) and Brittany (Kaia Gerber), the hot cheerleaders

Like Cady Heron infiltrating into the "Plastics" orbit in Mean Girls, PJ and Josie are able to get their faux fight club off the ground and quickly bask in the sweet victory of success. Girls of all social circles start flooding to their self-defense class, literally throwing themselves at each other during made-up games of floor wrestling and slap fighting. Long gone are the days of being ignored, the popular girls are finally paying attention. Of course, things inevitably dovetail into chaos as the football team intercepts PJ and Josie's long con, threatening to expose them for the sneaky and provocative teenagers they really are.

There are many factors that can be attributed to the success of Bottoms, especially the quick-witted and sharp banter between Sennott and Edebiri. Together they are magnetic, exuding this instant familiarity that draws us in and doesn't let us go. Their comedic timing is spot-on and the dialogue delivery hits every time. The script, co-written by 28-year-old Seligman and 27-year-old Sennott, is the right amount of self-aware and gut-punch funny. Subtle one-off comments said under the breath like "You don't care about feminism, your favorite show is Entourage", are some of the film's most hilarious moments.

Best of all, Bottoms evokes a sense of nostalgia for rom-coms of the past. Imagine Superbad, Bring It On, and American Pie told through the lens of flamboyant high school girls. Adding to the sense of female empowerment is seeing how many women contributed to the making of Bottoms behind the scenes and leading departments such as cinematography (Maria Rusche), editing (Hanna Park), casting (Maribeth Fox), and art direction (Michelle Jones).

Bottoms is a film for the girls, for the alt-Barbie crowd. A fierce soundtrack - which includes a perfectly-placed Avril Lavigne "Complicated" sync - and an original score by Leo Birenberg and Charli XCX is the perfect companion to the film's fast-paced, frenetic energy. It's definitely worth staying through the entire film so you don't miss the bloopers and outtakes that are sprinkled throughout the end credits. If you're looking for an edgy, back to school rom-com, make sure Bottoms is on the top of your watchlist.

Early Reader Roundup

By Kristina Kora-Beckman, Senior Librarian, El Segundo Public Library

This week, I'm reviewing my favorite early reader titles from the summer. The Gentle Genius of Trees by Philip Bunting is a nonfiction picture book that delivers information about trees and their place in the ecosystem

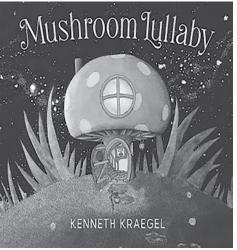

The Gentle Genius of Trees by Philip Bunting.

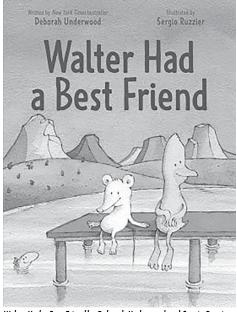

Friend Bots Blink and Block Bug Each Other by Vicky Fang. in a narrative, off-the-cuff, punny style that had my son and in stitches throughout. How People With Diabetes Can Access Affordable Insulin (BPT) - If you or someone you love has diabetes, you already know how essential insulin is for managing the disease every day. Today, 8.4 million Americans rely on insulin to manage their diabetes, making access to this crucial medication more important than ever.

In March of 2023, Lilly announced plans to reduce the cost of its most commonly prescribed insulins and automatically cap out-of-pocket insulin costs at $35 per month at participating retail pharmacies for people with commercial insurance, to help make it easier for people who use Lilly insulin - regardless of insurance status - to access this crucial medication.

"Earlier this year, we further delivered on our commitment to provide affordable insulin

Through these actions, Lilly continues to make it easier for people with diabetes to access affordable insulin.

To help ensure that people with diabetes know how to access affordable insulin, Lilly is teaming up with the American Diabetes Association (ADA) and professional baseball player Adam Duvall to launch a nationwide effort called "Tap the Cap" to increase awareness of insulin affordability solutions for people living with diabetes.

"I know firsthand the physical and emotional burden that living with diabetes can have," said Duvall, who was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes in 2012. "The last thing a person should have to worry about is how to get affordable insulin, and that's why I'm glad to be helping to make sure people know how easy it is to 'Tap the Cap."

for people with diabetes by making it easier for people to access Lilly insulin for $35 through an automated cap at the pharmacy for people with commercial insurance, so that people who use Lilly insulin can access it for no more than $35 per monthly prescription," said Mike Mason, executive vice president and president, Lilly Diabetes and Obesity.

Making insulin affordable for people living with diabetes has always been a top priority for Lilly. With this latest initiative, Lilly is automatically capping out-of-pocket costs for its insulin at $35 per monthly prescription for people with commercial insurance. This means that the $35 per month cap is implemented automatically at participating retail pharmacies for people with commercial insurance.

But even if you don't have insurance, or do not use a participating pharmacy, you can still get Lilly insulin for $35 per month. Simply go to InsulinAffordability.com and download the Lilly Insulin Value Program savings card.

To encourage people to spread the word about how to access their insulin for $35 or less per month, Lilly invites everyone to share a photo on Instagram or Facebook with the #TaptheCap filter and the hashtag #TaptheCap.

For every post with this hashtag, Lilly will make a contribution to ADA's summer camps across the U.S. These camps support the unique care needs of children living with diabetes, offering the opportunity to make lifelong memories while learning from others who can relate to their experiences. ADA camps provide a medically safe environment where children with diabetes can enjoy a fun-filled summer camp experience while learning how to better manage their diabetes.

For more information about #TaptheCap, visit Lilly.com/insulin. To learn more about the ADA's insulin affordability work, visit Diabetes.org/insulincost. •

If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. Notice To Potential Bidders: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien. not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Notice To Property Owner: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (877) 440-4460 or visit this Internet Web site www.mkconsultantsinc.com, using the file number assigned to this case 221004259. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice To Tenant: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property it you exceed the last and highest bid placed t the trustee auction. There are three to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (877) 440-4460, or visit this internet website site www.tlssales.info, using the file number assigned to this case 221004259 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid. and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. DONNA J. ALLISON CASE NO. 23STPB09067 To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of DONNA J. ALLISON.

APETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by HENRY H. ALLISON in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that HENRY H. ALLISON be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the per sonal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 11/02/23 at 8:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012 IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition,

Each bid must be accompanied by a deposit in the form of cash, a cashier's or certified check made payable to the City of Inglewood, or a bid bond, for an amount of not less than ten percent (10%) of the aggregate of the bid, as a guarantee that the successful bidder will,

within the time specified, enter into an agreement as provided in the bid document and furnish bonds when required in the Special Provisions. One for faithful performance in the amount of the contract sum, and another for contractor's labor and materials in the amount of the contract sum. The City Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities in any bid, and to take bids under advisement for a period not to exceed sixty days from and after the date bids are opened and announced. Attention is directed to the provisions of Sections 1777.5 and 1777.6 of the Labor Code concerning the employment of apprentices on public works projects by the Contractor or any subcontractor under them. The Contractor or any subcontractor shall comply with the requirements of said sections in the employment of apprentices. Information relative to apprenticeship standards and administration of the apprenticeship program may be obtained you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner JAMES E. FODEN - SBN 81898

Community Development Block Grant Program: $1,248,292

Home Investment Partnerships Program: $812.048

The FY 2023-2024 Annual Action Plan for the City of Inglewood serves as the grant application to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for its federally funded grant programs. All funds will be used to benefit extremely low- to low-income persons. HUD requires federal grant recipients administering Consolidated Plan Grant programs to hold public hearings to receive input from community members on the use of grant funds. The Consolidated Planning process includes public hearings, media advertising, community meetings, and the availability of community surveys.

The City wishes to encourage comments from extremely low- to low-income persons, particularly from those living in neighborhoods where the funds are primarily used. The City will take appropriate actions to encourage the participation of all its residents, including persons who are non-English speaking, who have limited mobility due to disability, or who are visually or hearing impaired. PETSPETSPETSPETSPETS Purrfect Companions

Furrari

Kitten Rescue rescues cats and kittens from a variety of situations. Most live in our volunteers' homes and those volunteers foster them until we can find permanent homes for them. Young or old, tabby or Maine Coon, we care for orphaned and abandoned kittens that need to be bottle-fed around the clock, moms with litters, cats that need socialization, and sick or injured animals. When they are finally ready for their forever home, we will help match you with the purr-fect one. When you adopt, you save a life... and in turn enrich your own.

Blossom and Bear are two of the sweetest kittens in the world. Each gets a little nervous when they are separated from the other for too long, therefore they are available only as a bonded pair. Bear (tux) is an active, adventurous, and outgoing boy. He is brave and loves to explore independently, but also will trot right up to you and demand cuddles or flop over and watch you while you go about your day. At night, he climbs right into bed and slides up next to you under the covers or on the crown of your head atop the pillow. Blossom (calico) is a little shyer and quieter, yet just as sweet and loving as Bear is. She likes to lie in the sunshine or a hammock, loves playing and cuddling with her brother, and is very fond of teaser toys. Bear teaches Blossom to be more brave and adventurous, encouraging her to explore around the house with him. Blossom, in turn, shows Bear the beauty of quiet time in a ray of sunshine and grooms him sweetly. Both kittens adore being pet and cuddled by humans. They are good with other animals; they are in a foster home with two older cats and a very energetic puppy.

Little Furrari loves to purr and cuddle. He also enjoys playing with other kittens and also tries to win over any older cats. He and his siblings were born under a shed in a backyard which had dogs who were not cat friendly. Furrari loves playing and will need an adopter who will be willing to continue the progress he has made in socialization. The loving adopter who commits will have a furever bond, and a BFF till the end.

Ravioli is a sweet, gentle natured kitty. She can be a bit shy at first but still has a playful and fun side. She loves chasing around string toys or the cat dancer and loves to explore all around the house. Ravioli loves to wrestle with her siblings and snuggle with them. When you put her in your lap, she will sink in and purr away especially if you start petting her. Ravioli does need to be adopted into a home with another young kitty. She would love to get adopted with one of her sisters, Spaghetti or Penne.

Coraline may be an energetic kitten, yet this enchanting black-and-white beauty is as cuddly as can be. Coraline is a true snuggle bug who will happily curl up in your arms. While Coraline's playful nature is equally captivating, she is also a whirlwind of energy and mischievousness, always seeking out new adventures and games to play. With her playful spirit, she will bring joy and laughter to your home. With the right feline companion by her side, Coraline will truly thrive. She needs a home with another cat who can match her energy and will love to play. Coraline's mischievous antics will keep you on your toes and her affectionate cuddles will make every moment with her a treasure.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information to see these or our other kittens and cats and for a list of our weekend adoption events, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

The donations and support we receive from individuals like you, who share our love and commitment to helping cats and kittens in Los Angeles, are the sole reason we are able to do what we do. We are grateful for your financial help. By making even a small donation today, you can touch the lives of the many deserving, wonderful animals in our care. There are many ways you can donate and help, and every dollar means so much. Kitten Rescue is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 3519 Casitas Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90039.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
