North Inglewood Post Office to Close Monday, Nov. 19

The North Inglewood Post Office, located at 811 N. La Brea Ave., will close effective Nov. 19 under Emergency Suspension procedures after the owner of the building notified the U.S. Postal Services (USPS) that they would not be renewing the lease. Council Approves Resolution to Implement Convenience Fee for Electronic Traffic Reports

By Cristian Vasquez

In a unanimous vote after a public hearing, members of the Inglewood City Council on Tuesday night adopted a resolution to implement a $10 fee to generate electronic traffic collision reports. The resolution also approved an agreement with Crossroads Software to distribute the collision reports electronically and to obtain data collection capabilities.

"This will enable an Internet base and will allow for information to be forwarded in a more timely manner," Inglewood Police Chief Mark Fronterotta said. "This fee, the additional $10, is generally paid by insurance companies when they inquire about reports. There is no additional cost and it is compatible with our system."

Based on the resolution, the $10 fee would only be imposed on insurance companies, law offices and any other third party seeking reports on behalf of the clients they represent. Such agencies prefer using electronic reports because those expedite the process in comparison to a written request processed by a Records Division staff member. However, some residents voiced their opposition to a new fee.

"I think that any time we add another fee, I have to tell you that is why we passed UUT [Utility Users Tax]; that is why we passed the half-percent sales tax and that is why we pay extra dollars and yet it seems that every single opportunity that is presented, we figure some way to get the residents to pay more fees," Inglewood resident Diane Sambrano said. "At some point, we already paid enough fees. At some point, we paid more than most people will ever pay in fees. So every single solitary time that you bring up another fee, I am going to say enough already."

Currently the police department uses a system described as outdated and based on some homegrown writing techniques. Due to the nature of the system, it is currently not possible to retrieve traffic collision reports electronically. Furthermore, the system does not automatically generate statistics for internal and external data reporting and such functions must currently be done manually by staff in the Records Division. The process to retrieve such reports has been extremely time-consuming for the department, as well as costly.

In adopting resolution, the Council also approved an agreement with Crossroads Software, a California-based software developer that specializes in database management solutions. "This software is unique within itself because it allows for the collection of that data and the capability to upload information because right now we have to manually enter the information," Fronterotta said. "There are a number of other law enforcement agencies that are using this software. There are also other companies out there, but this one in particular has offered the software free and the capabilities of this particular software are unique in that it does have the ability to upload the information regarding traffic collisions."

The premiere software solution is called Traffic Collision Database and has been specifically designed for public safety agencies. The system supports direct uploads to regional and State law enforcement databases such as COPLINK, SWITTRS and Office of Traffic Safety. Several other providers offer similar services, but Crossroads Software is the only vendor the department found that can upload information from other law enforcement databases.

Currently the fee for any citizen to obtain a traffic collision report is $12.50. However, the new $10 convenience will not apply to average citizens--hence not imposing any new fees on current residents.

That creates a situation where this is a real win-win for us," Fronterotta said. "For citizens that do come into the station to purchase a report, there is no increase in fees. Fees will remain the same. So this is really a win-win all around."

Law enforcement agencies that currently use the Crossroads Software can be found throughout California, Washington, Arizona and New Jersey, with most reporting improvements in their traffic reporting process. Department officials also expect that the new software's unique feature of uploading data to other law enforcement agencies will significantly reduce the amount of personnel time usually spent to create monthly, quarterly and annual reports from hours to a matter of minutes.

"As the Chief stated, this is at no cost to the City," Inglewood City Manager Artie Fields said. "Crossroads is just providing the services." •

North Inglewood Post Office Loses Lease

The North Inglewood Post Office, located at 811 N. La Brea Ave., will close effective Nov. 19 under Emergency Suspension procedures after the owner of the building notified the U.S. Postal Services (USPS) that they would not be renewing the lease. The current lease expires on Nov. 30, 2012.

North Inglewood Postal Station Post Office Boxes will be relocated to the Hillcrest Station 300 E. Hillcrest Blvd., approximately 1.5 miles away. Post Office Box customers will retain their same Post Office Box number and ZIP code.

There are no delivery operations at North Inglewood Station so this location will have no impact on delivery service to Inglewood residents and businesses.

Nearby locations for USPS retail service include Hillcrest Station and Westchester Station, 7381 La Tijera Blvd, both located 1.5 miles away from the North Inglewood Station. Other USPS locations and approved Postal providers can be found online at usps.com.

Today's expanded retail access provides a variety of convenient ways to take care of business. Customers can also go online to usps.com to buy stamps, hold mail when they are away, print shipping labels with postage, schedule a free package pick up and much more. Termination of a lease when suitable alternate quarters are not available, when the termination is sudden or unexpected, is considered a special circumstance and justifies an Emergency Suspension action under the Code of Federal Regulations Title 39 241.3. •

News for the City of Good Neighbors

From City Clerk Norb Hubert The Rush Has Begun

The holiday season is here. The traffic on our streets seems to pick up. The stores become crowded. The barricades outside of Home Depot and Best Buy are up. Yes, the end-of-year mad dash has begun. There are so many events and activities that we all are invited to, so many dinners to attend, so many presents to buy, it sometimes seems too hectic. It's a challenge to maintain our balance. We just need to keep our priorities straight. Let me be the first to wish you a Happy Holiday season.

Thanksgiving is a Time to Give Thanks!

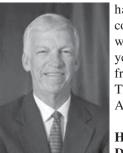

We have a lot to be thankful for in America. The question becomes "Who do we thank?" I believe God created the heavens and the earth and everything that belongs to us. That is why I attend church services each Sunday and especially on Thanksgiving Day. I want to say thank you to God for blessing me with family, friends, house and home and all of the wonderful things and people He has given to me in my life. When we truly have thankful hearts, most all of our problems disappear. To live in this great nation and have the freedoms that we enjoy is truly a blessing. Enjoy your Thanksgiving, eat your big feast, but be sure to thank God for it all.

In Memory of Mona Royal

I started serving "Coffee with the Clerk" before each city council meeting when I was first elected in 2009. Shortly after that start, a lady showed up to volunteer to help serve the coffee and volunteered to bring some sweet goodies in for each meeting. That lady was Mona. If you ever met Mona, you could never forget her. She was loud but loving. She was always wanting to help. She volunteered around the city and at the House of Yahweh, giving food to the homeless. Mona passed away recently from lung disease. Those of us who knew her, will miss her.

Hawthorne Police Department to Combat Roadway Deaths, Injuries with DUI Checkpoints

The Hawthorne Police Department has been awarded a new traffic safety grant for an anti-DUI program aimed at preventing deaths and injuries on our roadways. Additional enforcement measures to combat impaired driving are coming as a result of a recent $66,760.00 grant awarded by the California Office of Traffic Safety to the Hawthorne Police Department. The Hawthorne Police Department is dedicated to keeping our streets safe through both enforcement and education.

"DUI-related collisions impart a physical and emotional toll," states Hawthorne Police Chief Robert Fager. "Our funding partnership with the Office of Traffic Safety allows us to impact one of the leading causes of injury and fatality-based collisions and prevent untold numbers of others by promoting responsibility and deterring impaired driving."

The special DUI Checkpoint grant is to assist in efforts to reduce the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol and other drug related collisions in the community. The grant activities will specifically target impaired driving offenders as well as educating the public on the dangers of impaired driving through the use of DUI/driver's license checkpoints. When possible, specially trained officers will be available to evaluate those suspected of drug-impaired driving.

Drunk and drugged driving are among America's deadliest crimes. In 2010, 791 people were killed and over 24,000 injured in alcohol and drug-impaired crashes in California. Last year, the City of Hawthorne experienced 2 killed and 51 injured in these tragic crashes. Crashes involving alcohol drop by an average of 20 percent when well-publicized checkpoints are conducted often enough. Checkpoints have proven to be the most effective of any of the DUI enforcement strategies, while yielding considerable cost savings of $6 for every $1 spent.

"DUI checkpoints have been an essential part of the phenomenal reduction in DUI deaths that we witnessed from 2006 to 2010 in California," said Christopher J. Murphy, Director of the Office of Traffic Safety. "But since the tragedy of DUI accounts for nearly one third of traffic fatalities, the Hawthorne Police Department needs the high visibility enforcement and public awareness that this grant will provide."

Funding for this program is from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Schools to Receive Funding for Low-Income Students AP Tests

By Cristian Vasquez

More than $21 million in grants have been awarded to 43 states to help schools cover the fees of low-income students taking Advanced Placement tests in high school. California will receive $7,603,946 in discretionary grants that are expected to pay the full cost of AP exams by students throughout the state. However, states do have the option of requiring students to pay a portion of the $89 fee.

"Advanced Placement participation is an important element in creating a college-going culture in our high schools," said U.S. Secretary of Education Arne Duncan via a press release. "AP courses help students develop the study skills, critical reasoning and habits of mind that prepare them for the transition to college. They give students—particularly first-generation college-goers—the confidence that they can successfully handle college-level work."

In Hawthorne, there has been a strong emphasis on creating the culture and preparing students for the several different AP exams available to students. Hawthorne High School has approximately 480 students currently enrolled in AP classes while Hawthorne Math and Science Academy (HMSA) has an estimated 200 students taking one of the 10 different AP course being offered. For both schools, assisting and encouraging students to enroll in and take the AP exam has been a priority for several years.

"We cover the cost of the AP exam," HMSA Principal Esau Berumen said. "It is something that we look at every year to see if we can afford to cover every class. Another thing that we do with every student taking an AP course is tell them that they must take the AP exam. That is one thing we tell all the AP students—'If you are taking the AP class, then you're taking the AP exam.' In some schools, they might counsel the kid out of it because they have been struggling all year."

The popularity of the AP course has grown in both schools, yet challenges regarding affordability did affect some students. However, help has always been available and both high schools engaged in efforts to inform parents and students that financial barriers should not be a reason to hinder the academic growth

"It has been a challenge because people either feel that they don't have the financial ability for the child to take the test or they can't even afford to pay for the child to go to college, so there is no point taking the test," Hawthorne High School Principal Mark Newell said. "So what we are trying to do is tell everybody that they have the financial ability to go to class and we are just trying to spread the word and communicate that we as a school, the states and the federal government are avenues that can support them for higher education and they should

Just like at HMSA, Hawthorne High has taken steps to lift the financial burden from low-income students seeking to take the exam. Approximately 80 percent of the students who take the AP test qualify for free or reduced lunches, which means that they also qualify to have their fee for the test supplemented by the District, at which point the student only pays $5.

"What we do is, if we really feel that a student doesn't have the financial ability to pay, we somehow supplement their fee in whatever way we need to because we want all of the students to take the test," Newell said. "The world and the country is so, so competitive and it is getting really hard to get into college. If a child wants to go to college, they have to take AP classes and hopefully score three or higher in the AP test. Many college entrance committees will not even look at an application unless they see AP on it because that means that the student has taken a rigorous, college-level class."

Preparing students for college and the different AP tests that they can take is a collaborative effort between the student, teachers, administrators and parents. At HMSA, teachers recommend different students for the AP course and have parent meetings explaining and emphasizing the importance and difficulty of those classes.

"The kids might have done well in their other classes, but now with AP it's going to be a lot different," Berumen said. "So we have the parents understand what it takes to make sure they are on board. They [students] are required to do summer work for the classes because the test must be taken in May--there is just no way around that. The test is taken the same day at the same time across the nation."

With more parents and students understanding the importance of AP courses and testing, administrators at both high schools believe that their task of attracting students to these courses has become less complicated. "It is important that we open that culture and that we allow students that want to take the test to do so. I feel that if they have the ability to take an AP class, then they should be allowed to take it," Newell said. "It is also important that we support them academically as well as financially in order for them to succeed."

Bermen added, "The culture is already there. At first it was a challenge and at first it was a culture shock, but now that the kids have gone through it, the older kids tell the younger kids, 'Hey, this is a tough class, but you can do it," Berumen said. "At first the kids didn't want to do it and then they realized that they receive extra credit points for all classes, so we had the pendulum swing all the way to the other end where kids want to take up to five classes." •

Morro Bay Runs Inglewood Out of Playoffs

By Joe Snyder

Inglewood High's football team had a very good first half, but the strong rushing attack of Morro Bay coupled with critical penalties put an end to the Sentinels' season in a 17-14 home loss in the first round of the CIF-Southern Section Western Division playoffs last Friday at Coleman Field. The Sentinels, who ended their season at 7-4, started out well in grabbing a 14-3 halftime lead. It began on the opening kickoff as Zaire Andre sprinted 99 yards for the touchdown. Leading 7-3 after the first quarter, Inglewood took a 14-3 second period lead on a 65-yard TD run by running back Eddie Reyes.

The second half, though, was a different story. Using a strong running and ball control game, the Pirates, who are 8-3 overall after placing second (behind the playoffs' top seed Lompoc) in the Los Padres League, came back behind a pair of touchdown runs of two and 14 yards from quarterback Jordan Bray to win the game and advance to the quarterfinals. Morro Bay rushed for 311 yards in the game. Morro Bay's defense held the Sentinels to just 81 total yards on offense in the final 35 minutes of the game.

Inglewood was also plagued with a rash of penalties. The Sents were flagged 14 times for 119 yards, including two on big plays that could have led to scores that might have won the contest for them. One was when Andre had a 70-yard run to the Pirate 20 yard line and another came on a 33-yard pass completion from quarterback Rickie Calderon to Andre. Both of those plays were called back due to holding penalties.

Inglewood still had a good year. After losing its first two non-league games to quality teams in Mira Costa (second in the Bay League and advanced to the CIF-Southern Section Northern Division quarterfinals after a 35-21 home win over Palmdale Highland last Friday) and CIF-Central Section power Bakersfield Stockdale, the Sentinels won seven of their last eight regular season games to place second behind champion Santa Monica in the Ocean League.

The Ocean champion Vikings advanced with a 44-0 home rout of Templeton last Friday and will visit Serra High in Gardena in the quarterfinals Friday at 7 p.m. The league's third place representative, Culver City, also made the quarterfinals by defeating host Dos Pueblos 34-20 Friday in Goleta, located just north of Santa Barbara.

Lawndale High's football team was able to win its little three-team Centinela Valley Unified School District League with one-point non-league victories over Hawthorne and Leuzinger, but all three of the district's schools placed last in their leagues with 0-5 records. After winning three of five non-league games, including the two wins over the Cougars and Olympians, the Cardinals lost all five games in the highly competitive Pioneer that includes a highly regarded champion North Torrance-the number four seed that shut out Agoura Hills Oak Park 27-0 in the first round of the CIF-Southern Section Northwest Division last Friday at North.

Lawndale ended its season at 3-7 overall. Hawthorne and Leuzinger each finished with 1-9 records, although the Olympians won the Mayor's Cup with a 34-20 victory over the host Cougars on September 28. Hawthorne's only victory came at home on September 7 when it defeated Animo South Los Angeles High 31-14 at Hawthorne. The Cougars were last in the Ocean League and Leuzinger was at the bottom of the Bay for the third consecutive season.

Morningside just missed out on the CIF-Southern Section Western Division playoffs after falling to Inglewood 39-6 in their Ocean finale on November 2 at Coleman Stadium. The Monarchs finished fourth in league at 2-3 and were 5-5 overall.

BASKETBALL LOOMING

Local prep basketball teams will begin their 2012-13 season within the next few weeks. Inglewood, which returns all five starters from last year's CIF-Southern Section Division IIAA squad in addition to receiving a key transfer from Playa del Rey St. Bernard in all-CIF player Brandon Randolph, begins in the Corona Centennial Tournament on November 27. Its first opponent is yet to be determined. The Sentinels will be seeking their first California State championship this season.

Defending Bay League champion Leuzinger, which returns three starters from last season, begins in the Rose City Classic at Pasadena High against Sylmar on November 27 at 5 p.m. Hawthorne will play in the Blue Pride Tournament (location unknown) against new CIF-Los Angeles City school Chavez from San Fernando on December 4 at 4 p.m. Morningside will play in the Mira Costa Pacific Shores Tournament, starting against Carson on November 28 at 6 p.m. Lawndale starts its season with a non-league game against Carson on November 26 at 3 p.m. •

Brown and Out

By Adam Serrao

If you take Phil Jackson out of the equation, the Lakers have had a hard time keeping a head coach over the last 13 years. As if the number 13 in itself isn't unlucky enough, all of the coaches of the purple and gold not named Phil Jackson have suffered the same fate. Since Phil took over the team in 1999, four different coaches (five, with the hiring of Mike D'Antoni) besides the Zen Master have gotten their shot to take center stage in Hollywood. Rudy Tomjanovich, Frank Hamblen, Mike Brown and now Bernie Bickerstaff have all attempted to take the team to a championship level, but for the most part have all failed to succeed. That's not even to mention Kurt Rambis, Bill Bertka and Del Harris who all came before Jackson. So maybe it's unfair to put all of the blame on Brown. It doesn't seem to be necessarily easy to coach this team. But when the team posted an 0-8 record in the preseason and started the regular season off at 1-4, can you really blame the Lakers for moving as swiftly as they did to remove him from his head coaching position? The Laker franchise is all about winning and winning right now. With Kobe Bryant's career nearing its end, the firing of Mike Brown is precisely what needed to happen.

According to the Lakers, they didn't fire Brown because there were better candidates for their head coaching position available. A source close to the Lakers explained that the firing was done "more to stop what was happening than to pursue anybody else." When you've won only one game all year, in addition to last season's unceremonious finish, that decision becomes a little easier to make. The theory presented by the source close to the Lakers is, of course, a politically correct theory. The Lakers knew that Phil Jackson wouldn't be coming back to the team last year. He had already spent six years with the team in what was his second tenure and according to Jackson, his health was deteriorating. For that reason, the Lakers had to go out and hire a coach they thought could make the biggest impact on the team as quickly as possible. Mike Brown got the job. What many people don't understand about Brown is that even though he has a lot of friends around the league and is a genuinely good person, he has now failed to win with the two biggest stars that this league has seen in the last 10 years (Kobe and LeBron James).

Whenever there is a coach of Phil Jackson's stature available and willing to come back, it would be in the best interest of any team to do anything and everything to go out there and get him. A source close to Jackson even told ESPN last Saturday, "Phil's health is fine now. That's no issue at all. Phil's feisty. He gets feisty when he's ready to coach. He likes this Lakers team." Perhaps Jackson isn't the only one who has been feeling feisty. Having not experienced much success to start the season, the Lakers may have just gotten their juices flowing as well, in essence making Brown expendable. Though Jackson ultimately didn't get the hire, he may have opened the Lakers' eyes up to the fact that there are bigger and better out there. When you go out in the offseason and spend as much money as the Lakers have on the short-term contracts of Dwight Howard and Steve Nash, it is easy to understand why the Lakers have expected a bit more out of Brown than they have gotten. Perhaps the most telling sign that Brown just didn't fit in with the team was the poor defensive play in the first five games of the season. Brown prides himself on being a defensive coach. Once he was fired and Bickerstaff took over, the Lakers not only got their second and third wins of the season in back-to-back routs of the Golden State Warriors and the Sacramento Kings, but they also held their opponents to 77 and 90 points respectively on offense. One was their best defensive effort of the season and the other was a forceful showing in itself.

Brown's firing came as an obvious shock to other coaches and players around the league, but there seems to be a lot less stress around the Staples Center since the time of his unfortunate departure. A "We want Phil!" chant even broke out several times in the crowd at the Staples Center during the game last Friday night. Unfortunately for those Lakers fans partaking in the chant, they didn't get their wish, but with D'Antoni they get the next best thing. From a Laker point of view, D'Antoni came at a much cheaper price and will supposedly be more faithful to the team. "Phil would come back only to win and skipping games doesn't lead to winning," a source close to the Lakers explained. The nature of Jackson's health would disallow him from traveling with the team on certain road trips. D'Antoni, on the other hand, will be able to spend all of his time with the club. Obviously, choosing D'Antoni over Jackson is a shock in itself, but as long as Kobe is okay with it, it should slide. "I love PJ, but I'm very excited about D'Antoni," Kobe related. Kobe's apparently not the only one. Nash, who has previously played with D'Antoni, expressed his feelings as well. "Obviously everyone knows how much I love Mike," Nash said Sunday night prior to the hiring. "If [D'Antoni] were to coach, it would be seamless and terrific for me, and I think the team as well." While D'Antoni has never won a championship, he is a fun and easy coach to play for and with a roster like the one that the Lakers have created, it shouldn't be hard to make a strong run with a leader of his stature.

What it really came down to in Mike Brown's case is that the Lakers were off to the worst start in the Western Conference this year despite carrying the league's largest payroll at just over $100 million, which would also trigger a luxury tax bill of more than $30 million. With all of that money out there on the table, winning became a must and Mike Brown just wasn't doing it. With an offense that wasn't suited to its players' talents and a defense that just didn't try, it was obvious that a change needed to be made. That change is D'Antoni and with him at the helm, it will quickly become apparent that the Lakers are in fact the team that they should have been under Brown this entire time. •

PETSPETSPETSPETS

Adopt a "pet without a partner" and give a homeless pet a second chance in life.

Bodie is a beautiful, purebred Doberman Pinscher that we adopted out back in July 2009. He has been a treasured family pet whose owner cooked chicken and vegetables for him every day (and he loves papaya). Bodie slept on his bed every night, sometimes even under the covers-he was a constant companion. Then Bodie's owner passed away suddenly and unexpectedly. Bodie was instantly homeless as his back-up did not step up to the plate. He is a beautiful boy with one of the shiniest coats you have ever seen. He will sit for treats and loves to fetch a ball. Bodie is excellent in the car as he went almost everywhere with his prior owner. He would be best placed with a large female dog or as an only dog. If you love this breed, please come and meet him before you adopt from somewhere else. He's worth the drive. Bodie is neutered, current on vaccinations, de-wormed, microchipped and fine with mature children, but not cat-safe.

Sophia is an adorable two-year-old Maltese who is fully grown at nine pounds. She is brand new at our rescue, so we are still learning about her. This little darling is great at giving little kisses to you and snuggling up for some love. She did not seem interested in playing with any toys so far, but she was a good little eater gobbling up all her food. This is a sweet little dog who wants to run around the yard and play. She is fine with large dogs and dogs her size and will be fine with children as well. Sophia will need to be crate-trained for a bit longer to be sure she is 100 percent housebroken. Sophia is not cut out for apartment or townhome life--she needs a house with a yard.

> Sophia is spayed, current on all vaccinations, de-wormed, microchipped, good with other dogs, good with kids, and cat-safe.

> To learn more about these and other wonderful dogs, visit our website at www. animalsrule.org. If a dog is on our website, it's available. Or come to our Saturday adoption events from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at 305 North Harbor Boulevard in San Pedro (just off the 110 near the cruise port). We are always in need of donations for veterinarian bills and our senior dogs. Pets Without Partners Purrrfect Companions

Happiness is waiting around the corner when you adopt a purr-fect partner.

Monique is a busy bee, always darting from one thing to another. She craves activity and loves to bounce around with other cats. However, once things calm down and she starts getting tired, her cuddly side starts to show itself. Monique adores being stroked and will push her head into your hand for more pets. Her eyes are a unique shade of turquoise, shifting from green to blue throughout the day. Her silken coat is a gorgeous patchwork of orange, Tabby and white. Because she is so young, Monique must be adopted with another kitty or into a home with a young resident cat. She would love to be adopted with either of her sisters or with her mother.

Davey is a sweet, gentle, green-eyed kitten who loves to be loved. This friendly little black cat walked into someone's front yard in a neighborhood where someone probably took him in as a tiny kitten and then put him back outside when he was about two to three pounds. He was so happy to be taken in again. Davey love to be brushed. When you start to pet him, he just leans into it and starts purring to melt your heart! He's a mellow kitten who likes to play with his friend Athena (a black and white Tuxedo girl his own age, also available for adoption--her rambunctious nature is a great balance to Davey's personality). He does like to chase feather toys and to play with a ball going around a track. If you are looking for a sweet companion, please meet Davey. He's such a love.

These kittens/cats are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All of our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, de-wormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see our other kitties, please check our website at www.kittenrescue.org, or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Boulevard, #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln

Boulevard, just south of Manchester Avenue, and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Avenue, just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Zeb Finds New Home, Name and Family to Love

Even though he had been abandoned, Zeb was a friendly little guy, ready to be friends with whomever life brought his way. So it wasn't long before Zeb had a new life and a new name Paolo Baci.

"Hi! Thanks so much for checking in and for the great photos of Paolo Baci! Paolo is doing great! He wants to be with me at all times...he has slept on my bed with me since day one! He doesn't really want to go in his crate. I did put him in his crate to go visit a friend today and he was a little nervous and panting, etc., but fine when he got out of it. He is doing very well with his food--eats all of it. It took him a couple of days to go to his water bowls (I have one in my bathroom and one in the kitchen), but now he goes on his own. He is doing very well on his walks. He is waiting to go potty until he goes out and I am taking him out a few times a day. He is very social and loves everyone so far and loves his walks! I already received the dog tag (via Gianna) and yes, Paolo Baci is his new name. Thanks for everything--will definitely stay in touch!" Cynthia.

th Thanksgiving just around the corner, I thought I would share with you my favorite cranberry sauce recipe.

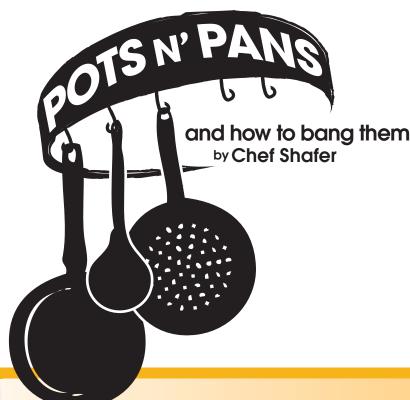

Did you know that cranberries have pectin in them so you don't have to use a thickening agent to get a great, thick, and flavorful sauce to go with your turkey? I like to use the sauce year round:

- As dipping sauce for shrimp cocktail
- With a roasted pork loin
- With grilled salmon or sword fish
- As a spread with brie or other soft cheeses
- Or, you can mix it with some olive oil and balsamic vinegar and it will make a wonderful salad dressing

Church of Scientology Inglewood Celebrates First Anniversary

The Church of Scientology of Inglewood and its Community Center celebrated its first year of service to parishioners and members of the local community with a gala celebration this past weekend commemorating unprecedented expansion and acknowledging key contributors and members of the community. The celebration was hosted at the 30,000 square foot Community Center, inside the "L. Ron Hubbard Community Auditorium" which hosted more than 150 guests. Musical performances included "The Way to Happiness Jazz Band" lead by Bob Sullivan followed by exceptional solo performances from trumpeter Haji Akbar, Cuban jazz violinist Dayren Santamaria and local vocalist Ashleigh Rae. The celebration was emceed by Community Affairs Director Frizell Clegg who introduced long-time Executive Director for the Church of Scientology Inglewood, Juan Bogan who awarded those who have been instrumental in the forming of the Church of Scientology Inglewood. "We started in a store front on Market Street and grew to two buildings totaling over 60,000 square feet — the main building on 323 S. Market Street and our Community Center here on S. Vermont Avenue. This is an evening dedicated to all those who have made this possible, and those who have contributed to our expansion since our grand opening," Bogan announced. Awardees included long time Inglewood residents Robert Cantin, Sheila Hagen and Patricia Harris who have been dedicated to bringing Scientology to Inglewood and its social betterment programs in a big way for over a decade. Special acknowledgement was made to local religious leaders Bishop Franklin Harris, Minister Tony Muhammad and Rev. Alfreddie Johnson for their outstanding contribution in the community. The opening of the Church of Scientology Inglewood and its Community Center presented a unique opportunity for those of any race, color or creed to look into and use Scientology, but also to utilize the many secular social outreach programs sponsored by the Church of Scientology.
